Aldermen Sustain First Veto By Mayor Weeks On Gas Permit

Filling Station Refused Because All Abutters To Site in West Newton Were Not Notified

The Board of Aldermen at the meeting Monday night unanimously voted to sustain the veto of Mayor Weeks on the permit granted by the Board at the meeting of February 17th, to the Newton & Watertown Realty Trust for a gasoline filling station at the corner of Chestnut and Washington streets, West Newton. The Mayor refused to approve the permit because owners of one adjoining piece of property had not been notified of the public hearing on the petition for this station by the petitioners. The neglect to send this notice was unintentional and another hearing will be held. This will be the third public hearing to be held on this matter. On the first petition to be presented for this station the location was incorrect; the numbers given being those on Washington street both east and west of Chestnut street. There was no opposition in the Board against the granting of a permit for a station at easterly corner of Chestnut and Washington streets, but Alderman Temperley voted against the permit on February 17, because he did not favor three driveways being allowed at the place. The Newton & Watertown Realty Trust is comprised of persons connected with Bachrach Incorporated, photographers.

Another filling station matter which has been before the Board of Aldermen several times again came up Monday night when a hearing was held for the third time on the petition of the Newton Cemetery Corporation for a permit to erect and conduct a station at the northwest corner of Beacon and Walnut streets at Newton Highlands. The first petition was presented to the 1929 Board and was not acted upon. A petition was again presented early this year to the 1930 Board but this petition did not include plans for a building so the matter came up the third time.

As, at the two preceding hearings, H. Wilson Ross, superintendent of the cemetery, appeared to favor the petition. He commented that, having explained to the Board at the other hearings the details of the station, it should not be necessary for him to take up the time of the aldermen again with such details. He mentioned that the plans of the proposed station have been approved by the Building Commissioner and it would cause a big improvement at the corner where it will be located.

Former Alderman George Heathcote who had opposed the petition at the two previous hearings again appeared to protest in behalf of Mrs. Margaret O'Connor who owns property adjoining the proposed station site. He reiterated the arguments he had offered at the other hearings, asserting that the station will depreciate the value of his client's property. Mr. Heathcote stated that the station will be leased, if the permit is granted, to the Shell Company which operates its stations 24 hours a day, thus disturbing the sleep of those residing near it. Mr. Heathcote reminded the Board that in 1920 the city had bought land from the Newton cemetery to widen the northwest corner of Beacon and Walnut streets, and now this corporation, which does not pay taxes to the city comes and asks for a valuable franchise at this same corner. He questioned whether, or not, the cemetery corporation has a right, according to its charter to engage in the gasoline filling station business or to be granted a permit to conduct such a station, even though it leases the station to others. He said that Mr. Ross, at a previous hearing, admitted the Cemetery Corporation has no right to directly engage in the sale of gasoline.

Mr. Heathcote contended that to grant a permit to the Cemetery Corporation for a filling station will be establishing a dangerous precedent. Other corporations such as schools and churches which own property and do not pay taxes may come in and ask for similar permits.

Answering Mr. Heathcote, Mr. Ross told the aldermen that he had been informed by Judge Bacon, who is President of the Cemetery Corporation that the corporation has a legal right to obtain the permit for the filling station. Mr. Ross called attention to the fact that the objector, Mrs. O'Connor has an undertaker's shop which she rents attached to her house and this building comes close to the street line. The filling station will be attractively surrounded by shrubs. Mr. Ross argued that thousands of Newton residents have relatives buried in the cemetery and that the corporation is bending every effort to make both the cemetery and the section near it as attractive as possible in appearance and would do nothing to create a nuisance.

Another filling station hearing on Monday night before the aldermen was that on the petition of Benjamin P. Sands who wants a permit at the northwest corner of Floral and Walnut streets at Newton Highlands. The attorney for this petitioner stated that the proposed station will be set back from the street lines and an attractive building will be erected. No person appeared to oppose this petition.

Extensive Plans For Annual Benefit

Mothers' Rest Association To Give Play On Mar. 29th

Extensive plans are under way for the annual benefit of one of Newton's most interesting charities, The Mothers' Rest Association. Under the leadership of Mrs. John Capron of Ward street, Newton Centre, the finance committee is planning to give a presentation of "East is West," on Saturday March 29, at eight o'clock in the auditorium of the Newton High school at Newtonville. The purpose of the organization is to support a home through the summer for tired mothers and their small children and for the past three years the plan has been to have one big event. In past years a garden fete and a card party were highly successful.

The production of "East is West" is in charge of Henry Tomlinson of Newton Centre, a well-known coach. Several musicians from the Newton Symphony Orchestra, and their director, D. Ralph Maclean have generously given their services for the evening program.

Mrs. M. H. Gulesian is writing a Chinese song which will be sung in the prologue by a group of Newton girls, trained by the composer. During the intermission Mrs. Gulesian will play, accompanied by the orchestra, her suite, "Garden Moments," including "In a Hong Kong Garden."

The finance committee is as follows: general chairman, Mrs. John F. Capron; treas., Mrs. G. F. Richardson, Jr.; sec., Mrs. Chas. H. Cobb; publicity, Mrs. Howard O. Winslow.

The various sections of the city are represented on the general committee by Mrs. E. A. Andrews, Miss Elizabeth P. Bartlett, Miss Addie Fitch, Mrs. Roger H. Bates, Fred H. Morgan, Mrs. Frank N. Nathan, Mrs. John Perry, Mrs. F. D. Robinson, Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., Mrs. William T. Steinsieck, Mrs. Earle E. Tilton, Mrs. Everett C. Winslow, Mrs. Worthing L. West, and Mrs. James O. Wright of Newton Centre; Mrs. Harry S. Baldwin, Mrs. Carl M. Bigelow, Mrs. J. H. Drake and Mrs. Kenneth Hayes of West Newton; Mrs. Robert Bonner and Mrs. Earl C. Manning of Newton Highlands; Mrs. H. R. Bankart, Mrs. C. R. Kemper and Mrs. Donald Rust of Newtonville; Mrs. Albion M. Boothby of Newton; Mrs. Grant B. Eustis and Mrs. Ralph B. Webber of Waban; Mrs. Walter H. Jenney, Mrs. John P. Ramsay and Mrs. Cyrus T. Schirmer of Chestnut Hill; Mrs. Stephen E. Wright and Mrs. Geo. St. Amant of Auburndale; and Mrs. Ernest Cobb of Newton Upper Falls.

Mrs. M. H. Gulesian is serving as chairman on music; Mrs. Worthing L. West for candy; Mrs. E. A. Andrews for costumes; Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr. for properties; Mrs. Stephen E. Wright for ushers and Mrs. Earle E. Tilton on program.

Census Reports For Absent Families

Special Provision Made For Those Away In April

The Fifteenth Decennial Census of the United States will be taken during the month of April. The enumeration will be made by a force of about 100,000 enumerators who will go from house to house and secure the information required for the census. Every person is to be enumerated, so far as possible, at his "usual place of abode" or the place where he usually lives. Where individual members of a family are away from home at the time the census is taken they will be reported to the enumerator by other members of the family.

For cases where it is known in advance that the whole family will be away from home at that time, special provision has been made by the Director of the Census in the form of an absent family schedule which is to be filled out by some responsible member of the family in advance of the census date and transmitted to the local Supervisor of the Census. A copy of this schedule can be secured by application to Mr. Joseph J. Murray, of 210 Washington street, Newton, who is the Census Supervisor for this district.

Families planning to be away during the month of April, leaving the home closed or with no one in charge who is qualified to give the census information to the enumerator, are urged to obtain one of these schedules at once and to fill it out and send it to Mr. Murray at the earliest possible date. Or if the house is left in charge of a servant who will be sure to be at home when the enumerator calls, the schedule may be left with such servant for delivery to the enumerator. The information furnished on this schedule will be treated as confidential and will be used only for the tabulation of statistics which will not reveal any information with regard to individuals or families.

SENATOR BACON TO SPEAK

The Men's Club of West Newton will hold its regular monthly meeting on Thursday, March 13, at 6:30 p. m. in the Unitarian Church Parish House. The speaker of the evening will be Hon. Gaspar G. Bacon, President of the Senate, who will speak on "State Legislation." Senator Bacon is thoroughly conversant with the problems of our Commonwealth and will be ready to answer any questions regarding State matters.

MIDDLESEX COURT WHIST PARTY

Middlesex Court, M. C. O. F. will hold a Whist, Bridge and Forty-Five Party next Tuesday night at Elks Hall, Centre street, Newton at 8:30.

Trustees Of Chaffin Fund Are Appointed

Mayor Also Asks Board To Adopt Ordinance In Matter

The City of Newton took steps Monday to acquire the fund of more than $300,000 willed to the city by John C. Chaffin, for many years a prominent citizen of Newton, when Mayor Sinclair Weeks recommended to the Board of Aldermen the adoption of an ordinance for the receipt and administration of the money.

At the same time, Mayor Weeks announced that five well-known citizens have agreed to act as trustees of the fund which will provide free college education for graduates of the Newton High School and other schools of higher grade in Newton. They are Hon. Leverett Saltonstall, Speaker of the Massachusetts House of Representatives; Hon. Edwin O. Childs, former mayor of Newton; Robert H. Loomis of the firm of Shaw, Loomis & Sayles, investment bankers; Donald D. McKay of Harris Forbes & Company, Inc., and Dr. Guy M. Winslow, Principal of Lasell Seminary.

Under the will the income from this fund shall "be applied for the benefit of graduates of the Newton High School or any school of a higher grade that may be established in Newton—it being my desire that thereby young men and young women who have a thirst for knowledge and are anxious to obtain the benefits of an education at a college or at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, but are financially unable to do so may be aided in the accomplishment of their desires."

The will moreover provides that the funds and their distribution shall be "placed in the hands of a board of five or seven trustees, who should be men who enjoy the fullest confidence of the people of Newton as having unquestioned reputation for ability and integrity, and they should be appointed to hold office for life, unless they resign or are removed for disability or other sufficient cause."

HIGHLAND GLEE CLUB ENTERTAINS

Last Sunday's musicale at the Brae Burn Country Club was given by the Highland Glee Club of Newton, Inc., assisted by Ralph Talley, member of the Club and a well-known Boston baritone. An appreciative audience of about two hundred and fifty people gave the Glee Club, who presented a most enjoyable program, a splendid reception. The work was of a high order, and is another reminder of the excellence and permanency of this organization.

Messrs. Lassen and Schalk acted as Chantie Men in the Sea Chanties which the Club did at its December concert and repeated again Sunday, acquitting themselves creditably.

Mr. Ernest Schleicher, another member baritone, gave much pleasure in his rendition of an Old English folk song, with a humming accompaniment by the Club. His phrasing and smooth legato were particularly adapted to this air, as was his later incidental solo in "The Pilot."

Mr. Talley sang two groups, and was very enthusiastically received, it having been his second appearance at the Brae Burn Country Club this season.

D. Ralph Maclean was conductor, and J. Angus Winter, accompanist. After the concert the Club and their friends were the guests of the Country Club at a delightful buffet luncheon.

It is hoped that the Glee Club will be the backbone for the parent to be given later in the year, for which Mr. Maclean is at the present time preparing the music.

W. C. T. U.

The West Newton W. C. T. U. held a Shrove Tuesday party at the home of Mrs. M. Millie Beardsley on last Tuesday evening. There was a goodly number present and a most enjoyable evening was spent. Although the party was held at Mrs. Beardsley's home, the hostesses were Mrs. Gath, Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Hall, vice president of the Union.

On Saturday some of the members are going to attend the Law Enforcement League Luncheon at the Hotel Westminster, Boston, at noon.

Budget Of Nearly Four And A Half Million Passed In Quick Time

Aldermen Cut But $20,327 From Figures Recommended By Mayor Sinclair Weeks

The budget for 1930 was passed by the Board of Aldermen Monday night in the quickest time in the history of the city. In addition to the consideration of the budget recommendations, the regular routine business of the meeting was transacted and the meeting was over a few minutes after 10 o'clock. The Finance Committee of the Aldermen had made but few changes from the recommendations submitted by Mayor Weeks. Every budget recommendation of the Finance Committee was accepted by the Board with practically no comment. The budget recommendations made by department heads totalled $4,707,470.27. Mayor Weeks reduced these figures to $4,454,432.28. The Finance Committee made only $20,327 reductions from the Mayor's figures, the total budget figures as passed being $4,434,105.23. These did not include $251,214.41 authorized for the expenses of the Water Department, which amount will be taken from revenue received for water. Mayor Weeks had recommended $5,000 more than this.

The reductions made by the Finance Committee from Mayor Weeks' recommendations included the following: General Department, Retirement Board expense reduced from $2250 to $2000; Accounting Department, clerical assistance reduced from $5950 to $5900; Laborers' pensions reduced from $37,895.71 to $37,395.71; Treasury Department, office expense from $6150 to $6000; Assessing Department, automobile maintenance from $150 to $125; City Clerk's Department, temporary clerk hire $900 to $800; election expenses, $11,000 to $10,000; Registrars of Voters, clerical assistance, $1500 to $1400; voting and jury lists, $2200 to $2000; City Messenger Department, incidental from $500 to $450; Engineering Department, office expenses $850 to $750; engineering supplies $3000 to $2500; Public Buildings Department, maintenance of automobiles from $1600 to $1500, maintenance of school buildings from $55,000 to $54,000; maintenance of other city buildings from $14,000 to $12,850.

The large budget figures of the Police and Fire Departments were left unchanged from the Mayor's recommendations by the Aldermen. The Finance Committee lopped the amount allowed by the Mayor for maintaining the automobile used by the Sealer of Weights and Measures from $125 to $100. The Finance Committee reduced the amount asked by the Public Welfare Department for outside aid from $17,000 to $12,000. This appropriation covers aid given to citizens of Newton residing outside the city and it is difficult to estimate what it may total in a year's time. In the Street Department budget of $1,222,791.85 as recommended by the Mayor, the only reduction made by the Aldermen was on the amount for the removal of snow and ice; this was lowered from $50,000 to $40,000.

In the Water Department budget but one change was made from the Mayor's recommendations. The amount appropriated for the care of conduits, lands and reservoirs was cut from $13,000 to $7500.

In presenting the budget recommendations to the Board, Alderman Ball, chairman of the Finance Committee commented that this was being done a month earlier than last year. Not because the committee had worked any harder than last year's committee, but because the Mayor had cut down the recommendations made by department heads, after consulting with these officials, to a point where there was little left for the Aldermen to do. Alderman Ball stated that the reductions made in the budget by the Mayor would keep the tax-rate at about the same figure as last year and yet permit the city to go ahead on a number of important undertakings such as the new junior high school at Newton Centre, covering the brook at Boyd Park, completing the High School athletic field, construction of sewers and improving of streets.

Referring to the item of $866.666 for an inspector's salary in the Public Buildings Department, Alderman Ball explained that this amount will pay the salary for the first four months of this year and then the inspector will be engaged as special inspector on the new junior high school building.

Alderman Powers inquired regarding the amount recommended for patrolmen's salaries in the Police Department which was $243,866.31 as compared with $247,098.67 appropriated in 1929. Alderman Ball explained that there are two less patrolmen on the force this year than last year. One patrolman, Inspector King, was promoted to sergeant last year and another patrolman is on temporary leave. Alderman Powers called attention to the need of traffic police to protect school children, citing the lack of police protection for children at the corner of Pearl and Thornton streets, alongside the Lincoln School, and at Pearl and Watertown streets where many children who attend the Eliot, Stearns and St. Jean de Baptiste schools should have protection. He commented that Chief Burke contends that he has no men to cover these points. Mr. Ball answered that Mayor Weeks is giving this matter serious attention and will endeavor to take care of the lack of traffic officers at such places. Alderman Collins gave the information that Mayor Weeks is taking steps to see if firemen will do traffic work for extra compensation on their days off.

Alderman Ball explained that the $7355 appropriated for a new piece of apparatus for the Fire Department will provide a new combination pump and hose truck at Upper Falls. He gave the information, in referring to the budget of the Library Department, that $6000 received by this department from fines for keeping books overtime is returned to the Excess and Deficiency fund of the city.

Alderman Floyd inquired regarding the item in the Playgrounds Department for salaries in supervising Sunday sports. Mr. Ball replied that Supervisors of sports on Sunday afternoons are paid salaries of $300. There have been 5 supervisors since 1925. He informed the Board that an item of $800 for new equipment is to provide lights at Pulsifer Cove on the Charles River at Auburndale.

Commenting on the $250,000 to be appropriated for resurfacing streets, Alderman Ball stated that citizens have been complaining of the condition of Newton's streets. He said that both the Public Works and Finance Committees had agreed that Beacon street should be the first to get resurfaced and that Washington street is also in bad condition. The north side of Commonwealth avenue should be resurfaced in the near future so that it can be opened to traffic, but the Mayor will follow the views of the committees and have streets attended to first which carry more local traffic. Alderman Murray, chairman of the Public Works Committee corrected Mr. Ball by saying that the Public Works Committee believe that Washington street should be resurfaced first if the 60-inch water main of the Metropolitan Water District will not be laid under this street in the near future. At present no one seems to know whether the main will be laid this year or in 10 years. If the State decides it will not do this work in the near future, Washington street ought to be resurfaced first.

Referring to $36,000 recommended for maintenance of sewers, Alderman Ball stated that many sewers are becoming plugged up due to the rapid growth of the city. Commenting on the $94,000 appropriated for the collection of ashes, Mr. Ball stated that the cost of collecting ashes has been increasing every year recently. In 1924 it was but $52,000, the same as the collection of garbage costs. An effort should be made to reduce the cost. Alderman Mansfield inquired why the increased use of oil-burners should not decrease the amount of ashes to be collected. Alderman Murray replied that although the use of oil burners might decrease the amount of ashes, there has been a tremendous increase in the amount of paper, cartons, lawn clippings and household debris which has greatly added to the bulk of material collected by ash trucks in this city.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

N. H. S. BATTERYMEN BEGIN PRACTICE

Coach John L. Sullivan called out candidates for pitching and catching positions on the Newton High School 1930 baseball team on Wednesday of this week. Fifteen twirlers and eight receivers were in the group which warmed up under the Newton mentor's direction following a short conditioning talk. As in each of the three winter sports there is but one letterman available, Captain Perry Elrod, it is expected that a large number of candidates will try out for the nine.

Walter Holmes, star dash man on the track team, is said to be a high grade pitcher but it is doubtful if he will forsake the outdoor track team which has an attractive schedule of meets. George Krieger, the only south-paw to report on Wednesday, performed well for the freshman team two years ago but was not out last year because of a back injury. If there is no recurrence of the ailment, he may develop into a first-string rating. Bill Dalton, Bernard Chipman, Norman Grist, and Gilles attracted attention in the workout. Gilles is a freshman and pitched good ball for the Mason grammar school team last year. Nothing definite can be indicated from the first workouts and until the weather is mild enough to get out of doors and batting practice begins it is probable that only a few will be cut.

Among the receivers the situation is about the same. The loss of Phil Andres because of the three year rule was as severe a blow to the baseball team as it was to the football eleven and Coach Sullivan will have to groom a receiver. Harold Stromberg, captain-elect of the football team for 1930, worked some behind the bat last year but a weak arm and lack of height may cause him to seek a place in the infield when the squad gets out on the grass. Walter Billings, the hockey defence star, "Red" Blackler, Lyons or Sostillo, the latter another member of the hockey squad, show promise of development into varsity calibre.

The team will play its home games on the new diamond at Claffen Field where work on the erection of some bleachers will begin shortly. No practice will be held on the new diamond for some little time to come but it is necessary that the grass be given a chance to get a good start. Last year the varsity games had to be played on opponents fields or at Victory Field, Nonantum, and as the practice area was taken up largely by the varsity nine only three teams were formed. This year it will be possible to have four nines, varsity, intermediate and junior varsity and freshman teams.

The 1930 schedule opens on Saturday, April 12th, with West Warwick High of R. I. and contains seven games in addition to the regular ten Suburban league contests. These seven games will all be played on the home field with the exception of that with Malden on May 14th which will be played at Malden. Outside of the league Newton will meet, in addition to Malden and West Warwick, Woburn, Boston Latin, Brockton, B. C. High and Waltham.

The complete schedule:
Sat., April 12—W. Warwick (R. I.) at Newton.
Wed., April 16—Woburn at Newton.
Sat., April 19—Everett at Newton (10 A. M.).
Wed., April 23—Boston Latin at Newton.

SPORT NOTES

Country Day Fourth
Country Day school was fifth in the third private school track meet at Soldiers Field last Saturday with 10 points. Moses Brown school of Providence won the meet, taking five first places and placing in every event for a total of 43 points, followed by Tabor Acad. 22, Noble & Greenough 15, Milton Acad. 6, Braintree & Nichols 5, and Roxbury Latin 4. James Cobb of Country Day scored half of his team's total points with a first place in the 1000-yard run, one of the closest events of the afternoon. Roger Greene took third in the dash and fifth in the 300-yard run finals for four more points while Jean Labourchere was fifth in the shot-put for the tenth point.

Newton League Bowling
Weston continues to set the pace in the Newton Bowling league. Maugus, by shutting out Commercial on the Brockton alleys gained a point on Weston, which took three out of four from Middlesex. Hunnewell, by splitting even with University on the Hub team's alleys, lost a little ground. Waban split even in its match with Newton by winning the final string by 40 pins which gave them the total by one pin. Hunnewell had to perform a similar stunt to get an even break. They lost the first two strings and were 17 down on the total but came back with a 534 on the final string to win it and the total by a comfortable margin. The grade of University had the high single of the evening with 145 while Thompson of Weston had the high three string total with 358.

NEWTON FIFTH AT STATE TRACK MEET

The Newton high school track team placed fifth with 11 points at the annual state public school track meet at the East Armory last Saturday afternoon. The team title was won by Boston English with 20 1/2 points followed by Lynn English with 16 1/2, Lowell 14, Medford 12 1/2, Newton 11, Lynn Classical 10 1/2, Brockton 8, Malden 7 1/2, Lawrence 5, Brookline and Boston Commerce 4 1/2 each, and Mechanic Arts with 3 1/2 of a point. There were some thrilling races in both Class A and Class B which was won by David Prouty High of Spencer by a comfortable margin over its other rivals which included other public schools that have not the ability to compete in the higher class as a team.

Newton scored its points in the 500 yard dash, 600-yard run, hurdles, 1000-yard run and the relay. One of the biggest surprises of the afternoon was the defeat of Walter Holmes for first place in the dash by Arthur Jannell of Lynn English. Holmes had won both his trial and semi-final heats handily in 5 4/5 seconds. The final brought Holmes, Jannell, Schwartz of Boston English and Faerman of Malden of the mark. Jannell got a perfect start, while Holmes got off poorly. At that Holmes would have probably beaten Jannell at 70-yards as he was closing in with every step. Captain Hall scored three points more for Newton with a second in the 600. Hall was drawn in the first heat with Captain Bowdren of Medford, LaFranchise of Brockton, Chadwell of Lynn English and several others and he won the toss for the pole. Ryan of Mechanic Arts took the lead on the first lap and then Bowdren went to the fore, closely followed by Hall. The pace the two rivals set carried them well ahead of the field and on the last lap they let out with all they had. Bowdren had just enough to keep ahead of Hall while Hall lacked just enough to nose out Bowdren at the tape. There wasn't a yard between them when the worsted broke. The second heat was almost as fast with Gerstein of Boston English leading McCarthy of Brockton by a full second. Bowdren's margin over Hall was but a fifth of a second. Points were awarded on times made with the Medford runner taking first, Hall second, Gerstein third and McCarthy fourth.

Milton Green placed fourth in the final of the low hurdles to add another point to Newton's total. He won his fourth trial heat over Baker of Lawrence. Irving Fine, the other Newton hurdler, placed second in his trial heat but was won by Hicks of Newton English, the ultimate winner of the final. The semi-final heats both equalled the record of 5 4/5 seconds. The first was won by Holloway of Lynn English with Hicks second and the other by Lavallee of Lowell with Green second. In the finals they finished with Hicks winning, Holloway second, Lavallee third and Green fourth.

Newton's relay team was opposed to Malden and Brookline in a three-cornered affair. Both Brookline and Malden built up a lead on the first two legs that carried them well to the front. Guzzi, Newton's third runner, held his own against Pass of Malden and Larkin of Brookline. Mouser, Newton's anchor man, ran a fast two laps and succeeded in reducing the lead of the other two teams considerably but the handicap was too great. Malden won with Brookline second and Newton third but Newton was fast enough to give them fifth heat time. Lawrence of Medford being the only teams to make faster time than in the Malden, Brookline, Newton affair.

Newton's other point came in the 1000-yard run when Vincent Signore kept plugging away to land a fourth place behind Pearson of Lowell, Desmond of Commerce, and Fallen of Lynn Classical. Pearson led most of the way with Desmond challenging him right down the home stretch to the tape.

SPORT NOTES

Has Chance at Title
The Country Day track team has a chance of winning the private day school track championship this afternoon. All that is needed is a victory over Browne & Nichols school in a dual meet at the Country Day track. The local private school has won all of its meets with other schools of its class this season and has only lost to the Newton high track team.

SPORT NOTES

Only Dual Meet
Northeastern University will meet Amherst College at Amherst tomorrow in the only dual track meet of the Huskies indoor season. Two local youths will compete for the Hub team, Jimmie McCrudden, former Newton high captain and star 1000-yard runner and holder of the N. E. A. A. 600-yard championship for this year, will run the half-mile and Richard B. Carr, another Newtonville youth, is the team's mainstay in the hammerthrow.

Kearns Ties For Golf Medal
Stanley K. Kearns, headmaster of Country Day school, tied with J. H. Beavis of Bermuda for the qualifying medal in the annual Spey Royal Golf tournament at the Belmont Manor Club in Bermuda on Wednesday. Each had medal scores of 31 for the round.

Yale Wins Twice
Yale swimmers won from Syracuse Saturday, 46 to 16, and on Wednesday took Dartmouth into camp, 44 to 18. Lloyd Osborne of Newtonville placed second to the Syracuse swimmer in the 440-yard swim and second to Brines, his teammate, in the 100-yd. event against the Green.

Park School Wins
Park school of Brookline won the annual primary school track meet at Country Day school gymnasium last Saturday. The team standing was as follows: Park School, 26; Chestnut Hill School, 19; Mason School, 18; Woodward School, 16; Longwood Day School, 15, and Bigelow School, 11.

Fifty young men came out to hear a talk on "The Production of Radio Tubes," by Mr. E. M. Wood, Superintendent of the Raytheon Company of Newton. Mr. Wood enumerated the different materials that are used in the manufacture of good radio tubes and described some of the efficient machines that are used by the Raytheon Company.

Dr. P. T. Weeks, head of the engineering laboratory, was present and answered many questions about radio tubes and sets. Dr. Weeks very kindly arranged for several very interesting experiments with light beams and photo cells which were new to most of those present. The next meeting of the Fellowship Club will be held on Monday, March 10th.

At the Board of Directors' Meeting held last Tuesday evening it was reported that there were 814 senior members and 395 juniors on February 28th, making a total of 1209 members. The Board decided that it would be necessary to install new lockers and a Committee was appointed to report definitely at the next meeting the number required.

Physical Department Notes
The eleventh Annual Two-State Wrestling Championship will be held at The Newton Y. M. C. A. this Saturday evening. Ninety entries have been received. Teams have been entered from the following "Ys"—Newton, Boston, Providence, Lynn, Cambridge, Gloucester, North Adams, Salem, Worcester, and Attleboro. Last year the State Championship was won by Newton "Y," and again this year Newton has entered a strong team in an endeavor to retain the championship.

The following will represent Newton "Y": 118 lb. class—Joe Santillo and Sarkis Bazarian; 126 lb. class—Warren Storer and Edgar Leger; 135 lb. class—Keghan Bazarian, Ben Evans, and Wilbur Storer; 147 lb. class—Henry Vachon (Captain of the Newton team), Joe Arsenault, and A. E. Evans; 160 lb. class—Leonard Morrison; 175 lb. class—"Pop" Weathers, Adolph Scott, and Phil Hardy; Heavyweight class—Leo Cormier. Strong competition is expected, especially from Boston and Providence. The meet will be directed by the following officials: Clerk of Wrestling—John W. Waters, Physical Director of Cambridge "Y"; Clerk of Bouts—G. L. Listman, "Y" State Physical Director; Announcer—Hugh Boyd; Weighers—John Waters and Gus Carlson; Referees—Thomas O'Hara, Bridson Green, George Myerson, Charles Manoli, and H. Bettincourt; Judges—C. Anderson, J. J. Smetter, Charles Tishoff, R. L. Thomas, Harry Myra, Sam Smith, and C. V. Moore; Scorer—Joseph Vachon.

The preliminary bouts will start at 6:30 P. M. with the semi-finals and finals starting about nine o'clock. The Class D league matches of the Massachusetts Squash Racquets Association resumed again last Saturday after a week's layoff on account of the holiday, with the Newton Y. M. C. A. team playing the University Club at the University Club. Newton "Y" lost all five matches to the University players, placing the "Y" in sixth place with thirty wins and twenty-five losses. G. McNamara of the University Club defeated J. Sullivan, "Y," 17-14, 10-15, 11-15, 17-14, 15-11. S. Boote, U. C., defeated A. Roberts "Y," 15-10, 15-9, 15-12. S. Lyon, U. C., defeated Ray Millard "Y," 15-11, 15-12, 18-15, 15-10. U. C., defeated D. McCracken "Y," 15-13, 15-12, 10-15, 16-13. H. Noyes U. C., defeated R. Collins "Y," 15-8, 15-13, 15-18, and 15-10. This Saturday afternoon at three o'clock Newton "Y" plays the Harvard Business School team at the "Y."

Plans are now being drawn up for the holding of the Blaisdell Cup squash racquets tournament. This cup was presented by Mr. J. Wm. Blaisdell to become the permanent property of the player who wins the championship three years in the annual squash racquets tournaments conducted at the "Y." John L. Sullivan, coach at the Newton High School, won the championship last year when the first annual tournament was held. With more men playing this game at the "Y" it is felt that stiffer competition will be met in the tournament.

The Senior Swimming Team of the Newton Y. M. C. A., which is coached by Ray Millard, competed last Saturday at Lawrence "Y" in the State Swimming Championship and finished in fifth place, four points ahead of Lawrence and Lynn "Ys," with Providence "Y" winning the meet with a total of 31 points. Edgar Davidson of Newton "Y" finished in second place in the 40 yard back stroke, and the relay team composed of Lloyd Hazen, Charles Collins, Stan Kimball and Edgar Davidson came in fourth place. Next Monday evening the team meets Boston Y. M. C. A. in a dual meet at Boston "Y."

The Business Men's Volley Ball team of the Newton Y. M. C. A. played the Malden "Y" team last Saturday afternoon at Malden and lost three to nothing—12-15, 14-16, and 6-15. This Friday evening the team composed of C. W. Benedict, Captain, A. C. Barker, R. M. Keeney, R. M. Patterson, J. B. Rockwell, Watson F. Barker, Jr., and W. D. Russell plays off a postponed game at Wakefield "Y." On Saturday afternoon the teams play Somerville "Y" at Somerville.

In the first game of the "Y" State Basketball Championship tournament last Saturday evening at Everett "Y," Newton Y. M. C. A. lost to Quincy "Y," forty to sixteen. The team representing Newton was composed of Joe Purcell, Captain, and Don Marschner, forwards; Arthur Kohler, center; and A. D. Marshall and Walter Arnold, guards. This tournament closes the basketball season for the Senior "Y" team.

Boys' Department Notes
The Newton "Y" Juniors had little trouble winning a basketball game from the Waltham Commercial Club, 45-10, at The Newton Y. M. C. A. gym Monday evening. Each player on the Newton team contributed to the score. Patterson at center scored 16 points, Kasper, right guard, 9 points; Benson, left forward, 8 points; Earle, right forward, 8 points; Clarke, left forward, 2 points; and Dunbrack, left guard, 2 points. The team as a whole played a fine defensive game, holding the Commercial Club to 10 points made by Lane, Crowe, and Wynn. The Juniors play the Torch Club of Cambridge "Y" Monday evening at 7:00 P. M.

The Newton Y. M. C. A. Junior Swimming team won fourth place in the Massachusetts and Rhode Island Y. M. C. A. Junior swimming championships. The meet was won by Lowell Y. M. C. A. Providence was second, Worcester, 3rd, Newton fourth, and ten other Junior teams following. Charles Jack and Henry McNamara were the point winners for Newton. Jack took 2nd in the 100 yard free style with McNamara placing fourth. Newton's relay team finished in fifth place. The boys who swam on the relay team were: Roger Guthrie, Sam Adams, Henry McNamara, and Charles Jack.

The events were run against time which handicapped the Newton swimmers. In the 20 yard free style Guthrie and Adams finished 1st and 2nd, respectively, in their heat but the time was not fast enough to win a place. Frank Batstone won his heat in the 20 yard back stroke but the time was not fast enough to win a place.

This was also the case in the 100 yard free style. Charles Jack won his heat but the time was slightly slower than the winner of the other heat. The Newton swimmers meet Chelsea Saturday afternoon at 3:30 in the Newton Swimming pool.

SPORT NOTES

Harvard '33 Loses

The Harvard freshmen lost a close meet to the Exeter academy track team last Saturday on the latter's track, 45 to 50. Hamilton Kollmyer, former Newton runner and star of the Crimson outfit, won the low hurdles over Kahn of Exeter but in the high hurdles the pair reversed positions. Kollmyer also ran third on the winning relay team.

Owen Fills Big Gap

The injury to Captain Lionel Hitchman of the Boston Bruins hockey team placed quite a burden on George Owen, former in Newton high and Harvard star athlete. He shouldered the burden in fine style Tuesday night in aiding the Boston team to defeat the Canadiens, 5 to 2. He played a powerful defensive game and teamed in great shape with Eddie Shore.

Wellman Advances

Arthur O. Wellman of Newton Centre reached the quarterfinals in the Class B squash racquets championship of the state Wednesday afternoon by defeating R. J. Koshand of the University Club in a hard-fought five game match. The University players won the first two games but the local man staged a rally to take the next three and the match.

Stubbs Slightly Injured

Harvard sprung a surprise last Saturday night at New Haven by taking the Yale hockey team over the jumps to win 2 to 1 and incidentally sending the Blue team down to its first defeat in seventeen starts. The game tomorrow night at the Gardner rink will be all the earmarks of a thriller. Frank Stubbs, Jr., former Newton high and New Prep school star and brother of the Harvard coach, received an injury to his side in the first period that forced him to leave the game. He is expected to be in the second Harvard line tomorrow night.

Newton Boxer Wins Title

Charlie Kelley of Newton won the New England amateur boxing title in the 147-pound class this week. Preliminary round matches were held in the various classes on Monday night at the Arena. One of the biggest upsets of the evening when Wallace DeWolfe, state title holder in the 160-pound class lost the decision to Carroll Griffin of Boston in a three-round affair. In the 135-pound class Dan Alexander won his first round bout but could not last out his next match with Carter of Dorchester. Several other local boxers were in the 147-pound class with Kelley. The latter won his first match over Frank Brocklesby of West Newton in two rounds. Owen Quinn of Newton won the decision over Langone of Boston, and Dan Sullivan of Newton was knocked out in the second round of his match with Mike Troy of Worcester. Quinn lost a decision to Slavin of Brookline in his second bout while Kelley came through against Troy. Kelley then came up against Slavin and had much the better of a bout which was stopped in the second round. Tuesday night the semi-final and final round bouts were held with the competition getting keener all the time. Kelley first disposed of Metrano of Foxboro to win his way into the finals in which he met Zappala of Lawrence.

In this match Kelley also won the decision in three rounds to annex the title and also gain the right to represent New England in the National A. U. junior championships at Grand Rapids, Mich., on March 13 and 14.

Locke Still Unbeaten

Captain William Locke of the Bowdoin swimming team still possesses a clean record in dual meet swimming. He has yet to taste defeat in the 200-yard event in dual meets. The only loss of his career occurred last year when the intercollegiate against the Scott of Williams nosed him out by a scant margin. With the New England intercollegiate coming soon in the Bowdoin tank, Captain Locke is pointing for this race. Swimming against Springfield recently Locke set a new course record for the distance when 2m. 45.45 sec. was clocked in 2m. 45.45 sec. Last Saturday 3rd, Newton fourth, Brown in a dual meet with the meet, 56 to 17, Captain Layne was the only first place winner for the Polar Bears.

ward, 8 points; Clarke, left forward, 2 points; and Dunbrack, left guard, 2 points. The team as a whole played a fine defensive game, holding the Commercial Club to 10 points made by Lane, Crowe, and Wynn. The Juniors play the Torch Club of Cambridge "Y" Monday evening at 7:00 P. M.

The Newton Y. M. C. A. Junior Swimming team won fourth place in the Massachusetts and Rhode Island Y. M. C. A. Junior swimming championships. The meet was won by Lowell Y. M. C. A. Providence was second, Worcester, 3rd, Newton fourth, and ten other Junior teams following. Charles Jack and Henry McNamara were the point winners for Newton. This was also the case in the 100 yard free style. Charles Jack won his heat but the time was slightly slower than the winner of the other heat. The Newton swimmers meet Chelsea Saturday afternoon at 3:30 in the Newton Swimming pool.

The Newton "Y" Juniors had little trouble winning a basketball game from the Waltham Commercial Club, 45-10, at The Newton Y. M. C. A. gym Monday evening. Each player on the Newton team contributed to the score. Patterson at center scored 16 points, Kasper, right guard, 9 points; Benson, left forward, 8 points; Earle, right forward, 8 points; Clarke, left forward, 2 points; and Dunbrack, left guard, 2 points. The team as a whole played a fine defensive game, holding the Commercial Club to 10 points made by Lane, Crowe, and Wynn. The Juniors play the Torch Club of Cambridge "Y" Monday evening at 7:00 P. The boys who swam on the relay team were: Roger Guthrie, Sam Adams, Henry McNamara, and Charles Jack.

ROTARY CLUB

The regular weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club of Newton was held on Monday, March 3, at the Woodland Golf Club at 12:15. President Charles D. Ansley presiding.

Harry H. Hanson, Chairman of the program Committee, introduced as the speaker, Mr. Raymond Pierce, Vice President of the Old Colony Trust Company, Investment Department. The Club has been trying to get Mr. Pierce to speak to the Club for a long time but on account of the rush of business we were unable to get Mr. Pierce until last Monday.

He took as his subject "The Science of Investment" and explained that there were three distinct ways of using money: investments, speculation, and gambling, and stated that last year's activity in the stock market was principally gambling, in the hope that stocks would go up and the owners be able to sell.

He offered several valuable suggestions, which if followed would be to everybody's benefit. Mr. Pierce said, "Never speculate in anything in which you would not invest." He also said that the best speculation is always the best investment.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of Rotary International was observed at the Hotel Statler, February 26th. Over six hundred Rotarians were present at the banquet Wednesday evening and many ladies were present in the balconies after the banquet to listen to the speeches. The Newton Rotary Club was well represented at this affair.

Troop 7, West Newton Divided

Troop 7, West Newton, Maxwell P. Gaddis, Scoutmaster, has been split into two troops, 7A and 7B, by vote of the Scouts of Troop 7. Mr. Gaddis has 50 Scouts in Troop 7 and felt very strongly, on the basis of national and international experience in Scouting, as well as his own with the Troop, that it was too large and that much more could be accomplished with two smaller Troops.

The matter was discussed with the Patrol Leaders recently and they voted unanimously in favor of the split. On Friday evening last it was placed before the Troop, with the reasons for the proposed change and the Troop voted unanimously and enthusiastically for the two Troops.

Mr. Chester Reed, formerly Assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 7, is the Scoutmaster of Troop 7A and Mr. Oswald Camman, also formerly Assistant Scoutmaster in old 7, is the Scoutmaster of 7B. Troop 7A will continue to meet on Friday evenings at the Congregational Church in West Newton and 7B on Friday evenings at the Unitarian Church in that village.

Mr. Gaddis has been extremely successful as Scoutmaster of Troop 7 and has built it into one of the strongest Troops in the Council, advancing Scouts in rank, carrying on, with the backing of the Troop Committee, which plays a very active part with A. C. Hunt, Jr., chairman and Mr. Frank Rounds, Chairman of the Camping Division, an active over-night camping program at the Nobscot Reservation.

Both the new Scoutmasters have been successful in their work and continuing progress is anticipated in that village.

Mr. Gaddis is carrying on his active work and interest in Scouting in West Newton.

The recent spring-like weather has brought forth many of the earth creatures at the Reservation in Sudbury. The Ranger there reports that he recently saw a little ratter snake which slithered off through the grass as he watched it.

The birds, too, indicate that spring is not far away, for robins and bluebirds have appeared in the woods. A big goshawk has made the Reservation his hunting ground and often during the day he may be seen soaring overhead, watching for some of the unwary smaller birds, that he may dine on them. Foxes are seen frequently there and their sharp barking heard during the early hours of the morning. Many partridge there apparently attract these foxes, but the partridges are increasing in spite of them. No killing of any animal is allowed on the Reservation, for the Council believes that Nature herself maintains a balance and any attempt on the part of man to interfere and help would upset that delicate balance.

An amphitheatre site has been selected on the Reservation by the Camp Architect, Mr. F. H. Colony, and it is being cleared and prepared for the Camporee prize-award celebration on the afternoon of Saturday, May 24th, at 3 o'clock. The amphitheatre is very near the State road and lies in a natural, horse-shoe shaped hollow, which has a flat area after the clearing and arranging for seating area on the surrounding hillsides, pines will be planted around, so that in a few years it will be a most beautiful dell and glade.

On Saturday, April 26th, Conservation Day will be observed at the Reservation, with Mr. George H. Crosby, the Council's nature expert and Assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 5, Center, in charge. Several thousand seedlings of red and white pine (mainly the former since it is not subject to the rust), some spruce and hemlock and possibly some Sitka spruce will be provided for planting on Troop sites and on the Council areas. Mr. Crosby will give instruction in planting and healing in the seedlings and they will then be set out, with proper protection.

Over every week-end now almost every cabin is constantly in use. Scouts and leaders flock to the Reservation during the fairer days, though many of them are not deterred by rain or snow or cold, for they go properly clothed and equipped. Troop 18, Center, Mr. R. B. Peirce, Scoutmaster, has the good idea of having an equipment list for each Scout printed on cloth and then sewed into the flap of each Scout's knapsack. When a Patrol reports for an over-night hike, the Patrol leader checks up on each Scout and if any of them are not equipped according to the regulations, he stays home. This means that Scouts of Troop 18 are insured against colds and sickness which result from camping when improperly equipped and clothed. The list is very complete and inexpensive to purchase for it is lasting.

Work on the cabins continues apace. Troop 2, Auburndale, has its Maine log-cabin all chinked and very cleverly, with rolled and twisted burlap. Its roof is nearly shingled and the bunks will soon be built in. This cabin will be ready for habitation very soon, even in the coldest weather it will be warm and comfortable. Troop 3, Norantum, has its cabin nearing completion.

The Mountain shelter of Troops 4A and 4B, Highlands, high in the hills and woods of the Reservation is progressing gradually. Each log that is to go into this cabin must be carefully selected from hundreds of chestnut logs which have lain in the weather for years. The Scouts select the logs and then draw-shave them down to the sound wood. Following Council recommendations, the cabin was planned by the Scouts and the work is being done by them, too.

Troop 5, Center, has hauled chestnut logs from the chestnut stand on the Reservation—and tremendous logs some of them are, to their site and are

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT S. S. ASSN.

The District Board of Education will meet on Thursday, March 13, at the home of Mrs. Everett A. Greene, president, to discuss plans for the coming Convention on the 25th of March, and other activities or policies for the future.

The Girls' Church Basketball League is well along on its schedule. The Newtonville M. E. Church team seems headed toward the championship. Close seconds are at the present time the Newton Upper Falls Methodist Church, the Immanuel Baptist, and the Central Congregational. Mrs. J. G. Fleming and Mrs. K. L. Moses have been of much assistance to Lulloma Barker in the general management of the League. Miss Dorothy Hazen of Newton Highlands has rendered service several times as referee.

The Assembly period at the Newtonville School of Religious Education was addressed last evening by Mrs. Bennett of Brookline, who explained the values of the "Boston Friendship Tours," and invited everyone to take advantage of these "tours," which are planned for nearly every Saturday afternoon and evening in Boston. The committee headed by Mrs. Bennett has as its chairman Rev. Herbert L. Jump, a resident of Newton, now pastor of Union Church, Boston. The purpose of these tours is to foster friendship with the racial groups that live so near our doors. The itinerary includes each time those places, such as churches, settlements or other organization headquarters, which are connected with some racial group residing in Boston. A sympathetic approach to the topic or racial group of the day is assured and some appropriate plan for supper is made. Lectures along the way add to the educational value. Anyone interested is invited. Further information may be obtained by telephoning Middlesex 3012.

Troops 7A and 7B, West Newton, have their camping program going strong, a Patrol going to the cabin over-night each week, with the Scoutmaster, an Assistant, or a member of the Troop Committee as camp division, which has about twenty men of the village on their rolls for taking Scouts to the Reservation over-night.

Troop 9, Waban, is working on its cabin plans, which are being drawn up by the Scouts themselves.

Troop 10, Waban, has its Indian village under way, located, so good authority states, on the site of a former Indian Village. One Patrol has the framework of two hogans up and started on the hogan for the Scoutmaster last Saturday. When completed, with its hogans and long house and probably with a stockade, this Indian village will be one of the features of the Reservation.

Troop 11, Newton Corner, is carrying on a strong over-night camping program each week and using their Junior Hike Leaders very largely.

Troop 14, Upper Falls, is planning to start its cabin early this spring on its location to the southeast of Squanto Rock.

Troop 15, Auburndale, is working on its Maine log cabin, with the roof nearly completed. This cabin, too, is being built very largely by the Scouts themselves.

Troop 18, Center, is completing its cabin, which is to be finished with slabs.

Troop 19, Center, has its cabin completed and in use quite regularly.

Troop 20, Center, plans to start on its cabin fairly soon.

Troop 21, Center, had its building Committee, consisting of Messrs. Robert Vachon, P. I. Robbins and Patrick Lehané at the Reservation last Saturday and they selected a site among pines and cedars at the northeast end of the Reservation. They now plan to start a Maine log cabin soon.

During the winter, the Ranger has spent a great deal of time preparing signs which are to mark trails and roads on the Reservation. They are of planned chestnut, with black letters and are treated with preservative and will be mounted on slatted chestnut poles about four feet high. They will be wholly in keeping with the Reservation.

Plans are under way for arranging for a fire signal on the Reservation which, in case of fire or other need shall quickly assemble all Scouts and Scouters at a central point or at a place indicated by the code sounded on the signal.

Troop News Items

Recently Mr. Dana Sylvester went to the Leadership and Training Course held by the North Shore Council and spoke on the Patrol System. The meeting was held at the Lodge Pole Ranch in Beverly. Mr. Sylvester was enthusiastically received and the Scout Executive of that Council was delighted with Mr. Sylvester's presentation. Mr. Sylvester, known to the Scouts of his Troop as Uncle Dana, is Scoutmaster of 4B, Highlands.

Miss Caroline Freeman, Director for Newton, and Captain of Troop 25, West Newton, left Wednesday, March 5th, to spend a week in Atlantic City. Headquarters will be open as usual in her absence, under the direction of Miss Mildred Moore, Field Captain, and Miss Ruth Fennessey, Assistant to the Director.

The Spring Course in Swimming and Life Saving, held at the Walnut Park Country Day School for Boys, will open March 7th, and continue for ten lessons. Miss Ruth Fennessey, Red Cross Life Saving Examiner, will be in charge of the course. Girls may pass First Class Swimming, Swimmers' Merit Badge, and Life Saver, as well as the Red Cross Swimming and Life Saving; parties of Scouts who want to swim just for the fun may be arranged by calling Headquarters in advance.

The last lesson of the Folk Dancing Class was held Thursday, March 6th, at the Unitarian Church, West Newton, and examinations for those wishing to pass the Folk Dancing test were given at this time. Miss Molly Longley has been a most efficient teacher and has made her subject a fascinating one to all members of the class.

Troop 2, Newton, is very pleased to have two new helpers, Miss Harriet Murray and Miss Grace Cummings of Newton, who will give a most interesting course preparing the girls for the Craftsman Merit Badge.

Troop 5 of Newton Centre invited Troops 13, 23, and 27 to a joint meeting of Newton Centre troops on March 6th, at the Congregational Church. After an opening ceremony by the Scouts, the play "Feudin' and Learin'" was presented by a cast of mountaineers from Caney Creek Community Centre of Kentucky.

Troop 6, Norantum, is having a course in Home Hygiene under the direction of Miss Norcross, of the Newton Red Cross.

Troops 7 and 17 aided with the Girl Scout Movie presented in the Newton Upper Falls Auditorium on February 27th, which was a great success. The pictures were "The Girl Scout Trail," "What a Day" and "Mother's Boy."

Troop 10 has been doing a very lovely and worthwhile bit of service. These Scouts of the Newtonville Senior Troop, under the direction of Captain Ballard, have been raising bulbs which they have taken to shut-ins, at the same time making a friendly visit.

Troop 21, at their last meeting, gave a fashion-show, beginning with styles of Civil War time and going through to the present, with even a picture of the future. A Virginia Reel followed, and the meeting closed with a prophecy for the future of each Scout. The troop is hard at work preparing two plays which are to be produced on March 21st, and this novelty meeting was in the way of a bit of relaxation.

Troop 26, Newton Highlands, is working on Craftsman Merit Badge under the direction of Mrs. Vry, they are doing tie-dyeing and gesso work.

On Friday, February 21st, ten Girl Scouts from Troop 14, Waban went to Washington to stay until the following Wednesday; they travelled to New York by boat, and from there they took the train home. The same route, in the group were Captain Warren, Mrs. A. L. Stephen, Chairman of Troop Committee, Martha Burnham, Elizabeth Adams, Phyllis Reinhardt, Mary Stephen, Elsie Steinhilber, Dorothy Whitaker, Phyllis Wood, Betty Blierer. Part of one day was spent in Philadelphia on the way down. The group was met by Mrs. Vry, who took them to the hotel. The group was met by Mrs. Vry, who took them to the hotel. A reception was held from 3:30 until twelve. The couple were assisted in receiving by Miss Elizabeth Flynn. Supper was served from six until 8:30. There were about fifty guests. Piano and violin solos were played by the Misses Mary and Helen Flynn of Charlestown, P. E. I. Mr. Joseph Horan also gave violin solos accompanied on the ukelele by Mr. Charles Geary.

After a wedding trip to New York and Springfield, Mr. and Mrs. Morrissey will reside in Newtonville.

The groom is a graduate of St. Dunstan's College, Charlestown, P. E. I.

HEALY—KEMP
A very pretty wedding took place on Monday evening at seven o'clock when Miss Alice May Kemp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland P. Kemp of Prospect street, Wellesley Hills, became the bride of Mr. Walter Healy, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Healy, of Newtonville.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. John J. Flood, pastor of St. John's Church, Wellesley Hills. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Florence Kemp, and the best man was Mr. Joseph Healy, a brother of the groom.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

MASQUERADE DANCE
On Saturday evening, February fifteenth, a most enjoyable masquerade was held at the Hunnewell Club by Miss Pauline Dunne for the younger high school boys and girls. The costume prizes were won by Duncan Cotting as a Chinaman and Winifred Walden as a Japanese girl, although all the costumes were deserving of recognition.

MORRISSEY—CONRAD

Miss Edith Mae Conrad, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Conrad of Lawrence Town, Nova Scotia, was married to John Joseph Morrissey of 30 Wiltshire road, Newton, at the Church of Our Lady, Newton, on Sunday, March second, at three-thirty in the afternoon. Rev. Walter Roche performed the ceremony.

Miss Florence Gertrude McGarry, a cousin of the groom, was the bridesmaid, and Richard Joseph McGarry, also a cousin of the groom, was the best man. The ushers were Jack Smith, William Etheridge Smith, Edward Murphy and Thomas Higgins. The bride wore blue georgette with hat to match with fawn shoes and hosiery. She carried white roses and sweet peas. The bridesmaid wore an orchid dress with gray hat and gray shoes, and carried pink roses and sweet peas.

Recent Engagements

HIGH SCHOOL DRAMA CLUB

The Drama Club of Newton High School will present in the Assembly Hall, the Four-Act play, "Nathan Hale", on Friday afternoon, March 7, at 2:30, and Saturday evening, March 8, at 8:15. The play is coached by Miss Louise Wetherbee who has directed so many successful productions in the past.

This play is of Revolutionary War times, and is a combination of youthful romance and stark tragedy. The original roles of Captain Hale and Alice Adams were played by the famous stage artists, Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott.

The leading parts will be played by Donald Bischoff as Hale, and Martha Lander as Alice Adams. The role of the villainous British officer, Major Fitzroy is filled by Edward Smith, and his compatriot the "drunken" Cunningham by Harry Colony. Ebenezer Lebanon, the assistant schoolteacher, and Jasper, the colored servant, are enacted by Donald Briggs and Richard Walden respectively. The entire cast this year is an experienced one, and all signs point to a dramatic success.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

Thursday evening, February 27, 1930, the American Legion Auxiliary of the Newton Post No. 48, gave a very successful Birthday Party to the veterans confined to the hospital at Bedford, Mass. Each boy having a birthday in the month was presented a gift of a white shirt and tie.

The hospital authorities say the Newton birthday party was one of the most successful and great praise should be given to these women who worked so hard to make this occasion such a success.

There were 38 boys who received a birthday gift.

The committee in charge of this affair also brought up to these boys about two hundred pounds of homemade candy, homemade cake, ice cream and plenty of cigarettes.

About one hundred and twenty-five of the Auxiliary and Legion Post members motored up to Bedford. Music was provided and dancing was enjoyed by the boys.

The success of this party is due to a very active committee under the leadership of Mrs. Brady, Chairman, and the American Legion Post who donated a substantial check to cover the cost of the Birthday gifts.

A very beautiful birthday cake was donated by Weston's bakery, a lovely cake was also donated by the Mitty Nice Bakery and roses from Folsom's Flower Shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Whiting Newhall, gave a tea in their home at 34 Bonad road on last Friday afternoon, at which they announced the engagement of their daughter Miss Dorothy Florence Newhall, to Mr. Gilbert Hubbard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hubbard of Newton Centre. Mrs. Hubbard, mother of the fiancé, assisted Mrs. Newhall and her daughter in receiving. Assisting in the hospitalities were Mrs. Richard M. Ott, Mrs. Herbert Horne, Mrs. Burt Frost Upham, Mrs. Allen Hubbard Jr., Mrs. Florence Farum, Mrs. J. Edward Plimpton, Mrs. Walter Sherbrooke, Mrs. William Derrick and Mrs. D. C. MacKeachie. Miss Newhall is a graduate of the Hillsdale School, at Norwalk, Conn., and the Boston University Art School and is one of the most popular and charming in the younger set of West Newton.

Mr. Hubbard was graduated from Andover Academy in the class of 1921 and is engaged in business in Boston. No date has as yet been set for the wedding.

JUNIOR DRAMATIC CLUB

The regular meeting of the Junior Dramatic Club was held in the Play-ground House, Newton Centre on Saturday evening, March 1st. After the business meeting a delightful play "The Noble Lord" was given. Those taking part were Peggy Schmelz, Fred Hammond and John Bishop who gave excellent interpretations.

Officers elected were Frederick Hammond, President; Betty Buttrick, Vice President; Peggy Schmelz, Secretary; John Bishop, Treasurer; Ellen Weston, Chairman of Membership Committee; John Perry, Chairman of Program Committee; Jean Lotz, Chairman of Refreshment Committee and Peggy Overlees, Chairman of the Costume Committee.

The date of the next play and meeting is Saturday, March 22nd.

GOOD WORK ON BUDGET

In many years the aldermen have not made as little change in the Mayor's recommendations for budgeted expenditures as they did on Monday night when they passed figures to a total of $4,434,105.28. This reduced Mayor Weeks' figures by only a little more than $20,000. It is interesting to note that $15,500 of this sum is confined to two items, the Finance committee cutting off $10,000 of the amount asked for snow removal and $5,500 for the care of conduits, lands and reservoirs. Naturally if there is much snow in the closing months of the year it is possible that the aldermen may be required to appropriate more than the $40,000 they named, but in the first two months of this year the amount spent on this work is far below the average. With the total budget in the neighborhood of a quarter of a million dollars less than the sums appropriated for the same purposes in 1929 and the valuations of real and personal property on the increase it is highly probable that the city can now find money to accomplish one or more of several contemplated major projects without much, if any increase in the tax rate. In previous years the Finance Committee has burned the midnight oil frequently in going over the city budget but the thought and attention given the matter by Mayor Weeks since taking office simplified their work immensely.

A MOVE FOR SAFETY

During the coming months it is planned to remove twenty-seven thousand unfit automobiles from the highways of New England as a part of a national Highway Safety Plan which has been characterized as "perhaps the greatest single move for safety in industrial history." Fourteen thousand of this total will be taken off the roads of this state. The "rattle-trap" car is one of the biggest hazards on the road, particularly in that many of them are driven by irresponsible young drivers. The aim of the program, which is sponsored by various companies in the automobile industry, is to guarantee the actual scrapping of the unfit automobile. The cost of the program in New England is a little over a million while nationally the sum totals fifteen millions of dollars. It is a highly commendable plan.

PRESENT PROBLEMS OF AMERICAN LIFE

Present problems of American life is the subject of the forty-sixth series of Read Fund Lectures and the fifth consecutive course by Dr. E. Howard Griggs, which began last Friday evening. It is not often that Newton citizens are offered the opportunity of hearing such a scholar of history, literature and philosophy on such a vital and interesting topic. Dr. Griggs' experience and scholastic versatility enable him to illuminate his addresses against a background of finest thought.

ALDERMEN PASS BUDGET

the appropriation of $135,000 for street lighting, asked if the Public Works Committee had considered the need of better lighting on Boylston street.

Alderman Murray of the Public Works Committee answered by saying that the Mayor favors better lighting of Boylston street, but in view of the fact that the State is starting work to make this street a main traffic artery between Boston and Worcester it would not be prudent to spend money at this time to install a new lighting system on Boylston street.

Alderman Powers asked if the increases on the water bills this year should not bring so much more revenue than an appreciable savings can be made in the cost of this department to the city. Alderman Bail replied, saying that it is probable that in another year or so a reduction can be made in the water rates.

ANTI-BUMMING RIDE CAMPAIGN FACTS

To the driver:

Do you know that in 1923 more than twice as many children were injured in Massachusetts in automobile accidents as there are now pupils in Newton High School? The more children are in the street, the greater will be the chance for accidents.

Help lessen this danger by not giving rides to bummers who cause a great many of these accidents.

THANK YOU!

Anti-Bumming Ride Campaign.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The Legislative Committee on Cities has before it a bill to provide a life tenure for the present incumbent of the office of City Clerk of Newton. Representative Thompson is a member of the committee. At the hearing on the bill last Tuesday it was favored by Senator Hollis who placed on record Newton members of the General Court in favor. City Solicitor Bartlett and Ex-Mayor Ames were among those who spoke in favor. There was no opposition. The committee has before it several bills of similar character from other municipalities and it is expected that all the bills will be considered at one time. There is precedent for such a bill, it is pointed out, inasmuch as life tenure for the present incumbent has been granted by Legislative authority to six other city clerks. In the case of City Clerk Grant of Newton the provisions of the bill would apply to him alone and not to any successor. Mr. Grant's service to the city and his efficiency were praised by all the speakers.

The bill of Mayor Weeks to change the system of voting in Newton has been withdrawn at the request of the Mayor. The project was to do away with the preferential ballot. Representatives of the ward and city committees of both parties as well as the Mayor and members of the Legislature from this city have discussed the matter and because of the opinions expressed it was decided that the legislation should not be sought at this time. Mayor Weeks desired more time to consider the question and postponement of Legislative consideration for another year will give the Mayor plenty of opportunity to study the matter.

Newton has a deep interest in several other bills affecting the Metropolitan district, including the extension of the Boylston-street subway under Governor Square, Boston. Whether Newton will accept the proportionate assessment to be made upon it if the work is put through remains to be seen.

The last of the numerous special commissions created by last year's Legislature has filed its report. It was that appointed to investigate the activities of power companies in this State. The report is an exhaustive one and gives a picture of existing conditions in gas and electric properties, both publicly and privately owned. Now that this commission has placed its recommendations for legislation before the 1930 General Court the matter will be given immediate consideration.

A bill in which many local druggists were interested was rejected by House this week. At the public hearing two weeks ago a large number of druggists and others contented that there was no harm in the sale of these articles for an amendment to the present law relating to the manufacture and sale of patent and proprietary medicines. Druggists took the stand such articles as aspirin and the like as well as certain proprietary medicines should not be sold in a place where there was no registered druggist. Manufacturers and others contented that there was no harm in the sale of these articles by any line of stores. There was quite an extended debate but the measure was finally rejected by a standing vote of 70 to 41.

The latest bulletin of committee work shows that there have been 101 House matters considered and 304 Senate. This makes a total of 1405 and shows what a vast amount of work has already been accomplished by the Legislature thus far.

The Governor has signed the act authorizing cities and towns to appropriate money to provide facilities for public entertainment in connection with the National convention of the American Legion to be held in Boston this coming Fall. If Newton wishes to appropriate money it now has Legislative power.

Another bill signed by the Governor is that which places under the civil service laws supervisors of school attendance in cities and in such towns or more than 12,000 inhabitants shall accept the provisions of the act. Senator Hollis, on the rollcall in the Senate on substituting for an adverse committee report the bill to establish a State commission on bartering, voted against substitution and in favor of accepting the committee's adverse report.

A rollcall was held in the House on substituting for an adverse committee report a bill to give the Lowell Chief of Police the right to cast the deciding vote in cases of tie votes or other disagreements in the Lowell Election Commission. Representatives Baker, Luitwieler, and Thompson were recorded against substitution which was refused.

The general appropriation bill, commonly called the State budget, has passed both branches with practically no changes. It involves the expenditure of some $60,000,000 for State expenses.

LENTEN SERVICES

UNION LENTEN SERVICES AT NEWTON

The third Union Lenten Services of the Eliot Congregational Church, Unitarian, Immanuel Baptist and Newton Methodist Episcopal Churches will begin Sunday evening at the Methodist Episcopal Church, Centre and Wesley streets. These services are sponsored by the Young People's Societies as well as the regular church. During Lent the young people will merge their evening services with the lenten service and take a part in the program. A large chorus from the cooperating churches will sing processional and recessional hymns as well as prayer responses. The choirs of the respective churches will also render musical numbers. The speaker at the Methodist church Sunday evening will be Dr. Garfield Morgan of the Central Congregational Church in Lynn. Dr. Morgan is the leader and speaker every Sunday morning at 9:30 to a great class of men with a membership of one thousand and an attendance of five hundred.

A splendid program for these services has been prepared. A Pageant, "The Pilgrim and the Book," will be given Sunday evening, March 23rd, at Eliot Church and a Choral Service April 13th at the same place. March 30th: Miss Elsie D. Harper, Industrial secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association will speak at the Immanuel Baptist Church, and Bishop Francis J. McConnell of the Methodist Episcopal Church and President of the Federal Council of Churches in America will speak, April 6th at Channing Church. We have been exceedingly fortunate in procuring the services of Bishop McConnell as he is undoubtedly the most widely known member of the Board of Bishops and also a foremost leader in the church of America.

MID-WEEK SERVICES IN THE ELIOT CHURCH DURING LENT

At the mid-week meetings of the Eliot Church during Lent Professor O. W. Warmingham of the School of Religious Education of Boston University is offering a series of addresses on "The Personal Religion of Jesus." The second address in this series will be given on Thursday evening, March 13th at 7:45 o'clock on the theme "The Vision of the Prophets." These addresses are open to the public.

UNION LENTEN SERVICES IN NEWTONVILLE

The churches of Newtonville will unite in a series of Sunday evening, Lenten services during the next six weeks. The first of the services will be held in the Methodist Church on Walnut street at seven-thirty o'clock Sunday night, March 9. The speaker will be the Rev. Roy L. Minich, pastor of the Baptist Church of Malden, Mass. Rev. Minich is one of the most brilliant younger ministers in the Boston area, and has a wide reputation as a provocative, thoughtful and impassioned speaker.

Other speakers on the Newtonville program will be:

March 16—Dr. Ashley Day Leavitt, Brookline Congregational.
March 23—Dr. W. W. Fenn, Harvard Theological School.
March 30—Dr. Geo. H. Spencer, Mass. Bible Society.
April 6—Dr. Peter Dunn, Central Congregational, Boston.
April 13—Rev. Seth R. Brooks, Universalist Church, Malden, Mass.

The churches uniting in this Lenten series are: The Central Congregational, Dr. Arthur M. Ellis, Minister; the Newtonville Methodist, Dr. L. W. C. Emig, minister; the Church of the New Jerusalem, Rev. J. W. Spier, minister; and the Newton Universalist Church, Rev. M. A. Kapp, minister. The first three of the services will be held at the Newtonville Methodist Church; the last three at the Central Congregational.

LENTEN SERMONS AT UNIVERSALIST CHURCH

In connection with a campaign of Neighborhood Friendship, the Rev. M. A. Kapp of the Washington Park Universalist Church in Newtonville will deliver a series of Lenten sermons on "Great Universalist Beliefs" beginning Sunday March 9. The first of the series will be "What Universalists Believe About God." The other sermons in the series will be "What Universalists Believe About Jesus," "What Universalists Believe about the Bible," "What Universalists Believe about Hell," "What Universalists Believe about Immortality."

In a unique movement to make the Washington Park church serve the immediate community neighborhood, over a thousand letters are being posted in order to reach every person in the vicinity. These letters urge the church people to attend services at their churches, and the unchurched people to feel welcome if they should care to attend the Universalist church. The people in this Washington Park section of Newtonville will also receive calls from the minister, the Rev. M. A. Kapp, and from members of the church to increase the feeling of neighborliness. On March 9, all members of the church plan to attend the opening Lenten services, and have promised to bring at least one friend to the morning service. On March 14, a neighborhood supper will be held in the vestry, to which a special invitation is given to all friends in the neighborhood.

UNION LENTEN SERVICES IN NEWTON CENTRE

Following the custom of previous years the five Protestant churches in Newton Centre will unite for worship on Sunday evenings during Lent, as follows: March 9, Trinity Episcopal Church, Dr. Dwight Bradley preaching; March 16, First Baptist Church, special musical service; March 23, First Congregational Church, Dr. Edward T. Sullivan preaching; March 30, Unitarian Church, the Rev. John C.

TO BAN 27,000 UNFIT CARS FROM NEW ENGLAND ROADS

Twenty-seven thousand unfit automobiles will be removed from New England highways during the coming year as part of a national Highway Safety Plan which is being undertaken by various companies in the automobile industry, as announced by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce. The program will involve the expenditure of approximately $1,012,500 in the New England Area. Nationally, the motor companies plan to scrap 400,000 old automobiles in 1930, at a cost of about $15,000,000. The number of cars which it is estimated will be scrapped in each of the six states is as follows:

New Hampshire	1,510
Vermont	1,230
Massachusetts	14,070
Rhode Island	2,210
Connecticut	5,870

The program is characterized as "perhaps the greatest single safety move in industrial history," by Alvan Macauley, president of the Automobile Chamber, and former chairman of its Street Traffic Committee. "This widespread experiment will strike right at the heart of the unsafe vehicle problem by eliminating a huge block of those which are in the poorest condition," says Mr. Macauley.

One of the hazards of the highway situation has been the rattle-trap car which keeps re-appearing on the road after it has presumably been sent to the discard. The aim of this program is to guarantee the actual scrapping of the vehicle. The plan will be worked out by each company participating, in line with its general sales policies and the volume of its production.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

During the week ending March 1st there were 189 patients in the hospital. Of this number 79 paid as much as cost of care, or more, 58 paid less than cost of care, and 52, including babies, were treated free of charge. 15 babies were born, 11 boys, and 4 girls. 156 patients were treated by the out-patient department. Five patients were treated in the eye clinic, 16 accident cases were admitted to the emergency department. Eight calls were made by the social worker, and 7 patients were transferred by the social service car.

The month of February showed all departments of the hospital running very heavy. The highest number for any one twenty-four hours was 202, the largest number ever in the hospital at any one time. The smallest number was 158, and the daily average for the month 174.67, also a record high mark. Seven patients were admitted to the contagious department; 68 babies were born, 36 boys, and 32 girls; 139 operations were performed, 57 major, 56 minor, and 26 nose and throat. 275 patients were admitted to the x-ray department, and 567 visits were made to the out-patient department. 66 calls were made in the hospital and 31 in the homes by the social worker. 25 patients were transferred by the social service car.

On Sunday evening, March 2nd, at the fireside service in the Nurses' Home Mr. Joseph C. MacDonald of the Union Church in Waban spoke to the nurses on Loyalty. Mrs. L. A. Estes of Waban played for a song service, and also a piano solo. Refreshments were served.

On Monday afternoon the School of Nursing Committee met at the hospital.

On Monday evening, March 3rd, the Know More Kokki met at the hospital. Dr. H. F. Brown, of Newton Centre, and Dr. J. R. Lingley, an instructor, presented the papers for discussion.

On Wednesday afternoon the Newton Nurses Alumnae met at the hospital. Miss Sally Johnson, of the Massachusetts General Hospital spoke on Organizations.

Miss Bertha W. Allen, Supt., has been made chairman of the National Hospital Day Program Committee of the New England Hospital Association. National Hospital Day is May 12th.

Of the sixteen accident cases admitted during the past week only 1 was an automobile accident case. This was a woman suffering with a fractured elbow. Six men were admitted suffering from various injuries: one with a burn of his arm received while filling a gasoline tank, one for a laceration of his forehead received when he fell over a barrel striking on the sidewalk, one with a laceration over his left eyebrow received while working in the street, one for a laceration of the scalp, one found in a dazed condition, and one with a splinter under his thumb. Four women were admitted: one with an abscess in her ear, one with fractured ribs received while riding horseback, one with a bruised left thumb, and one with a broken nose received when she fell down the cellar stairs. Three boys were admitted: one with a laceration under his chin, one with a severed tendon in his middle right finger, and one with abscesses in both ears. Two girls were admitted, one with a fractured elbow received when she fell from a cart while playing, and one with a sprained ankle.

Do You Know?

WHAT THE NEWTON CENTRE SCHOOL ASSOCIATION IS?

The object of this association is to maintain the high standard of the Newton Centre schools and to promote cooperation between its teachers and the citizens of Newton Centre in order to secure the best physical, mental and moral development of its children. For the enlightenment of the many newcomers to Newton Centre, and of those parents whose children are just beginning their school careers here, the Newton Centre School Association submits the following brief history of itself.

At the time of its inception Mrs. Frank Nathan was president of the Newton Centre Woman's Club. Mrs. Howard Winslow was chairman of the Educational Committee and Mrs. Abbott Rice was chairman of the Legislative Committee. At an meeting of the Committee Chairmen, called to seek some method by which the parents could assist the Newton Centre Schools, Mrs. Howard Winslow suggested that some attempt be made to organize an association for the purpose. Mr. Paul, when called upon, offered to hold open house at the Mass. School, and so interested in this opportunity to meet other parents and the instructors, and to see not only the work of their own children but of the classes, that the committee in charge were almost overwhelmed with the attendance.

Two other meetings under the auspices of the Educational Committee of the Woman's Club followed at which speakers told the audience of the good such an organization as the N. C. S. A. could do in this community. Notice was sent out for a fourth meeting to be held April 21, 1921 to form the N. C. S. A. Forty-six women responded. They voted to form the association, to use the Council System found efficient by the Parent Teachers Association elsewhere, and to have each public school in Newton Centre and the High School have council representation. At a later meeting the constitution and the by-laws submitted by Mrs. Rice were accepted and the following officers elected: Pres., Mrs. Matt Jones, Vice President, Mrs. Ellis Spear, Secretary, Mrs. Howard Winslow, Treas., Mrs. Ernest Deering, and committee chairmen—Mrs. Wm. Hodges, Mrs. George Murphy, Mrs. C. F. Kendall, and Mrs. Howard Winslow. Since that first year the association has grown from 233 members to almost 900 members. Its five presidents have been: Mrs. Matt Jones, Mrs. Howard Winslow, Mrs. Albert Hopkins, Mrs. Wm. H. Raye, and the present president, Mrs. Melville D. Liming.

The association has from the start shunned all meddling with matters belonging strictly to the school administration and the following officers and enthusiasm of Mr. Paul and the teachers. The effect of the work of the association has been to produce more harmony between home and school and make it easier for the teacher and parent to approach one another on the problems of the children. The association's record of accomplishment has been so splendid. We record here some of its work.

The Association was instrumental in obtaining the High School tunnel, the installation of electric lights in the Mason School, the remedying of the bad sanitary conditions of the Rice School, installation of an outside fire escape on the Rice School, betterments in the Bowen School basement, a rest room for teachers in the Rice School, and the toboggan slide on the playground. It was also instrumental in securing longer hours at the Newton Centre Library which is now open all day Wednesday and Saturday, and we hope in the near future it may be open for the day. Following its suggestion the eight week vacation system be installed in the Newtons, the association with the assistance of Mrs. Tyler of the Federated Women's Clubs of the Newtons made a canvass of all the Newton schools to get an expression of opinion. Following its report to the School Committee this beneficial system was adopted.

The Association is entirely dependent on its dues of 35c a person. These dues are used to provide for the schools in the district, luxuries not allowed in their budget: phonograph and records, a radio and a moving picture projector, etc. A library has been started for the Rice School through two one hundred dollar gifts given by a friend and a contribution of $25 annually has been made by the Association to the High School Library.

The aim of the Association is to make for cooperation between home and school, to help where it can promote any betterments that affect the children of the community, and to give to the Newton Centre schools some of the helpful luxuries that the school appropriations can not afford them. When your child brings home a little slip announcing the next meeting of the N. C. S. A. don't throw the slip to one side and forget the meeting. The Association needs you and you need it.

The Association holds four open meetings yearly, one of which is an evening meeting so that fathers may attend. At these meetings it has been the policy to have speakers on educational matters. We have also drawn speakers from our own midst interested in any phase of child welfare.

VISIT MUSEUM

A class from the Adams School, Newtonville, visited the Children's Museum of Boston this week for a Japanese talk. The Museum collections include the finest display in the East illustrating in miniature the life of the Japanese people, as well as a striking set of Japanese Festival Dolls given to the children of America through Japanese endeavor, a Boy's Festival set, and Miss Myako Koyata and her belongings sent several years ago by the children of Kyoto to American children.

ALDERMEN MEET

A large number of persons attended the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night, most of the "gallery" being present for the purpose of urging the laying out and improving of unaccepted streets on which they reside. A number of citizens appealing for the betterment of their streets uttered a phrase which has become quite familiar to the Aldermen. This phrase is—"The street I reside on is in the worst condition of any street in the city."

Before the hearings were held on the petitions for street betterments, the gasoline station petitions were "aired." Details of the gasoline station hearings are given in another column. Another petition presented was that of Newton Turner who seeks to obtain a permit to add another story to his building at 320-322 Washington street, Newton. This building is used as an automobile sales and service station. A letter of protest against the windows in the present building extending over adjoining property was read. It came from Elmer Parkhurst of 323 Washington street.

Dr. Harry Emmons of 7 Avalon road, favoring the petition of Arthur Moore of 8 Rogers street, stated that the street is a quagmire after a rainstorm and almost impassable. Fred Hackley and Herbert Smith also spoke in favor of the petition.

Amos Wells of 40 Williston road, Auburndale, urged that the city improve this street which he asserted has been the reason for a "foot-sore" for a long time. Blanche Noyes and W. H. Flagg also spoke in favor of this petition.

Richard Dickinson of 14 Hood street, Newton, asked that Hood street be improved and accepted, so that property owners and children residing on this street can use it. Accord-ing to Mr. Dickinson this unaccepted street is in poor shape. Edward O. Loring of Shorncliffe road opposed the laying out and accepting of Hood street. He contended that the street is in good condition and to make the changes petitioned for will cause the destruction of trees on his property. Mrs. Zilda Bennett of 2 Hood street opposed the petition because of the expense she will incur if the work on this street is done. Mr. Dickinson also spoke in favor of the petition to improve and accept Rogers street, which runs from Hood street to the Brighton line. He asserted that Rogers street is in even worse condition than Hood street.

Arthur Moore of 8 Rogers street, who has resided there for 7 years, termed conditions terrible; children cannot play on the street or the sidewalks, which are mudholes. Mortimer O'Toole of 21 Rogers street told of having frequently had to fill holes in the street after the rainstorms had washed the earth away. John Brodick of 15 Rogers street claimed that property owners on the street are being threatened with suits by persons owning property on the Boston end of the street because of the water which drains down from the Newton side. He said that houses on the street cannot be rented because of the conditions there. Mr. Brodick related that some years ago a petition had been entered to have the street improved, but the matter was dropped when property owners were told that the expense would be $32,000. Chairman Murray of the Public Works Committee asked City Engineer Morse for figures on the cost of fire escape on the Rice School, betterments in the Bowen School basement, a rest room for teachers in the Rice School, and the toboggan slide on the playground. It was also instrumental in securing longer hours at the Newton Centre Library which is now open all day Wednesday and Saturday, and we hope in the near future it may be open for the day.

The Licenses Committee reported adversely on the following petitions, which were given leave to withdraw—Edison and Telephone Companies, pole location on Laudholm road, Newton; Edward J. Collins, pool room permit at 231 Washington street, Newton. A hearing was assigned on March 17 on the petition of Catherine Greene for a permit to erect a 3 car garage at 46 Elm street, West Newton.

Mayor Weeks submitted to the Board for approval the reappointment of Miss Florence Fitzgerald as Director of Public Welfare. He sent communications recommending the appropriation of $800 additional for the completion of the backstop for the high school athletic field and for an amendment to the ordinances authorizing the Mayor to appoint special police officers to serve without pay. For a number of years these special police officers have been reappointed annually. This year, Chief of Police Burke, doubtful of the legality of the appointment of these officers as no provision had been made for them in the ordinances, asked the City Solicitor for a ruling. The City Solicitor ruled that the Chief has no authority to make such appointments. Hence the recommendation of the Mayor to legalize the appointment of the citizens willing to assist in maintaining Law and Order.

New petitions received and referred to committees included the following:

Public Works

Arthur M. Curry et al. sewer in Bemuth road, Ward 5, from present end of sewer to a point about 140 ft. toward Lincoln street.

Mary L. Hughes, drain and sewer, East Side Parkway, Ward 1, from present end of sewer southerly to near Cabot street.

Ralph T. Laffie, 49 Carleton street, Ward 7.

Frank Y. Clark, new auctioneer license, 61 Pelham street, Ward 6.

Reuben Kligman, amending petition for a public garage at 456 Watertown street, Ward 2, to read "14 cars" instead of "19 cars."

W. M. Gulliksen, permit to erect 3-car garage at 18 St. Mary street.

Newton & Watertown Realty Trust, permit to erect and maintain a gas line service station, 4 tanks with pumps, max. storage capacity of tanks 5,000 gals., and to erect building to be used as a gas station, at 1250-1260 Washington street, Ward 3.

An Alderman Powers inquired of City Solicitor Bartlett regarding a motion which was passed last year by the Board at the Ward 1 member's instigation. This motion requested the Legislature and the City Solicitor to favor the passage of a bill by the Legislature which would amend the so-called Excise Tax Law on automobiles put into effect for the first time last year, and to seek retroactive relief for the many thousands of automobile owners who had been unfairly compelled to pay double and triple taxes because of an unexpected application of this new law. Anyone purchasing a new automobile during last year who did not make application for an abatement within 60 days, had to pay a full year's tax on both cars owned during the year. Thousands throughout the State, not acquainted with the meaning of this phase of the new law, were not aware of the "joker" in it until they received a second tax bill more than 60 days after they had bought a new car and thus were refused any abatement. Even the Legislators who passed the law were not aware that such a development would occur and admitted the injustice of it. Assessors in many towns and cities beamed over the result as it meant large additions to the tax revenues.

In answer to the questions by the Ward 1 Alderman, the City Solicitor stated that the matter is still under consideration by the Committee on Taxation of the Legislature. The Ward 1 Alderman explained that he was impelled to ask for information because of the fact he had received that day a notice from a Boston constable threatening him with arrest unless the extra excise tax would be paid within five days. Abatement on this tax had been asked and refused. Residents of Newton who were refused abatements applied for on the extra excise taxes, and who did not "come across" had their names given to the aforesaid constable by the City Collector.

MRS. HONORA KILDERRY

Mrs. Honora Kilderry, beloved wife of the late Patrick Kilderry, died at the home of her son-in-law, Mr. Parker J. Shannon, 173 Lincoln street, Newton Highlands, on Monday, March 3. Mrs. Kilderry was born in Clare, Ireland, 75 years ago and came to America at the age of 10 years with her parents to Roxbury Highlands where she resided for 40 years. She has resided at the home of her son-in-law for the past 15 years.

Funeral services were held from the home of Mr. Parker J. Shannon on Wednesday morning, March 5, at eight a. m. followed by a solemn high mass of requiem at the Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church, Upper Falls, at 9 a. m., celebrated by the pastor, Fr. Donovan.

Burial was at Mt. Benedict Cemetery, West Roxbury.

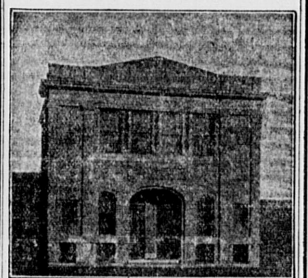

Mrs. Kilderry is survived by three daughters, Margaret and Anne Kilderry, and Mrs. Joseph Kelleher of Newton Highlands, one son, William T. of Haworth, New Jersey, eight grandchildren and one great grandchild.

MRS. LUCY H. T. WARNER

Mrs. Lucy H. T. Warner of 300 Cabot street, Newtonville, died on Monday, March 3 in her 92nd year. She was born in Medford the daughter of John Taylor and Eliza James Taylor. She spent most of her life in Chelsea, being the oldest member of the First Congregational Church in that city. She was the widow of John Warner, a Boston lumber merchant who died 35 years ago. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Herbert Slade of Newtonville, with whom she resided for the past 10 years, and Mrs. Louis Abbot of Washington. Her funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon in the First Congregational Church, Chelsea.

Publicity

There are two kinds of publicity—the kind you want and the kind that is easy to get.—Baltimore Sun.

HAD TO PREPARE

Hostess (sending out cards)—If most of the people we are sending to accept we shall have our work cut out to cater for them.

Host—O, I don't suppose more than half will accept. We must hope for the best.

Hostess—That's all very well as far as you are concerned. What I have to do is to prepare for the worst.—Vancouver Province.

LUCKY AT THAT

He—I have never gotten what I deserve

She—No, I'm sure you haven't, but don't you think you're lucky at that?

Baffling the Moloch

"Tis true the day is still
For little girls and boys;
But we need pay no costly bill Unto the god of noise."

Rule Doesn't Apply Here

Visitor—In China friendship is cemented by the breaking of a piece of china.

Mistress of House (hearing crash)—I think that if we lived in China we should have to regard our maid as a special friend.

As Far as He Got

Bunk—I understand from good authority, he's writing for the magazines.

Bink—Well, it's true in a certain sense. They were delayed in the mails and he wrote and asked to have another copy sent.

His Wish

"Well, what have you to say for yourself?" said the judge to the prisoner, who was a puzzle enthusiast.

"I should like you to give me a sentence with the word 'Freedom' in it," replied the prisoner.

POLICE NEWS

Arthur Doolittle of Bristol, Connecticut was in the Newton court yesterday charged by Patrolman Hammill with several violations of the automobile laws. Doolittle was accused of driving an uninsured truck, driving without a license, driving without registration and speeding. He told Judge Bacon that his wife died recently, that he has three children to support, he has been out of work for a long time and recently saw an advertisement for men with trucks to haul gravel on a job in Wellesley. He was granted a job in Wellesley. He was granted a job in Wellesley. He was granted a job in Wellesley.

Fines of $10 for speeding were imposed yesterday by Judge Bacon on John Simons, 424 Newtonville avenue, Newtonville; Arthur Farnsworth, Fenway street, Boston; for a similar offense Elizabeth Hill of Bancroft road, Wellesley, was fined $5.

Complaints have been made to the police by citizens who have received telephone calls asking for contributions to a fund for the unemployed.

In court Wednesday the charge of larceny against Theodore Pilon of 95a Dalby street, Nonantum, was withdrawn when Pilon agreed to make restitution for $310 entrusted to him by Esther Babbin of Cook street, with whom he formerly kept company.

Ralph de Duca of Green street, Newton, was given a suspended fine of $50 by Judge Bacon in the Newton court on Wednesday for unlawfully having firearms in his possession as he is an alien. In court the same day George Waterman, Jr., of 352 Hammond street, Chestnut Hill, was fined $15 for speeding. Among those fined $5 for failing to STOP before entering Washington street were Henry Cole, 139 Cypress street, Newton Centre; Helen Washburn, 930 Centre street, Newton Centre; Bernard Goldberg, 160 Elgin street, Newton Centre.

PRESENT PLAY

A play entitled "Enraged by Wednesday" was presented by the Girls' Community Club of Newton Upper Falls in the Emerson School hall before an audience of about three hundred people. The play was under the direction of Miss Sara MacDonald.

Those taking part were Anne Schiavone, Katherine Murphy, Doris Eyre, Francis Warren, Esther Vana, Margaret DeGrasse, Kathleen O'Brien, Helen Warren, Mary Yates, Josephine DeMichels and Mary Vana; Robert McLaughlin, Harold Medland, Stephen Bennett, James Lacy and Edmund Vana.

Between the acts there was a toe dancing specialty by Miss Lenore Elwyn, songs by Miss Marion Flood, and specialty acts by George DeGrasse, Leslie Senior, Floyd Sawyer and Helen Eyre. The accompanists were Mrs. George Flood and John McDonald.

CITY AFFAIRS

Following a conference attended by Mayor Weeks, Senator Hollis, Representatives Saltonstall, Baker, Thompson and Luitweller, City Solicitor Bartlett, School Committeeman Tracy, Chairman Charles E. Hatfield of the Republican City Committee and Chairman John P. Tierney of the Democratic City Committee, the City Solicitor appeared before the Legislative Committee on Cities and Towns on Tuesday and requested the withdrawal of a bill filed by Mayor Weeks which would abolish the preferential system of voting used in Newton and substitute a system similar to that used in Boston. Differences of opinions among those who attended the conference resulted in the agreement to study the matter during the coming year and then introducing another bill next year.

On Tuesday a hearing was held before the Committee on Cities and Towns of the Legislature on the bill which would place a life tenure on the position of City Clerk of Newton, contingent on proper conduct of office. This bill, at the request of the Mayor was amended to apply only to the present City Clerk, Frank Grant. Among those favoring the amended bill were former Mayor Childs, Senator Hollis and City Solicitor Bartlett. The City Clerk is now elected every three years by the Board of Aldermen.

Alderman Charles B. Floyd of Auburndale has been appointed Chairman of the Tercentenary Committee to succeed the late Alderman Walter E. C. Worth.

OLD FASHION QUILTING PARTY

Group N of the Woman's Association of the Union Church of Waban, recently held an old fashioned quilting bee in the parish hall. The ladies worked diligently, attacking the quilt with real old style zeal and thoroughly enjoyed a luncheon served by a committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Willington Rindge of Waban.

PRESENTS "SUNNY SOUTH MINSTRELS"

Before an audience of 300 people the Upper Falls Methodist Athletic Club gave an old time minstrel show that created gales of laughter and merriment in the Parish Hall, Upper Falls.

Edwin Cooper and Albert Adcock gave the introductory speech — followed by the entrance of the entire cast. Kenneth Newcomb acted as interlocutor and the end men were William Wildman, Everett Morse, Carleton Redman, Robert Butman. The end women were Harry Brown, Robert Spear, Arthur Roberts, and Robert Blois and the two blackface comedians were John Halumen, and Harold Strombom.

After an intermission, a one-act face entitled Alexander Ambles was pleasingly presented followed by the closing chorus. The members of the chorus were Vaughn Shedd, Harry Young, Arthur Hartshorn, Edward Wildman, Warren Hilton and John K. Temperley. Mr. Caliph Alexander presided at the piano assisted by Mr. Eddie Uford on the saxophone.

WINS SILVER LOVING CUP

Frances Tennant, 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tennant of No. 7 Summer street, Upper Falls, won the silver loving cup in a contest for the best demonstration of salesmanship held by the Jordan Marsh Co., and the Pictorial Review Co., on Saturday night, March 1, at the Boston Y. M. C. A. Frances won this honor over 250 contestants. He is a bright, alert Scotch boy having come from Scotland with his parents only eight years ago to reside in Upper Falls.

He is a pupil in the Ralph Waldo Emerson school and a Boy Scout of Troop 14 of the First M. E. church, a Member of the Loyal Temperance Legion, First M. E. church, and the Junior church choir and is a very bright and energetic boy.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Newton is to start work shortly on a junior high school which will cost at least $750,000. If there is any possible way of giving Newton residents preference in obtaining work on this building, nothing should be left undone to bring about such a result. Hundreds of Newton citizens who labor in the building trades have been idle for months. There should be some way of giving these men and their families the benefit of the money which will be taken from the taxpayers of Newton for the erection of the new school building. On all the other school buildings which have been erected in recent years, the great majority of workers have been non-residents. President Hoover's program to relieve unemployment will be of little avail to idle Newtonians if outsiders get the work on big projects undertaken by this city.

Mayor Weeks paid a graceful and deserved tribute to the memory of Rev. Thomas I. Gasson, S. J., by having the mass on public buildings in this city placed at half-mast on Monday. Father Gasson's energy, ability and foresight were responsible for the magnificent group of buildings which form the nucleus of Boston College at Chestnut Hill. Born in England of Huguenot ancestry, a member of a family which had emigrated from France in the 17th century, he came to this country when a boy, entered the Jesuit order and had a remarkable career as an educator.

Howls about the large increases in water bills received by Newton residents continue. The increases in many cases seem out of proportion even with the added cost placed last year on Newton's aqua pura. Water Commissioner Whitney attributes much of the increase to the extra use of water on lawns and gardens during the long dry spell last year. But, the extra use of water through garden hose, or the extra use of water by more frequent baths because of chignon hose, cannot explain the increases on the bills of persons who never used either kind of hose. The greater pressure in the water mains due to the cleaning of said mains, may have caused the water meters to work more freely. Anyhow, water is a blamed sight cheaper at the new rate than some other liquids which are having quite a sale.

The ladies are wearing longer and longer skirts and the men, especially the younger men, are wearing derbies. Some of the younger men are not old enough to have worn derbies when the "bowlers" were in style years ago. We would suggest to the rising generation that they also revert to the wearing of Piccadilly collars. These collars are easy to put on, neckties slip quickly around them, they are comfortable and have never lost their popularity in Great Britain or in European countries. Of course, all the boys know just what Piccadilly collars are.

Advices from Paris and other fashion centres tell us that the ladies are going to "wear" scantier backless garments the coming summer. Also the ladies are going to wear "shorts" when at the beaches and other places. Also, the gentlemen are going to wear "shorts" while playing golf and on other occasions. With this pleasant information it may be a comfort to persons afflicted with myopia to know that they will be spared the privilege of viewing clearly "Apollo Belvidere" with physiques resembling, more or less, those peculiar to Palmer Cox's "Brownies." To know that they cannot see distinctly "beauties" who might be mistaken for Venus except at their best, is a consolation. The aforesaid garments are for the purpose of absorbing sunshine. Well, it is better to absorb sunshine than the moonshine now being absorbed.

Alderman John Temperley commented adversely at the meeting of the Board on Monday night of the color scheme which is used at the "Shell" gasoline filling stations. Perhaps verdant green would be more acceptable to Mr. Temperley than the glaring orange used on the "Shell" stations.

We have been asked to comment on the hundreds of dogs which are allowed to run unrestrained in this city wreaking havoc in gardens and lawns, killing cats, and scaring women and children. Personally, we prefer dogs to cats, but persons who like cats as pets are entitled to protection for the feline members of their households. Many cases of certain breeds take delight in ending the nine lives of any luckless cat that may be caught by them. Such dogs should be restrained. Many cats have as their chief outdoor sport the killing of birds. Such cats should be restrained. A law compelling all cats to be licensed would aid in preventing the slaughter of birds. Many attempts have been made to pass such a law but they have been defeated by persons, who, while claiming to be lovers of cats, apparently don't love them enough to pay a couple of dollars a year for the privilege of keeping a cat.

To come back to dogs. We like dogs. We have owned several. But, a thickly settled community such as Newton is a difficult place to keep a dog, especially a large or a medium sized dog, without encroaching upon the rights of one's neighbors unless said dog is kept restrained. If a person has a well kept lawn or garden it doesn't bring joy or brotherly love to said person if dogs belonging to neighbors are permitted by their owners to run loose and cause destruction and injuries to shrubs and flowers. Neither has any person a legal or moral right to steer his or her dog to a neighbor's lawn for recreation and other purposes when the owner of the lawn objects.

The person who allows his dog to roam about the neighborhood at the top (or the bottom) of his bark is entitled to all the maledictions hurled upon him by those awakened by such a growler of the night.

There are many hundreds of very nice, well-mannered dogs in Newton which bother neither persons nor cats. There are scores of cantankerous canines in this city which ought to be deported or disposed of in some other manner. Many of these undesirable "pets" are not licensed. More of them may be licensed but wear no collars so they can be identified when they become nuisances. Why is not the law, compelling every dog to wear a collar and its license number, enforced?

MID-WINTER PARTY

On Tuesday evening, March 4, 1930, the Every Saturday Club held its Mid-Winter party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gorham W. Harris, 185 Highland avenue, Newtonville.

The weather was perfect and the house was charmingly decorated with a profusion of orange colored candles which lent a warm and friendly glow to the festive scene, supper being served at small tables invitingly placed about the cheery rooms.

Between courses, merriment and good cheer reigned supreme, the president, Mr. Andrews, setting the ball rolling by a mock-serious address of welcome to the assembled company. Funny stories, amusing anecdotes, bits of personal reminiscence were contributed to the fund of entertainment and if—as we are told—laughter is an aid to digestion, there can be no doubt that supper was well digested.

Following the supper the evening's program was introduced by a delightful novelty—the singing of Mrs. Sears of a few of the songs of the Kentucky mountaineers (among whom she has taught) accompanying herself upon the dulcimer—an instrument not so much in use—even there—as in former times.

Dr. Cecil Clark contributed a carefully thought out and scholarly treatise giving new and interesting modern views on the make-up and care of the body, the cause and cure of some diseases, and allied medical subjects—interrupted by occasional calls to the telephone.

Next—the subject of the winter's study being "The Essay"—a picked sextet, under Mr. Thurber's guidance, read half a dozen essays that had somehow been overlooked in making up the winter's program—some of them being really remarkable finds, particularly the "dogrell" that ended the hitherto unknown Emerson Essay.

A fantastic solo dance in costume—a group of funny stories—a couple more songs to the dulcimer—and the evening's entertainment was over, save for the enthusiastic singing by the assembled company of a song written by Mrs. Boyden (now in California) and sent to bring their greetings to this beloved club.

"Home, home, home our thoughts are turning."

PARAMOUNT—NEWTON

Jeanette MacDonald, a charming leading lady new to motion pictures although well-known to followers of the musical comedy stage, makes her debut on the audible screen in Maurice Chevalier's second starring picture, "The Love Parade," an original operetta written especially for the screen. She is cast as the beautiful unmarried Queen of the mythical kingdom of Sylvania in the latest Paramount production. Her inability to select a husband worries even her loyal subjects. With the return of Count Alfred, played by Maurice Chevalier, romance begins. Their courtship is a merry one, abounding in subtle comedy, ardent love-making, and delightful singing. And like all royal marriages they live happily ever after—that is, with certain reservations which the impetuous Alfred humorously insists on. All in all it is a fascinating comedy of the most delightful pattern. Song hits are plentiful with MacDonald singing "My Dream Lover" and with Chevalier, "My Love Parade" and "Anything to Please the Queen" while Chevalier also sings "Nobody's Using It Now" and "Paris Stays the Same." Other songs featured are "Let's Be Common" sung by Lupino Lane and Lilian Harcourt, and "March of the Grenadiers" by a rousing male chorus.

Ernest Lubitsch directs "The Love Parade" which comes to the Paramount Theatre, Newton on Sunday for the first half of the week. On the same bill is "Their Own Desire," starring Norma Shearer and Lewis Stone.

Beginning Thursday the program will be "Burning Up," a great automobile racing story with Richard Arlen and Mary Brian playing the leads and the celebrated Duncan sisters in "It's a Great Life."

NONANTUM GROCERY BURNED

Fire was discovered at 2:18 Sunday morning by Patrolman Walker in the grocery store of Abraham Pass at 22 Cook street. Considerable damage was done to the groceries and the building before the flames were extinguished by the firemen who came in response to Box 175. The building is owned by Costanzo Lombardi of 20 Cook street. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Box 732 at 6:12 Saturday evening was for a grass fire on land off Grant avenue, Newton Centre.

POLICE NEWS

Patrolman Gaquin arrested Ronald Rousseau of River street, West Newton on Sunday afternoon for driving an automobile after his license had been revoked. In the Newton court Monday Judge Bacon fined Rousseau $50.

In the Newton court Monday Charles Hathorne of Leonard street, Waltham was fined $10 for driving a car without proper lights; Wallace Dennis and Jeremiah Vara of Needham were fined $10 each for speeding; eleven autoists were fined $5 each for failing to STOP before entering Washington street.

William Henriques was in the Newton court Monday charged by his wife, Blanche Henriques of 67 Dalby street, Nonantum, with non-support of herself and their child. Henriques is a professional dancer and had his dancing partner testify in his behalf in an endeavor to show he is concerned with the welfare of his family and doing the best he can for them. Judge Bacon continued the case to March 10 and ordered Henriques to pay $25 for the support of his family before that date.

Peter Volante of 391 Dedham street, Oak Hill has entered suit for $2500 against Miss Evelett Chapelle of 411 Dedham street. Recently Volante sued Timothy Murphy of 411 Dedham street for $3000 for damages alleged to have been done to his stock of celery by two police dogs which he claimed were owned by Murphy. Volante lost the suit when Miss Chapelle testified that she owns the so-called "police dogs."

Victor Bianchi of River street, West Newton who reported to the Newton police last week that he had been assaulted by four men and robbed of $32, was picked up by the Springfield police last Friday as a suspicious person. With Bianchi was a 14 year old boy whose home is on Border street, West Newton.

Louis Vergato, 19, of Adams street, Nonantum, was sentenced to serve four months in jail by Judge Bacon in the Newton court last Friday. Some months ago while Patrolman Kelly was attempting to arrest Vergato for creating a disturbance, the latter assaulted Kelly and made his escape, going to New York. Kelly learned of Vergato's return to Newton last week and arrested him. He also arrested Vergato's younger brother, Diamond Vergato, 16, on the charge of stealing an automobile clock. The younger Vergato received a sentence to the Shirley Industrial School.

Special Officers Feeley and Burke observed a man Monday acting suspiciously on Lowell avenue, Newtonville. They detected him ringing doorbells of houses and placed him under arrest as a suspicious person. At headquarters the prisoner's fingerprints were taken by Inspector Goode, the fingerprint expert of the Newton police. Through the fingerprints, Goode identified the man, who gave his name and address as Frank Miller, 43, of Beach street, Dorchester, as one who had served over 8 years in prisons since 1915. On Miller's person were found three skeleton keys. He was in the Newton court Tuesday morning charged with burglary, it being alleged that he had broken into the home of John Markward at 11 Elliot avenue, West Newton. Miller was held in $2000 bonds for trial on Friday.

D. R.

The Sarah Hull Chapter, D. R., of Newton, will meet on Wednesday afternoon, March 12th, at 2:30 o'clock, in the home of Miss Gertrude Ensign, 48 Billings park. The Rev. Herbert S. Johnson will speak on "Is Radicalism a Real Present Day Threat?" and Miss Mae Taylor will be the soloist. The hostesses for the meeting will be Mrs. Ada E. Davidson, Mrs. Ralph C. Emery, Miss Mary I. Fox, Mrs. Frank M. Haskell, Miss Kate Fox, and Mrs. M. E. Gleason.

DOG BITES MAN

A dog owned by Everett H. Poole of 114 Alberman road, West Newton attacked John J. Cullen of Waltham last Friday afternoon and bit Cullen on the left leg, according to a complaint made by Cullen to the Newton police. The dog was ordered restrained and Dr. Boutelle was notified to examine the animal.

The Mather Class

Last Sunday morning Prof. Kirtley F. Mather spoke on "The True Story of the Gospel" before the Mather Class at its regular weekly meeting in the Newton Centre Woman's Club House.

The first Sunday of each month is devoted to "Biblical Scholarship," and this lecture was the sixth of the series. During the lecture the Testament has been covered, and now we start in with the first four Gospels, Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John, in the New Testament. The object of these lectures is to help us keep abreast of advancing knowledge of the meaning and interpretation of the Bible.

We have a deeper interest in the findings of modern scholarship about the New Testament than we have for the Old Testament, because the life and teaching of Jesus constitute the true heart of our religious faith. In Jesus we have the real spirit of the administration of the universe displayed in the life of a single individual.

For the purposes of this lecture the historical Christ, as portrayed in the Bible, is distinguished from the living, eternal, ever-present Christ, who is a reality in all our lives today. We make our approach to the spirit of Jesus through the historical approach to His life on earth. This is particularly important to Baptists, the essence of whose creed is the acceptance of the New Testament as the standard of faith and doctrine.

This is of current interest, because the atheists are emptying the bates the question, did Jesus ever live? There are two genealogies for Jesus. One is said to have been put in to show the political allegiance of Jesus to the kingdom of the Jews. This ancestral line runs through Joseph. The other genealogy runs through Mary to show descent from God.

The scholars who have studied the Bible minutely have been church members and leaders, who have striven to improve our confidence by means of full and complete knowledge. Their intentions are said to have been excellent.

It is noted that Matthew, Mark, and Luke describe many of the same events in much the same language. John has different incidents, a somewhat different order of events, and a different atmosphere. Accordingly, the first three are called the synoptic Gospels, for each one gives a synopsis of the life of Jesus, and, combined together, they provide a harmonious whole. John is philosophical rather than historical. He gives us a philosophy of life instead of the history of a character.

The oldest of the Synoptic Gospels is Mark. Mark actually wrote it between 65 and 70 A. D. A secular document, written in 135 A. D., refers to Mark, the man, as well as his book. Mark was well educated and wanted to preserve what had been handed down from tongue to ear. He gathered material from many sources. He got a lot of information from Peter, whom he accompanied on some of his journeys. Peter was an old man when Mark was a young man. The secular document, just referred to, says that Mark was a pupil or student of Peter. Mark probably did not set anything down in writing until after Peter was dead. He remembered what he had heard from Peter. Jesus had such a revolutionary effect on the life of Peter, it is certain that Peter's recollections were crystal clear. The incidents were too impressive to be otherwise. Mark was very intelligent, earnest, and sincere. He had great ability, and he was making every possible effort to present an accurate report.

Mrs. F. S. Keith opened her home, 20 Hartford street, to the members of the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club, on Saturday last. The day was

A multitude of other people had the same idea as Mark, and set down what is now known as the "Sayings of Jesus." These are fragments of papyrus, torn and considerably the worse for wear. Many of them have been brought to light during the last fifteen years. Many of these people had been living when Jesus was alive. They may have seen Him often. They were writing at the same time that Mark wrote, and they were doing the same thing, recording the events that had happened. Mark's account survived because it was the best and most correct. If there had been anything wrong with it, all these other writers would not have kept silent. Thus Mark was immediately tested for authenticity by contemporaries who knew the facts. He has the approval of Luke and Matthew.

Luke was a companion of Paul. It is not known definitely whether or not Luke had direct contact with Jesus. He certainly used, as his authorities, the writings of eye witnesses. He selected what he thought was best for his narrative, which he wrote for the benefit of Theophilus, a student of Paul. Luke wrote in the 80's. Many documents were available to him and he used them freely. He practically copied one-third of Mark. The language is almost the same. No credit was given or expected in those days. There were no copyright laws and no feeling of obligation to indicate a source that you quoted. Luke used one document that has not yet come to light. Scholars call it Q. This letter Q is the initial of a German word meaning "source." Matthew also quoted from Q. Luke added some material which he obtained from Paul, who made a scholarly investigation of the life and teaching of Jesus. Paul was an intelligent and highly trained man. The dramatic flash of insight, which came to Paul, revolutionized not only his own life but the history of the world. He made Christianity a world religion.

Along about 300 A. D. a medieval monastery in southern France or northern Italy tampered with Mark and added some verses at the end.

Matthew wrote around 80 A. D. This seems like a composite work of Matthew and others, because of peculiarities of unity, literary style, diction, and attitude of mind. He was not a disciple. It looks as if Matthew wrote the most of the book of Matthew. He used Mark and Q as authorities. He was quite independent of Luke, because he wrote in a different country. He wrote originally in Greek for a Greek, rather than a Hellenic, audience.

The three books make a surprisingly complete record of the significant events in the life of Jesus. It is a composite picture, but it is also a unified and consistent story of Jesus' character. It is a trustworthy description and gives us accurate knowledge of His life and the effect of His teachings.

John is by far the most beautiful. It has the finest literature and thought in the world. It was probably set down about 100 A. D. on the shore of the Aegean Sea. The author attempts to harmonize Greek philosophy and Christianity. It is a record for the philosopher and scholar, rather than the biographer. It is a set of word pictures, which are the finest reaches of the human mind. It presents Christian philosophy in a scholarly way.

Prof. Mather said that the water-lino-wine miracle is a sort of symbol of our lives (dead like water) being touched by Jesus, when they are stirred and sparkle like wine.

The earliest historical record is in the Epistles, 51 A. D., which antedates all the Gospels. Prof. Mather did not say which Epistle was written in 51 A. D.

Next Sunday Doctor Warren Powell, of Boston University, an expert in the field of Religious Education, will talk on the religious growth of modern youth. His subject will be "Problems of Religion which College and High School students face today, and how to meet those problems."

perfect, and the members keen, and instant interest was inspired by the skillful questions of the wise experienced leader, Mrs. Charles H. Keeler, who conducted the Quiz for the afternoon, on Acts I, and II of the "Merchant of Venice."

While the plot of the play is hackneyed, many authors, in early days, having used this idea "Boccaccio" as portrayed by Shakespeare was one who honored it. Apparently, Shakespeare desired to write a play of happiness; a play without treachery; and this, Shakespeare's first experiment in character study, proved an immediate success.

Newton Community Club

It was an exceptional privilege for the Newton Community Club to have Mr. Vesper George as the speaker on Thursday afternoon, February 27th, in Underwood School Hall. Mr. George's topic was "Appreciation of Art." Although generalizing his remarks, he spoke principally of art as portrayed in painting, sculpture and architecture. So much of the beauty which is found in works of art is due to the feeling on the part of the artist, so to be appreciated there must be a response. Artists and authorities differ widely on many points, and that which inspires one is overlooked by another. Mr. George illustrated his lecture with reproductions of well-known objects of art, showing examples of the Chinese, Indian, Roman, Grecian, French, Spanish, and most modernistic styles.

A short business meeting followed at which time Mrs. Henry P. Curtiss, the President, presided. Mrs. Daniel Goodridge made an appeal to all Clubwomen to contribute to the fund which the State Federation is sponsoring, in an endeavor to present the State of Massachusetts with a "Forest," in some beautiful spot, as a Ter-Centenary Memorial from the Clubwomen of the State.

After notices of several coming activities were given, tea was served by the Social committee of which Mrs. John X. Nolan is chairman.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Last Friday Presidents' Day for the West Newton Women's Educational Club was an interesting and joyous occasion. During the reception, enjoyable music was rendered by the Naomi Hewitt Concert Trio.

Mrs. Joseph A. Otis, the president, opened the meeting with singing of "America the Beautiful," and the salute to the flag. Mrs. Franklin Smith brought greeting and congratulations from the Mother of Clubs, and also gave a bit of history of that Club, the New England Women's Club. Greetings and good wishes were also brought from "The Maiden Old and New," and the C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands. Presidents from many Clubs, and officers and chairmen from the State and Newton Federations were among those invited to enjoy the day.

The "March Militaire" and "Liebes-traum" were rendered by the Trio and greatly enjoyed.

Rev. John Nichol Mark, in his address on "The Touchstone of Success," said in part: "When we are going to do our best we must have enterprise," and continuing, told of a young man who had lost both hands in the World War, but who was determined to make good. He did so, and graduated from college with highest honors. He pointed out the years it took for Edison to perfect the incandescent lamp; of the great undertaking of Cyrus Curtis, with the Saturday Evening Post, and of many others. They were all imbued with the spirit of enterprise and energy; difficulties bringing out possibilities. "The most successful men are those who have helped others to do better and higher living," he stated, and "Trifles make all the difference between success and failure, if we do the little things now by and by and the big things come crowding to be done." "The mind is the standard of the man." "We must not lose sight of all that is high and holy. What the touchstone finds and tries is true." were some of his statements that held attention.

Auburndale Review Club

The members and guests of the Auburndale Review Club enjoyed a most profitable morning this last Tuesday, at the home of Mrs. George F. Howland as hostess, learning of a few of the great accomplishments of the League of Nations. The first paper was given by Mrs. George P. Knapp, and told of the political activities of this body, and also gave glimpses of its vast humanitarian and economic work. From its founding in 1920, when it cared for the Armenian refugees in Greece, and the Russians in Siberia, and helped in the repatriating of over 427,000 war prisoners, it has carried on work of various types. It has prevented war in 18 cases, and now a "peace watch" is held throughout the 24 hours of every day, that immediate help may be offered in case of emergency. The World Court has arbitrated 16 cases, and economically, the League has aided lands in desperate need. Best of all, is the creation of an optimistic spirit over all the world.

Mrs. Herbert Longfellow was unable to read her paper, and the main facts of her topic, on "The Health Achievements of the League," were presented by Mrs. Florence N. Bridgman. Few realize how vast and important and ever-increasing is this phase of its work. It has done much in the regulation of the opium evil, and at the coming conference in June, for the first time, non-manufacturing countries are to be represented on the Commission, so working for much greater fairness. At Singapore is an enormous receiving station, whence news of epidemics in any part of the world are received, and sent on to Geneva. The importance of this is inestimable. Also, health officers from different countries tour other regions, compare notes, and bring home valuable information and data. And doses of sera, such as digitals, have been so stabilized, that one need now only to ask for so many League units in any market of the world, and the same amount will be handed him

NATHAN FULLER CHAPTER D. R.

The annual meeting of the Nathan Fuller Chapter D. R. was held on Tuesday February 25th at the home of Mrs. Walter T. MacAdam, 52 Whitmore road, Newton. The meeting was called to order by the Regent, Mrs. G. Raymond Lehrer, and opened with the singing of "America the Beautiful", and the Salute to the flag. Minutes of the last meeting were read by the Recording Secretary, and were approved. Three new names were presented for membership, were voted upon, and unanimously accepted into the chapter. They are Mrs. Walter Steinbauer of 756 Watertown street, Newtonville; Mrs. Ernest J. McKenna of 693 Centre street, Newton; and Mrs. Edwin P. Leonard, Jr., 14 Russell street, Newton. Two additional names have been passed by the Massachusetts State Society and will be passed by the National Board in March, namely, Miss Eleanor Gibbs, and Mrs. Thos. Cleveland, both of Newton.

Annual reports were read by the Recording Secretary, Mrs. Walter MacAdam, by the corresponding Sec'y, Mrs. Henry Cross, the treasurer, Miss Barbara Estabrook and the Historian, Mrs. Philip Horne. A most interesting copy of the 1st daily Transcript, published July 24, 1830, was passed for inspection in connection with the plans for the Tercentenary, the anniversary of the founding of the Massachusetts Bay Colony 300 years ago.

Delegates and alternates for the Annual D. R. convention to be held in Boston in May, were nominated. The Chapter plans to be represented by the chapter Regent, Mrs. Lehrer, by Mrs. John H. Field, Jr., and Mrs. Walter Steinbauer; with Miss Eleanor Gibbs, Mrs. Philip Horne, and Miss Barbara Estabrook as alternates.

Voting for officers for the coming year was next attended to. Mrs. George Knight, Mrs. Joseph Limiric and Mrs. Edgar Wilson were appointed as tellers, and announced the following new officers. For Regent, Mrs. G. Raymond Lehrer, 9 Vincent street, West Newton; Vice-Regent, Miss Eliza Jack, 379 Austin street, West Newton; Corresponding Sec'y, Mrs. Henry Cross, 30 Langley road, Newton Centre; Recording Sec'y, Mrs. Walter MacAdam, 52 Whitmore road, Newton; Historian, Mrs. Philip Horne, 9 Barnes road, Newton.

At the close of the meeting, a personal presentation was made to the Chapter of a gavel, by Mrs. Lehrer, marking the first birthday anniversary of the Chapter's founding. Entertainment in the form of readings, presented by Mrs. Walter Steinbauer followed. Mrs. Steinbauer gave "Rosa" by Daley, "An Old Sweetheart of Mine" by Riley, and a Selection entitled "When it all started."

Tea was served by the hostess, with Mrs. Herbert Johnson, and Mrs. Joseph Lutzic assisting.

LUCY JACKSON CHAPTER D. A. R.

On Monday members of the Executive Board and the House Committee met at the Chapter House in the morning and remained for a box luncheon. In the afternoon bridge was played, Mrs. John Eaton and Miss Nella Pearson in charge. A group from the Waban Woman's Club visited the house.

The regular meeting of the chapter will be held Monday, March 10th, at 2:30 p. m. The occasion is World Affairs and Americanization Day and a program has been arranged by Mrs. W. L. Vosburgh and Mrs. W. S. Smyth. The speaker of the afternoon will be Miss Margaret McGill. A group of children will sing and some of our foreign born Americans will be guests of the chapter.

Hostesses of the tea are: Mrs. O. L. Schofield, Chairman; Mrs. N. B. K. Brooks, Mrs. G. P. Buell, Mrs. G. P. Bullard, Mrs. J. V. Byers, Mrs. Thos. Chalmers, Mrs. R. E. Chambers, Mrs. Wm. B. Child, Mrs. H. M. Cole, Mrs. S. R. Comer, Mrs. H. P. Converse, Mrs. A. M. Cook, Mrs. J. S. Cordingley, Mrs. W. A. Corson.

A food sale will be held at every regular meeting. A rummage sale will be given on Monday, March 27th, and any articles may be left at the Chapter house on days of meetings. On the second Thursday of each month an all day sewing meeting will be held in preparation for a future sale and for filling orders for plain sewing. The use of the Chapter House may be obtained by members or their friends by applying to Mrs. E. B. Parker.

The State Spring Conference of the D. A. R. will be held at Hotel Statler, Boston, on March 19th and 20th, and delegates are Mrs. L. H. Howe, Mrs. E. B. Parker, Mrs. F. W. Pray, Mrs. J. W. Byers, Alternates, Mrs. J. N. Eaton, Mrs. A. P. Dana, Mrs. A. P. Friend, Mrs. F. M. Lowe, Mrs. Amos R. Wells, Mrs. C. P. Hutchinson.

LASELL SEMINARY

Rev. Dwight Bradley of the First Congregational Church of Newton Centre will address the students at the vesper service on Sunday, March 9.

Dr. and Mrs. Winslow and the La-Sell faculty will entertain a group of the students and their friends on Wednesday evening, March 12. Music will be furnished by Miss Mary Williams of the La-Sell Music Faculty, Soprano; Mr. Joseph Boettje, Viola; Mr. Verne Q. Powell, Flute; Mr. Harold Schwab of the La-Sell Music Faculty, Piano.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

It puzzles me to know just where this hostess business is going to end. Not that I object, for I think it wonderful to have a peevish young or middle-aged lady sort of looking after folks and things. I refer, you understand, to hostesses in public places. Far be from me to try and advise or suggest about private places. No, I've been thinking a lot about these comely creatures we find in hotel dining rooms, night clubs, cafes, jazz parlors, railroad trains, steamboats, theatres and movie-houses, drug stores, shoe-shine establishments and goodness knows where not.

I haven't been able to learn just where the idea came from. Seems to me it was one of the good things that came out of the World War if there were any good things in it. Didn't other side or was it something that sprung up here among ourselves when men were scarce and if there were soldiers or sailors to be entertained we did our best to make it pleasant for them by having ladies in charge of everything.

Well, whatever brought it on there seems to be promise of it extending further and yet I can't think of a place that has been overlooked, although I don't go around as much as I used to. If anybody objects to it I hasten to advise them to go slow for the very minute you tell a woman that she shouldn't do this or that you'll find she'll do it the first thing and make you sorry you spoke.

There is just one thing I would like to speak of and I think the ladies will be with me on this. Take a man who likes to have his men friends in now and then for a game of cards and whatnot. By "whatnot" I mean "oughtnot", or some such beverage that may be set forth with ice and ginger ale. If a man will do his own entertaining I haven't any objection but when he expects his wife to prepare and serve all food and drinks and stay up until all hours to be a waitress and dishwasher I am against it.

Some men do this thoughtlessly. Some women like to do it because they think they're encouraging their husbands to stay home where they belong. Of course I am not qualified to discuss domestic relationship because a bachelor isn't supposed to know anything anyway and usually doesn't. No sir, I'm not trying to tell other people how to behave but I don't think a husband ought to make a night club hostess out of his wife and if he does he should give her the salary that goes with it and some of the opportunities to receive gifts of candy and flowers. Why not?

Not long ago, I witnessed a peculiar automobile accident, caused when a car, parked at the side of the road, suddenly shot away from the curb without as much as a single backward glance on the driver's part to see whether anyone might be coming. Unfortunately for him, two other machines were speeding along over the smooth macadam, entirely oblivious of the rash deed until too late. The first struck his car diagonally, at a point just forward of the left-hand rear fender and the second, unable, despite the warning of the first collision, to stop quickly enough, followed with a succession of additional crashes and rendings of sheet metal as it smashed the rear of the middle vehicle and bounded aside to strike a car parked next to the sidewalk. Although no one suffered any perceptible injury, the damage to the machines was considerable.

Unusual as the affair was, however, I was wholly unprepared for what followed immediately thereafter, when the driver who had caused all the trouble jumped out of his seat in a high temper and began to berate the occupants of the other two cars.

"What kind of a trick do you call that? Didn't you see me stick out my hand?" he yelled. "Believe me, you'll pay plenty for this. I'm an attorney."

The further details of the case were not interesting. The wrangling was prolonged and profane, as usually the case in such affairs, and the exchange of names and numbers had to be repeated for the benefit of a tardy policeman, who told them he must report the affair even though he had not been there to see it. The thing that did interest me and on which my mind kept dwelling was the man's statement, in a tone clearly laden with the weight of great importance, that he was a member of the bar.

Why under the sun I thought didn't the other two come back at him in the same manner, if anything was to be gained thereby, and evidently there was, for, after his declaration, they allowed the colliding barrister to do most of the talking, which he did quite ably and expressively with the generous assistance of both hands.

Had I been in that first car, I think I should have chosen to reply to him by saying, "Congratulations, old fellow, I'm glad you passed your exams. And now, let me make you emphatically aware that I am none other than L. D. G. Bentley, conductor of the 'One Thing and Another' column in the Newton Graphic. You may read it at leisure if you have seven cents left after you get through paying for what you have done to my car."

Really, I do not see what bearing a man's vocation can have on the manner in which he runs into another man's automobile. Of course it might possibly be different if he were a taxi driver. This, at least, would give the other man a chance to say, "I told you so," when, as a matter of fact, he hadn't said anything of the sort.

Since the accident I have wondered whether a man in some other profession or business would have so aimed his car under conditions like these in such a way as to have done greater or less damage. I am inclined to believe that such a man would make his victim "act of conscious" even while in the act of rendering him physically unconscious.

I have no means of knowing, of course, how the actual accident was decided, if indeed it has yet come to decision, but I do believe that if the man really was an attorney, as he said he was, he could not have been a very good one as he failed to supply the evidence of it that would have given him a clear advantage and perhaps discouraged the other two drivers from taking the case to court. If he was as able as he pretended, he would have countered the protests of the other motorists with those infallibly devastating legal phrases that it takes some people four years at night school to memorize: "Where were you on the night of July 26?" and "Answer me, yes or no!"

Taken all in all, this error of omission, though seemingly futile and childish a subject for mature thought, has gradually brought me to the conclusion that Mr. Lawyer may not have erred so badly in advertising his ability along the lines with which he was most familiar. He had to say something and it was obvious that he was no chauffeur.

"The power of the Commission on the Necessaries of Life is what might be called a negative power because by investigation, public hearings, reports and findings widely carried in the newspapers the public are informed as to actual conditions and this fact alone has acted as a deterrent in hundreds of instances against extortion," writes Representative Clarence S. Luitwieler, chairman of the Legislative Committee on State Administration who has done more than any other legislator to enable this commission to achieve the splendid results that have become part of its record.

I told Mr. Luitwieler that I thought the Graphic readers would be interested if he would give his views, based on his experience and contact with the commission. To this he has responded. Continuing, Mr. Luitwieler says:

"The members of the Legislature who on all occasions profess their deep interest in the common people, the people who cannot do for themselves should at every turn be vigorously in favor of the great work this commission is doing for these people. It is a clearing house for all sorts of complaints of the oppressed."

"There is no department under the Gilded Dome that accomplishes as much for this class of citizens for so small a sum as does the Commission on the Necessaries of Life. Five thousand to ten thousand appeals are received annually from people of moderate means involving rents, coal, ice, milk, gasoline, potatoes and speculation in building operations, and invariably the existence of the Commission has doubtfully deterred other speculative or price raising attempts from even starting.

"During last anthracite strike, our people were actually saved millions on their fuel bill. The wage agreement in the coal fields expires Aug. 1, 1930. We must not take the chance of getting caught unprepared.

"The Commission has been instrumental in directly aiding thousands of families every year in matters affecting the home such as vacate notices, lack of heat, water, or other necessary conveniences, rent raising and hundreds of different controversies arising between the landlord and tenant."

"Their studies of the cost of living in various cities have been helpful in attracting new industries as one of the first questions asked by manufacturers is, 'How does the cost of living compare?'"

"The miscellaneous activities of the Commission on the Necessaries of Life, cover the quality of coal and gasoline, ice prices, refusal of drivers to deliver ice to housewives; concerning furniture, partial payment problems, clothing articles, tobacco, jewelry, radios, automobiles, sewing machines.

"Here is what the Boston Better Business Bureau stated of the Commission in its bulletin of April 5, 1929:

"The Special Commission on the Necessaries of Life has made a record of excellent accomplishments in connection with the handling of various complaints referred to this Commission by the Better Business Bureau."

"It is a perfectly fair statement to make that during the ten years of its existence the Commission has saved to the people of the state and particularly the Metropolitan District, millions of dollars."

system of getting ahead. Old-time maxims were frequently quoted and repeated in the hope of inspiring youth. The path to success, it was pointed out, was not an easy one but if one were willing to struggle bravely and unceasingly there was no question of ultimate prosperity. It all sounded good and, as far as I know, was all that its sponsors claimed for it.

What happens now? Publicity can do it, if properly managed. Naturally that has to be skillfully directed and somebody must of necessity exercise brain power. But it doesn't cover long stretches of years. There is no long and rocky road to be travelled. Patience doesn't count for half as much as some freakish act that will attract public attention. "Breaking into the game" is something that requires only a comparatively short time.

There is a centre for this as there is a centre for everything. Out in Hollywood where movies and talkies are produced one need only get chummy with some motion picture celebrity and the whole world learns about it. Get your picture taken for the newspapers along with a famous film star and you immediately register as a great personage. Art, literature, music, big business and the other goals of achievement fade into insignificance alongside the moving pictures. The great man in any of the recognized pursuits of the ages is never really great until he has had made a photograph of himself shaking hands with a movie actor. After he has been to Hollywood and stirred the players and studios into recognizing him he is one of the leading lights of the world.

We get it every day by way of the news photographers. They show us who has been to call on this or that favorite photoplay performer. To have been admitted to the palatial home of some comedian or "heroic" leading man is equivalent to knighthood. The fact that the "king" has admitted you into his presence is enough. You are "made" from that point forward. It may be that you have been a source of news in your own part of the country and have been "dropped" by the press like a certain Mayor of a certain Massachusetts city. Then is the time to hit the trail for Hollywood and crowd yourself before the camera. Then it is that you will "get your name up".

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

"Our Cud-Chewing Animal Friends," a motion picture all about cows, horses, the buffalo, the llama, and their usefulness to man, will be shown at the Museum on Saturday, March 8, at three o'clock.

"Famous Scenes and Men of Early Boston" is one of the Museum school talks most in demand this month because of the unusual interest in the Tercentenary. An extremely interesting exhibit of pictures, maps, and drawings illustrating the picturesque development of Boston is on display, as well as a collection of articles from the Early American case in the Museum. How T. Whart got its name and what has happened to Boston's waterfront through the years is brought out in one series of pictures. There is a model of Bunker Hill made of Eagle greenbacks, and in one model there are five thousand dollars worth of greenbacks! Pieces of wood from the Witch House and from the Charter Oak, a candle-mould and a sewing bird, and many other things that tell old-time stories, add to the interest of the talk, which is given by Miss Madeline B. Sawyer.

Other talks going on daily at the Museum during March, for which schools may make special appointments are: "By Camel Across the Sahara," a journey along the sea ports of North Africa and from Tripoli across the desert by caravan; "Where We Go Rubbing," the romance of rubber; "How Old Mother Earth Shaped Boston," the story of the time when great tons of ice shaped Boston's landscape, and a volcano spouted fire in West Roxbury, and great beasts roamed over our familiar streets. For smaller children in the first to the fourth grades there are stories of how little boys and girls live in Norway, and how Nicholas and Gretchen spent their days in the wee country packed full of very tall mountains which we call Switzerland, and all about maple sugar trees and their neighbors.

The Museum is open daily from 9 to 5; Sundays from 1:30 to 5 and all day on holidays, with special programs. Admission is free.

Volunteer Class Under Council Auspices Hears Health Talk

Dr. Curtis and Others Tell What Newton Is Doing For Its Citizens

The first in a series of four meetings of the course for volunteers was held at 12 Austin street, Newtonville at 10 o'clock Friday morning March 7. The group included those organizations which are doing health work in Newton.

Dr. Curtis, chairman of the Newton Board of Health, gave a most interesting summary of the purpose and organization of a board of health, and what Newton in particular is doing for the welfare of her citizens. If people would look upon the health department as a protection and help rather than as an interference, the work of the health officer would be far easier. Every town and city is required to have a Board of Health, and it should be one of the most important and powerful factors therein.

In the smaller towns, the Health Department is run by the board of selectmen, and may or may not be run efficiently. The Newton Board of Health consists of three members: a business man, a lawyer, and a physician. They meet twice a month to discuss policies, get reports, and ratify the work of the agent. They are as powerful as any three men in the community, for they have entire jurisdiction over their city without interference from the state. The legislature has decided that since each community has different problems there can be no effective centralization and for this reason every city and town has its own laws which are paramount. In addition to the three members of the board the personnel consists of: seven school physicians, seven school nurses, a milk inspector and bacteriologist, an agent, a sanitary inspector, and a secretary and clerk. There are also three physicians called the "flying squadron" who go to all schools and examine all school children each year.

The work of the Health Department may be divided into four parts: (1) Prevention and care of disease; (2) Protection of child-life; (3) Inspection of food supplies; (4) Nuisances.

Of these the prevention of disease is the most important, although the actual care of disease takes more time. A careful history of each case of a contagious disease must be taken, decision made as to whether the patient must enter a hospital and, if so, which one; a report must be sent to schools, to state, and each week statistics to the U. S. Public Health Service. The Health Department also is responsible for vaccination, and is ready to give diphtheria immunization to any child of kindergarten age or over whose parents approve. Last year there were only seven cases of diphtheria in Newton with one death. The periodic examination of school children has accomplished much in the protection of child life, for since this became an established fact, the number of physical defectives has decreased from 10% to 10%. This medical inspection is entirely in the hands of the Health Department, but could not be made effective without the excellent and remarkable cooperation which the school department gives. There is a card of health which follows the child thru all grades to high school, and this is now being modified to include the high school as well. Every May the schools hold a health exhibit in which the children show cards which include condition of teeth, posture, etc.

The protection of food supplies includes milk and dairy inspection, and the licensing of the sale of milk in Newton.

The suppression of nuisances is one of the oldest clauses in the law governing the board of health, for it was established in 1797. Probably there are more complaints about nuisances than any other phase of the department, and if the Newton Health Department were not extremely tactful there would undoubtedly be neighborhood feuds all over Newton.

Mrs. Paige, Superintendent of the Newton District Nursing Association, wished to impress upon the people of Newton that visiting nurses are for the benefit of the whole community, both rich and poor. Their work is divided into three parts: (1) The care of the sick in their homes; (2) The teaching of personal hygiene; and (3) The well-baby clinics. The office is open at 8 a. m. for calls and orders which should come through a physician before bedside treatment can be given. The district nurse is allowed to take temperature and respiration and to make the bed without a doctor's order; but further than this she cannot go.

The personnel consists of the superintendent, a full time office secretary, three graduate staff nurses and four students in their last year of training at the Newton Hospital. There are three cars, and each staff nurse has one with a particular section of Newton to cover. These cars average 120 miles a day, which is a very large amount when the small area is considered.

Last year the Newton District Nursing Association made 15,113 visits to 1746 patients, 529 to expectant mothers, and 2760 advisory visits to children under school age, making a total of 18,396 visits for 1929-1930. Over 75% of these were actual nursing visits.

In her daily visits the nurse gives instructions to the family in the care of the sick; how to give a bath, to make bed rests, to prepare a special diet, etc. The only prenatal service is done by the district nurse, and in cooperation with the physician and the hospital, the nurse gives instructions to the mother in the care of herself and her diet.

After the baby has arrived, there are well baby conferences each week in the West Newton Library, the Stearns School, Trembly House, and at the Bowen School twice a month. At these conferences the doctor gives

"Youth And The Crime Problem" Discussed

Assistant Dist. Attorney Speaks At Welfare Conference

The conference on Welfare Problems held its monthly meeting on Wednesday, March 12, at 12 Austin street, Newtonville. In the absence of District Attorney Robert T. Bushnell, who was to have been the speaker of the day, the conference was very fortunate in hearing Mr. Warren F. Bishop, First Assistant District Attorney of Middlesex County.

Mr. Bishop began with a tribute to Mr. Bushnell, with whom he has been associated for three years, and said that Newton should be proud to claim him as a citizen. The subject of his address followed Mr. Bushnell's intended discussion, "Youth and the Crime Problem."

Mr. Bishop says that 90% of the cases which come into criminal court are boys and young men not more than 19 years of age. His first case as assistant district attorney seven years ago was a boy of 15 years old, who had already been in court half a dozen times before. He had broken his probation and was in consequence sent to reform school. Later he escaped, was again brought into court, and this time had to be sentenced to Concord Reformatory. He was proved to be a hopeless case, and will probably go on to State Prison before he has finished.

He represents a small minority, however, for the majority come for a first offence, largely because of unfortunate conditions in their environment rather than because of any real criminal tendency. The probation system has proved this; for the probation officer makes an investigation of each case, and can keep tabs on the boy during his term of probation. As a result the great majority do make good, and never come to court a second time. Often jobs are found, and the boy with a job seldom gets into trouble.

Mr. Bishop told a very interesting story of a boy arrested for a first offence—breaking and entering a store. He was found to have no relatives except an uncle, an elderly man of fine character. He asked no favor, but insisted that since the boy had committed a crime he should be punished. As there was no money for bail the boy was forced to remain in confinement until two days before Christmas, when his uncle came before the district attorney and said that he had decided to take the boy home for the holiday, and later place him with the family of a minister in another city. The man was so simple in his belief that he could take the boy without court proceedings that the district attorney decided to not prosecute the case. As a result, the boy has made good in the past four years, and is now in school finishing his education. The last report stated that he is teaching a Sunday school class.

Mr. Bishop feels that there are three strong influences which counteract the tendency of any boy toward crime: 1. The home; 2. The school; 3. The police department. The most important of these is the home care of the child; for unless the parents are doing their job properly it is fairly certain that their children will come to harm. The school is next in importance and Mr. Bishop thinks a little sterner treatment on the part of teachers might have a good effect. There is much to be said in favor of the good old switch. The policeman is now a real comrade of the children rather than the tyrant that he used to

Elks Elect Officers For Ensuing Year

Many Close Contests For Higher Offices

In the most hotly contested election in the history of Newton Lodge of Elks, held yesterday at the lodge room on Centre street, J. Edward Callanan was chosen Exalted Ruler for the ensuing year. He was opposed by Robert J. Burns. Mr. Callanan is engaged in the real estate business at Newton and was formerly secretary of Newton Lodge. Dr. Fred M. Lowe of West Newton defeated George P. Brophy for the office of Leading Knight; Walter Kearn of Newtonville was victorious over Thomas L. Ryan in the contest for Lecturing Knight; William F. Parker of Tremont street won over Paul M. Fitzgerald of Newton Centre. Officers re-elected without opposition were—Thomas F. Coppinger, secretary; Vincent Turley, treasurer; Matthew Hurley, tiler; John J. Doherty, trustee. William M. Noone was elected delegate to the coming national convention at Atlantic City. Frank L. Wilcox was elected alternate.

BENEFIT PERFORMANCE

This year the annual benefit for the Mothers' Rest Association of Newton is to be a play, presented by a selected cast of well-known amateur actors. The play "East is West" will be given at the Auditorium of the Newton High School on Saturday, March 29th, at 8 p. m.

Mrs. John F. Capron of Newton Centre is the general chairman and is assisted by various village chairmen as follows: West Newton, Mrs. Carl M. Bigelow; Newton, Mrs. Albion M. Boothby; Waban, Mrs. Grant B. Eustis; Auburndale, Mrs. Stephen E. Wright; Newton Highlands, Mrs. Earl G. Manning; Newtonville, Mrs. H. R. Bankart; Chestnut Hill, Mrs. Cyrus T. Schirmer; Upper Falls, Mrs. Ernest Cobb.

MAIL SACK FOUND

Patrolman Maurice Marshall late Monday night found a mail sack in the bushes at the yard of the railroad station at Newton. The sack contained a special-delivery parcel post package from Newton addressed to Bridgewater. Employees at the Newton postoffice state that the sack was properly delivered to the messenger who had the contract to carry the mail from the office to the railroad station. An investigation is being made by the Boston & Albany Railroad officials.

He considered. Children used to look upon the policeman as someone to be feared and avoided as far as possible; but nowadays—it is splendid to see the friendly spirit which exists between all the children of the town and the police department. A fourth very strong influence for good in the life of the boy of today is the Boy Scout movement. It is the bed-rock of justice and of right and is doing more than almost any other organization to keep boys from becoming criminals.

There is still the problem of the boy who is mentally subnormal or abnormal, and at the present time this is far from being solved. Every boy of questionable mentality is examined by two alienists and if necessary can be committed to the Psychopathic hospital for observation. As yet, however, there is no adequate means of caring for the boy who is on the border line but who needs special attention.

Will of Prof. Mary W. Calkins Is Filed For Probate

Rare and valuable literary and musical works are bequeathed to Smith, Wellesley and Goucher Colleges, under the will of Mary W. Calkins, Wellesley professor, who died Feb. 25, filed for probate in Middlesex Court.

Goucher receives copies of Spinoza's opera, "Posthuma," Hobbes' "Leviathan," and the Encyclopedia edited by Diderot and D'Alembert. Smith College is bequeathed copies of Hobbes' "DeCive," Berkeley's "Alciphron," Henry More's "The Immortality of the Soul" and Descartes' "Meditations" (1644).

Wellesley is bequeathed all remaining books on philosophy and psychology after the deceased's brother has selected those which he desires to keep. The will requests that such volumes as the college library has duplicates of be given to the department library and be kept in the offices of the department of philosophy and psychology.

Ellen W. Clarke of Norwich, Vt., a friend of the deceased, is the beneficiary of a $2500 trust fund for life. Upon her death, the will provides this fund is to be distributed as follows: $50 to Smith College Alumnae Association; $1500 to Tuskegee Institute, Alabama, to found "the James Morrill Whitton and Mary Knowlton Whitton scholarships" in honor of two early friends of abolition; $200 to the Wellesley College Students' Aid Society; $500 to the Fellowship of Reconciliation, New York; and the remainder to the Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, Boston.

The residue of the estate is left in trust, the income to go for life to two relatives and a friend. Upon the death of all three, the will provides, this trust is to be distributed as follows: $1000 to the Newton Hospital to be known as "The Charlotte Whitton Calkins Fund," the income to be applied in providing unpaid service to children, and the remainder in four equal parts to the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions of Boston; Wellesley College, to be used for further graduate study; American Missionary Association of Philadelphia.

Attorney Grosvenor Calkins, a brother of the testator, is named as executor.

To Hold Airplane Tournaments On The Newton Playgrounds

Winner To Go To Atlantic City In October To Compete In The National Tournament

The Newton Playground Department announces, through Mr. Ernst Hermann, Superintendent and Mr. Benjamin Q. Belonga, Supervisor of Boys' Handwork, that if a sufficient number of boys and girls signify their interest a series of Airplane Tournaments will be held during the spring and summer with the object in view of sending a boy or girl, with all expenses paid, to Atlantic City in October to take part in the National Tournament.

It is the intent of the Playground Department to hold the first of the series on Saturday April 5, 1930 at 10 a. m. in the High School Gymnasium. It will be necessary for each boy and girl wishing to take part to mail, telephone or bring to the Playground Department office, West Newton, on or before Saturday March 29, 1930 the following information:

Name, Address, Telephone, Date of Birth, Numbers of the events entering.

Boys and girls up to but not including twenty-one years of age eligible to compete in the tournament. There are two classes:

1. Junior—those who have not yet attained the sixteenth birthday on September 2, 1930.
2. Senior—those who have not yet attained the twenty-first birthday on September 2, 1930 but are past the sixteenth birthday.

Events

The following indoor events are for rubber powered airplanes, motive power carried in the plane itself, tractor or pusher, competing for duration of flight.

1. The distance from the inner face of the propeller to the opposite hook connection to be eight (8) inches.
2. The distance from the inner face of the propeller to the opposite hook connection to be fifteen (15) to twenty (20) inches. Greatest overall dimension to be no greater than thirty (30) inches.
- Events one and two are hand launched. Launching to be not over six (6) feet above floor.
3. Rise off the water—same restrictions as number two—all models must have hydro floats which in a test before winding will support the model on the water.
4. Fuselage models, rising off ground. These planes must have the rubber within the fuselage.

The fuselage covering must extend at least 4/5 of the length of the rubber motor measured from the inner face of the propeller to the opposite hook connection. They must be generally similar in appearance to real planes, but need not be built to scale nor be an exact reproduction of a specific plane. However, paper tubes will not be considered to be fuselages. Double covered or hollow wings are required. They must have landing chassis, with two or more wheels in front, with either a wheel or tail skid at the rear. In launching the model must be released with the front and rear landing gears in contact with the floor without any pushing. Same restriction as to size as for number two.

Prizes will be awarded first and second places in each event.

It is hoped that a large number of boys and girls will enter this tournament and that they will also take advantage of the opportunity given, at the Newton Centre Playground every Thursday evening from 6:30 to 9:00, to secure materials, receive help and to fly their planes.

Model aircraft, a sport which has enlisted at least a million boys and girls, got off to a flying start for 1930 with the announcement today by the Playground and Recreation Association of America of the Fourth National Playground Miniature Aircraft Tournament. Since the first tournament conducted in 1927 after Colonel Lindbergh's ocean flight, interest and skill among juniors in building model planes has shown marked progress, the association reports.

Boys and girls up to twenty-one years of age are eligible to compete for the national finals to be held in Atlantic City, N. J., on October 10 and 11. Those under sixteen compete in the junior class. The contestants for the finals are chosen on the basis of records their planes have made in local tournaments held on or before September 2. Model aircraft is sponsored by the recreation departments in nearly 200 cities as a constructive hobby for spare time and a competition that promotes air-mindedness and good sportsmanship among young people.

The planes flown in the national tournaments have advanced in design, ingenuity and records achieved each year. At the 1929 tournament in

BASKETBALL TITLE GAME TONIGHT

The championship of the Greater Boston Catholic High School Basketball league will be decided tonight at the Roxbury Memorial High School gymnasium by the team from Our Lady High of Newton and the five from Mission Church High of Roxbury. For almost the entire season the two teams have been deadlocked in first place, the only exception being when the Newton team won on its own court from the Roxbury quintet. A week or two later the Our Lady High team lost to the Cathedral High outfit in one of the most surprising upsets of the season for the only reverse of the year. Cathedral High captured third place in the race which was completed Wednesday with the exception of tonight's contest, by defeating Immaculate Conception High of Revere.

Tonight's contest should be a thrilling battle for the spectators who are expected to tax the seating capacity for the game to the limit.

SPORT NOTES

Cronin Back In Game

Bill Cronin, former Newton high catcher of West Newton, and now at the training camp of the Boston Braves, suffered an attack of grippe over the past week-end that kept him out of the game. He returned to active duty and divided the catching duties in Wednesday's game with the St. Louis Nationals which the Hub team won, 1 to 0. Reports of the game state that Cronin showed up well, throwing out a Cardinal runner on an attempted steal of second for the final out of the game.

Huntington Wins

The Huntington school track team, captained by Bill Florio of Newton Centre, won the 18th annual Bowdoin College Interscholastic indoor track meet last Saturday. Huntington scored 35 points with Bridgton academy of Maine second with 30. Florio played a prominent part in his team's victory as did Gilbert Adams, former Newton high 600-yard runner. Florio took third in the 40-yard dash, the 45-yard hurdles and the running broad jump for six points while Adams was third in the 600-yard run and fourth in the mile.

Stubbs Scores Tying Goal

In the second game of the Harvard-Yale hockey series last Saturday night at the Garden rink the prettiest play of the evening came in the opening period when Frank Stubbs, Jr., former Newton high star, caged the puck on a pass from John Garrison of West Newton, an ex-Country Day school athlete. Yale took the lead about six minutes after play began. Nearly three quarters of the first period had passed when Garrison took the puck and skated down the middle of the rink and then passed over to the right to Stubbs who was in perfect position for a shot. The pass from Garrison was perfect and Stubbs drove the net, just inches inside the right-hand goal post and the Harvard supporters went wild. Yale scored twice in the second period to set the final score at 3 to 1 and tie the series. Wednesday night's game in which Stubbs did not play because of scholastic difficulties, was a deadlocked battle at 2 all after 90 minutes of play. Guy Holbrook, another former Newton high star, has played in all three games as a forward on the third Harvard line while Wilson Crosby of West Newton has been used as a spare defense player.

CATHOLIC LEAGUE BASEBALL SCHEDULE

The second season of Greater Boston Catholic High School Baseball League in which Our Lady High of Newton is represented, will open on April 22nd and close on June 10th. Twelve league games will be played by each of the seven teams in the circuit. Last year in which the title was won by St. John's High of North Cambridge, eight schools were represented but this season St. Thomas of Jamaica Plain will not be a member. In addition to Our Lady High of Newton the teams in the league are St. John's, Mission of Roxbury, Cathedral of South End, St. Clement's of Somerville, St. Mary's of Brookline, and Immaculate Conception of Revere.

The league schedule for the Our Lady High team is as follows:

April 22, St. John's at Newton
May 20, St. John's at N. Camb.
June 3, Mission at Newton
June 10, Cathedral at Roxbury.

The home games will probably be played on Victory Field, Nonantum.

SPORT NOTES

Newton League Bowling

In Wednesday night's matches of the Newton Bowling League the Hunnewell Club took three points from Maugus and drew up closer to the second place position now held by the Wellesley five. Weston increased its lead over Maugus by splitting even with the Newton Club. Middlesex shut out Waban and University Club blanked Commercial in the other matches. All but three of the Hunnewell club bowler's string were over 100 and with two of these coming in the third string they lost the fourth point. Delong led for Hunnewell with 122, 122, 108 for 352. On the Middlesex alleys Tilton of Waban hit 138 on his third string but it was not sufficient to reach the 557 total of the Arlington bowlers. The Newton Club crashed through in the second string with a 531 total against Weston's 476. The league leaders took the third string but their total pinfall was one point shy of that of the Newton Club—1531.

Yale Keeps Title

The Yale University swimming team clinched the championship of the Intercollegiate Swimming Association on Wednesday night by defeating Rutgers at the New York A. C. pool 44 to 18. Lloyd Osborne, former Newton star, won the 440-yard freestyle for Yale. Hamilton Lincoln, a former Country Day school athlete, led off for the winning Yale relay team.

Lincoln on Record Team

Yale swimmers set two new world's records last Saturday night in the National A. A. U. junior championship events at New York. The new marks were in the 400 and 600-yard relays, the former by a four-man team and the latter a prolongation of the other race by a fifth swimmer. Hamilton Lincoln led off for the Blue. Lloyd Osborne was second to his captain, John Howland, in the championship 220 yard swim.

Wentworth Getting Ready

The Wentworth Institute baseball team is getting ready for the coming season with forty-five candidates reporting for the first practice on Wednesday of this week. The 1930 team is captained by Spencer deMille, ex-Newton high star first baseman and Captain. This is deMille's second year on the engineer nine and a year ago he played a prominent part in helping his mates through an undefeated season.

Kearns Wins at Bermuda

S. K. Kearns, Country Day school headmaster, won the final of the annual Spey Royal Golf tournament at Bermuda last Saturday by defeating his opponent, J. H. Beavis of Bermuda, in the final 36-hole round at Hamilton, Bermuda. The Newton man's margin was 2 and 1. He was one up at the end of the first 18 holes but increased his lead to three at the fifth hole in the afternoon.

McCruden Wins

Northeastern University continued its long string of dual track meet victories by defeating Amherst college on the latter's track last Saturday 72 1/2 to 49 1/2. It was the Jefferson's first defeat since May 1928. Jimmie McCruden, former Newton high captain and star 1000-yarder, won the 880-yard run for the Hub team.

Mr. Herbert C. Fraser of The Richard Young Company of Boston gave a most interesting talk on "Leather" at the meeting of the Fellowship Club on last Monday evening. He brought with him samples of many kinds of leather and described the uses to which each kind could be put. Mr. Fraser's thorough knowledge of leather was put to a test by the many questions that were asked him by those present. The usual meeting of the Club will be held on March 17th at 6.30.

Camp Day Notes

The Personnel Committee for the selection of counselors for the 1930 season at Camp Frank A. Day have signed a contract with Mrs. C. Evan Johnson of Norwood, Mass., as Head Counselor of the senior camp. He will be Senior Officer under Camp Director Clyde G. Hess and will be in charge of activities for the senior division and supervising the program for the entire camp.

Mr. Johnson is a graduate of Colby College 1927 and is completing his third year as teacher in Civics and Athletics at the Walpole High School. He taught one year in New Hampshire in a Boys' School and from his experience as teacher seems very well fitted for this position at camp. In college he was a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and his academic studies were History and Economics. In college life he won his letter in varsity football, baseball, and hockey and secured a place in the intramural activities in basketball.

At Walpole High School Mr. Johnson is senior coach of football, baseball, and hockey and has produced during the last two years a fine spirited team for the school. He is married and has a daughter a year and a half old. Mrs. Johnson and the daughter will spend the summer at her home in Maine.

At a future meeting of the Dad's Club Mr. Johnson will be presented to the ground of Dads. The Camp Committee feels exceedingly fortunate in securing the services of this man for the summer.

The meeting of the Dad's Club on Monday April 7th will be the first get-together under the auspices of the newly organized Dad's Club and invitations have been sent out to all dads of boys who have been enrolled for the coming season. The object of this meeting is to get acquainted with each other and to know more about the camp, advise the Camp Director and show best how close co-operation can be given with the home during the summer months.

Mr. Ray C. Smith is Chairman of this organization and he will call the meeting to order at 7.45. Following the introduction of Mr. Johnson the Camp Director will give an address on "What a Dad should expect from His Boy from a Season at Camp." Camp objectives and the program for the coming season will also be presented. Following this presentation will be an open forum for questions and constructive suggestions. At the finish of the meeting the ladies will serve refreshments and a general friendly period will close this evening's program.

Physical Department Notes

The Newton Y. M. C. A. Junior swimmers had little trouble defeating the Chelsea Y. M. C. A. Juniors in the Newton "Y" tank Saturday afternoon 51-15.

The Newton boys won every first and second place with the exception of the breast stroke and dives.

Relay was won by Newton: Guthrie, Adams, Jack, and McNamara. The time was 41 1/5 seconds. The 20 yard free style was won by Guthrie of Newton, Batstone Newton 2nd, and Osborne of Chelsea third. The time was 9 and 4/5 seconds. The 20 yard breast stroke was won by McNamara of Newton with Sussmarr of Chelsea second, and Mayers of Chelsea third. Time 12 2/5 seconds. The twenty yard back stroke was won by Guthrie of Newton, with Batstone of Newton 2nd, and McArdle of Chelsea third. Time 11 2/5 seconds. Forty yard free style won by McNamara Newton, Jack of Newton second, and Gorman of Chelsea third. Time 24 seconds. Dives won by McNamara of Newton, Zelcovitz of Chelsea 2nd, and Whitens of Newton 3rd. The 100 yard free style was won by Jack of Newton, Adams of Newton second, and Sussmarr of Chelsea third. Time 1 min. 7 4/5 seconds.

Seventy men representing the wrestling teams of nine Y. M. C. A.'s of Massachusetts and Rhode Island competed in the Biennial Annual Y. M. C. A. State Wrestling Championship which was held last Saturday night at The Newton Y. M. C. A. The Newton "Y" team under the leadership of Coach Dr. Fred E. Simm won the championship for the second consecutive year by winning three first places and two seconds making a total of twenty-one points. Providence "Y" was a close second with nineteen points. North Adams followed with ten points, Boston eight points, and Cambridge six points. Lynn, Gloucester, Salem, and Attleboro failed to

Reilly Elected Captain
Bill Reilly, former Newton high three-sport athlete, has been elected to the captaincy of the 1931 St. John's Prep School hockey team. Reilly played right wing on the Danvers school sextet the past season and was one of the outstanding players on the team. He has now turned his attention to baseball and is seeking a berth on the pitching staff of the St. John's nine. While in high school Reilly was one of the foremost pitchers in the Suburban league and should make the grade in prep school although he has the competition of such twirlers as Branch, ex-Somerville star, Collins of Boston, and others.

ROTARY CLUB

The regular weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club of Newton was held on Monday, March 10th, at the Woodland Golf Club, at 12:15, President Charles D. Ansley presiding.

Visiting Rotarians were welcomed from Watertown, Belmont, Boston, New Haven, Needham, and Rumford, Maine.

Herbert Smith, formerly a member of the Newton Club and now a member of the Rotary Club at Laconia, New Hampshire, and Stanley Sumner, also a former member of the Newton Club, now in business in Cambridge, were welcomed by their old friends in Newton.

Dr. Cecil W. Clark introduced as the speaker at this meeting, Mr. Louis Schalk, a member of the Boston Rotary Club, who spoke on "Business Voice." Incidentally, Mr. Schalk is the song leader at the Boston Club and led the singing at this meeting with his usual enthusiasm, and also favored us with several solos.

He said that the proper telephone voice in business was very important as the impression made by a courteous and pleasing voice over the phone was often that person's impression of the company they represented. The use of the voice in public address was also explained and if practiced as described by Mr. Schalk would show a marked improvement in the carrying power in public speaking.

Reservations have been made for six members of the Newton Club to attend the June convention of the Rotary International at Chicago.

JEAN BEDETTI TO ASSIST HIGH-LAND GLEE CLUB

Jean Bedetti will be the guest artist of the Highland Glee Club of Newton on March 18th in the Newton High School Auditorium. Many of his friends have heard him times before with the Boston Symphony Orchestra, but with such a master it is never a case of "too often" in hearing this musician and artist.

The Glee Club program will be unusually attractive this year. In addition to solos by Mr. Bedetti, there will be presented part of the program which will be given at the New England Federation of Men's Glee Clubs, at Beverly next June. Also there will be rendered a musical number dedicated to the memory of the first President of the Highland Glee Club, Mr. James H. Trumbull, who passed on in October. Jean Bedetti will appear with the Club in one number. The concert promises to be unusually attractive.

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

"Who steals my purse steals trash", is one of those lines from the works of the immortal Shakespeare. In Newton I find upon reading an account of the Board of Aldermen's meeting, "Who throws away trash sends up the city's tax-rate". This latter phrase is my own and coined on the spot, although I'll admit that it didn't require much skill at coining and verges almost on counterfeiting. It appears that the appropriation for the collection of ashes, paper, lawn clippings, etc., has been increased because there is more stuff to be carted away. It isn't ashes but other things that have caused the loads in the city trucks to be so much larger. I am wondering just what these things can be. If I had time I think it would be interesting to study the contents of these various barrels I find set out on the sidewalk on rubbish-collection day. They might mislead me and I might get the notion that I had gone into the junk business. That might not be such a bad idea as I am told the fortunes are made by those who know saleable junk from the other kind. Inexperienced as I am I should probably select the unsaleable kind which would make me worse off than when I started.

Now what are people throwing away in such quantities and why are they doing it? It has been suggested by an office-mate that possibly the used bridge scores are more plentiful than ever. He doesn't live in Newton but has heard me speak of the frequent bridge games that take place in this city. Possibly this explains in part the heavier accumulations. Yet everybody doesn't play bridge, although many think they are experts at it. No, that doesn't satisfy me.

Of course we don't receive as many wooden boxes as we used to from the stores. Everything is paper and cartons are of little value. Here there is one sound explanation for the ashman's rush of business. I was going to say that there are a lot of things that are really trash but which bear the name of popular novels. These I could part with easily enough. Perhaps there's a difference of opinion on this, however, and far be it from me to engage in a controversy. Unless I hear otherwise I shall assume that the wave of prosperity has struck Newton and in a generous or shall we say, lavish mood our citizens are coming upon things for which they have no use and tossing them into the rubbish pile. If such is the case I congratulate those who have been favored by fortune. Personally, my own barrels contain nothing that has the remotest relation to money. Not that I am disposed to hoard useless articles. It is because I need everything I've got.

The advantage that may come to cities and towns from newspaper advertising was pointed out by a hearing at the State House where men from all parts of the State urged authority be given municipalities to so spend public funds. The whole thing impressed me and I thought of what Newton might do to display its wares, so to speak. We have been extremely modest in past years for a growing city, partly because we have not been in competition with industrial sections, I suppose, and because we were reluctant to appear to boasting or boosting.

Now a time has come when people are to visit in Newton in connection with the observance throughout the State this year of the tercentenary of the Massachusetts Bay Colony. Many of our own residents, patriotic as they may be, are not any too well informed as to some of the most interesting things that may be learned about Newton. In a general way we refer to the Elliot Memorial, Echo Bridge, the home site of the author of "Abe Lincoln" and so on, but we are apt to stop there.

"Well, what is Newton noted for?", a friend of mine asked after I had brought the matter to his attention. He is a native, too, by the way.

"What would you say?" I came back at him.

"I know what I like about the place," said he, "but I am wondering just what I would point out to a stranger."

"Better brush up, for this will be a year for visitors and you don't want to feel foolish," I advised. And I think that was the last statement of mine. It might well be part of the city's plans in connection with the National convention of the American Legion this coming Fall as well as the local events that will form part of our tercentenary celebration.

Some years ago Gloucester obtained from the Legislature authority to advertise itself and so successful has the plan proved that Gloucester folks are urging other places to try it. For those who fear the city may become "too conspicuous," I feel there is assurance that things will not be done that way. Right here and now I can think of several Newton men who would do such a job well and I believe the city would find them willing to give their valuable services.

A reader demands that I say something about women patrons of barber shops. He writes, "You have told how men conduct themselves in a barber's chair, or rather how the barber behaves and the man reacts, now why not something on the ladies?" I have nothing on the fair customers of which to write. From observation they seem about the same as men while receiving the professional attention of the man in the white coat. On the other hand I have noticed that the barbers are less inclined to boss their lady customers. Possibly they don't wish to offend and possibly they know they couldn't get away with it.

Women patrons have only been found in barber shops in recent years. The sensation they created when they first came to have their hair bobbed or shingled has sort of died down. A man who was waiting his turn would take care not to remove his coat and collar and necktie as had been his custom. That is, he would wait until summoned to a vacant chair before he partially disrobed. That change of habit has remained. At least there isn't so much of it done. A man doesn't like to sit in the presence of a strange woman with his coat and collar off, but before the advent of women customers he thought nothing of preparing for his barbering.

In an effort to please the reader I referred to I undertook to get some information. I asked a barber, "Do you have women customers?" He replied that such was the case. "How do they act in the chair?", I queried. "O, all right," he answered, somewhat wearily. That was not very illuminating and so I said, "Don't give you any trouble?" "No more than the men," came the reply.

This didn't add much to my store of knowledge so I asked him if there was as many women customers as formerly. He answered, "They don't patronize us as much as they used to. Three years ago nearly one-third of our customers were women. Now they represent less than one sixth."

"What's the matter, are they letting their hair grow?" "Some are," he replied, "and some have given up the idea of bobbed hair. I don't see why they should, but all I know is that they have."

That barber I have always found truthful and so I did not try to check up on his statements. If my reader insists, I shall conduct a question bee among the women I know, but I should prefer to be excused. You know how sensitive the ladies are at times.

Now as one home-town resident to another I should like to ask you this—aren't there one or more persons whom you see every day and yet have never spoken to? I mean somebody whose name you know but with whom you have never happened to come in contact? I'm sure you see this man or that woman year in and year out and just because your paths don't cross so often or in business you have not exchanged a word.

Isn't it funny how we can go along this way? "Just didn't happen to meet so we never did get acquainted", I heard one man explain it. I can understand it myself because I know that some people are not prone to extend their social interests. Maybe they're fully as happy and for all I know a lot happier. It's the way of certain folks and since it takes all kinds to make a world I haven't any objection.

But let me tell you something amusing in this very connection. I know of more than one instance that has resulted in a situation worth describing for the readers of this column. A friend of mine was traveling in London when he happened to encounter another Newton resident in Trafalgar Square. Each knew the other as a resident of this city but had never spoken. When they met in the shadow of Nelson's monument they behaved like long-lost brothers. It was "so good to see somebody from Newton"—that is the way each felt about it—that they almost embraced in their ecstasy.

"You don't know the feeling unless you've been there," said this friend in recounting his experience. "Thank you, but I do," I insisted and began telling the thrill I got in Paris when I met a Boston musician whom I knew and who knew me, although we had never even nodded to each other. We had a great session together in Paris and parted only with great reluctance.

"However," said the Newton man who had the London adventure, "you don't know this when I met that man in Newton some months later he didn't speak to me and I didn't speak to him and we haven't spoken since."

"Same with the Boston musician and myself," I added. "We are just as we were before that big day in Paris."

It so happened that I saw the arrest of a group of individuals in front of the State House when the Communists were celebrating something or other. I don't enjoy these things but I have been a lot to observe not a few such demonstrations. It is puzzling to know just what is going on in the minds of these people. Furthermore, I have wondered why a comparatively small number should create sufficient trouble to get themselves placed under arrest. It seems the most futile thing in the world to defy hundreds of policemen who are all set to carry out the orders of their superiors.

Apart from the "cause" which moves these disturbers it is interesting to watch how the thing is handled. I was going to say "staged," and perhaps that is a more appropriate word, for the disturbers know they will be placed in custody before they start. Naturally crowds are drawn to such a scene and thousands risk their own necks for a chance to see the police descend upon a crowd, of which they are members. How they expect the officers to discriminate between on-lookers and offenders is more than I can tell. Those who are paid to watch—newspaper reporters, I mean—wear their fire badges conspicuously displayed and this saves them.

In support of my contention that the police should not be expected to identify at a quick glance every one in the mob I desire to point out that certain members of the Great and General Court were "rushed" with the others. That is, the police would not allow them to pass the gates even when they insisted they were legislators.

Without going into this study of mob psychology or seeking an explanation of the enthusiasm of the so-called rioters and the strange viewpoint of the yelling and shouting spectators, I am wondering what the police horses thought. These noble animals, ridden by mounted patrolmen, were driven into the crowds. Nobody is keen to be trampled upon by a horse but I noticed that the horses didn't really injure anybody. They looked very threatening and impressive thereby causing the crowd to scatter. None of the animals appeared frantic or crazed or even mentally upset. They held their characteristic dignity. I wonder if they weren't laughing to themselves at the foolish human beings with whom they were compelled to roughly mingle?

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

The regular monthly meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary to Newton Post No. 48 will be held at Elk's Hall, Newton on Wednesday March 19, 1930 at 8:00 p. m.

A special program on Fidae under the direction of Mrs. Gardner and her committee will be given. The country to be discussed at this meeting is France. A number of musical selections will be rendered by the Music Committee.

On Thursday, March 20, 1930 a Food Sale will be held at 321 Washington street, Newton. Mrs. Cook, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee would appreciate any donations of preserves, cake, candy and in fact, anything in the food line. If those not having any means of getting this food to Newton will either call Mrs. Cook at Newton North 5399 or the President, Mrs. Henrikus at Center Newton 1491 they will take care of this for them.

All members are invited to visit the Food Sale thereby assisting the Committee in making this a success.

LASELL SEMINARY

The Senior-mixed swimming meet was held at the Bragdon Hall pool on Tuesday, March 11. Miss Alice Carey of Japan addressed the Lasell students at chapel on Tuesday morning.

An inter-class basketball game was played on Thursday, March 13, by the Senior-Junior teams.

Dr. Ashley Day Leavitt will address the students at the vesper service on Sunday, March 16.

The Pop Concert to be given at Woodland Park Hall on March 21 is under the direction of Clara Hightower of New Orleans, La., and Chairman of the 1930 Endowment Fund Committee. Music will be provided by the Lasell orchestra.

Dean Potter's vacation trip to Washington has been announced. The party will leave Boston on Friday, March 28.

WEST NEWTON W. C. T. U.

The next regular meeting of the West Newton W. C. T. U. will be held next Monday evening, March 17, at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. M. Millie Beardsley, 108 Crescent Street, Auburndale. Mrs. Grace M. Hamilton, president of Middlesex County W. C. T. U. will be the guest speaker. Please note change of meeting place.

KIWANIS CLUB

At the regular meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club on Tuesday the speaker was Frank Lally, an expert on income tax accountancy. Mr. Lally told of the assistance which men in business can obtain by having their accounts properly audited. He stressed the failure of many small retailers to give proper consideration to accurate accounting of their business and of the resultant failures.

In the absence of "Bill" Skelton, the music was in charge of Hugh Boyd. Suggestions of details of club management were offered by Past President Walter Whalin and W. Uriah Fogwill.

AUBURNDALE MAN KILLED IN NEW YORK

James Garvey of 117 Freeman street, Auburndale died in Bellevue Hospital, New York City on March 4th, as a result of fatal injuries received when he was hit by an automobile, his skull having been fractured. He was in the hospital several days before his identity was learned. His family was notified and went to New York the day before he died. He had gone to that city to visit his brother. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Garvey, two sons, Peter and Francis Garvey, and two daughters, Florence and Mary Garvey. His funeral service was held Monday morning at Corpus Christi Church. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Y. W. C. A. Open House

Quite the most interesting event for women of Newton in the coming week is Open House at the Boston Y. W. C. A., on what is called "Newton Day", on Wednesday, March 19th. This is gala day for friends of the organization in this community to see what new facilities for young women have been arranged in the beautiful new headquarters at Boston, called the Pioneer, at 140 Clarendon street corner of Stuart street, since the Newton organization incorporated with the Boston one. Enlarged opportunities, due to this greater scope; attractive facilities; delightful and convenient surroundings, social, recreational, intellectual, artistic, are such that their sponsors desire to have all communities view them, learn of them, become intimately acquainted with them. To this end it has been wisely and hospitably arranged that each community shall have a special day set aside that there may be ample time, and not overcrowded.

Wednesday, the 19th, is designated for Newton people. In truly hostess-like fashion, visitors will be welcomed at the door by cordial guides, and conducted through the building, introduced to its facilities and appointments. The restaurant will have its appeal, offering a convenient and pleasing place for luncheon.

The day should be of particular interest to Newton Clubwomen in view of the fact that the Newton Y. W. C. A., which united last fall with the Boston Association, was one of the associate organizations affiliated with the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs. Young women of Newton who belonged to this association should realize that all the facilities of the Boston society are now available to Newton members.

Shakespeare Club

Mrs. Alan McIntosh is in charge of the Quiz on Act III of the "Merchant of Venice," which is the program for the Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands, on Saturday afternoon, the 15th. The meeting opens at 2:30 o'clock, at the home of Miss Edith McCann, of 231 Upland avenue.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

On March 19th, at 10 a. m., Mrs. Margaret Welmer Hayward will hold the third in a series of cooking lessons, the subject of which is to be "Dinners." This course has been arranged by the American Home committee, of which Mrs. Charles Allen Riley is chairman, and anyone who has not signed up for the full course may attend this class upon payment of 75 cents.

On March 21st, at 10:15 a. m., the Education committee, of which Mrs. Alden H. Speare is chairman, will present its last in a series of Informal Talks given on Current News in Art, Drama, Literature, and Music, by the chairman of each committee. This is free to Club members.

The Glee Club, formed by Mrs. Moses H. Gulesian, chairman, and her Music committee, is progressing rapidly under the leadership of Mrs. Blair. An even larger chorus is desired, and application may be made to Mrs. Gulesian, or to the following members of her committee—Mrs. David S. Boyer, Mrs. John Merrill, Mrs. D. Bradley Rich, Mrs. Allen Hubbard, Mrs. H. Archibald Nissen, Mrs. Edward B. Stratton and Mrs. Charles B. Wilbur.

The Annual Musical under the auspices of the Music committee, Mrs. Raymond A. Simonds, chairman, have arranged a delightful treat for music lovers. Miss Gertrude Erhart, one of the leading sopranos, and Nicholas Solonimsky, an interesting young Russian pianist and composer, will be the Artists for the afternoon on March 18th, at the Congregational Parish House at 2:30 p. m.

Waban Woman's Club

On March 17th, at the regular meeting of the Waban Woman's Club, Miss Marion Costa, president of the Sarah Lawrence College of Bronxville, New York, will talk on "Progressive Types of Education in America." Miss Costa was formerly principal of Bradford Academy. She will discuss the new venture in education, of a Junior College which provides cultural training only, where the method used is one of training in appreciation, rather than in research. Mrs. Horace B. Gale, director of the Twelfth District, and Mrs. Phister Cowin, president of the Newton Federation, will be guests of honor at this meeting. Tea will be served at the close of the meeting, with Mrs. Vernon Durbin, chairman of the Social committee in charge. The hostesses at the tea table will be Mrs. Karl E. Mosser and Mrs. George E. Armstrong.

For Tuesday, March 18th, the Art committee of the Waban Woman's Club is planning a trip to Fenway Court. Mrs. Raymond Wells is hostess for this day. Any of the Club members who are interested may arrange for transportation, by telephoning to her.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Newtonville Woman's Club has several interesting events in store for the coming week. On Monday, March 17th, at 2:30 p. m., Mrs. H. J. Baringer will entertain the Literature Class at her home, 129 Lowell avenue. Appropriate to the date, it will be an "Irish Afternoon", and Mrs. J. Walter Allen, who has been in charge of these afternoons for three years, will conduct this program, the last meeting of the season.

The Dramatic committee is arranging a Club Theatre Party, open to guests, for Monday evening, the opening night of "The Chocolate Soldier," at the Majestic Theatre. Tickets at a reduced rate may be obtained from the chairman, Miss Estelle G. Marsh, 28 Walnut place, Newtonville, and it is hoped that many will avail themselves of this opportunity.

On Tuesday, March 18th, will be held the Annual Musicals of the Club, when Miss Ann Mathea, in native costumes, will sing folk songs of Holland, Norway, Sweden, and France.

Glee Club Rehearsals will begin on Wednesday, March 19th, at 9:40 a. m., at Miss Dorothy Curtis' Studio, 297 Walnut street. New members are welcome, and anyone wishing to join may communicate with the chairman, Mrs. Clinton W. Kyle, W. N. 1215-W.

Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole will give the third and last in her series of Current Event Lectures on Thursday morning, March 20th at 10:15 a. m.

Auburndale Review Club

For the next regular meeting of the Auburndale Review Club, to be held March 18th, at the home of Mrs. George P. Knapp, of 321 Central street, Auburndale, a change in the program as printed in the year book has been arranged. The regular business meeting will be held, as usual, at 10 o'clock, and following this Mrs. Richard O. Walter will give her paper on "Hoover's Friendship Tour." At 11 o'clock the meeting will be open to the public, that all may enjoy a talk by Mr. Leonard Cronkhite on "The Effect of the Tariff on our International Relations." It is hoped that many may come to take advantage of this lecture.

Women's Club of Newton Highlands

The Annual Musical under the auspices of the Music committee, Mrs. Raymond A. Simonds, chairman, have arranged a delightful treat for music lovers. Miss Gertrude Erhart, one of the leading sopranos, and Nicholas Solonimsky, an interesting young Russian pianist and composer, will be the Artists for the afternoon on March 18th, at the Congregational Parish House at 2:30 p. m.

On the 19th of March, another Garden Meeting will be held at the Workshop at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Edmond Dussault, a member of the Club and of the Conservation and Garden Unit, will tell of the Harbingers of Spring, which are so close at hand.

The American Home committee have their last Cooking Demonstration of the season at the Workshop on the 20th of March, at 10 a. m., with Carolyn Webber Bixby the instructor.

In keeping with the Tercentenary celebration the Art committee has planned an exhibit of Antiques; every thing to be a hundred years, or more, old. This Antique Loan Exhibit will be held at the Workshop on the three days March 21st, 22nd, 23rd. Anyone in the community having such antiques, and who are willing to lend them, is asked to notify some member of the Art committee or the chairman, Mrs. Ernest Weaver. A short history of each article would add much interest to the exhibit.

Social Science Club

The Social Science Club will meet at the Hunnewell Club on Wednesday, March 19th, at 10 o'clock, when Mrs. Maurice W. Dennison will read a paper on "The Contribution of the Jew to American Civilization." Mrs. Clarence E. Allen and Mrs. C. F. Pierce will be hostesses.

State Federation

RADIO. Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, Jr., second vice-president, will broadcast "The Work of the Junior Clubs," from WNAC, next Wednesday morning, March 19th, at 11:30 o'clock. At 11:40, the Ferdinand Trio Ensemble, including Jean M. Cant, Violinist;

Cella Phillips, 'cellist; and Edna Within, Pianist; are to give a concert. Mrs. C. E. French, chairman of International Relations, will be on the air at 11:50, with a broadcast on the provocative title: "Sitting on the Fence."

PRIZE STORY CONTEST. The State Federation Press and Publicity Department will sponsor again this year a prize story contest, as it has done for three years, the prizes to be $10 and $5 gold pieces. Any Club member not in the employ of a newspaper is eligible to enter the contest. The story must be of one event or activity of the current year of the Club of which she is a member, not to exceed 800 words, preferably less. The subject matter and style of treatment will be the main points upon which judgment will be passed. The committee asks that the story be type-written.

It should be in the hands of the Press and Publicity committee by April first; to be sent to the State chairman, Miss Carolyn J. Peck, 325 Washington street, Wellesley Hills. Forty-three stories were sent in last year.

The stories will be judged by State Districts and the two best will be chosen from the 15 District stories. May Newton claim one of these successful contestants! In previous years, Mrs. Ernest F. Frew, of Auburndale, brought honor to Newton. (Your editor hopes press chairmen will compete.)

Community Service Club of West Newton

The regular monthly meeting of the Community Service Club of West Newton will be held in the Parish House of the Unitarian Church, on Wednesday afternoon, March 19th, at 2:30 o'clock. The speaker will be the Rev. James Gordon Gilkey, pastor, Springfield, and professor at Amherst College. His subject is "How far can Personality Be Changed?" He is spoken of as a man of vivid personality and a brilliant and magnetic speaker, and the Club is looking forward to a pleasant and profitable afternoon.

Auburndale Woman's Club

To usher in the Spring and to settle the momentous question of what's what in Easter finery, a Fashion Show will be staged for the benefit of the Auburndale Woman's Club, at the March 20th meeting. Following the display, music and tea will give an opportunity for a profound discussion of the points presented.

Newton Community Club

In the spring, a woman's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of clothes. Newton Community Club members are reminded that their annual Fashion Show is to be a spring show this year. On March 27th, L. P. Hollander & Co. will display the latest authentic models for all occasions, with Club members acting as mannequins. If Club members want to see how becoming the new styles are, they should come and see their own friends wearing them. Those who come to scoff will remain to copy.

General Federation

BIENNIAL. June 5th to 14th is the phrase in Clubwomen's thoughts to-day, and while they are "signing up," they are eagerly anticipating. Play Day at the Biennials of the General Federation of Women's Clubs is always the outstanding day of days for Club visitors, and given much thought by the hostesses. Colorado has selected Wednesday, June 11th, just a day or two before the close of the convention for this event, and under the direction of Mrs. Alvin B. Collins and her committee, will take her guests on the famous 65-mile Circle Drive over Look-out Mountain and through Denver's (Continued on Page 9)

Friendly Chats with the Fuller Lumbermen

EVER try the Conference method on your Home?

Probably every member of your family has ideas about improving the house, both inside and out. Perhaps they have expressed them from time to time and you said, "Yes, it would be nice to do it sometime" and let it go at that.

Father wants to insulate the house; he is tired of these drafty walls and you can't blame him—

Mother wants a built-in ironing board and the kitchen finished in washable tile—

The boys would like to see the basement modernized and made into a billiard room or a gymnasium—

Sister wants a sun porch—she is looking ahead to summer evenings with her boy friend.

All agree that cracked ceilings and scarred floors should be fixed right away. All agree that the roof needs attention and that the outside of the house looks shabby.

Why not call the family together some evening and talk over ideas—discard the ones nobody agrees upon. Bring out the unanimous votes.

Then call up the Fuller Lumber Stores, either one, and ask some one to call at your house. Let him look about—show him what you want to do. He can suggest ideas that maybe the family have not thought of. He can figure up how much it will cost to do the work you want.

There is no charge for his services as a consultant—it is just one way we have of making friends for

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

An extra session of the District Training School, often called the "Community School" will be held on Monday, March 17, at the usual place in Newtonville, the Methodist Church, and at Asbury Temple in Waltham. At the latter place the Young People's class on "Science of Leadership" will have charge of the Assembly Period. Sessions will also take place on Tuesday, March 18.

This extra session is made necessary because Tuesday, March 25 is to be used for the Annual District Convention, with Dr. Theodore G. Soares of Chicago as speaker. Dr. Soares is a professor at Chicago University and has been a leader of the Religious Education Association. The Convention begins with a supper at 6:30, and includes awarding of credits to those who have earned these in the School during the past season. The Methodist Church at Newtonville will be used for this occasion.

Last Tuesday the Newtonville School Assembly Period was in charge of Miss Eva J. Viles of the Newton Methodist Church. Under her direction, four boys of her Junior Department gave a dramatization of the Good Samaritan Parable, which was much appreciated by the audience, and showed evidence of much work on the part of Miss Viles.

Presidents of all community Young People's Councils in the District will meet with the Y. P. District Cabinet officers on Sunday, March 16, at 4 p. m., at the Newtonville Methodist Church, to make plans for a Mid-Winter or Spring Rally of Councils.

One of the Church schools in the District, the Belmont Street Baptist, is having visitation month during March. Each Sunday five or six of the teachers make definite plans to visit some church school recommended to them by the Executive Secretary.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR NEWS

Over 150 Christian Endeavorers and friends attended the public rally last Tuesday evening at the Payson Park Congregational Church, Belmont.

Dr. Robert Watson of Boston brought to the young people a fine message. He emphasized three essentials in the life of a Christian, those of service, courage and truth. The attendance shield was awarded to the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, West Newton, the banner being awarded to the Waverley Congregational Church, Rev. John S. Franklin of West Newton, conducted the regular class in "Progressive Endeavor."

The Newton district social, under the auspices of the Norumbega C. E. Union, will be held at the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, West Newton, on Friday, March 21st at 7:45 p. m. This will be led by Edward Simpson, president of Norumbega Union. All young people are cordially invited.

"A Fisherman" will be the topic selected by Howard Roberts for the meeting next Sunday evening at the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, West Newton.

The young people of the Newton Upper Falls Baptist Church met last Sunday for the first time to plan a

By Edw. H. Powers

An autoist was in the Newton court this week because he had operated a car without number plates. A large percentage of the cars being operated in Newton might as well have no number plates on. The plates on these cars are so covered with dirt and grease that the numbers cannot be read in the daytime, not to mention at night. These violations of the law receive no attention from the police.

Spring arrived at Louis E. Moore's yard, 199 Church street, Newton last Tuesday. Crocuses bloomed there on that day.

A few days ago we received from Will White, formerly of Norumbega Park, a descriptive booklet of "Playland" at Rye, New York. This new recreation resort, with which Mr. White is now affiliated, is located on Long Island Sound and is owned and operated by Westchester County as part of its park system. It is conducted on a huge scale and will provide clean amusements not only for residents of Westchester County, but for the millions of New York City. The creed of "Playland" is—"To provide clean, safe, wholesome outdoor recreation for everybody."

"To fill the hearts of children with joy while spending their hours of play in the sunshine."

"To treat our patrons as our guests so they will look upon our recreational centre with pride."

"To imbue our employees with the true spirit of 'Playland,' which is courtesy and harmony."

"To send every man, woman and child home from Playland feeling that their time has been well spent, and eager to return."

Large iron discs were placed yesterday on Centre avenue by employees of the Street Department to define the right and left traffic lanes at the approach to Centre street. They should be a big aid in preventing accidents at this dangerous corner. There will be no excuse in the future for autoists who make sharp left turns at this place.

HOME TALENT

"Home Talent Day" of the Woman's Association of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Newtonville is always eagerly anticipated by the members of the Association. The program at the meeting on Thursday of last week when each group presented a feature "stunt" was unique and provided an enjoyable afternoon.

Choruses, which suggested some of the families of the church, were given by one group. The names selected were: "Taylor," "Fisher," "Young," "Sharp," "Keene," "Brown," "Low-stutter," "Rich," "Hall," "Murphy," "Pullman." Each of these names presents a picture to the mind but since this is a woman's organization it might be explained that the second syllable of the last word was borrowed for the time being.

Another group offered three American lullabies, "When Day Is Done" crooned by an Indian mother to her little papoose, "Cradle Song" which a white mother sang softly to her baby, and "My Little Sunflower, Good Night" sung feelingly by a black mammy to her pickaninny. Appropriate costumes added to the charm of this number.

A Spanish playlet, "Mannali de Popolo," done in pantomime was well worked out. During the reading of the story, the different scenes were portrayed by placards carried by the performers. The constant play on words kept the audience guessing. Salt shakers were used in a case of assault, a flatiron helped a lover press his sweetheart's hand, and the heroine swept into the room by means of a broom. Cards announcing "shadows," "darkness," and "curtain" ended the play.

Well known advertisements were pictured by one group, "Dear Rabbit" molasses (the molasses was well advertised by a dignified matron whose identity was hidden by a rabbit costume. The "Gold Dust Twins" with their kinky hair, shiny black faces and black and yellow costumes looked their part, and a sleepily eyed, pajama clad figure carrying a lighted candle at once suggested "Fisk Tires."

Two familiar poses were those of the "Old Dutch Cleanser" lady and of "Aunt Jemima." A large green spear carried, against a red gown, of course, meant "Wrigley's Spearmint Chewing Gum." Another pantomime, "Paul Revere's Ride," received much applause. Revere and his "friend" were the only visible actors, although from behind the scenes came the sounds of the "crowing of the cock," the "barking of the farmer's dog," the "bleating of the flocks," and the "twitter of birds." A chair and two padded brooms for oars helped Revere to reach the Charlestown shore, unobserved, where he watched for the lights which the friend was placing in the tower of the Old North Church, where he had climbed by means of a step ladder having startled the pigeon from its perch on the "somer rafter."

"Meanwhile, impatient to mount and ride," Paul Revere patted a rocking horse until the second light appeared when he sprang to the saddle and rode to spread the alarm through the Middlesex village and farm. It was a wild ride.

A charade, "The Tower of Babel," which was produced by several ladies reading in concert, each one from a different book, was well named. The women of the church met at 10:00 a. m. to sew for the Peabody Home. Luncheon at 12:30 was served by Mrs. Charles Pullman and her committee. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Herbert Blair, Mrs. Ernest P. Rallsback, the second vice-president, conducted the business meeting. Devotions were led by Mrs. Genevieve L. Jones. Mrs. Frank E. Morris was in charge of the program.

LODGES

General Hall Lodge, A. O. U. W., will hold a whist party in Denison Hall, Newtonville, on next Friday evening, March 21st, at 8:15.

The event to which Newton Scouts are now looking forward with great anticipation is the Girl Scout Movie, an annual affair, which is to be held this year on March 22nd. Through the courtesy of the manager, Mr. John N. Snider, the Girl Scouts have been able to secure the Paramount Theatre, Newton Corner, for the Saturday morning performance, which begins at 10 o'clock. The Newton Local Council is very grateful to Mr. Snider for his efforts on behalf of the Girl Scouts.

This year there will be a very special attraction for all Girl Scouts, past, present, and future, as well as for parents and friends, for the new Girl Scout picture will be shown, "The Girl Scout Trail," with musical synchronization. The heroine of this picture is a real Girl Scout, and the camp scenes were taken at the Girl Scout camp at Bear Mountain, New York. Mrs. Hoover, honorary president of the Girl Scouts, has seen the picture, and was much interested in it. Other features of the program will be Pathe and Paramount News, music by both Girl Scout Bugle and Drum Corps, and then another treat, Harold Lloyd in "For Heaven Sakes." Candy and popcorn balls will be sold before the show and between the acts.

A class in Folk Dancing for older girls is being held at the Unitarian Church, West Newton, from 3-4 P. M. on Tuesday afternoons; from the members of this class, a group will be chosen to participate in the Folk Dancing at the State Review, May 17th.

Troop 21 is preparing three one-act plays to be produced on March 21st in the right and left traffic lanes at the approach to Centre street. One of these plays is being done entirely by the girls with no outside coaching.

Captain Eleanor Hall of Troop 22, Newtonville, leaves on March 21 for Europe. In her absence, Mrs. George Reche, who started the troop last year, will take charge of it again.

TO HAVE SWIMMING POOL AT CAMP MARY DAY

Plans are maturing for completion this summer of a beautiful swimming pool at Camp Mary Day, at Natick, for the Newton Girl Scouts, and a committee to finance this addition to the camp has arranged for an illustrated travelogue, the proceeds of which will be applied to the pool's construction. The lecture will be given on Sunday afternoon, April 6, at 3 P. M., in the High School hall, Walnut street, Newtonville, by Branson de Cou.

Mr. de Cou's lectures are called "Dream Pictures," and the one chosen by the committee for the Girl Scouts benefit is on India.

Philip Hale, the distinguished critic of the Boston Herald, in reviewing Mr. de Cou's "dream picture" lecture of last Saturday at Symphony Hall, Boston, said:

"Many of the scenes awoke the enthusiasm of the audience. They certainly surprised in one—fading into another—any that have been shown here since Mr. de Cou's visit to Boston a year ago. And his talk was delightful. Not too statistical, but amply informative. The pictures were eloquent in themselves. There was no need of a lecturer's search for purple phrase or any hifalutin. And Mr. de Cou talked informally—a relief from lectures that seem to have been laboriously prepared and painfully committed to memory. Without striving to be funny, Mr. de Cou was often amusing in his comments, not as a professional jester, but as an experienced traveler quick to see the ludicrous. It is seldom that pictures, talk and music so deftly joined, talk that seemed suggested at the moment by this or that scene or adventure—to give rounded and unusual entertainment."

Mrs. Chas. E. Benson of Somerset road, West Newton is chairman of the committee in charge.

Y. W. C. A.

"Newton Day" will be observed at the Boston Y. W. C. A., 140 Clarendon street, on Wednesday, March 13.

In connection with the announcement of the event, which will take the form of a reception throughout the day, to which all Newton women are invited, it is recalled that the Newton Y. W. C. A. united with the Boston Association last fall, and that the work of the latter now comprehends all of the activities formerly under the direction of the local organization.

"Many Newton girls and young women," explains Mrs. C. Clark Macomber, of 26 Magnolia avenue, who is in charge of all preparations for "Newton Day" and who will be hostess for the events, "are thus today members of the Boston Association. Large numbers are now using the new Clarendon street building, where they enjoy swimming, gymnastics, dancing, the convenient restaurant and cafeteria and all the other facilities which the building provides. A club of Newton girls in business is also one of the leading organizations within the Association, and there are many Newton Girl Reserves."

Those present on "Newton Day" will have a full opportunity not merely to inspect the Clarendon street building, but also to learn about the Y. W. C. A. residence for low-salaried girls at 40 Berkeley street, Boston, where room and board are provided for as low as $7.75 a week. This building has been in constant use for 43 years, and was occupied last year by an average of nearly 700 transient guests a month.

As hostess on "Newton Day," Mrs. Macomber will be assisted by Mrs. F. A. Day, Jr., Mrs. George R. Brown, Mrs. William Ferris, Mrs. H. B. Bigelow Emerson, Mrs. Thomas West, Mrs. Charles M. Cutler, Mrs. Kenneth Col-linson, Mrs. Robert Hawkes, Mrs. Horace Cole and Mrs. Albert R. Speare.

POLICE NEWS

Joseph F. Roberts of 117 Edinboro street, Newtonville was found guilty in the Superior Court at Cambridge last Friday on 11 counts of larceny by checks and 37 counts of uttering and forging bogus commercial paper. Roberts, who is 29 years old and who assumed the names of McKenna and Shea, passed many worthless checks in stores in this city, Waltham and Watertown. He was sentenced by Judge Sisk to the Concord Reformatory.

Robert Sullivan of Clarendon road, Belmont was found guilty last Thursday in the Superior Court at Cambridge of driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public and fined $200. He was also charged with manslaughter and driving while under the influence of liquor. Attorney James P. Gallagher, who defended Sullivan, asked Judge Sisk to order directed verdicts of "not guilty" for his client on these two charges because of insufficient evidence. Judge Sisk allowed Mr. Gallagher's motion. Sullivan was the driver of a car which on December 20th crashed into the traffic signal at the intersection of Commonwealth avenue and Washington street, West Newton. Anna Brennan of Arlington, who was riding in the car was fatally injured.

Harry Factor of 1371 Walnut street, Newton Highlands, reported to the police last Friday that he had been robbed of $50 and a gold watch by two armed men near the Newton Highlands depot. Factor said that the pair then escaped in an automobile which was parked nearby. He did not obtain the registration number on the automobile.

Frank Miller of Beach street, Dorchester, arrested on March 3rd by Special Officers Feeley and Burke of Lowell avenue, Newtonville as a suspicious person, and charged with robbing the house of John Markward on Eliot avenue, West Newton last November, was bound over to the Grand Jury in $2000 bonds by Judge Brown in the Newton court last Friday.

Inspector Goode testified that while questioning Miller at police headquarters after his arrest, the prisoner slipped a key into one of his shoes when he thought Goode was not watching him. Miller denied the charges against him and claimed he was acting as a refrigerator salesman when taken into custody by the police.

In the Newton Court last Friday Frederick Frederickson of 89 Norwood avenue, Newtonville and Albert Ledwidge of South Walpole street, Sharon were fined $100 for driving while under the influence of liquor. Ledwidge was also fined $10 for drunkenness. He appealed both fines. Autoists fined $10 each for speeding included Malcolm Blanchard, Evans road, Brookline; Robert Beedle, Ashford street, Allston; Maxwell Bank, Dorchester.

Thomas Comiskey of 543 Main st., Watertown was sentenced to 30 days in jail and fined $15 in the Newton court on Monday. He appealed the sentence which was for creating a disturbance in a Newton Corner lunch-room about 1 a. m. Monday morning. The fine was for drunkenness. Comiskey was charged with getting quite obstreperous before Patrolmen Loughlin and Halloran arrested him.

Two false fire alarms were pulled early Monday morning: Box 224 on Chapel street at 1:32 a. m. and Box 223 on Bridge street at 1:53 a. m. Leo Concannon of 288 Cabot street, Newtonville complained to the police Sunday that his daughter Nancy had been attacked by a dog owned by Roscoe Hayes of Frederick street. The dog was ordered restrained.

William Whalen of 169 Adams street, Newton was found guilty in the Waltham court Monday of driving while under the influence of liquor, and driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. He was arrested in Weston, March 2nd, after his car had collided with another automobile. Judge Connelly sentenced Whalen to one month in jail, as it was his second offence.

George Caine of River street, Welling was in the Newton court Monday charged with driving a car without registration plates. Caine testified that he had forgotten to attach the plates to the car, which was a dealer's car. His case was placed on file.

Hugh McCusker of 2312 Washington street, Newton Lower Falls was fined $50 in the Newton court on Monday for having lottery tickets in his possession. He was also fined $15 for drunkenness. McCusker and a companion were arrested Sunday for drunkenness. While being booked at police headquarters his hat was removed to measure his height and a quantity of lottery tickets fell out of his "dome office."

Members of the Newton police had a conference with Mayor Weeks last Saturday on their petition to have the city purchase uniforms for the policemen in this city.

WABAN IMPROVEMENT SOCIETY

The Annual Meeting of the Waban Improvement Society was held in the Angier School Hall on Tuesday evening, March 11.

In the absence of the president, John T. Croghan, Lewis A. Estes, the secretary, presided and told of the accomplishments of the society for the past year.

Three special speakers were introduced: Scoutmaster W. P. Harris who reviewed the work of the Waban Boy Scout Troops and spoke of their need of a hut; Miss Mabel Bragg who outlined the work being done in the Waban schools and Alderman J. R. Chandler who discussed the appropriation program of the city. The following will serve as officers for the coming year: President, J. T. Croghan; Vice-Presidents, H. J. Pettengill, Mrs. F. G. March; Secretary, L. A. Estes; Treasurer, C. H. Day. Members of the Executive Committee: E. P. Upham, H. S. Bloomfield and L. E. Day.

NEWTON HIGH SCHOOL PRIZE SPEAKING

The Annual Prize-speaking Contest, now for eighteen years a regular event of the spring term, will take place in the High School Auditorium next Friday evening, March 21, at 8 p. m. The six speakers, chosen from a field of forty who tried out for the event, are—Cynthia Jump, Mary Waters, Isabel White, Charles Barry, Francis Gardner, and Charles Leach. Ethel Sweet and Donald Briggs are the alternates. The judges of the speaking are to be the Rev. Samuel M. Lindsay of Brookline, Miss Margaret McGill, and Mrs. Elizabeth Upham Stevens.

At the close of the speaking program awards will be made to the winners in the essay and poem contests which have been open to members of the upper two classes of the school. The entertainment will close with a one-act comedy-farce, "Rich-Man-Poor-Man," in which Mariada Comer plays the leading role.

Both the speaking and writing contests, as well as the play, are sponsored by the English Club, the officers of which are Dorothy Ellis, president; Eleanor Bingham, vice-president; Louise Hawkes, secretary; Harry Colony, treasurer. The committee in charge of the evening consists of Helen Morgan, chairman; William Dillaway, publicity; and Harry Colony, tickets, and Dorothy Bilas.

ANTI-BUMMING RIDE CAMPAIGN FACTS

Did you read this editorial?

"James McGlone of Bangor was motoring into that city recently when he invited a man on the highway to ride with him. This traveler, calling himself Adams, forgetting all obligation to his benefactor, 'soaked him a couple of biffs' and in the further vernacular in which he now confesses, 'knocked him cold' and took his money. McGlone, picked up on the road, was removed to a local hospital, where it is now expected that he will recover.

Here is a serious warning against taking in strangers on the road. Altogether too many people plan on this sort of transportation."

Think of possible consequences before giving rides to bummers.

THANK YOU!

Anti-Bumming Ride Campaign.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Inasmuch as Newton is vitally concerned, financially and also as regards transportation between Boston and Newton Corner, it will undoubtedly be represented officially at the hearing next Wednesday morning before the Legislative Committee on Metropolitan Affairs on the bill to extend the Boylston Street subway under Governor Square. The hearing will be held by the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs which has before it a measure drafted by representatives of the Elevated trustees, the city of Boston and others interested. Newton will be called upon to pay a portion of the cost and the question remains whether the assessment will be satisfactory to the authorities of this city. Newton's attitude may have some bearing on the future of the bill.

The House substituted for an adverse report of the Committee on Legal Affairs a bill providing that the word "lottery" be defined and that games of cards with prizes won by chance be authorized for charitable, civic, educational, fraternal or religious purposes. This bill has been before the General Court in previous years and has been rejected. On roll call Representative Luitwieler voted against substitution and Representatives Baker and Thompson were not recorded.

By roll call the House refused to substitute for an adverse report of the Ways and Means Committee the bill establishing a reserve fund for the Commonwealth for the purpose of employing citizens on public works in times of business depression. Representative Luitwieler voted against substitution and Representatives Baker and Thompson were not recorded.

The bill to require 30 days' notice before repossession of an automobile is taken by the dealer when the buyer fails to keep up payments was rejected by the House. On roll call Representative Luitwieler voted against the bill and Representatives Baker and Thompson were not recorded.

The House last Wednesday, by a standing vote of 73 to 29, refused to order a third reading of the bill giving a life tenure to the present incumbent of the office of city clerk of Newton. Representatives Thompson and Luitwieler praised City Clerk Frank M. Grant. Mr. Thompson argued that it would be well for the city to be assured of Mr. Grant's ability and experience for life. He pointed out that both political parties in Newton favored the measure. Mr. Luitwieler said that it would be a calamity if the city were to lose the services of Mr. Grant. Opponents of the bill argued that it would establish a precedent and if such a measure were passed there would be a "flood of such legislation."

The bill amending the existing law in regard to the publication and distribution of impure and indecent literature, one of the most discussed measures of the year, has passed the Senate. It was expected that it would receive favorable consideration but the roll call of 23 in favor to 11 against surprised even those who were most sanguine for the enactment of such legislation. However, the House is yet to be heard from, so to speak, and it is possible that it may be defeated in the lower branch. The bill provides that the present statute be amended by the insertion of a clause that a jury, in determining whether or not any publication or book is impure, shall consider it as a whole or any complete and independent part thereof. Those who spoke for the bill said that their principal criticism of the existing law is that a book may be found to be indecent if it contains one objectionable passage. They would have it judged as a whole. It is stated that the words "complete independent part thereof" were inserted to cover a magazine or similar publication which might be acceptable as a whole, but contained perhaps one offensive article. Under the new bill, that article might be sufficient to condemn the whole publication. On the roll call Senator Hollis was recorded in favor of the passage of the bill. In the debate he declared it was "a common sense measure."

The House and Senate have both passed to be engrossed this week the act authorizing the County Commissioners of Middlesex county to provide adequate accommodations for the District Court of Newton. The provisions of the bill follow:

"For the purpose of providing court house accommodations and facilities for the district court of Newton, in the city of Newton, the county commissioners of Middlesex county may take by eminent domain under chapter seventy-nine of the General Laws, or acquire by purchase or otherwise, such land as may be necessary, and may erect on such land a suitable building for the purposes aforesaid and may equip and furnish the same.

"For the purposes aforesaid, the treasurer of said county, with the approval of the county commissioners, may borrow from time to time, on the credit of the county, such sums as may be necessary, not exceeding, in the aggregate, one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and may issue bonds or notes of the county therefor, which shall bear on their face the words, 'Middlesex County Newton District Court House Loan, Act of 1930. Each authorized issue shall constitute a separate loan, and such loans shall be payable in not more than ten years from their dates. Such bonds or notes shall be signed by the treasurer of the county and countersigned by a majority of the county commissioners. The county may sell the said securities at public or private sale upon such terms and conditions as the county commissioners may deem proper, but not for less than their par value. Indebtedness incurred under this act shall, except as herein provided, be subject to chapter thirty-five of the General Laws.

"The county treasurer, with the approval of the commissioners, may make a temporary loan for a period not exceeding one year in anticipation of the issue of the serial loan, but the time within which such serial loan shall become due and payable shall not, by reason of such temporary loan, be extended beyond the time fixed by this act. Any notes issued in anticipation of the serial issue shall be paid from the proceeds of the loan so made.

"This act shall take effect upon its acceptance during the current year by the county commissioners of said county, but not otherwise."

NEWTON PLAYGROUND AIRPLANE TOURNAMENTS

Louisville, Kentucky, a fuselage model built by Henry Pacewitz of Chicago flew 14 minutes 32.2/5 seconds and was then lost from view of the judges over two miles from the starting point. This broke the record of 12 minutes 30 seconds made by the rising-off-water model of Tudor Morris in the 1928 contest.

"I read the results of the Louisville contest with great interest and genuine astonishment," wrote Edward P. Warner, editor of "Aviation" and formerly assistant secretary for aeronautics Navy Department. "The records that are now achieved seem almost unbelievable. . . . I am sure that these events do a lot of good."

Orville Wright and Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh are co-chairmen of the tournament committee. Miss Amelia Earhart, a committee member, has offered a special trophy to the girl who makes the best record among the girls who enter. Girls are eligible also for the general trophies in direct competition with boys. Entering the contest for the first time last year, girls made some excellent records.

The tournament is conducted on a strictly amateur basis, no cash prizes being awarded and no one being qualified to compete who has accepted money for building or flying model planes. Cooperating with playground and recreation bodies are civic and social organizations, boys' clubs, schools, camps, the Boy and Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. Aero Clubs of adults, now numbering 200, have done much to foster junior aircraft activities throughout the country.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

William Howard Taft was a big man, physically and mentally. Broad in stature and broad in his views. Kindly disposed towards all his fellow countrymen regardless of race or creed. A man who practiced, not merely preached Americanism. Would that the United States had more of his type.

Few streets in Newton carry more traffic than Centre avenue, the short street which runs between Washington and Centre streets. Traffic restrictions placed on this street by the Board of Aldermen have not been enforced by the police. Now that the dividing line for traffic at the Centre street end has been defined by large discs, either the parking restrictions at this end of the street must be enforced or accidents will follow.

How education has improved since we went to school! We read in the paper that one room at the new Cabot School at Newtonville has in it a huge relief map of Africa showing the rivers, forests, mountains and plains of the Dark Continent. This map has been constructed by pupils of the sixth grade and teachers from distant schools have come to see this unique educational exhibit. When we went to school we attempted to learn the geography of the United States to some degree. But, our knowledge of geography was not so liberalized that we made relief maps of Africa. We suppose that the pupils today are thoroughly instructed about New England and the other sections of the U. S. A. before they concentrate on Africa.

Mayor Patrick Duane of Waltham deserves commendation for stopping the display of a certain moving picture in that city. Before this film was shown in Boston the advertising men were not so concerned in the aggregate, one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and may issue bonds or notes of the county therefor, which shall bear on their face the words, 'Middlesex County Newton District Court House Loan, Act of 1930. Each authorized issue shall constitute a separate loan, and such loans shall be payable in not more than ten years from their dates. HEALTH WORK orders to the mother and the district nurse who at present gives follow-up care; helping with the formula and teaching the hygiene of the baby's care.

There is opportunity for a volunteer to help occasionally by driving children or patients to the hospital and by helping at the clinics providing they will follow directions. Miss Wheeler, Newton Hospital Social Service, said that although the Boston hospitals with their large and specialized clinics have many opportunities to use volunteers, the Newton Hospital with its out-patient department all in one little room, can use only a limited number of a very special kind. Newton is not a clinic city probably because of the large number of general practitioners, but in spite of this fact, the Newton Hospital out-patient department is growing.

There are several special ways in which a volunteer can help: first of all, by driving when a patient can get to the hospital in no other way; second, in statistical work; third, in making follow-up calls to urge patients to come back for treatment when they have failed to do so. In the hospital proper, a volunteer can sometimes help by reading to a patient, or by teaching, or by just visiting.

The social worker in the clinic admits all patients and takes their histories, and in doing this often learns a great deal about the family background which is helpful. She also has all hospital social cases including illegitimacy, attempted suicide, and other cases needing social adjustment.

Miss Norcross, teacher of Red Cross classes in Home Hygiene and care of the sick and first aid, gave an outline of the 12 courses which she has been giving this year, 7 in Home Hygiene and 5 in First Aid. These are given to women in different parts of Newton, to Girl Scouts, and to a group of younger school children. The Home Hygiene course includes training in the care of a baby and also the diet.

The next meeting of the class for volunteers will be held on Friday, March 14, and will include the Character-Building Group.

NEWTON NOW IN THE MOVIES

Newton Centre is the local of the feature picture "Paris" starring Gene Borden, which comes to the Paramount Theatre, Newton, next week Thursday, for a three-day run. It is the story of a Newton Centre family with a Puritanical outlook. The son goes to Paris to study architecture and is followed by his mother who seeks to prevent his marriage to a French actress, Louise Closser Hale, whose home is in Boston and who was in the original stage play some time ago, plays the part of the mother. On the same program will be Conrad Nagel and Lella Hyams in a great mystery drama "The 13th Chair."

For the first time of the week beginning Sunday, March 16, John Barrymore in "General Crack" will be the main feature. This is the great actor's first talking picture and is a very enjoyable story. He is supported by Lowell Sherman, Marion Nixon, Hobart Bosworth, Jacqueline Logan and others of equal note. Many scenes are in technicolor. On the same program is "Chasing Rainbows" with Charles King and Bessie Love. It is a musical comedy with plenty of singing and dancing.

On Monday evening the Paramount management has prepared a special St. Patrick's Day program which will include Mr. John E. Burrows in "Songs of Old Ireland," and Mr. Allen, who will play some of the Irish melodies from the best composers on the organ.

TRUST COMPANY INCREASES CAPITAL STOCK

The Newton Trust Company announces an increase in its capital stock from $750,000 to $1,000,000 and an increase in the Surplus Fund to a million dollars which, together with the Stockholders' Liability gives a total protection to its depositors of an amount in excess of three million dollars. The entire organization of the Newton Trust Company is making a vigorous effort to increase its business. Its first objective is the rendition of immediate and complete service and is followed by an active campaign for new customers.

The Trust department of the company, it is stated, has been showing a most rapid and substantial increase. The total value of estates, trusts, agency accounts, etc., now being handled, aggregates nearly five millions of dollars. The total resources of the Banking and Savings departments exceeds $17,000,000 by a substantial margin.

At the recent annual meeting of the Board of Directors was increased by the addition of well-known Newton men. They are Mr. Bartlett Harwood, son of former director and vice-president Sydney Harwood; Mr. Walter L. McCammon, Newton business man; Mr. Ripley L. Dana of Newton Centre, an attorney; Mr. Wickliffe J. Spaulding of Auburndale, also an attorney; and Mr. William M. Cahill, the present treasurer of the institution.

The following assistant treasurers were appointed, the five last named being added at the annual meeting: Raymond F. Heislein, Newton Centre, manager of Loan Dept.—General Accounting; Hans K. Fischer, manager of the Newton Centre office; Herbert W. Kestle, manager of the Newtonville office; Robert MacGregor, Jr., manager of the Auburndale office; Maurice L. Quinlan, manager of the Newton Highlands office; Carl G. Wood, manager of the Waban office; and Rupert C. Thompson, Jr., of the business development department at Newton Centre.

The management states that as a result of its strong liquid condition it was enabled to meet every request during the recent troublesome financial months for accommodation of any kind to which a customer was properly entitled. Upon this platform of service it hopes to continue its growth and usefulness.

Newton Lower Falls

Jackie Usher is the guest of his aunt Mrs. L. A. Peterson of Neal street.

Little Florence and Ian Trefrey of Grove street are confined to their home by illness.

Wednesday evening the fire department was called to a fire in the garage of Mrs. Ellen Barton of Grove street.

"Oh Kay" a comic drama will be presented on the evening of March 28 by the Dramatic Club of the Perrin Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church. The performance will take place in the Parish Hall. The cast consists of many of the well known players of the parish: Laura Baker, Rudolph Kidston, Louise Harrison, Harold Trefrey, Eulah Musso, William Stewart, Myrtle Cooper, Helen Barer, Arthur Wood, Leroy Lisk and Roger Williams.

Waban

Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Miller are spending the week in New York City. Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Schaschke of Caroline Park are in Pasadena, California, having gone out by boat from New York to New Orleans. They expect to return by rail, stopping off to visit relatives in the Middle West.

Dr. H. Le Seur Andrews of Waban avenue, a graduate of the Harvard Dental School and a teacher there for several years was made an honorary member of the Robert R. Andrews Society of Tufts College Dental School at its annual meeting on March 6th. This organization, which has for its aim the stimulation and promotion of dental research was named in honor of Dr. Andrews' father.

The Rev. Smith O. Dexter, rector of Trinity Church, Concord, Mass., will be the speaker at the Sunday morning service at the Church of the Good Shepherd. On Wednesday morning there will be Holy Communion at 7 o'clock and at the evening Lenten services at eight o'clock the speaker will be Rev. Spencer Burton, Father Superior of the Society of St. John the Evangelist.

CITY AFFAIRS

Mayor Weeks will submit to the Claims and Rules Committee of the Aldermen at its next meeting a recommendation that the ordinance be changed so that the number of trustees of the Chaffin Fund be increased from 5 to 7. The reason for this change is the desire of the Mayor to add to the trustees the Chairman of the Newton School Committee, who would serve ex-officio.

Two hundred residents of Newton Centre have signed a petition protesting against the dump at Warren and Beacon streets. The petition states that in addition to ashes, rubbish and papers, garbage is mixed with the refuse deposited in this dump. Fires with noxious smoke frequently occur at the dump. Trucks rattle up as early as 3 in the morning to dump matter in it. All in all, this dump is neither a thing of beauty nor a joy forever to the neighborhood.

The following recommendation will be received by the Board of Aldermen on Monday night from Mayor Weeks: "I hereby recommend that the sum of $1250 be appropriated to the Police Department for the purpose of sending ten police officers to the State Police School at the Commonwealth Armory for one month."

"For 28 days the charge is $1.00 per day for board and .25c per week for laundry. Regular officers attending have, of course, their pay provided for in the budget but any reserve officers who may attend and those taking the place of regular officers absent on this duty will receive the usual $4.50 per day. The reserve officers pay together with board and laundry at the school make up a total of $1550. From the budget item covering reserve officers, I have been able to take $300 making the net amount recommended $1250."

"The procedure of sending prospective officers to a police school has not yet been followed in this city and I believe it will be very beneficial to the men and to the force as a whole."

At the request of Water Commissioner Whitney the Board of Aldermen will be asked to appropriate $2500 next Monday night for the purpose of erecting a small building at the water reservation in Needham and installing an electric meter therein. The building will cost $600 and the meter $1875. The meter would replace three meters now in use and would record the electric current purchased from the Edison Company to operate the pumps at the reservation.

Following interviews with several dealers in automobile tires, Mayor Weeks has notified department heads of rules which must be followed in the purchase of tires. Prices must conform with a schedule prepared by the Mayor's office; verification must be made that the tires are of standard brands. In the past different departments have been paying varying prices for the same makes and sizes of tires.

"THE SILVER CORD"

One of the finest productions presented by the Auburndale Club Players was given in the Club House Monday and Tuesday evenings of this week when "The Silver Cord" a comedy in three acts by Sidney Howard, delighted the two large audiences. This comedy was first produced at St. Martin's Theatre in London in Sept. 1927, and later the Theatre Guild produced it with remarkable success.

It was presented under the direction of Mr. Ernest Law Johnson, who, Mr. Leonard B. Berry as stage manager and Mrs. Joseph Badger in charge of properties.

The cast included Mrs. Lorraine Foat Holmes, Mrs. Josephine Mayo (Valentine), Mrs. Eunice Browning Prellwitz, Mrs. Helen Brown, Mr. Clifford Parcher, and Mr. Hildreth Auer. Exceptionally fine music was furnished by the Perrett Trio.

The next play which the players plan to present probably in April will be "The High Road," by Frederick Lonsdale.

EXHIBITION OF ETCHINGS

Through the efforts of Miss Mary G. Morrison of the Morrison Gift Shop, Wellesley, Morgan Dennis, the famous etcher of dogs, is coming for an exhibition of his etchings and sketches at her gift shop on Wednesday, March 19th.

Mr. Dennis started to work as a young man in the art department of a Boston newspaper and later mastered the etcher's craft after several years of intensive study with Mr. H. W. Bicknell of Provincetown. Traveling abroad he made a folio of interesting etchings, many of which are sold on the Continent most successfully. He now makes portraits in crayons and pastels of individual dogs on definite commissions for their owners and is the best known etcher of dog subjects.

WHAT THE STATE IS DOING FOR CHILDREN

The Newton Central Council will hold a meeting on Thursday, March 20th at 8 p. m. at the Auburndale Club House (corner of Ash and Melrose streets), Auburndale.

The subject under discussion is: "What Massachusetts is Doing for Its Children." Mr. Theodore A. Lothrop, Chairman of the Governor's Welfare Commission, will speak.

Dr. M. Luise Dietz, from the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, will speak on "What Massachusetts is Doing for the Health of Its Children." There will be a question period at the close of the meeting.

NEWTON CENTRE ANSWERS BACK

By this time nearly every man, woman and child in the United States from Port Fairfield, Maine, to San Diego, California, believes that in Newton Centre, Massachusetts, live a type of folk tradition-bound, vice-chasing, and smug—for in the current talk, "Paris," to be given the week of March 20 at the Paramount Theatre in Newton the satire swings around a Newton Centre woman and her son who are ludicrous in their small town reactions to the world at large. When the play begins, in large letter the words Newton Centre, Massachusetts, are displayed. Then a parlor of a N. C. home filled with holier-than-thou matrons who clap mildly as Mrs. Sabot, the hostess, concludes her resolutions on the vice crusade, to introduce her son about to go to Paris to study architecture. The play then shifts to a modernized apartment in Paris where servants are replacing nude pictures with Whistler's "My Mother" and nude statues with "The Pilgrim Father" statuette in preparation for the arrival of Mrs. Sabot for she has followed her son over on learning of his betrothal to a Folies Bergeres singer, intending to break off the scandalous entanglement. Louise Closser Hale interprets the character of Mrs. Sabot. Her walk, the length of her dress, her reticule, her intonation are so delightfully worked out that the audience continues in uproarious laughter at anything she does or says. The play develops rapidly as Mrs. Sabot becomes Parisianized to the utter disgust of the proper-minded son. However, he believes as long as she does not cut her hair there's hope; for what is right for a Paris singer is dead wrong for a Newton Centre mother. Irene Bordoni is fascinating as the beautiful fiancée. But Louise Closser Hale holds much of the center of the stage by her inimitable characterization.

But why is Newton Centre selected, and so mercilessly flung to the far corners of the world as a sanctimonious city? Did the author and his time receive a slight while visiting here? Has he an unloved aunt living here? Or did a Newton Centre girl once jilt him and so behold! a neat revenge! We shall never know but when we register henceforth at a hotel in Miami or Lincoln, Nebraska, or New Orleans—ah! we hesitate to write Newton Centre after our names and substitute Boston? How about living down this anathema? Perhaps we can so exaggerate the advantages of our city in a loud voice wherever we go that in time—say decades hence—Newton Centre will again be known as the perfect Eden city and haven for all peaceful souls we now know it to be. I have heard Newton Centre people become violently indignant on seeing the play but nearly everyone who sees it I believe, laughs with the crowd and recognizes in the characters from Newton Centre certain people they know here but never themselves. If the motive of the dramatist is to "hold the mirror up to nature," it is to recognize better good and ill in actions. What drollery of overemphasis the author uses to throw our faults into relief and with a fling at long faces in general, he selects the very very few in a town like Newton Centre and so perhaps chases forever from some one's life the too usable habit of regulating life for others in sombre terms. Ah! but consider Newton Centre folks. There is often seen the courteous and scholarly Dr. L. who always has time to chat about things literary or spiritual. There is Mrs. B., a fire alive of enthusiastic enjoyment of life in all its aspects, music, art, books. Or little three-year-old black-eyed Susan and Martha who trudge sturdily down the lane of a spring morning searching adventure and who will live to see a Newton Centre grown not only numerically to a prodigious extent but also a breadth of mental perspective as yet undreamed.

Go to breakfast about 11 a. m. for a pound of lamb chops. You can hardly give your order for the friendly voices of folks who greet you, who interrupt an order for spinach with a discussion of Ravel or interpolate a witty sally on politics between tomato soup on a list and a dozen of eggs.

I know of several women like Whistler's mother, don't you? With an inner calm and peace on their faces, which tell of a victorious life within. And I know grandmothers in Newton Centre who could step down the Rue de la Paix and have Parisians turn to admire their carriage and style.

We are all kinds. Some of the period gone, alas! Some of the present and some reaching out after a best in the future. The small progressive group which is the earnest for a more glorious time to come. I'm glad "Paris" is coming to Newton. I hope we all go to see it. And when Irene Bordoni comes to Boston again, I'd like to give her a tea and have you all come and talk with her—so she can judge for herself of what an altogether delightful element are the folks of Newton Centre, Mass.

POLICE NEWS

John Veara of 35 Oak terrace, Newton Highlands, was fined $50 in the Newton court yesterday for deliberately scaring saddle horses ridden by girl pupils of the Mount Ida School on February 14. A group of the girls and their riding instructor were on their horses in front of the Harriett estate on Centre street, Newton, when Veara came along in his automobile. He caused the motor of his car to backfire and several of the horses bolted. Fortunately none of the girls were injured. Veara will also hear from the office of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles. Veara's home is in North Truro.

Harry Donaghue of Marcella street, Roxbury, was given a $20 suspended fine in the Newton court yesterday for doing a taxi business in this city without a license. Donaghue had been picking up passengers at the Lake street terminal.

Antonio Corsetti of 130 Linwood avenue, Newtonville, 41 years of age, was arrested Wednesday night charged with "leavesdropping." Corsetti did not fall off the gutter of any house but was detected "rubbernecking" from a window of a house at Nonantum to see what he could see. Antonio will be tried on March 19.

Two Newton High School girls learned Wednesday night that it is dangerous to accept rides from strangers. The girls, Nathalie Suvall of 324 Newtonville avenue, Newtonville, and Dorothy Young of Cross street, West Newton, each 16, were walking along Washington street when they were accosted by a couple of youths in an automobile and offered a ride home. The girls accepted, but instead of driving them home, the "sheik" operating the car drove to the rear of a repair shop on Waverley avenue, Watertown.

There, an attempt was made to assault the Suvall girl but she jumped from the car and while endeavoring to obtain the registration number was struck by one of the pair, receiving slight injuries to her face. The girls rushed to the nearest house, occupied by E. L. Chamberlain, and the Watertown police were notified. Sergeant Devaney and Patrolman Shea of the Watertown police obtained the registration number of the car from the girls and as a result proceeded to 7 Harvard street, Waltham, where they arrested Mario Venini, 19, as the driver.

On information obtained from him they arrested Angelo Pappalio, 18, of 191 Summer street, Watertown, who was his companion in the car. The two were in the Waltham court yesterday morning charged with attempted assault and were held in $2000 each for trial on March 17.

John Lowery of Ripley street, Newton Centre, was fined $20 in the Dedham court last Friday when the guilty of going away after doing damage to property without making his identity known. He was charged with having run his car into two signs and a hydrant at Dedham.

Joseph Kellher of 850 Walnut street, Newton Highlands, was found not guilty in the Waltham court yesterday on the charges of driving while under the influence of liquor and driving after his license had been revoked. He had been arrested early last Saturday morning when the automobile in which he was riding collided with a pole of the Boston Elevated at Watertown square and he was thrown to the street. The Watertown police charged him with being the driver of the truck. His acquittal was due to the testimony of Edward L. McHugh of 936 Walnut street, Newton Highlands, owner of the truck, that he was driving the vehicle at the time of the accident. McHugh stated that after the collision he was placed in a taxi in a dazed condition and taken to his home. McHugh was fined $20 for leaving the scene of an accident without revealing his identity.

Maurice Holmes of Cohasset was in the Newton court Wednesday charged with failure to STOP before entering a Washington street intersection. Holmes offered the excuse that he was hurrying to the Tufts Dental School with a passenger who was going to have some teeth extracted. Judge Bacon placed the case on file after hearing this alibi.

Eugenio Cinotta of 25 Parker road, Newton Centre, was fined $75 in the Newton court on Wednesday for making an illegal sale of liquor and sentenced to two months in jail for keeping liquor for sale. He appealed both penalties. He was arrested on February 22nd after he had made an alleged sale. His house was then raided and a large quantity of wine seized.

John McJennett of Greenbush down on South Shore came up to the Newton court Wednesday to be found not guilty of violating a traffic ordinance in this city. The driver of a car stopped by Patrolman McNeil at Washington and Park streets had shown a license bearing McJennett's name. Officer McNeil stated that the driver was not the Greenbush youth.

DR. LEAVITT TO PREACH AT UNION SERVICE

Dr. Ashley Day Leavitt, minister of the Harvard Congregational Church, Brookline, will be the speaker at the second Union Lenten service in Newtonville, Sunday evening. The services will be held in the M. E. Church. It is anticipated that this service will arouse more interest than any other on the year's program, for Dr. Leavitt's reputation as a speaker and his popularity as a man are well-known in Newton.

Last Sunday night, the Rev. Roy L. Minich, minister of the Congregational Church of Malden was the preacher in Newtonville. He was warmly received by his large audience. "The Wholeness of Life's Enterprises" was the title of his sermon. "You must not expect to make a life out of the stumps of a personality, out of the fragments of broken opportunities," said Mr. Minich. "A home cannot be created out of the rag-tag and left-overs of a man's cheerfulness at the end of the day. A beautiful relationship between man and woman cannot be made out of the remnant of honor and self-respect. Religion worthy of the name cannot issue out of the refuse of a man's time, or the begrudged margins of his time and energy. Life's enterprises demand a wholeness if they are to fulfill their possibility, and if they are to yield any satisfaction."

On March 23, Dean W. W. Fenn, professor of Theology in Harvard University will be the speaker.

Recent Deaths

EDWIN A. WHITNEY

Edwin A. Whitney, a former well known resident of Newton, died suddenly of heart failure in the subway in Boston on Tuesday, March 11th. Mr. Whitney was in his 87th year. He was born in Ashburnham and was a direct descendant of John and Elinor Whitney who settled in Watertown in 1635.

He was engaged in the jewelry business in Boston up to the time of his death and was the veteran of this trade in Boston.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon in the Newton Cemetery Chapel, Rev. Ray Eusden officiating.

Mr. Whitney was a 32nd degree Mason and a member of Dalhousie Lodge. He is survived by his widow and one son, Walter Whitney of Ricker road, Newton and a granddaughter, Miss Eleanor Whitney.

MARY ELIZABETH KENT

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth (Quilty) Kent, widow of the late Matthew Kent, died on Friday, March 7, at Howard, Rhode Island, after an illness of several weeks. Mrs. Kent, who was in her 80th year, had resided for the greater part of her life in West Newton where she had a large number of friends.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday morning with a requiem high mass at St. Michael's Church, Georgianville, Rhode Island, celebrated by Rev. Michael Ryan. At the offertory Mrs. Emma Chertier sang "O Salutaris." Interment was in Holyhood Cemetery, Brookline.

Mrs. Kent is survived by one son, William M. Kent, two sisters, Mrs. Delia F. Kenney and Mrs. A. Leslie Moriarty and one brother, Harry J. Quilty.

MRS. JENNIE B. GRATTO

Mrs. Jennie B. Gratto of 20 Ash street, Auburndale, wife of Everett Gratto, died yesterday morning after a long illness. She was a native of River John, Nova Scotia, and had resided in this city for about 30 years. She was a member of the Congregational Church and the Woman's Club. Besides her husband she is survived by a son, Harmon Gratto, a grandchild and three brothers. Her funeral service will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 at her late home.

AUTO KILLS CHILD AT NONANTUM

Rhona Deagle, six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Deagle of 408 California street, Newtonville, was almost instantly killed Monday noon on Chapel street, Nonantum by a car operated by Virginia M. Saleme of 95 Freeman street, Auburndale. The Deagle child was going from her home to the French parochial school at Nonantum. As she came opposite the Ray-Theon Radio Tube factory she started to run across the street between some cars which were parked. Emerging from between the parked cars, according to witnesses, she came directly in front of the car driven by Miss Saleme. The child was picked up by a bystander and placed in the car which was rapidly driven to the Newton Hospital by John DeStefano of Lincoln road who witnessed the accident.

CLARK HAYDEN

Clark Hayden of 724 Watertown street, Newtonville died on Tuesday, March 11th, of pneumonia. He was born in this city 36 years ago, the son of S. D. and Alice Clark Hayden. He was a graduate of the Newton High School and had been in the employ of the Boston Elevated Railway Co. During the World War he served with the United States Army.

Funeral services were held on Thursday afternoon at St. John's Episcopal Church, Reverend Raymond Lang officiating. Burial was in the Newton Cemetery.

He is survived by his widow and one son, Cooper, also by his parents and three brothers, Stuart, Kenneth and Eugene Hayden.

D. A. R.

The regular meeting of the Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R., was held Monday, March 10, 1930, in the Chapter House, Newton Lower Falls.

It being Americanization Day we had as our guests a group of foreign born mothers from the Newton Center and West Newton districts. They rendered two songs in Italian.

The speaker, Miss Margaret McGill, gave a brief outline of the Papal states of Italy and told of the government of the present Vatican City. Tea and a social hour followed.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS DEPARTMENT

Erection of a New Bath House, Etc.

Sealed proposals, (copies to be filed in the office of the Controller of Accounts prior to the time hereafter named as per requirements of the Ordinances of the City of Newton,) for bids for the erection of a new bath house, grading, walks, etc., in part of Newton Highlands on land located on Rogers Street, will be received at the office of the Public Buildings Commissioner, City Hall Annex, West Newton, Massachusetts, until 3 P. M., Monday, March 18, 1930, at which time and place all bids will be opened and publicly read.

All proposals must be in the form shown in the specifications and must be accompanied by a certified check on a National Bank or Trust Company in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts for the sum of Five Thousand ($5,000) Dollars for the General Contract and Five Hundred ($500) Dollars for the Plumbing & Heating Contract, payable to and held by the City of Newton. The City of Newton if the proposal which it accompanies is accepted by the City of Newton and the bidder neglects or refuses to comply with the terms of the proposal.

A Surety Company bond satisfactory to the Public Buildings Commissioner of the City of Newton for the faithful performance of the contract in a penal sum equal to one hundred (100%) per cent of the contract price will be required. Specifications and plans of a limited number can be obtained at the office of the Architect, Herbert W. Cobb, 46 Cornhill, Boston, Mass., beginning at 12 o'clock, Wednesday, March 13th, 1930.

Plans and specifications will be loaned to a bidder on a deposit of Twenty-Five ($25.00) Dollars which deposit will be refunded on the return of plans and specifications to the architect's office. All plans and specifications remaining in the City at all times and they shall be returned immediately on the opening of bids.

The form of contract and bond which the accepted bidder will be required to sign and furnish a bond on and of which the specifications will become a part to make a complete contract. Copies of same will be furnished on written request to any bidder.

Your attention is called to the fact that only a limited number of plans are available. When these have been exhausted and applications for plans and specifications are received, the applicant will be required to pay the cost of printing same as well as the Twenty-Five ($25.00) Dollars deposit. The Twenty-Five ($25.00) Dollars deposit will be returned on return of plans but the charge for printing will be retained.

I reserve the right to reject either, any or all proposals or to accept any proposal and to award the contract as I may deem to be for the best interests of the City of Newton, and any bid accepted will be accepted subject to appropriations and grants to meet payments thereon.

Mountain Parks, which world travelers have pronounced the most magnificent one-day trip to be had anywhere. The route partially parallels the Play Day excursion of the Fourth Biennial held in Denver 32 years ago.

Part of it passes through the Creek Canyon, for the trail where the pioneer prospectors of '59 packed their supplies and returned with their burros laden with gold. A broad boulevard leads from Denver twelve miles to the village of Golden, the early capital of Colorado, scene of the gold rush of '59, and home of Colorado's world-known School of Mines. Many points of historical interest may be seen as the road winds through the village and starts on its dizzy ascent, well-named the Lauriat Trail, which unfolds new vistas at each turn until it finally reaches the summit of Lookout Mountain, a mile and a half above the level of the sea. Here in a rocky crystalline rest the remains of Col. William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill). Nearby is Pahaska Tepee, a reception lodge with museum containing a collection of the fascinating relics left by the famous old scout. The first game sanctuary established by a municipality is in this locality. Here the city of Denver maintains herds of elk, antelope, buffalo, and shy mountain sheep. Through this district are also scattered a number of palatial summer residences.

From Lookout Mountain, the highway twists in and out through rugged reaches of granite, tumbled together as if by a Titanic hand, and through alluring woods of tall Lodge-pole pines and silvery blue spruce. In one of these delightful spots the Play Day caravan will halt for luncheon. Genesee Mountain, the highest point of this trip, offers an unsurpassed background of the Rockies, rising, lift upon lift, to the Continental Divide, while eastward the great plains stretch away as far as the eye can see. From this point the road drops into beautiful Bear Creek Canyon, passes through the picturesque village of Evergreen, and other rustic resorts, into the little town of Morrison near the Park of the Red Rocks, completing the circle back into Denver in time for an early dinner.

Among the Newton Clubwomen already signed up for the Denver Biennial are Mrs. Frank H. Stewart and Mrs. J. Rollin Stuart.

Nearly forty Massachusetts Clubwomen have signed and in addition several from Rhode Island and New Hampshire. In the proportion of almost three to one, the women have registered for the longer trip through Yellowstone Park and other national parks, from which they will return to Boston, July 1st, a day earlier than first planned, as the sessions of the convention have been shortened by one day. The number of registrations will undoubtedly be much larger than this, as very few of the Clubs have yet chosen their delegates.

If War Did Come.
Easy to Say, Hard to Do.
Compliments and Money.
Keep Off the Ether.

GENERAL ELY, commanding the Second Corps Area, has a plan to defend New York City in war.

He would "mobilize the civilian services." If modern war came, the civilian services would mobilize themselves. And with them the six million population of New York, as many as survived the first gas and bomb attack, would mobilize themselves by scattering through the country, abandoning the city as rats leave a ship when it is sinking.

In case of an attack by airplane, which would be the first sort of attack in a new war, it would not be necessary for General Ely to worry about his suggestion for "guarding the water supply."

After the first half hour there wouldn't be anybody left in New York to drink water. The dead couldn't drink it and all the living would have left the city.

Henry Ford says farmers will solve their problem by "new mass production." Wisely he mentions "machinery, chemistry and education" as the big factors.

This farmer who raises corn, cow peas, alfalfa, horses and other things, can testify that "mass production farming" advice is easier to give than to take.

Farmers must do their producing on 20,000,000 farms. Henry Ford couldn't establish mass production in 20,000,000 factories.

The late Ambassador to Spain, Alexander P. Moore, leaves $100,000 to Victoria, Spanish Queen. This will please the Queen, but probably not as much as Mr. Moore's compliment, when he told her she looked like his deceased wife, Lillian Russell.

Those that saw Lillian Russell will realize what a compliment that was.

Men did not dream, ten years ago, that there would be "No trespassing" signs located in the ether, surrounding our planet.

Merlin H. Aylesworth, president of the National Broadcasting Company, says an ether accident almost happened to the voice of King George, welcoming naval delegates in London, radio carrying his voice across the oceans.

A station in Chile, changing its wavelength, for better transmission, almost upset the King's speech. New York told Chile to get out of the way. Chile did, and the broadcast was successful.

Mr. Aylesworth predicts that radio will help to establish peace.

In the next war radio will be most important. Science will be asked to interfere with radio operations of the enemy. Eventually men may decide to abandon war, not out of decency, but because it will have become too complicated and costly.

NEWTON NATIONAL BANK

384 CENTRE STREET,

NEWTON, MASSACHUSETTS

To: THE PEOPLE OF NEWTON

From: THE PRESIDENT

Just a year ago—The Newton National Bank opened for transaction of a general banking business.

Our deposits—the staff of the Bank's existence—have increased steadily, from $200,000 a year ago, to $546,000 in July, $691,000 in December and to $1,048,364.36 today.

Every village and every section in Newton is represented among our 1164 clients. Already Newton National Bank service, through correspondent banks and agencies, has been availed of in Europe, South America and in the Far East.

Our Savings Department and Vault Protection services have proven especially popular.

On December 31st, 1929, for the greater protection of our depositors, $11,381.95 which had been earned, was added to surplus, and as much as permissible "written off" the Bank's fixtures. No loss of any kind has been incurred during this first year's operation.

We appreciate the business that the people of Newton have delegated to us. We feel that this is a reflection of the fact that the citizens of Newton now have a Bank which is operating solely under direct obligation to the people of Newton—and under obligation to none other.

"A Friendly, Independent Bank For All the Newtons" is not just a slogan. It has been and will continue to be the basis of operation of this Bank, in all its functions. Our policies are not controlled by any other bank or security distributing organization.

New accounts are respectfully solicited and will be given individual attention, such as a small bank is able to give.

NEWTON NATIONAL BANK,

Thomas Weston,

President.

K. OF C.

Newton Council, K. of C., including the charter members of 30 years ago, Past Grand Knights, Greater Boston, District Deputies and State officers will pay tribute to the old timers of the Council, Tuesday night at Elks Hall, Centre street, in a most unique and original way when four brothers, Hon. Daniel Gallagher, past State Deputy and first Grand Knight of Newton Council, Atty. James P. Gallagher, P.D.D., and Past Grand Knight, John F. Gallagher, Financial Secretary and Past Grand Knight, Rev. Ambrose Gallagher will be installed in the offices of the Council.

Such a record can be equalled by few Councils in the United States with all brothers members of the Knights, three as past officers of Newton Council, two as past State officers occupying the chairs of Grand Knight, Deputy Grand Knight, Chancellor and Warden. One of the most colorful installation ceremonies in the history of Newton Council is being planned.

District Deputy Charles E. Coyne, also Grand Knight of Newton Council, will be assisted in the installation work by the charter members, Thomas Brady, James M. Cannon, Dr. F. J. Costello, Edward L. Smith, George W. Linnehan, Patrick E. Linnehan, Dennis J. Linnehan, Dennis Finagahan, Dr. William H. McOwen, Malcolm McKinnon, Frank J. Hewitt, John T. Burns, Thomas J. Lyons. Eleven Past Grand Knights will be in line together with District Deputies of Greater Boston.

Preceding the installation, the officers of Boston Council, K. of C., led by Dr. Walter Kennedy, Grand Knight, will confer the first degree upon a class of candidates.

The experiences and reminiscences of the old timers will be enjoyed while the Gallagher brothers conduct the meeting. Rev. Edward Sullivan, S.J., Weston College, an authority upon the canon law, will be the guest speaker. He will explain the operation of the laws of interest to laymen.

Plans are being made for one of the largest gatherings of Knights of Columbus in Newton in years.

Character Building Is Subject Of Second Volunteer Class

Playground Director Hermann and Miss Freeman, Girl Scout Director, Head Speakers

The second in the series of Friday morning classes for volunteers was held on March 14th, and included the character-building group.

Mr. Ernest Hermann, Sup't of the Playground Department, urged that we realize that character is developed by control of the body, and that the playground, by helping in physical development, is a strong factor in building character. Newton should have more playgrounds, connected with the schools—they are needed for sound health.

Unfortunately Newton has not planned 20-30 years ahead by acquiring land for schools and playgrounds; so that now land which formerly could have been bought at small expense has soared in price. Often old buildings must be torn down to make room for new ones, due to lack of foresight of the city government. The City Planning Board ought to be considered as important as the School Committee and the situation in Newton is an indictment of our government, showing that it has failed to make adequate plans.

There should be many more playgrounds in Newton today, with more supervision. With the increase of seven to eight million dollars worth of dwellings in a year in Newton it goes without saying that the number of children has increased respectively. Also the coming of the automobile is driving children off the street to the playgrounds every afternoon. Yet there is no full-time worker in the whole city and no more supervision than before this great increase. Twenty-four thousand dollars a year is needed to insure proper supervision, and thereby keep the playgrounds clean and well-kept instead of the present places which they are rapidly becoming. Juvenile delinquency would be almost nil if there were ideal conditions.

The bath-house at Crystal Lake is nearly finished, and conditions next summer should be ideal. Outsiders will be charged fifty cents for each swim to discourage their coming in large numbers, and every one will be forced to take a warm shower before being allowed to swim.

Miss Caroline Freeman, Director of the Newton Girl Scouts, quoted from President Hoover's speech that "the boy together with his sister is the most precious thing in the American home." The problem is to direct his leisure time and interests to the best advantage. The Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts will help to solve this problem.

At the present time there are about 3500 girls of scout age in Newton schools, but there are only 825 girl scouts. The reason for this small percentage is lack of leaders. There are whole troops of girls ready to organize, but they have to be told that they cannot do this because there is no captain for them. If an appeal were made, there would be many more. Any woman who is willing to give some time each week can be a leader, or she can help at meetings as a lieutenant or as a teacher of some special part of scout work. The Council will give training to anyone interested. Miss Freeman's final appeal was this—give every girl the opportunity to become a girl scout.

Mr. Bascom, General Secretary of the Newton Y. M. C. A. spoke of two ways in which the women of Newton can help the Y. M. C. A.—by joining the Woman's Auxiliary, and by giving publicity to the work which is being done. There are 1200 active members and 500 contributing members of the Newton Y. M. C. A. Their ages range all the way from ten years old to seventy, although the majority are under thirty years of age. Besides regular members, there are special groups which use the Y. M. C. A. as their meeting place—church groups, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Y. W. C. A. groups, and various others.

The Y. M. C. A. maintains a summer camp in East Brookfield, Camp Frank A. Day. Here boys may go at small expense for three weeks or more. The Y. M. C. A. dormitories have places for forty men who are away from home. In addition, there is a room registry to help strangers in finding a suitable boarding place. Employment is often found for those needing it, and information of all kinds is furnished.

The Woman's Auxiliary helps in raising money, in getting dinners and luncheons, and in furnishing Camp F. A. Day and also a room at the Y. M. C. A. They also contribute to State and County work.

Miss Gertrude MacCallum, Director of the West Newton Community Centre, gave a brief outline of their work, which begins with children two and a half years old, and ends with women of seventy years, a total of 300 members in all. The pre-school kindergarten includes children two and a half to four and a half years old, and meets every morning in the West Newton Library.

For children four and a half to fourteen years old there are various afternoon clubs, some for girls, which include classes in cooking, sewing, dancing and games; and some for boys, which include games and story-telling. There are also two classes in dressmaking for women, and they held an exhibition of their work on Monday, March 17th.

Volunteers who will give an hour and a half at a regular time each week are greatly needed—at the present time particularly a teacher for a cooking class of ten girls. However, it is important that the Volunteer realize that she must keep her appointment regularly for failure to do this causes trouble.

Miss Helen Sandstrom, Community Worker of the Stearns School Centre, said that her organization is interested in the development of the arts, drama, and literature as well as in the physical development of the children who come there. Proper recreation makes for contentment in employ-

Fathers' Night At Newton Centre

Modern Education Is Subject At Annual Affairs

The Newton Centre School Association held its annual Fathers' Night meeting Wednesday evening, March 12th in Mason School Hall. Madame Maria Conde, accompanied by Edwin Billcliff at the piano, opened the program, singing five songs which were very much appreciated by the audience.

Mrs. Melville D. Liming, the president of the association introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Eugene R. Smith, Headmaster of the Beaver Country Day School, who spoke most interestingly of modern methods of education. He defined education as having three stages: the first stage, to help the child to understand life; the second, to prepare him to take part in life's activities; the third, to teach him to judge and weigh facts and to change those things that ought to be changed. Mr. Smith went on to say that whereas in the old agricultural era of this country it was easy to educate a child at home, in the present industrial age that has become impossible. The child's knowledge should cover other countries than his own. It should also include a conception of art and music so that his leisure may be used constructively, not destructively. Mr. Smith said that the teaching should not be of the dull type, emphasizing memory work, but should stir an interest in the child, challenge him to be logical, and create in him a motive force. In speaking of various modern tests Mr. Smith touched on the nervousness caused in children by requiring them to sit still any length of time, and spoke of movable desks and chairs as a remedy. He ended his talk by saying that if we could make one generation of citizens unbiased, and unselfish, who knew the value of self control and self discipline, it would indeed be a great accomplishment.

A question period was given when Mr. Smith answered questions from the floor. Mr. Hermann, head of the Newton Playgrounds, gave a short talk in which he reminded the fathers of their responsibility in being their boys' first hero. Mr. Herman told the audience there would be no tank in the Junior High School that is to be erected soon as there is not enough ground in the location. He promised a bath house at Crystal Lake and new rules governing swimming there. Mr. Hermann advised the citizens to look ahead in planning their schools so that they could provide sufficient acreage for playgrounds in connection with the schools.

Coffee and doughnuts were served. The parents had an opportunity to speak informally with the speakers of the evening.

ment and prevention of trouble should be the big note in its program. The Stearns School Centre has a troop of brownies, girls seven to nine years old, and here is an opportunity for a volunteer to assist in teaching them cooking, sewing, and games. There is also a troop of bluebirds, girls who need special attention, and assistants are needed for them.

The Supper Club is for girls 14-17 years old, and they would welcome any one who can bring a program to their meeting at any time. A play or a speaker or any kind of entertainment would be most welcome.

For boys there is a story-telling group, which has developed an interest in dramatics; and finally a Travel Club, which makes trips to nearby places of interest, and also is being taught handwork. There is plenty of opportunity for workers at the Centre; for if they are not interested in any form of group activity, they can still help by driving their cars.

Mr. Lyscom Bruce, Executive of Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, emphasized the importance of the volunteer in social service; for, he says, the volunteer should be the backbone of social work. He must realize that he has a serious moral obligation to live up to his responsibility.

In the Boy Scouts, this is insisted upon, and any man, however good his intentions, who fails to do his part, is thrown out of the troop. The boys must have leaders who set them an example of fortitude and dependability. This rule brings respect for the organization and draws volunteers of higher standards.

However, the volunteer must not be left to himself, but should be helped, coached and encouraged. A course of training in leadership for scoutmasters is given regularly in Newton, and this is a help to the volunteer who needs more knowledge of scouting.

The professional worker, although he is always ready to help and advise, must not be dictatorial; and this applies also to the scoutmaster. The boys should run the troop and the volunteer should run the administrative end of scouting as well. The director must not take all the credit for the success of the organization; but must give appreciation to the one who has done the work. Finally, the director should be specific in giving jobs, about the time and the amount of work that is to be expected.

The Norumbega Council is run entirely by the administrative group of volunteers, who have grown in number from sixty men three years ago to three hundred active members at the present time with between two hundred and three hundred added at the time of the annual financial drive.

A meeting of the class was held this morning, at ten o'clock at 12 Austin street, Newtonville. The subject is "Specialized Aspects of Education."

Routine Business At Meeting Of Aldermen

Grant Garage Permit—Make Appropriations

At the meeting of the Aldermen Monday night for the fourth time a public hearing was held on a petition of the Newton & Watertown Realty Trust asking for a permit to conduct a gasoline filling station at the corner of Washington and Chestnut streets, West Newton. James P. Gallagher appeared as attorney for the petitioners and stated that as the Aldermen had already heard on different occasions all the details concerning the proposed station, he would not repeat them again. Ex-Mayor Charles E. Hatfield, representing the First National Bank of West Newton stated that the bank is undecided as to whether, or not, it will erect a building on the opposite corner of Washington and Chestnut streets, but it does not object to the filling station as the latter will improve the property. The License Committee had recommended by a vote of six to one that the permit be granted. Alderman Temperley, dissenting, did so because the plans of the station show three driveways into it. Mr. Temperley believes that as other filling stations have been limited to two driveways, the rights of the public for sidewalk facilities should be protected. The Board voted to grant the permit. Alderman Temperley was the only member to vote in the negative.

Catherine Green was granted a permit for a 3 car garage at 46 Elm street, West Newton. Other permits and licenses recommended by the Licenses Committee and granted by the Board included the following:—Edison Company, pole locations on Kensington street; John L. Grant, 3 express licenses; Newton Turner, permit to add one story to automobile service building at 320-322 Washington street. The committee had reported favorably on the petition of Alexander Chasoun for a permit to store and use 1500 gallons of varnishes in connection with a dry cleaning business at 227 California street, Nonantum, but at the request of Chairman Hawkins of the committee, this matter was referred back.

Petitions reported on adversely by the Licenses Committee and given leave to withdraw by the Board included the following:—Policeman John Bibbo, compensation for medical treatment necessitated by injuries received while attempting to capture a dog; Bridget McEltigan, extension of a non-conforming use by erecting a new store building at 156 Waltham street in a private residence zone; Davis & Vaughan, waiver of set-back lines at Woodcliff road, Ward 5; Peter Blake, permit to convert building at 451 California street into a dwelling; Herbert Dearing to change land at Vernon and Park streets from private to general residence zone; Jeremiah Driscoll, waiver of set-back line at 52 Walter street, Ward 6; Benedette Generazio, changing land at Elliot street and Circuit avenue from general residence to business zone; Helen Wellington, permit to use dwelling at 81 Church street as a sanatorium and boarding house; Arthur Beck, six first class taxi li-

N. H. S. Students High In College Exams

Six Obtain Highest Rankings—Sixty Have Honors

Six Newton High School students were given highest ratings in the College Entrance Examinations last June. These examinations are taken annually by students from every state in the Union, Dominion of Canada, Mexico, and some European countries. Last year a total of 22724 candidates from both public and private schools throughout this country and abroad attempted these examinations and 1.5% of the candidates were given highest ratings by the College Entrance Examination Board.

Six or 3.04% of the 197 students entering these examinations from Newton High obtained highest ratings. These pupils were: Gertrude Dryer '30, Ruth Mattox '30, Jane Hermann '29, Stephen Muther '30, Arnold Seligman '30, Chester Tudbury '30. The highest individual record in all examinations taken was made by Chester Tudbury '30, who had an average of 89%. His ratings were: Latin cp. 3, 86%; French cp. 2, 81%; Mathematics A (Algebra), 98%; Mathematics C (Geometry), 100%; Chemistry, 86%.

Sixty students received honor marks. The following students, representing 30.5% of all the Newton High candidates for these examinations obtained one or more honor marks 80%-100%:

Wendell Allen, William Barkley, Ruth Bergeson, Barbara Billings, Francis Blackwell, Galen Bloom, Henri Bourneuf, Helen Brooks, Harrison Carlson, Ruth Chamberlain, Reed Champion, Robert Crane, William Doren, Joseph Doucette, Frederick Drew, Gertrude Dryer, George Duffield, Alexander Fletcher, Alice Gallagher, Francis Gardner, Charles Hall, Harold Ham, George Haanow, Robert Kinraide, Virginia Hatch, Anna Haven, Jane Hermann, Raymond Kenney, Robert Kennigott, Winthrop Lewis, Norman Lockwood, Calista MacFarland, Maurice Marshall, Helen Massey, Ruth Mattox, Stephen Muther, Elvira Ogden, Alfred Payne, Paul Pettimmet, Constance Potter, Phyllis Reinhart, Hereward Reynolds, John Richardson, Malcolm Robb, Nancy Ryther, Arnold Seligman, Charles Smith, William Soule, Richard Spence, Richard Stebbins, Harry Tapper, Patsy Tedeschi, Bartlett Thorogood, Barbara Thrall, Robert Timbie, Chester Tudbury, Harriet Watts, Samuel Wilkenson, Blakeslee Wright, Lyman Ziegler.

Twenty or about 10% of the Newton group received high honor marks 90%-100%:

Wendell Allen, Robert Crane, William Doren, Gertrude Dryer, Francis Gardner, Charles Hall, Robert Kinraide, Raymond Kenney, Robert Kennigott, Winthrop Lewis, Ruth Mattox, Stephen Muther, Alfred Payne, Phyllis Reinhart, John Richardson, Malcolm Robb, Arnold Seligman, William Soule, Richard Stebbins, Chester Tudbury.

The Plan B or New Plan candidates, not included in the above lists, did exceptionally well, passing approximately 91% of all examinations taken.

To Seek Permission To Borrow Outside Debt Limit For New City Hall

Aldermen Unanimously Approve Mayor Weeks' Recommendation of $750,000

Monday night Mayor Weeks came to City Hall and sent a communication to the Board of Aldermen requesting that the members meet with him in conference. The Aldermen took a recess and proceeded to a committee room to comply with the Mayor's request. At the conference Mayor Weeks recommended that the Board of Aldermen request permission of the Legislature to borrow outside of the debt limit for the purpose of proceeding forthwith with the construction of a new City Hall. Several years ago the so-called triangle, bounded by Walnut and Homer streets and Commonwealth avenue was taken for City Hall and War Memorial purposes. The city is already studying the War Memorial project with the idea of securing early action, and the Mayor feels that the memorial can be more adequately handled if considered and acted on simultaneously with the City Hall project, which probably could not be taken up for many years unless authority to borrow outside of the debt limit were secured. Extremely inadequate facilities in the present City Hall also make early action extremely desirable from every standpoint.

Only recently Middlesex County authorities have secured permission from the Legislature to borrow for the purpose of erecting a county building in West Newton. This fact, together with other considerations, has prompted many of those interested in the project to recommend that the City Hall be placed in West Newton, contiguous to the new county building, and that the triangle be developed as a public park with the War Memorial appropriately located thereon. This is only one of the alternate solutions of the problem suggested however, and to date there is no real evidence of any definite change from the original plan of locating both City Hall and War Memorial on the triangle land.

Some of the City Departments are working at a decided disadvantage because of crowded conditions in the present City Hall. The City Treasurer's office is particularly handicapped in this respect. Valuable records of the city are being ruined because of the dampness in the vault where they are stored in the basement of the old building.

Following the conference with the Mayor, the Aldermen returned to the hall and Alderman Norman Pratt, chairman of the Legislation Committee moved that the Mayor and City Solicitor be authorized to petition the Legislature to allow the City of Newton to borrow $750,000 outside the debt limit for the purpose of erecting a new City Hall. This motion was unanimously passed by the Board.

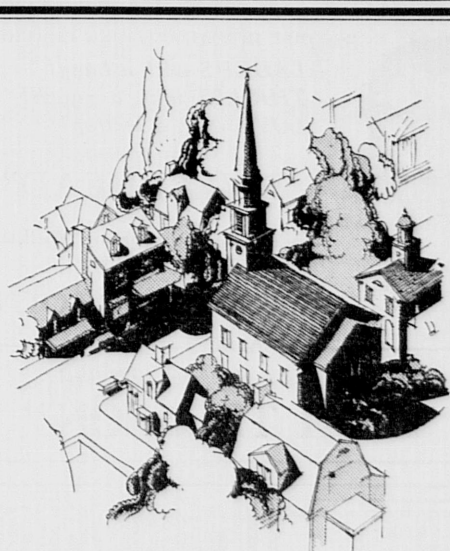

"THE PILGRIM AND THE BOOK"

On Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock in The Eliot Church, Newton, one hundred young people from five of the churches of Newton—Channing, Eliot, Grace, Immanuel Baptist, Methodist—will present Percy MacKaye's impressive pageant "The Pilgrim and the Book." This pageant stands at the top of religious drama as a piece of literature and its presentation on next Sunday evening will be a most significant event. This is the third in a series of six Union Sunday Evening Lenten meetings being held under the auspices of the churches of Newton. The pageant will be staged under the direction of Miss Bessie M. Stratton, director of Religious Education of Eliot Church.

TO FORM GLIDER CLUB

A movement has been started towards the formation of a city wide glider club for the promotion of motorless aviation. All interested persons are asked to forward their names and addresses to James L. Griffith, P. O. Box 13, Auburndale. As soon as sufficient interest is obtained a public meeting will be held to organize the club. It is planned to purchase a glider and teach the members to fly and earn a pilot's rating. Further plans include affiliation with the National Glider Association and entry in the International Sailplane contests which will probably be held off Cape Cod the coming fall. Affiliation with the national organization within a short time would bring the honor of being the first organization in New England to attain this objective.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

LOSE TITLE BY LAST MINUTE SHOT

The basketball team of Our Lady High School of Newton lost the championship of the Greater Boston Catholic High School league last Friday night by a last-minute shot by John Ball, left forward of the Mission Church High school five of Roxbury. The final score was 17 to 16. The game was played before a capacity crowd of 1000 spectators, many of whom made the trip from Newton by special busses, and was crowded with excitement from start to finish.

Right forward Gallagher of the local team was the high scorer with ten points, two on free shots and the rest from four goals from the floor. Granzow, left forward, and O'Neil, center, were covered closely all the time and scored but three points between them. Grella added the other three points for Our Lady's team. The summary:

Locke Second In Collegiate
William Locke, Newton youth, who is captain of the Bowdoin College swimming team, placed second in the 200-yard breaststroke event at the New England intercollegiate meet in the Bowdoin pool last Saturday. The event was won by Stewart of Williams. Locke, who won his trial heat, was the favorite to win as he placed second a year ago. The local swimmer is undefeated in dual meet competition and this was only his second loss in an intercollegiate affair.

Newton League Bowling
The feature match of the Newton Bowling League on Wednesday night was rolled on the Waban Neighborhood Club alleys when the home team of the league took three points from the Mauds bowlers and set two new season's marks. The first record to fall was the individual single when Allen of Waban topped 154 on his third string to shatter the old total of Yeager of Middlesex by three pins. The team single of 597, held by Middlesex, also went when Waban totaled 599 on the third string. The win failed to affect the Waban team's standing in the race but dropped Mauds from second to third place as Hunnewell went into second by taking three out of four from Middlesex on the Hunnewell alleys. At the University Club alleys the Newton Club dropped three. Commercial split even on the Weston alleys. The standing to date is as follows:

	Won	Lost
Weston	31	13
Hunnewell	27	17
Mauds	26	18
University	23	21
Newton	21	23
Middlesex	21	23
Commercial	19	25

Fletcher Gets Numerals
Allie Fletcher, former Newton high baseball captain and hockey centre, was awarded numerals for his playing on the Yale freshman hockey team this past season. Last spring Fletcher was captain of the high school suburban league baseball champions and one of its heaviest hitters. He should win a place on the Eli cub nine this spring and has a fair chance of being the first Newton youth to win letters in two varsity sports. With his hockey and baseball ability and three more years of participation in collegiate athletics he can make more than the average showing.

TITLE PLAYOFFS BEGIN TOMORROW

The Immanuel Associates and the Needham Congregational, five will open the championship series of the Newton Church League tomorrow night on the Newton Y. M. C. A. basketball court. The second game will be played next Thursday evening and if a third game is necessary it will be staged next week Saturday evening.

The Immanuel Associates were winners of the first half of the season with a record of eleven victories and but one defeat. The second half of the season was a neck and neck race all the way between the Needham team and the Watertown Baptists quintet with the former team gaining the right to enter the championship series in a game last night to dissolve an existing first place tie, by turning back Watertown, 17 to 14.

Newton Wrestler Wins Title
Leo Cormier of the Newton Y. M. C. A. wrestling team won the Newton Y. M. C. A. heavyweight championship on Tuesday night at the annual wrestling carnival at the Cambridge Y. M. C. A. In his first round match Cormier won by a fall over Stone of Boston University. His second round opponent defaulted and in a semi-final bout the Newton wrestler won the decision over Kolstad of Hyde Park to win the right to enter the finals. In the finals Cormier met Marchione of the Boston Y over whom he won the decision and the title. Several other Newton Y wrestlers took part in the bouts with Joe Arsenault and L. J. Morrison, the only others to reach the semi-final rounds. In the 112-lb. class Joe Santillo lost the decision to Daniel Tufts of College in his first round bout. Sarkis Bazarian, 118-lb. wrestler, lost the decision to Neponen, unattached, in a first round match. Wilbur Storer won a decision over Backman of Woburn in the 135-lb. class but lost to Norden of Woburn in his second match. This match went a minute and a half into overtime before the Woburn wrestler pinned Storer to the mat.

In the 147-lb. class Joe Arsenault, 1929 champion, won his way to the semi-finals by a fall over Evans of the Boston Y and a decision over Pitbladdo of M. I. T. In the semi-finals he met A. De Maderosian, the M. I. T. captain and star wrestler, and lost the decision after carrying the bout into an overtime period. De Maderosian also won his final match to capture the title. In the 160-lb. class Morrison pinned Welin of Woburn to the mat in less than two and a half minutes and Cann of Cambridge in 4 minutes 25 seconds but lost the decision in his final round match with Manoli of the Boston Y. M. C. U., the ultimate champion.

Wilson In Freshman Squad
Arthur Wilson, former Newton high third baseman and heavy hitter, reported to Coach Conley of the Boston University freshman baseball team this week at Nickerson field. Wilson is a versatile player who has had some experience in the outfield and behind the bat in addition to playing the infield. He should prove a valuable player to the Terrier yearlings and will find a place to fill in somewhere.

Schipper On Scholastic Six
Fred Schipper, captain of the 1930 Newton high hockey team, was named as a wing on the Boston Traveler's Greater Boston sextet.

Warren Survives Cut
Edgar Warren, former Newton high third baseman who starred at that position on the Yale freshman nine last season, has survived the final cut in the Yale varsity squad by Coach Joe Wood which was made this week. Although the Blue has considerable veteran infield material available Warren may go along on the southern trip which will begin shortly. As a freshman the former Newton Centre youth led his team at bat and hung up a creditable fielding average.

Stout Playing Third Base
Victor Stout, former Newton and Worcester Academy athlete and a member of last year's Boston University varsity baseball squad, is playing third base in the outdoor practice sessions at Nickerson field. Stout's batting won him a place on the Terrier nine last year and he is expected to be an important part on the B. U. attack this spring. Carleton McCulloch, former Newton high captain and outfielder, is almost certain of regaining his former berth in centre field.

Andres Working Out
Harold Andres, one of Newton's two three-sport athletes at Dartmouth college, is working out behind the bat in the baseball practice sessions. Last year as a sophomore the Newtonville youth took to the outfield but caught several games when Bart McDonough, the star catcher, was injured. On McDonough's return Andres went back to the outer garden. The situation is similar this season with Andres probably playing the outfield and donning the mask and chest protector when needed.

Local Boys Going South
The annual Spring cruise of Tabor Academy students gets away tomorrow when several groups leave for Honduras, Porto Rico and Mexico City. The cruise is a much anticipated event that was originated by Headmaster Lillard as a part of an international fellowship program and as a means of rewarding the high-standing men in scholarship and efficiency. Two local youths are among those on the cruise. Philip Warren of Waban is in the group headed for Honduras and Donald MacIntyre of Newton is in that which will travel over Porto Rico.

Through the courtesy of the Victor Talking Machine Company of Boston, arrangements were made to show the new Victor Radio Electrola before the Fellowship Club on last Monday evening. The instrument was brought to the Association from the Garden City Radio Company of Walnut street, Newtonville, Mass. A very interesting concert was given. Mr. William O'Brien, representing the Victor Talking Machine Company, gave a brief history of the development of the new machine.

Next week Mr. Carl C. Perry, of the United States Bureau of Forestry will be the speaker. This talk will be illustrated and Mr. Perry will speak about different pests and fungi which are attacking the trees. He will also speak briefly about some of the pests that bother our gardens. Anyone interested is invited to come and hear Mr. Perry.

The Newton Y. M. C. A. Junior Basketball team continued its winning "streak" by a win over the Watertown Hawks 36-13 at the Newton "Y" Monday evening. Patterson center for Newton scored 13 points, and (Capt.) Earle, right forward, 12. The next Junior game will be played Saturday evening, between the halves of the Church league playoff, at eight o'clock.

Physical Dept. Notes

Although winning the relay, the feature event of the meet, the Newton Jr. Swimming Team lost to Roxbury Boys' Club 43 to 23 on Saturday, March 15th. The only other first place won by Newton was in the 50 yard breast stroke. This was won by Henry McNamara of Newton. The Newton Relay Team was composed of R. Guthrie, S. Adams, H. McNamara, and C. Jack. The Diving was won by P. Medley of the Roxbury Boys' Club and McNamara of Newton second, and A. McGilivray of the Boys' Club third.

25 yard free style won by Kirwin B. C. Guthrie (N) second, Batstone (N) third. Time 11 3/5 seconds.

50 yard back stroke won by MacKenzie B. C. 2nd, Stoddard B. C. 3rd, Guthrie (N). Time 33 2/5 sec.

50 yard free style won by Kirwin B. C. Zero, B. C. second, Jack (N) third. Time 26 2/5 sec.

Midlet relay won by Newton on a disqualification. Newton Midlets, P. Englehardt, Guida, M. Westlund, and R. Meyers.

The Newton "Y" Junior Swimmers meet Lynn Jrs. at Newton next Saturday at 3:00 p. m.

The Newton Y. M. C. A. Junior Track team will enter the Two-State Jr. track championships to be held at The Boston Y. M. C. A. next Saturday at 3:00 p. m.

The boys representing Newton are as follows: Arthur Flint, high jump; William Marschner 8 lb. shot put, standing broad jump, and high jump; Rene Avigdor, standing broad jump, 8 lb. shot put, and relay; William Earle, 40 yard dash, 6 potato race, and relay; Eugene Thatcher 40 yard dash and relay; Alfred Cappinella, relay; Ray Clarke, 300 yard run; Stetson Risdon, 300 yard run; A. Kasper, 6 potato race, standing broad jump, and 8 lb. shot put; John Murphy, 6 potato race, 40 yard dash, 300 yard run.

These boys are working out 3 times a week and hope to win a few points in the meet on Saturday.

The Newton "Y" junior swimming team won a dual meet with the Lynn "Y" juniors last night at the Newton tank, 43 to 23. Captain Henry McNamara and Charles Jack, both of the Newton team, each won two first places. McNamara captured the dive and the 20-yard breaststroke while Jack was the victor in the 40-yard and 100-yard freestyle events. Both swam on the winning Newton relay. Other Newton point scorers were Benson, second in the 20-yard freestyle; Batstone, first on the 20-yd. backstroke; Frazier, third in the backstroke; and Adams, second in both the 40 and 100 yd. freestyle. Adams and Batstone also swam with McNamara and Jack on the relay.

NEWTON BUSINESS ASSOCIATES ADDRESSSED BY THE REV. MAURICE BULLOCK

The Newton Business Associates held their regular monthly meeting at the Hunnewell Club last night. President Ralph Patterson presided and the singing was in charge of W. S. Packard of the Newton Trust Company assisted by "Joe" Delaney at the piano. A number of new members were present and the report of the membership committee showed that the Newton Business Associates had a net gain of 15 members since the last meeting. The speaker of the evening was Rev. G. G. McDavitt, Jr., for the "Tercentenary" committee, suggested that the Business Associates do not attempt to conduct any special observance of the coming celebration but co-operate with the general citizens committee of the whole city in the event.

The speaker of the evening was Rev. Maurice Bullock of the Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church of Andover, who talked on the significance of Lent. He told his audience that Lent is more than merely abstaining from certain pleasures; it is the bringing of men of all Christian religions, and of those who profess no religion, to a realization of the fundamentals of life. Rev. Mr. Bullock asserted that too many persons today devote all their energies towards making a living and neglect making a life.

This is a rapidly moving age and the majority of people find it difficult to clamber aboard and in their endeavors to hang on, forget the real purpose of life. Science has advanced rapidly; modes and methods of living have altered and are constantly altering, but the fundamentals, the essentials of life have not changed. New secrets of nature are discovered, man advances in knowledge, but the great truths remain unchanged, but who turn to religion for consolation when they are afflicted with some great sorrow. He emphasized the great good which results from the observance of Lent because of the fact that this season turns man's thoughts from the material things of life and causes him to realize his real duty to himself and his fellows; to awaken to the fact that there is something more important than merely acquiring wealth and influence.

The organization voted that the business concerns in Newton Corner keep open on Saturday, April 19, because of the fact that this holiday is the day before Easter this year and there will be unusual demands for stores to be open.

WINS SPEAKING CONTEST

The annual Brown Prize Speaking exercises of Bridgton Academy, were held Wednesday night before a record audience. The ten dollar first prize for boys was won by Everett Scheinfain of Newton.

Scheinfain, the son of Nathan Scheinfain of Walnut street, a furniture manufacturer, is better known for his work upon the athletic fields, although he has much ability as a speaker, and has always stood high in his studies at Bridgton. While in high school he was picked for two years, all interscholastic football, for Massachusetts, and at Bridgton for the past two years he has been one of the outstanding ends in Preparatory School ranks, playing this position on the 1929 Maine Championship eleven. He was Captain of his High School team in football and also participated in baseball and hockey. Last year he played second base on the Championship baseball team and in hockey he has been a strong defense man. He was popular in High School, being a member of the athletic council, treasurer of the Junior Class, chief executive of the lunch room, and won the spelling prize. He comes naturally by his talents. His elder brother has made a success in musical comedies on Broadway and in Boston, and at present is playing with his wife on B. F. Keith's circuit in a feature vaudeville act.

NEWTON IN CHICAGO MERCHANTS DISE MART

Newton will be represented in the world's largest building, the Chicago Merchandise Mart, by the Earnshaw Knitting Company, which has become a lease holder in the new wholesale city under one roof, to be dedicated and formally opened in May.

Products of the local company will take their place among those of hundreds of prominent manufacturers, wholesalers and importers, who will occupy space in this great central market. The display of goods by this company will be located on the 10th floor of the gigantic centralized market of 25 stories and 4,000,000 square feet of floor space. It will be one of the attractions lining the 650 foot sales corridor, veritable "business boulevard," that will resound daily to the throngs of visitors and buyers who come to the Mart to inspect and purchase the world's goods.

ROTARY CLUB

The regular weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club of Newton was held on Monday, March 17th, at the Woodland Golf Club, at 12:15, President Charles D. Ansley presiding.

The meeting was in the form of a St. Patrick's day celebration, with T. D. pipes and plenty of tobacco at each place, with paper caps of the proper color of the day.

Harry H. Hanson, Chairman of the Program Committee, introduced as the speaker at this meeting Rev. Fr. James I. J. Corrigan of Boston College.

Father Corrigan took as his subject, "St. Patrick the Apostle of Ireland." Father Corrigan said that St. Patrick was born a Roman and was taken to Ireland 1500 years ago, where he established religion and education some years later.

On April 8th, there will be a joint meeting between the Kiwanis Club of Newton and the Rotary Club of Newton. This is an annual affair and is always greatly enjoyed by the members of both Clubs.

D. A. R.

The next regular meeting of the Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, D. A. R., will be held in the Lucy Jackson Chapter House, Newton Lower Falls, on the afternoon of March 25th. Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson of Dorchester will be speaker of the day.

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

When I attend the "movies" I sometimes see things—other people see them, too—things which make me wonder. My wonderment causes me to ask myself if I am so completely out of tune with my fellow beings as regards choice of entertainment. Then I am reminded that there is a man who is supposed to decide what is well for us to look at and hear at the "movies" and who receives an enormous salary as salaries go, some $125,000 a year, for that very thing. This individual is Will H. Hays, which of itself isn't so important until you reflect that he is a duly constituted Elder of the Presbyterian Church and once lived in the Waban section of Newton. Contemplation of these facts always results in my changing my opinion. I am convinced that spiritually and intellectually I am as one who has been standing out in a drenching rain without shelter and minus umbrella and slicker.

Therefore, I do not propose to raise my voice in protest against certain programs offered by the "talkies" nor to argue that a Read Fund lecture, where no admission is charged, is better than a movie show where the lowest-priced ticket is 50 cents. I have decided that crowds go to both and although their reasons may be widely different each group gets a "kick" or "mental stimulant," according to the place they go to and the form of speech they habitually use.

Friendship is a blessing and never more so than when your fair companion for the evening shares your views on such vital matters as a good motion picture show. For that reason I found double enjoyment the other night in viewing a silent film that some few years ago was immensely popular. As a picturization of a widely-read novel it was a complete success. But that wasn't all. In the east were half-a-dozen men, several of whom are at present "stars," and all of whom have advanced professionally. I could see why they had "gone ahead." They were and are actors of unusual ability. Nevertheless, I am not so sure they didn't do their best work while striving for higher honors. That frequently happens to be the case. Once at the top they sometimes lose their balance or are unable to get the right kind of plays or find themselves unable to withstand prosperity. These considerations did not mean so much to me as the opportunity to once more witness a silent film. It was a treat.

I did quarrel with a short "talkie" which was supposed to be the screening of a drama given on the regular stage some years ago. I happened to have given my study to this play and was therefore eager to see it in the talking-pictures. I did have the satisfaction of seeing it well played, but instead of the naturalistic, though somewhat bitter ending, it had been completely changed in the last scene to make it ridiculously comic. I suppose the author and the producers considered that they must "jazz up" the ending, confident the average movie audience would not "get it" in its original form. No doubt their judgment was sound, yet it made me wonder. And I am still wondering.

When it happens to be your lot to listen to men make speeches on all sorts of topics you are apt to compare the speakers and methods. Not always are these comparisons odious, far from it. They teach one something of the psychology of public addresses. One man will present his ideas as if they were something of which nobody had ever heard. He appears to be enlightening his hearers. If skillful in his delivery it will be that most of his audience will sit up suddenly and take notice just as if it was not "old stuff."

A simple statement does not satisfy some people. They like to have it rubbed in, so to speak. I recently heard a man who felt that he had a "message" and therefore spoke with a loud voice. His theme was that crime is caused by unemployment. Had he made that assertion in a matter of fact way it would have stood for what it was worth and I doubt if it would have startled his hearers. But instead he shouted, "Do you want to know what the greatest cause of crime is? I'll tell you what the greatest cause of crime is—unemployment. Mark what I say, unemployment is the greatest cause of crime!"

Without engaging in an argument on this point let us agree that it was repetition of the allegation that made the audience look at each other as though some startling bit of news had been produced—a discovery that had been made at that very moment and imparted to an eager world.

In comparison may I refer to another speaker on this same occasion. He was a scholarly man whose opinion is entitled at all times to deep consideration. However, you have got to appreciate this man before you weigh his words. If you don't you are apt to think their weight so small as to barely cause the scales to move. He always has something to say but doesn't know how to say it. In this instance he remarked, earnestly enough but not with the tone of an orator, "Let us stop questioning the cause of unemployment, refrain from trying to place the blame and bend our efforts towards solving this important problem." Excellent advice, but given as one would say "Fine weather we're having." Therefore, it did not linger in the minds of his hearers as if he had repeated it three or four times. Funny, isn't it, the way the public reacts to the art, or rather the tricks of speech-making?

How would you like to get paid for listening to your radio? Of course I know that there are programs to which you may give ear and then observe that you were well repaid. That isn't what I mean. I have in mind the mere turning-on and tuning in at your home set and sitting down, waiting. Yes, sir, there are those who receive money for this. Housewives throughout the country are enabled to make a considerable amount of pocket money in this way. I am credibly informed.

I doubt if the number of these fortunate women is great, for a few people in each area can do the work. I said "work" for there is a little of it to perform. After you have heard, you write a letter to the station or whoever the person may be by whom you are "employed," telling how the reception impressed you. It isn't a joke or anything like it—it's practical business.

The other day I learned of a woman, whose husband is connected indirectly with radio broadcasting, and who listens-in and carefully notes the way this or that station was received, or rather the manner in which it came in. Such proceedings are described as test and are made from time to time. It appears that a remote station will advise her that at a certain time it is to make a test and for her to be prepared. She is, no matter what the hour, day or night, and makes a complete and satisfactory report of how the Texas station, or whatever place it may be, came over. For this she receives a total of about $400 or $500 a year. Not so bad!

I doubt if I could be engaged for such a duty? My technical knowledge of the radio is very meagre—so meagre that when I'm in trouble I merely call by telephone and ask for an expert's assistance. However, I must say that I have given attention to broadcasts for which I felt that I should have been paid for merely listening, let alone expressing an opinion.

My natural history teacher once said that the North American Indian, having advanced only to the nomadic stage of culture, was scarcely more intelligent than the uncivilized backs of the African interior; that this was evident from his lack of development as a tiller of the soil, as well as absence of the gregarious instinct that prompts the establishment of permanent settlements, and the taciturnity resultant from insufficient imagination to develop his powers of speech beyond the necessity of a few euphonic grunts.

I did not dispute it with him at the time, but if I were in the classroom today, I am sure I could not sit silently and hear the noble Red Man thus defamed as lacking self-expression. Beside, I'm sure that the professor, an incorrigible and somewhat hard-boiled Republican, was one who helped to make Calvin Coolidge president of the United States. And Mr. Coolidge is a good Indian, if the pictures from the Black Hills a few summers ago were reliable. At any rate he never was accused of wasting words.

Speaking contrariwise, I don't know of any language more expressive and direct than the various relative dialects spoken by the native tribesmen of the North American continent. When you meet an Indian, for instance, instead of forcing you to digest an entire sentence, he simply says, "How," bowing gravely with palm upraised. It would be ridiculous to think of saying in return, "Fine, chief, how are you and how are the wife and kiddies?" The chief might go on the warpath, or he might ignore you altogether, for Indians are inclined to feel strongly about such things.

Take "fire-water." Not literally, of course, for there's little enough to go around these days. But, I mean, compare this expressive Indian contribution to our colloquial speech with such feeble Caucasian nomenclature as "whiskey," "gin," "rock-a-rye," or "rum and bitters," any one of which means the same thing but none of which can really be put in the same class with "fire water" when it comes to making matters clear to all types of intellect, including the most rudimentary.

Many of our best citizens have never been able to get through their heads the meaning of the Indian word "ugh," which is to be found between the paper covers of practically every Wild West novel ever read behind a geography. That is because they are not of Indian blood; do not know Indians. They think an Indian says "ugh" only when he is unable to think of anything else to say, or when someone has just insulted him with a tomahawk from behind. Nothing is farther away from truth. An Indian may mean almost anything when he says this word; the interpretation depending entirely on the voice inflection.

"Ugh" means "yes," when emitted in a cavernous, basso profundo, especially if the Indian's wife has just asked him if he would like a nice big dish of succotash with Hollandaise dressing, in formal times, or when Indians on the warpath captured an enemy who had done them a great deal of harm, the chief medicine man would demand around and say "ugh" at frequent intervals, when the prisoner asked if there was any hope of his life being spared. In this case "ugh," uttered with a loud, blatant accent, meant, "As a spare, you're a complete blowout."

Consider the fineness of the distinction applied to white men in the word "paleface." Those who think Indians dumb would try to make you believe they called white people "palefaces" so they wouldn't get them mixed up with other Indians who had forgotten their makeup. What nonsense. They called them palefaces because their faces always were extremely pale when they saw a flock of redskins coming, notwithstanding their customary habits or ruddiness. And you can't hate the white men for that.

No indeed, there wasn't any lack of expression in the language of the Indian, possibly excepting the makers of baskets, blankets and pottery, whose entire vocabulary, when standing on a railroad station platform, consists of the words, "Ten dollar." The real lack of imaginative flexibility must be blamed on the white man himself.

COMING EVENTS

Monday Club

"American Dramatists" is the subject to be considered at the meeting of the Monday Club of Newton Highlands on the afternoon of March 24th. Mrs. H. E. Williams and Mrs. C. A. Thompson will have charge of the program on this topic, and Mrs. Clarence S. Laitwiler, of 24 Dunklee street, opens her home for the meeting.

C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands

Mrs. William E. Leonard, of 25 Canterbury road, is hostess for the C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands on Monday afternoon, the 24th, when the program will be the study of Poetry, as portrayed by Rabindranath Tagore, presented by Miss Anna S. Thompson. This Indian writer has a most fascinating history and career, since he has written about every branch of prose, fiction, essay, poetry, and all of unusual appeal. Miss Thompson is sure to make the most of her subject which offers many opportunities.

State Federation

RADIO. Mrs. Edward L. Hadley will broadcast: "Mothercraft in Many Lands", next Wednesday morning, from WNAC, at 11:30 o'clock, for the Department of Mothercraft and Child Welfare, of which Mrs. May Dickinson Kimball is chairman. Annie M. Sumner, soprano, president of the Canton Community Club, and vice-president of the Prelude Club of Boston, will sing a group of songs at 11:40. Roy G. Nichols, Baritone, accompanied by Jessie Fleming Vose, will entertain with solo numbers at 11:45, and at 11:50 Mrs. Hartley Smith, director, will tell other Clubs doing similar work about "The Lucky Clubs of the Thirteenth District."

Social Science Club

"The Contribution of the Negro Race to American Civilization" will be the topic of Mrs. William H. Mitchell's paper for the Social Science Club on Wednesday, March 26th, at 10 o'clock, at the Hunnewell Club. The hostesses will be Mrs. Frank H. Howes, and Mrs. Joseph N. Palmer.

Newton Community Club

The Newton Community Club, on Thursday, March 27th at 2:30 o'clock in the Underwood School Hall will enjoy the long-looked-for, and greatly anticipated, Spring Fashion Show, which will be presented by H. P. Hollander & Co. will present the latest authentic styles for all occasions. "French Models" will be displayed by their own mannequins in a most attractive manner, and club members, as well, will add to the interest by appearing in the newest styles. This should prove an entertaining and instructive afternoon, and it is hoped that all members and friends will avail themselves of the privilege of attending.

Mrs. Clara Saxton Crowley, a member of the Club, will sing several groups of songs, and Mrs. Minnie Stallion Watson will accompany her, and will also be at the piano during the Fashion Show.

Following the meeting a collection will be taken as a contribution by the Club members to the Forest Fund, which the State Federation of Women's Clubs will present to the State as a Tercentenary Memorial.

Newtonville Woman's Club

On Thursday, March 27th, at 10:00 a. m., the Newtonville garden club, which is a "Class" of the Newtonville Woman's Club, will meet with Mrs. Arthur J. Wallace, at 72 Clyde street. Mrs. Dunham will read a paper on the planting of seeds.

Also on Thursday, March 27th, at 1:30 p. m., the Hospital committee will meet for sewing at the home of Mrs. William H. Swain, of 6 Broadway terrace.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The monthly business meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club will be held on Friday, March 28th, at 2:30 p. m. Following this, the program will be in the hands of the American Home committee, of which Mrs. Charles Allen Riley of chairman, and they will present as speaker Miss Amy M. Sacker, of the Sacker School of Decorative Design, in Boston. Miss Sacker received the important part of her education when studying in Rome and later in England, France and Italy. During the war she was Art Director in the Motion Picture Studios of California, and for several years was head of the Department of Art and Interior Decoration, in Simmons College. She will present to the Club an illustrated lecture on "Antique Furniture". Following this, the Refreshment committee will serve tea.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Mr. Dows Dunham, of the Museum of Fine Arts, will give an illustrated lecture on Egyptian Art, before the West Newton Women's Educational Club, on Friday, March 28th, at the Unitarian Parish House.

Community Service Club of West Newton

Community Service Club members and guests who have been following the Club's Literature Course, are looking forward to their next meeting in the Unitarian Parish House, West Newton, on the last Monday of the month—March 31st—when Professor Sophie Hart will give her third talk on "Significant Books of the Day". This forenoon she will take the second group of fiction touching upon "The Wilderness," by Sigrid Undset; "Harriet Hume," by Rebecca West; "Good-bye to all That," by Robert Graves; "Magic Mountain," and "Budden Brooks," by Thomas Mann.

Shakespeare Club

The Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club will meet with Mrs. A. L. Pratt, of 47 Fisher avenue, on Saturday, March 29th, at 2:30 p. m.

The study for the afternoon will be Acts IV, and V, of the "Merchant of Venice." Mrs. Frank S. Keith will lead the Quiz.

RECENT EVENTS

Auburndale Review Club

Members of the Auburndale Review Club enjoyed this last Tuesday morning a delightful trip with Hoover, under the guidance of Mrs. Richard Walter, as the President-elect filled in his time between election and inauguration, getting acquainted with the countries he felt he knew the least—those in South America. Scouring desperately at the last minute to get proper clothes ready as ordered by their guide, the members embarked with him on board the battleship Maryland. From the first, the purpose of the trip as being wholly friendly, rather than commercial, that the resentment of the southern countries at this republic's superior attitude might be wiped away, was impressed upon them. The first stop at Honduras gave them opportunity to hear Hoover's speech emphasizing that purpose. Down through four of the smaller countries, they crossed the equator, where three surprises awaited them—the Southern Cross; the coolness of the climate; and the barren, desert-like coast. In Peru, they did quite a sight-seeing in the city Pizarro founded in 1535. In Bolivia, the president of the country came aboard ship to make his speech; and in Chile they saw how firefighting is made a social function, the men going home to dress up when an alarm rings.

Next a great treat was provided, the trip across the Andes, one mass of gorgeous coloring. In Argentina, a more friendly atmosphere was immediately felt, and in its capital, Buenos Aires, they enjoyed the Paris of South America. After passing through Uruguay, the healthiest and wealthiest of the Southern countries, and Brazil, the travelers had finished 16,000 miles and visited eleven countries, and felt sure they had all gained a better idea of America's truly friendly feelings toward them.

The second paper of the morning was an informal talk by a representative of the League of Nations Association in Boston, a former Newton boy, Leonard Cronkite. Stating that the international mind has come to stay, since matters were in such a welter that new methods were absolutely necessary, Mr. Cronkite gave a rapid and comprehensive review of what has developed this League into meeting form. Although since its first meeting the United States has kept aloof, still this country has been present constantly in spirit, and has aided much by the Washington Conference, when was felt the importance of the birth of security within a certain area. The Paris Conference later, when fifty nations agreed that "war was no good," was the most colossal thing the world has ever done. The present Naval Conference is the seething of this idea, and the Committee of Jurists meeting at present in Geneva is studying how the three months' postponement now agreed upon may be stretched indefinitely. According to Mr. Cronkite, who is desperately needed is the entrance of the United States into the League, for the new method has become practical, no longer theoretical, and this country should have a part in it.

One feature of great enjoyment for all the Club members was the singing of several songs by Mrs. Ruggles, with Mrs. Freeman accompanying. Mrs. Ruggles was a former member of the Club, and it has been long since her fellow members have been privileged to see and hear her.

Newton Community Club

At the meeting of the Newton Community Club on Thursday, March 13th, in Underwood School Hall, with the president Mrs. Henry P. Curtiss presiding, and after the business meeting when several notices of future events were given, Mrs. Curtiss presented the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Arthur Mansfield, who sang a group of three pleasing numbers in a charming manner. Her selections were "Over the Mountains," "Serenade," and "Do you know my Garden." Miss Elsa Leonard accompanied her at the piano.

The reader of the afternoon, Mrs. Adele Hoes Lee presented "A Single Man," a playette in three acts. Her interpretations of the various characters were very fine and finished, and each one in turn seemed as real as though a group of actors were before one. The audience greatly enjoyed the various moods of the characters, and altogether it was a most entertaining and enjoyable afternoon.

Shakespeare Club

The Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands, was entertained by Miss Edith M. McCann at her home on Upland avenue, on Saturday, March 15th, at 2:30 o'clock.

Act III of the "Merchant of Venice" was in charge of Mrs. Alan McIntosh, who brought out the full significance of the starting episodes of this Act. Shylock, Bassanio, Portia, and others appeared in turn to beguile the Club members. All were sorry when the meeting came to an end, so keen had been the interest aroused.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

A St. Patrick's Day program was presented to the members and guests of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club, on Monday evening, March 17th, at Emerson School Kindergarten rooms. Mrs. Robert Kirkpatrick, who was chairman of the evening, introduced Mr. William F. Pollard, principal of the Needham High School, who sang several selections: "A Little Bit of Heaven," "I'll take you home Kathleen," "Nora," "Kilbarney," and "All those enduring young charms." Mr. Pollard was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Pollard. Miss Ethel W. Sabin told the story of St. Patrick, and gave the stories of some of the pictures thrown on the screen by Mrs. Maurice Lacroix. Several cities and localities in Ireland were thus pictured. Lastly, as Mr. Pollard sang four verses of "Kilbarney," four different pictures of that beautiful lake were shown. The Hospitality committee, assisted by five young girls, in quaint Irish costumes, served punch, cakes, and candies. Announcement was made of the Community Food Sale to be held at the Roadside Shop, Elliot street, on Friday, March 28th, afternoon and evening.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Miss Ann Mathea, Norwegian soprano, gave a very delightful concert at the regular meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club, on Tuesday. Dressed in native costume, she rendered in a most charming manner, Norwegian, French and Dutch Folk songs. Her naive interpretation of each song, before she sang it, added much to the pleasure of the afternoon. Miss Mathea, with her pleasing personality and splendid voice, bids fair to go far in the musical world. Miss Eulalia Buttleman, also in costume, was a very able accompanist.

Mrs. Harold O. Chamberlain and Miss Elizabeth Hartshorne were hostesses at the tea following the program and Mrs. John W. Byers, Mrs. (Continued on Page 9)

with the Fuller Lumbermen

Are you ashamed of your floors when the young folks roll back the rugs to dance? You need not be now that the new thin hardwood flooring can be laid directly over the old in a surprisingly short time and at a small expense.

Some houses have floors that you notice the minute you cross the threshold. Rich, friendly floors that pick up the gleam of candles by night and light rays by daylight.

Possibly because oak floors do express so much charm and dignity in a room, many people have the idea they are expensive.

Yet hardwood floors are not expensive. The thin flooring can be laid right over your old floors for less than the cost of a good rug.

A good hardwood floor simplifies the problem of interior decoration. It harmonizes with every color scheme. From an investment viewpoint hardwood floors are an asset to any home, as they add dollars to the selling price and make a home much easier to rent.

Nice hardwood floors are the joy of every housewife since they offer little trouble to keep clean and require polishing only once every few weeks.

We shall be glad to show you samples of hardwood flooring and gladly estimate the cost of re-flooring your room or your whole house. They can be put down room by room in a few days—disturbing you scarcely at all.

POLICE NEWS

In the Newton court on Tuesday a tribute was paid to the memory of George F. Wales who had officiated as substitute Clerk of the Court during the past twenty years. Attorney John H. O'Neill at the opening of the court made mention of the tragic death of Mr. Wales and his wife the preceding day and asked permission of Judge Bacon to pay tribute to Mr. Wales, whom he highly commended. Judge Bacon granted the request and asked all in the courtroom to rise and stand in silence for a minute.

Halma Ameer of 32 Commonwealth avenue, Chestnut Hill, was fined $5 in the Newton court Wednesday for parking his automobile so as to block traffic. Robert Burke of 4 Meredith avenue, Newton Upper Falls, was fined $5 for parking within 10 feet of a corner. Eight autoists, all from outside the city, were fined $10 each for speeding. Two persons paid $5 each for not STOPPING before entering Washington street.

Julius Cottens of 220 California street, Nonantum, received a rude shock at the Superior Court in East Cambridge on Wednesday. Julius was arrested some weeks ago after he had made a sale of liquor to an "evidence collector" of the Newton police. His home was then raided and the police seized about a gallon of alcohol and ten pints of alleged "spits." Cottens was tried in the Newton court on February 3rd, found guilty of making an illegal sale and fined $50; he was found guilty of keeping and exposing liquor for sale and given a suspended sentence of six months in jail. He appealed. At the Superior Court Wednesday Julius was found guilty by a jury and Judge Buttrick fined him $200 for making the illegal sale and $100 for keeping and exposing liquor for sale. Unless the fines are paid in the meantime he will have the alternative of serving three months on each charge and then obtaining his freedom by taking the poor debtor's oath, or if he does not care to take the oath he can serve out his fines at the rate of 50 cents per day by spending 60 days in jail.

In the Newton court yesterday Emile Valente of 17 William street, West Newton, was found guilty of operating a car after his license had been suspended. He was fined $50. Autoists fined $10 each for driving on a suspended license included Charles Stames, 7 Craigie terrace, Newtonville; Edward Hayes, 330 Bay State road, Boston; Seymour Weatherbee, Forest Hills; Franklin Huntress, 12 Beechcroft road, Newton; Beatrice Danby, Dover; Florence Tyler, Brookline; Frank Grover, Framingham; Helen Byron, Weston. The latter was also fined $10 for driving without her license in her possession. Edward Dilegore of Milford was fined $25 for speeding. The number of lady "speeders" is increasing. John Kiley of South Boston was found guilty of driving with defective brakes and let off with a suspended fine of $25.

Antonio Cavaretta of Quirk court, Watertown who murdered Antonio Gallo at 45 Oak avenue, Newton on January 22nd and after the two had become involved in an argument at the Oak avenue address, was sentenced to serve from 18 to 20 years in State Prison by Judge Sisk in the Middlesex Superior Court at Cambridge on Tuesday. Cavaretta had been charged with first degree murder but he was allowed to plead guilty to manslaughter. Assistant District Attorney Volpe, who prosecuted the case told the court that he did not believe all the testimony of government witnesses regarding the fight between Gallo and the defendant and thought Cavaretta might have had provocation.

Gallo was killed by stabs from a knife and slash from a razor wielded by his opponent in the brawl. Cavaretta had previously served a jail sentence for stabbing a man in Watertown whom he had accused of breaking up his home. It was claimed that the tragedy in West Newton started when Cavaretta was twitted about his family affairs.

In the Newton court on Tuesday Robert Elliot of Henshaw street was charged with non-support of his wife and children. His case was continued until March 20. Louis Rush of 299 Boylston street, Brookline was fined $10 for speeding.

In the Newton court on Monday several autoists were charged with driving while under the influence of liquor and their cases continued for a week. The defendants included Walter Longval of Natick, arrested by Patrolmen Green and Davis; Chester Wislasko of Framingham, arrested by Patrolman Feeley; John O'Connor of Natick, arrested by Patrolman Feeley and Patrolman Norton of the Watertown police. George E. Tutts of Lincoln street, Newton Highlands was fined $100 for driving while under the influence of liquor. He appealed, claiming Patrolman McCormick, who arrested him, was prejudiced against him.

Eleven men were in the Newton court Monday morning charged with drunkenness; eight of these were arrested on Sunday.

Two well known West Newton colored men were in the Newton court last Friday charged with offenses which involve three young white girls whose ages range from 12 to 15 years. Charles Foster, 34, of 29 Virginia road was arrested Thursday evening by Patrolmen Goddard and Burke. Charles Phippen, 33, of 29 Virginia road, was arrested later in the evening by Patrolmen Goddard and Mullen. Phippen, charged with lewdness, was held in $500 bail, which was furnished. Foster, charged with a more serious offense, was held in $1000 bail, which was later raised to $500.

In default of bail he was taken to the Middlesex County jail. The pair will be tried in the Newton court today. Foster, who came from Texas, has been a familiar figure on the streets of this city the past couple of years, wearing a sombrero ornamented with a brass studded band. Special Officers Feeley and Burke have been investigating the case.

David Evans of 22 Prospect street, West Newton had an exciting evening last Friday night. He was arrested at

GIRL SCOUTS

The Annual Girl Scout Movie will be held at the Paramount Theatre, Newton on Saturday morning, March 22, at 10 a. m. The pictures are the "Girl Scout Trail," Harold Lloyd in "For Heaven's Sake," and Pathe and Paramount News; both the Newton Bands and Drum Corps will play and candy will be sold. A record attendance is expected. The proceeds will be used to support the Newton Girl Scout Bed in the Children's Hospital and for other Scout activities. Mrs. Walton S. Redfield is in charge of plans for the movie, and under her efficient direction everything is progressing splendidly.

On Monday, March 17th, a group of girls took the Citizen Merit Badge with Judge Thomas Weston of West Newton. Two more badges have been added to our schedule, the Horsewoman which will be given by Mr. George Heathcote of Waban, and the Minstrel Merit Badge, to be given by Mrs. E. Rupert Sircorn of Newtonville.

The March meeting of the Newton Officers' Association was held on March 19th at the Unitarian Church, West Newton; Miss Adelaide Ball was in charge of the supper. The meeting was devoted to games to be used in the troops to make the Scout tests more interesting for the girls.

Questions about camp are already being asked and the Camp May Day folders will be out in another week. State camps, too, will soon be heard from.

The Newton Local Council held its monthly meeting on March 20th at Headquarters; following the business meeting, tea was served by Scouts from Troop 26, Newton Highlands, as part of their Hostesses Merit Badge.

Three one-act plays will be presented Friday night, March 21st by the girls of Troop 21, Newton Highlands. The performance begins at 8 o'clock and will be held in the Congregational Church. The plays are the "Maker of Dreams," "The Grill," and "Rich Man Poor Man."

"HIT THE DECK" AT THE PARAMOUNT

"Hit the Deck," Radio Pictures' all-talking technicolor musical comedy, opens at the Paramount Theatre, Newton, on Sunday with a cast of fourteen players headed by Polly Walker, Broadway beauty, and Jack Oakie, sensational comedian. It is one of the most pretentious offerings of the season with a chorus of 200 singers and dancers. Nine songs with a musical background of three orchestras are heard. Scenes made at a naval base lend reality to the exteriors. In addition to the two mentioned, the cast includes Roger Gray, Frank Woods, George Ovey, Harry Sweet, Marguerita Padula, June Clyde, Ethel Clayton, Wallace MacDonald, Nat Slott, Andy Clark, Dell Henderson and Charles Sullivan.

Lon Chaney in "Phantom of the Opera," with singing, talking and dancing, is the companion feature. For the last half of the coming week "Seven Keys to Baldpate," starring Richard Dix, and "Heart in Exile," with best known Dolores Costello head the bill. Sunday evening the performance starts promptly at six o'clock with two filmings of "Hit the Deck" at six and at nine.

"SWELLHEAD"—AT THREE THEATRES

James Gleason, whose fame as actor and actor-singer with the fight play, "Is Zat So," plays the role of a fight manager in "Swellhead," coming to the Netoco Modern, Beacon and Egyptian Theatres simultaneously beginning Saturday. Bill "Cyclone" Hickey, according to the story, is a preliminary fighter who cherishes the hope of one day being a champ. He thinks he's smart and always has an alibi for his failures. Mamie, his sweetheart, played by Marion Shilling, and Johnny Trump, portrayed by Gleason, have faith in him. Johnny hasn't any money and neither has Bill. Mamie wins some and makes Johnny take it to get Bill started. How Bill becomes a great fighter under Johnny's management and then gets the swelled head over his success and the adulation of society and finds that old friends are best and success is kept only if it is earned—with hard work, is told in "Swellhead."

FIRE RECORD

Box 92 at 10:47 a. m. Saturday was for a grass fire on land off Dedham street.

The brake lining on a Middlesex & Boston bus caught fire at 11:23 Saturday morning while the big vehicle was in Newtonville square. Box 23 was pulled bringing several pieces of apparatus for this small blaze.

Box 14 at 2:55 a. m. Sunday was for a fire in a dump on land near 147 Newtonville avenue.

5:30 by Patrolmen Dowling and Kilmain on a warrant which charged him with assault and battery on his wife. Shortly afterwards he was bailed. A few hours later his wife complained to the police that Evans was creating more trouble at the house and he was again arrested, this time by Serg. Moan and Patrolman Donaghue. In court Saturday he was given a suspended sentence of two months.

Mario Venti of Harvard place, Waltham, charged with attempted felonious assault, was found not guilty and the charge against him was dismissed. Angelo Pappalia of Summer street, Watertown, charged with a similar offense was found guilty on a charge of simple assault and fined $25 when the pair appeared in the Waltham court on Monday. The two youths were arrested following a complaint made by two Newton High School girls who accepted an automobile ride from them on Wednesday night of last week.

The Annual Statement of the Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company for the year ending December 31, 1929, exceeded $10,000,000 and the Company had an unassigned funds (surplus) of $560,000 in addition to which the Company appropriated the sum of $180,000 for policy dividends for 1930.

During the year the Company paid in death claims, disability benefits, matured endowments, dividends to policyholders and other payments a total of more than $1,300,000 and since the organization of the Company, it has paid more than $13,700,000 to policyholders and beneficiaries or $3,400,000 more than the assets of the Company at the close of 1929.

The reserves on December 31, 1929, for protection of policy contracts amounted to $9,383,500, an increase during the year of more than $700,000.

The Company occupied in January 1929 its new Home Office premises at 160 Congress street, located in the heart of the new financial section, with large and old institutions as immediate neighbors.

The Board of Directors is composed of well known business and professional men of the highest standing. The president, Mr. Herbert O. Edgerton, has been connected with the Company for about 30 years and is one of two Life Insurance Presidents in the Country who began his insurance career as a solicitor of insurance. Mr. Edward C. Mansfield, Secretary and Treasurer, has ably filled those positions for more than 15 years. Before becoming connected with the Company, Mr. Mansfield served as Postmaster of the City of Boston under Presidents Roosevelt and Taft.

W. C. T. U.

The regular meeting of the West Newton W. C. T. U. was held at the home of Mrs. M. Millie Beardsley last Monday. After the business session a most encouraging and uplifting talk was given by the State Vice-President, Mrs. Grace M. Hamilton. Three new members were received into the Union. A social hour was enjoyed with refreshments in charge of Mrs. Frank Condon of Charlestown.

The members of the West Newton W. C. T. U. will meet on next Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Sarah Hovenden, 60 Austin street, Newtonville to pack candy as on Thursday a number of the members will motor to the Veterans' Hospital in Bedford where they will distribute candy, fruit and other articles.

ALDERMEN MEET

censes with stands at Newton Corner and at Centre street and Commonwealth avenue.

The reappointment of Florence S. Fitzgerald as director of public welfare was confirmed. The ordinance changing asked for by Mayor Weeks increasing the number of trustees of the Chaffin Fund from 5 to 7 was referred to the Claims and Rules Committee. At the request of Alderman Grebenstein, an ordinance was passed giving authority to Mayor Weeks to appoint special policemen.

Appropriations passed by the Board comprised the following:—canvass fence for baseball field at High School, $1200; new meter and building to house same at water reservation in Needham, $2500; tuition of 10 policemen at State Police School, Commonwealth Armory, $1250; sewer construction, Woodcliff road, $584; Parker avenue, $1972; Gordon road, $13,275; Allen avenue, $3648; Bald Pate Hill road, $6320; street improvements under Betterment Law, Converse avenue, $5193; Lewis street, $1063; grading grounds at new Waban Library, $6500. Gordon road is a new street built about two years ago between Chestnut and Beacon streets; Allen avenue is an unaccepted street running southerly from Beacon street. It is expected that the Cold Spring Swamp drain will bring rapid development of these two streets. Bald Pate Hill road is a new street being constructed by Arnold Hartmann up the hill of that name.

In explaining the refusal of the Claims and Rules Committee to favor the petition of Mrs. Wellington to have the dwelling at 81 Church street used as a sanatorium, Alderman Grebenstein stated that it would be necessary to have outside fire-escapes on the building and this met with objections from neighbors.

Referring to the $1250 appropriated to send 10 members of the police force to the school at Commonwealth Armory, Alderman Bail said that those sent to the school will include 8 members of the reserve force. They will be instructed in use of firearms and motorcycles, horsemanship, handling of prisoners and given lessons in deportment. The $1250 appropriation will allow the men to be paid $4.50 per day, and pay $1 per day for their board.

Alderman Harte read resolutions extending the late Alderman Walter E. C. Worth. These resolutions were adopted and it was voted to send a copy to the family of Mr. Worth.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

The outstanding event next week for those interested in Sunday School work is the Annual Convention of the Norumbega District Council of R. E., to be held March 25 at the Newtonville Methodist Church. Full notice of this will be found elsewhere in the Graphic. We are indebted to the personal acquaintance of our president Mr. Greene with Dr. Soares of Chicago for the privilege of securing the latter as Convention speaker.

It is with great regret that the retirement of Mr. Greene from office as president of the District is announced. For three years Mr. Greene has directed the work; during which time the Association has been re-organized into a Council, with an effective Board of Education. Mr. Greene's continuance as a member of this Board will be a very real asset to the District work.

At the recent Board of Education meeting, the newly appointed committee on Weekday Religious Education made its report, recommending a survey of weekday activities of all types in the churches of the District, restricting this special survey to activities carried on for boys and girls of the ages 9 to 12. The committee feels that if anything should be attempted cooperatively along the line of weekday religious education in this District, it should be of the informal type, including projects and activities, rather than the formal classroom instruction type. This special committee consists of Rev. E. L. Shaver, Prof. Warren T. Powell and Prof. James P. Berkeley.

The Waltham Religious Education committee will meet next Sunday afternoon with the District Executive Secretary, to consider future plans, including Children's Good Friday Service for Waltham.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR NEWS

Three simultaneous Union socials are being held tonight at 7:45 p. m. The Newton young people will meet at the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, the social there being conducted by Mr. Edward M. Simpson, president of Norumbega Union. All young people cordially invited.

The meeting next Sunday evening at the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, West Newton at 6:45 p. m. will be led by Miss Viola Dlabough.

Ralph Colby, vice-president of the Newton district, will be assisted next Sunday evening by Mildred Isakson, Helen Lassman and Evelyn MacNeill, when he conducts the Young People's Meeting at the Newton Upper Falls Baptist Church. All young people cordially invited.

A Discussion Meeting and Social Hour will be the feature of the meeting next Sunday evening at the Newton North Congregational Church. "What Barriers Keep People Away From Christ" will be the subject open for discussion at that time.

On Sunday, March 30th the young people of the Lincoln Park Baptist and Newton North Congregational Churches will meet jointly at the latter church. A Missionary program will be the feature.

Recent Weddings

BACHE—HOFFMAN

On Saturday evening March 15, Miss Priscilla Bache became the bride of Charles Gouverneur Hoffman. The ceremony was performed at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Cranston, 653 Chestnut street, Waban by the Reverend Boynton Merrill of the Congregational Church, West Newton.

Miss Marjory Dow of New York City, formerly of Waban, and the Misses Harriet and Helen Carlton of Haverhill were the bridesmaids. The matron-of-honor was Mrs. Philip W. Bache of Weston and the maid-of-honor was Miss Phyllis Bache, twin sister of the bride. Stoddard Hoffman of New York City acted as best man for his brother, Philip W. Bache, the brother of the bride, acted as usher. Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman are spending their honeymoon at Jekyll Island, off the coast of Georgia. They plan to spend the summer at Siasconset, Massachusetts and will make their permanent home at Tuxedo Park, New York.

Recent Engagements

At a dinner given at the Old South House in Brookline recently the engagement was announced of Miss Irma Seeber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Seeber of Watertown, New York, to James T. Trefrey, son of Mrs. Elizabeth S. Trefrey of Waban. Miss Seeber is a junior at Miss Wheelock's School in Boston. Mr. Trefrey, who attended Staunton Military Academy and the University of Virginia, is secretary of the Boston Alumni Club of the Delta Upsilon Fraternity and is a member of the Boston Life Underwriters' Association.

Mrs. Anna E. Ham of Wollaston has announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Evelyn Walter Ham, to Sherwin T. Borden, of Auburndale. Miss Ham is a graduate of the Vesper George School of Art.

Announcement has been made by Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Cunningham of Evanston, Illinois, of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Elizabeth Cunningham, to Clark Weymouth of Newton. Miss Cunningham attended Mt. Vernon Seminary in Washington, D. C., and is a member of the Junior League. Mr. Weymouth is a graduate of Dartmouth College, Class of 1926. The wedding will take place in the Fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. E. Harris of 86 Green Lawn avenue, Newton Centre, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Boyes Harris, to Clayton Manley Skinner, son of Mrs. Wm. C. Skinner of Brookline. No date has yet been set for the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Tyler Lee Holmes of 19 Kirkstall road, Newtonville, announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Katharine Holmes to Francis Baldwin Cass of Brookline.

Miss Holmes is a senior at Simmons College and Mr. Cass is a member of the staff of the Boston Bureau of the Associated Press.

THE NEW CITY HALL AGAIN

A distinct forward step was taken in the long contemplated proposal for a new City Hall in Newton last Monday night when Mayor Weeks asked the Board of Aldermen to petition the Legislature for permission to borrow outside the debt limit for the immediate erection of such a building. The city fathers approved the recommendation of His Honor the Mayor, and within a few weeks the legislature will take action on the petition which will request three-quarters of a million although the entire cost of the project will exceed a million before it is completed. As the petition will contain no mention of the site upon which the new city hall is to be built a renewal of the battle as to the eventual location is in the offing. Several years ago many favored the site known as the "triangle" at the corner of Commonwealth Avenue and Walnut and Homer streets, Newton Centre, while many others favored the "rectangle" at West Newton where the present city headquarters are located. There are still others who are going around in "circles" on the matter. Coming down to facts both of the most popular sites have their distinct advantages and disadvantages and in the end the minority will have to abide by the wish of the majority.

Just how far the city fathers of recent years have committed the city in naming the "triangle" as the site of the new building is a question. Nearly two hundred thousand dollars have been spent by the city in acquiring different parcels of land that make up this area and it will require thousands of dollars more before title to the entire property is in the city's hands. Should the new city hall be located on some other site what use could be made of the "triangle" is the first question that enters the mind. A quarter of a million dollars is a lot of money to spend on a park, or a combined war memorial and park, despite the fact that such a use would make another beautiful spot in the Garden City. It is a sum of money that could well be spent for other and more pressing needs.

SPRING IS HERE

Along about three o'clock this morning the Spring season of 1930 was officially recorded. Winter has gone and, taken all in all, it has not been a hard winter as far as weather is concerned. The exceptional mild spell last month has given Spring a good start and it will not be long now before the trees and flowers will be opening their new leaves and blossoms to the world. Crocuses are already in bloom, robins have appeared here and there, and boys and girls are turning their thoughts to marbles, baseball and outdoor play. Yet the weather man warns us to expect a drop in temperature. While Spring may be here officially it is still a little early to pack away your winter clothes.

of Joseph A. Callahan, Atty. James Atkins, Neale McDonald and Thomas Flynn as alternate. The judges will be: Atty. James A. Waters representing Newton, Atty. Charles Fay representing Brookline and Rev. Patrick McHugh, Prefect of Studies, Boston College, selected by the two other judges. Dr. Charles Kichham of Brookline will preside. Each speaker will be allowed 10 minutes for the main speech and 5 minutes for rebuttal.

A large delegation of Newton Council members are expected to attend. Newton Knights are requested to meet at Elks' Hall, Centre street, at 7:30 o'clock. A special section in Lyceum Hall has been reserved for Newton Council members.

One of the largest Knights of Columbus gatherings in the history of Newton took place at the Lyceum hall, Centre street, Tuesday night when Old Timer's Night was observed by Newton Council. Tribute was paid to the charter members, Past Grand Knights, Past District Deputies, visiting District Deputies, state officers. As one of the most unique and novel plans, the four Gallaghers, Hon. Daniel Gallagher, first Grand Knight of Newton Council, Past State Deputy; Atty. James P. Gallagher, Past District Deputy and Past Grand Knight; John F. Gallagher, Financial Secretary and Past Grand Knight and Rev. Ambrose Gallagher of Salem, were installed in the chairs.

Rev. Edward Sullivan, S.J., Weston College, delivered an inspiring and educational talk on the processes of beatification and canonization. Fr. Sullivan's thorough knowledge of the subject, was shown by the convincing address he delivered.

The officers of Boston Council conferred the first degree on a group of candidates. Then followed the installation ceremony of the Gallagher brothers with attending District Deputies Andrew Gorey, Boston, Eugene Irwin, Medford, Victor Espinosa, Hyde Park, Thomas Vahey, Watertown and Charles E. Coyne functioning at each chair. The charter members, past grand knights, visiting guests were escorted to the hall previous to the mock installation.

From the moment the four Gallagher brothers were installed until 12:30 P. M., there was not a dull moment. The witty repartee of brothers Dan, Jim, John and Fr. Ambrose kept the 400 men in gales of laughter. As Grand Knight, pro tem, Dan Gallagher was at his best and opened up the treasure vaults of memory by telling many old time incidents that struck a happy chord. So Newton Council cuts another niche in the list of rousing, enthusiastic and successful meetings.

Tuesday night, April 1, will be April Fool's Night at Newton Council with the stunts being arranged by Grand Knight Charles E. Coyne and Lecturer Edwin C. Helsen. The entire program is a secret except that the members attending will be called upon to participate in the program.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Convinced that the exemption on household furniture, etc., should not be increased from the present $1,000 to $2,000 John W. Murphy, chairman of the Newton Board of Assessors and City Solicitor Bartlett appeared before the Legislative Committee on Taxation this week to argue against changing the existing law. Mr. Murphy showed his complete knowledge of taxation matters and ably described the effect any increase in the amount of exemption would have on this city. He said it would result in a loss of a large sum to the city and would undoubtedly cause the small property owner to pay at least $5 a year more in taxes. Mr. Murphy explained the system of the Newton assessors in assessing personal property and how every effort is made to make it equitable and fair. Mr. Bartlett, Representative Thompson and Senator Hollis also argued against any change in the law. It appears that the Taxation Committee is acting upon recommendations contained in the report of the special taxation commission which holds that there should be an increase in order to facilitate the work of the assessors. They, it is understood, are not insistent, although the State Tax Commission had previously expressed himself in favor of the proposed reduction. There are several major matters regarding income tax laws which the committee has not yet reported upon and it is believed that until all these questions have been duly considered by the committee and a report is made no action will be taken on the protest of Newton regarding household furniture. A similar stand was voiced by representatives of Newton and Brookline who pointed out that Brookline, like Newton, derived considerable revenue from the taxation of household furniture, etc., in excess of $1000.

After a debate the House substituted for an adverse committee report the bill requiring asylums, almshouses, hospitals, orphanages and schools in cities and towns and fire districts having a central fire alarm station be equipped with fire alarm boxes. On rollcall Representatives Baker, Luitwieler and Thompson voted against substitution. The bill was referred to the Ways and Means Committee.

The House refused to substitute for an adverse committee report a bill for further regulation of the operation of motion picture machines. Opponents of the measure contended that it would require the employment of additional operators in small houses and was not needed. On rollcall Representatives Baker, Luitwieler and Thompson voted against substitution. The Senate has passed to be engrossed a bill which permits a man to work in his garden on Sunday providing there is no unnecessary noise. The measure specifically states that no labor may be performed for hire. Senator Hollis was one of those who spoke in favor of the bill. It is yet to be considered by the House.

City Solicitor Bartlett watches legislation more closely than any other city solicitor, not including Boston which has several legislative counsel on the job. He is alert to every measure affecting Newton either directly or indirectly. This week he appeared before the committee on Metropolitan Affairs in connection with the bill for the extensions of the Boylston street subway under Governor square. The bill provides that the subway shall be extended under Beacon street to a point near Temple Adath Israel. Mr. Bartlett said that Newton was not in favor of the bill, although he did not oppose it. He acknowledged the benefit that Newton would derive but felt that there were other considerations that it would be well to put the matter over until the voters at the next State election had gone on record as to whether they prefer continuation of public control or a return to private ownership.

Newton's delegation in the Legislature was not in agreement on the question of enacting the bill, based on an initiative petition, forbidding the use of steel traps for the capture of wild animals in this State. Both branches have refused to enact and the petitioners, by obtaining 5,000 additional signatures, may have the question of accepting such legislation placed before the voters at the next State election. The House refused enactment, 167 to 48 and the Senate, 24 to 12. Rollcalls were held in both branches. Representatives Baker and Luitwieler voted against the bill and Senator Hollis and Representative Thompson voted for it.

TERCENTENARY MEETING

A meeting of unusual interest is anticipated by the Tercentenary Clean-Up Committee to be held Monday evening, March 24, at 7:45 o'clock at the Newton Welfare Bureau, 12 Austin street, Newtonville.

This committee is made up of representatives from the Women's Clubs, Men's Clubs, Improvement Associations, Newton Historical Society and Business Men's Association. All interested citizens are invited to attend this meeting to discuss ways and means of a clean-up campaign preliminary to the Tercentenary Celebration.

ANTI-BUMMING RIDE CAMPAIGN FACTS

To the driver:

George A. Parker, Registrar of Motor Vehicles of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts writes of bumming rides.

"I agree with you that this practice should be stopped, as it is dangerous, not only for the person who desires the ride, but also for the operator of the motor vehicle."

This Anti-Bumming Ride Campaign has had the endorsement of many thoughtful people who realize the great peril and inconvenience resulting from this practice. Mr. Driver, you will benefit most if you show your endorsement by refusing lifts to bummers.

The average for the country which included all schools, public and private, was about 70%. A few students were admitted to college with honors. These students entered the following colleges: Mt. Holyoke, Radcliffe, University of Pennsylvania, Wellesley, Vassar, Wheaton, Smith, and Harvard. Newton has had a few highest ratings for several years, but never as many as this past year, six. It is a splendid record. All students who were so successful in these examinations which are recognized as the highest standard in the country, especially those who achieved the honor grades and highest ratings, are commended for the distinction they brought to themselves and the school.

HIGHLAND GLEE CLUB

The Highland Glee Club entertained the Boston City Club on Thursday night, March 13th.

The soloist was Ralph Talley, a well known baritone who has appeared before City Club audiences on other occasions and is always well liked. Solo numbers were also sung by Louis Schalk, a member of the Glee Club, and known to every member of the Boston Rotary Club, and by Clifford Lassen.

The program was carefully arranged by the director, D. Ralph MacLean, with the idea of presenting numbers which would be pleasing to an audience of men. Great enthusiasm was exhibited by a large audience.

NEGRO ACHIEVEMENTS

On Tuesday, March 25th at 3 o'clock there will be a meeting of the Woman's Association of Eliot Church, in charge of the Social Welfare Department.

Mrs. Lucius H. Thayer will speak on "The Negro in Poetry" and Miss Thelma Hughes a young colored student at the New England Conservatory of Music will sing. There will be an exhibition of photographs of Negroes prominent in the past and at present and a collection of recent books.

The public is cordially invited to the meeting and to tea.

If you have any odd jobs for men (or women) let the Welfare Bureau get you someone to do it.

SCHOOL NOTES

LEVI WARREN JUNIOR HIGH

At the assembly, on March 5th, we again had the pleasure of meeting the boys and girls from Caney Creek School Kentucky. These students who received such enthusiastic attention for their excellent speeches were heartily welcomed.

This time they presented a play called "Food and Learning" written by Curtis Owens a graduate of Caney Creek School and later of Tusculum College. It was a story typical of life in the Kentucky mountains.

Assembly

Mr. Edward E. Whiting, editor of the column bearing his name in the Boston Herald, and father of one of our school citizens spoke at the Assembly of March 12th. His topic was "Success." He told of prominent men he had known saying that there were very few really great men. Most great men were merely ordinary individuals who rose to the top through hard work. He pointed out the fact that though many great ones rose from humble beginnings, a humble beginning was not necessary to become successful. Lincoln rose in spite of, rather than because of, his log cabin life. Speaking of the late William Howard Taft, Mr. Whiting said that there was never a man less simple and unaffected.

Every boy and girl, said Mr. Whiting, has essentially the same chance for success today.

Mr. Whiting's talk was very entertaining as well as interesting as he illustrated his points with humorous incidents.

Thrift

On March 13, 1930, the Levi Warren Junior High School had 100% in thrift. There were 698 pupils present. All of them banked. $169.51 was saved.

BIGELOW JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

In the interest of cultivating a friendly feeling for foreign nations, the Dramatic Club of the Bigelow Junior High School presented, on Tuesday, March 18, a Dramatic Representation of the workings of the League of Nations. The particular object was to show what the League has accomplished in the work of maintaining peace in the world. A map showing the more serious disputes settled by the League during its 10 years of existence was explained, and then portions of the sessions of the Council of the League relative to the adjustment of the boundary dispute between Bolivia and Paraguay in 1928 were acted out. Finally, a session of the Full assembly of the League a year later in time, was presented to illustrate the lasting effect of the Council's work.

The introduction to the whole program was given by the President of the Dramatic Club, Miss Deborah Wing. The production was formed by and coached by Miss Roxana Holder Teacher of French. The Disputed Map was presented by Everett Kruger; the sessions of the Council were introduced by Eleanor Lord; M. Briand of France, President of the Council of the League at the time of the dispute was ably represented by Miss Janet Hollis, daughter of Senator Hollis. The part of the President of the Assembly, M. Guerrero of Spain, was taken by Gage Olcott. Bolivia and Paraguay were represented, respectively, by James Naylor and Bruce Cummings. Richard Opp, as delegate from the neighboring Uruguay, addressed the Assembly in French. The part of Official Interpreter was taken by Doris Howard.

Important: The whole program was made possible by the kind co-operation of the educational department of League of Nations Association in Boston.

HOME LANDSCAPE GARDENING

The Mass. University Extension Bureau has announced a course of eight lectures in landscape gardening for the small home beginning this evening at 7:30 in Mass. School of Art at the corner of Exeter and Newbury streets, Boston. W. Chamberlain Frost, landscape architect, formerly of the Kansas State Agricultural College, will be the instructor. The course is designed for the home owner and will furnish helpful suggestions regarding designs, kind of plants, arrangement, soil preparation, methods of planting, and the maintenance of lawns and gardens. It will be of practical value to both men and women.

This Week

by Arthur Brisbane

Ants Are Foolish—and Men. A Small Big Item. Going West. They Killed Reilly.

FLYING offers a new field and a wide sky to courageous young women.

Elinor Smith, a small, young woman, with a big heart, went up in her monoplane, more than 30,000 feet. Fainting at that altitude, she fell with her plane several thousand feet. Then she came to, and landed safely, having set a new record. She went one mile higher than any woman had ever flown.

This small item of news interests managers and stockholders of railroad and steamship lines:

An airplane, driven by Diesel engine, flew from Detroit to Miami in 10 hours, 15 minutes without stopping, with Chief Engineer Wilson of the Packard company and Walter Lees, pilot.

And the trip cost for fuel eight dollars and fifty cents.

When such flying is done on a big scale, airships, with power enough to defy all storms, will be able to take passengers from the Atlantic to the Pacific for five dollars each.

You will be able to travel three thousand miles for less than it costs to send your voice on the telephone wire today.

Dr. Ditmars, who studies animals from elephant and whale to ant and microbe, will broadcast, by greatly magnifying sound, noises made by ants in their colonies, working, celebrating, etc.

Strange is insect life. Among katydids there are twenty males for every female. This wild interest women, for the katydid is one of the noisiest of insects. The males make all that racket.

"Ants," says Dr. Ditmars, "sometimes make fools of themselves."

Tiny bites and blind little defenceless beetles pat the ants with their feet and, then the ants pat them.

Not so different from human beings that have money. Sycophants flatter them, "pat them" with compliments, then they feed the sycophants, and sometimes let them marry their daughters.

Somebody took Mrs. A. K. W. Gibbons' husband. She asked for $10,000 damages, the jury gave her $500,000.

Our prosperity problem would be solved if a million other wives could do as well. And many of them could congratulate themselves on making an excellent bargain.

Few second-hand husbands are worth $500,000.

Mr. J. P. Morgan's new yacht, costing $2,500,000, is the largest private craft ever built.

The world once might have envied Mr. Morgan. Now it is pleased to have him encourage the shipbuilding industry.

A modest cloak and suit buyer can travel to Europe on a boat free to anybody more comfortably than Mr. Morgan can go on his big private yacht "Corsair."

Mr. Morgan's $2,500,000 yacht is an expensive toy compared with such a ship as the Bremen, which would cost $50,000,000 in the United States.

We live in democratic almost "socialistic" days without realizing it.

The public park is finer than anybody's private estate. The fastest trains are for the general public, not for private cars, and the finest ships are for everybody.

The elder J. P. Morgan would be interested to hear about this handsome "Corsair," built by his son who so closely resembles him.

The original "Corsair" was a small boat by comparison, but the late J. P. Morgan enjoyed it.

On a Saturday he would go aboard, from a dock on the Manhattan side of the East River. And on Sunday morning, in the dining saloon he would play religious music, most deftly, on a numerical machine—driven by foot-power.

Going through Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, and on to the Pacific, for the hundredth time, is as interesting as on the first journey. You feel that you are in a big country.

Dante tried to describe heaven, but couldn't. In fact, his description is rather dull and doesn't compare with his description of hell. It is impossible to describe this Western country. The sky is different from other skies, as the ceiling of St. Peter's dome, in Rome, is different from the ceiling of a bungalow.

In the dining car, early, you look at the paper and read that, at about that hour, keepers and witnesses in San Quentin prison climbed two flights of stairs outside an old brick building, took Alphonse Reilly, twenty-two years old, from his death cell and hanged him in a room adjoining. He killed a man—the State killed him.

You see from the window of the car a high tableland, reaching for miles, without population, white clouds floating above it. And you believe that a better civilization in another age will find a way to eliminate crime, as disease germs are eliminated by sunshine.

TERCENTENARY PRIZE ESSAY CONTEST

A city wide essay contest in connection with the Tercentenary Celebration is to be conducted this spring. It will be open to pupils of 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th, and 12th year classes in public, private and parochial schools in Newton. The actual writing of the essay is to be the pupil's unaided effort and the subject will be "The Fathers of New England." There will be three classes of contestants: Class 1, pupils of any 8th grade; Class 2, pupils in any 9th or 10th grades; Class 3, pupils in any 11th or 12th grades. The lengths of the essays will be—Class 1, 1000 words; Class 2, 2000 words; Class 3, 3000 words.

First and second prizes will be awarded in each of the three classes. Essays must be turned in before May 15. The committee in charge of the contest comprises E. B. Richards, Newton High School, chairman; Miss Merle Ives, Mount Ida School; H. E. Fife, Fessenden School; Miss Elsie Jewett, Lasell Seminary; Miss Helen Sade, Winchester; Warren Junior High School; Rev. Timothy Curtin, Parochial schools; Frederick O. Holmes, Newton High School.

NEW CHEVROLET SERVICE POLICY

The Chevrolet Motor Company announces a new and broader service policy. Any Chevrolet owner, experiencing defective workmanship or material on a Chevrolet car under warranty, is invited to call upon any authorized Chevrolet dealer in the United States or Canada where the work will be done at no cost to him.

The plan, known as the Owner's Service Policy, is now in effect in the 10,000 authorized Chevrolet service stations in the United States, operating under the general supervision of the 52 Chevrolet branch offices.

The new policy takes the form of a written agreement given the purchaser by the Chevrolet dealer when the new car is delivered. It puts down in plain, understandable language the greater service owner is now entitled. Briefly, it offers the following provisions:

1. Every Chevrolet owner receives his car from the dealer in perfect condition—thoroughly lubricated, properly adjusted and ready to operate efficiently from the first mile of ownership.

2. Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free inspection and adjustment of his car at the end of the first 500 miles of usage. This includes checking and adjusting the brakes, tappets, timing, generator, carburetor, clutch pedal, and steering gear; tightening all body bolts; testing and filling battery and checking the oil level in the transmission and rear axle. The dealer assumes no responsibility for previous adjustments when they have been made in service stations other than his own.

3. Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free inspection of his car every thousand miles thereafter so long as the car is in operation.

4. Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free replacement of any part, which may prove defective, either in workmanship or in material, within the term of Chevrolet's standard warranty provided such parts and labor are not required because of accident or mechanical abuse. This includes both parts and labor. This provision will be carried out by any Chevrolet dealer in the United States. Accordingly, the Chevrolet owner may change his residence or travel to any part of the country with the full assurance that the guarantee on materials and workmanship will give him complete protection.

In all Chevrolet dealer's service stations there are employed skilled mechanics, thoroughly trained at Chevrolet service schools. These stations are equipped with specially designed tools and machinery developed exclusively for Chevrolet service work. The factory issues the assurance too that each carries at all times a complete stock of genuine Chevrolet replacement parts. And the rates charged are standard flat rates including both parts and labor and are the lowest in the industry on many service and repair operations.

A CORRECTION

In an advertisement last week of Paul E. Richwagen & Sons, Needham, in regard to the Flower Show which is to be held in Horticultural Hall, Boston, next week, an error was made in printing. It should have read "Admission Free." The public is invited to the annual spring show at the "Home of Flowers" in Needham.

"AT YOUR SERVICE"

The month of March is almost gone but we have a long time to wait before we can pick flowers from our own gardens. It is always very pleasant to have a few flowers in the house and there is no reason why you should be without them. Call the Home of Flowers, Needham 9652 and order any amount you wish. We grow our own so we always have first quality. If you want flowers delivered to some distant point we can telegraph them through our service.

NEWTON CENTRE COUPLE DIE IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Wales of Furber Lane, Newton Centre were killed Monday morning when the automobile they were riding in got out of control on the highway leading from Barre to Bradford, Vermont and plunged into Waits River. They had been spending the week-end with their son, Edward Wales, who is engaged in telephone work at Montpelier and were on their way back to Massachusetts. According to a witness of the accident, Mrs. Wales was driving the car when it skidded, plunged through an old fence and down a steep embankment into the swift current of the river. The bodies were taken to an undertaking establishment at Bradford and the medical examiner found that drowning had caused the deaths of the couple.

Mr. Wales was born in Newton Centre 58 years ago, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Wales. He graduated from Amherst College in 1893 and from Law School. His law office was at 73 Tremont street, Boston and he had been associate clerk of the Newton court for many years. Mrs. Wales, whose maiden name was Ethel Nevins, was a life-long resident of Newton Centre and had been active in the affairs of the Newton Centre Woman's Club. Mr. Wales was a member of the First Church, Newton Centre, the Squash Club, Longwood Cricket Club and University Club. During the war he had served as a member of Company A. of the State Guard. He was tennis champion while at Amherst and had always continued his interest in this game.

Funeral services for Mr. and Mrs. Wales were held yesterday afternoon in First Church, Newton Centre, of which both were members. Rev. Dwight Bradley officiated; burial was in Newton Cemetery. They are survived by three sons, Edward F. of Montpelier, Vermont; Francis B. of New York and Donald Wales of Newton Centre.

GEORGE E. FARRINGTON

The death of George E. Farrington, long associated with banking interests, occurred last Saturday morning at his home, 53 Vista avenue, Auburndale. He had been in poor health for several months. He was a native of Boston. His parents were A. W. Farrington and Isabelle F. (Hill) Farrington.

Mr. Farrington was connected with Lee, Higginson & Company for eight years and then went to Chicago, where he was in business on his own account for three years. He then moved to New York where he became the New York partner of Blodgett & Company, and he remained in that position until 1914, when he severed his connection with that house and returned to Boston.

About this time he retired from active participation in the banking and brokerage business, though retaining his seat on the Boston Stock Exchange, of which body he was vice-president for several years. He also retained an office at 55 Congress street. In addition, he was the president of the Farrington Manufacturing Company whose factory buildings are in Jamaica Plain.

While living in New York City Mr. Farrington joined the Union League Club, in which he had always kept up membership. In this vicinity he was a member of the Algonquin Club and the Brae Burn Country Club.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Lucia E. (Hollis) Farrington, two brothers, Wilbur E. Farrington of Greenwich, Conn., and Harry J. Farrington of Auburndale; and two sisters, Miss Isabelle Farrington of Boston, and Mrs. Joseph F. Hoyt of Concord, N. H.

Funeral services for Mr. Farrington were held Monday afternoon, March 17, in his home and were attended by many of his former associates in the financial world.

Francis W. Davis of Waban, a Christian Science reader, officiated. Miss Florence Middaugh, soprano soloist of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, sang "O Gentle Presence" and "In Heavenly Love Abiding."

Honorary pallbearers were: Nicholas Terhune of New York, a vice-president of the Great Northern Railroad; William E. Bright of Waltham, Charles Ober of Beverly, Donald L. Whittemore of Brookline, F. E. Mansfield of Brookline, vice-president of the Farrington Manufacturing Company; George St. Amant of Auburndale; Archer P. Friend of Beverly, and William P. Montgomery of Dedham. Burial was in Mt. Wollaston Cemetery at Quincy.

She is survived by her husband and parents and three sisters, Mrs. Joseph Moss of Woonsocket, R. I., Mrs. Herbert Woodland of Upper Falls, Mrs. William B. Shaw of Melrose and a brother, John S., who is a student at Springfield College. Funeral services will be held from the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. John Proctor, 55 Hale street, on Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m. Burial will be in the Newton Cemetery.

CHARLES F. CHENEY

Charles F. Cheney, for many years a resident of Newtonville, died on Wednesday at his late residence, 19 Vincent street, West Newton. He was born in Worcester 76 years ago and had resided in this city for 36 years. He had been engaged in the granite business. Mr. Cheney was a member of Dalhousie Lodge of Masons and Aleppo Temple. His funeral service will be held tomorrow afternoon at his late home, and will be private. Rev. Albert Hammett of Springfield will officiate. Burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett. The survivors are his widow, Mrs. Lizzie H. Cheney, two daughters, Mrs. William H. Zoller of West Newton and Mrs. Charles S. Logan of Newton Highlands, and a son, H. Howard Cheney of Wollaston.

MRS. SARAH ELLEN MANSON

Mrs. Sarah Ellen Manson of 66 Oxford road, Newton Centre, widow of F. W. Manson, died on March 15. She was born in Newton Highlands 62 years ago, the daughter of Amasa Crafts and Sarah Paul Crafts. Her father donated the land on which the Congregational Church at Newton Highlands stands. Her funeral service was held Sunday afternoon at her late home, Rev. Ben Roberts of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church officiated. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

General Federation

MOTION PICTURES. Newton Club-women who do not wish to have their children attend pictures unsuitable for them, and who do not themselves care to waste time on pictures that may, accordingly, be considered somewhat unsavory, are informed by the General Federation Pre-view Committee against the following moving pictures: "Girl Said No", an M-G-M, story of a swift-pacing collegian; "College Rakester", a Universal, story of young college romances; "Hell Harbor", an inspiration, melodrama of money-lust, and of "white men turning beasts", in the Caribbean Sea islands; and "The Ship from Shanghai", an M-G-M, a sea drama, in which the monomaniacal steward has all on board in his power, coupled with his abnormal desires and actions.

The three best pictures reviewed in the period February 15th to March 1st, were "The Vagabond King", a Paramount, romantic drama, based on the story of Francois Villon, poet of France in the fifteenth century; "Sarah and Son", also a Paramount, a romance of a mother searching for her son, stolen in infancy; and "Case of Sergeant Grisham", a RKO, story of a Russian prisoner during the World War. This last is stated as "too mature for children". A fourth picture, "The Golden Call", a Fox, light comedy, of slender plot, but with spectacular sets and catchy music, depicting the change of a homely "work-day" girl into a beautiful winner of love and station, is listed as a "good family picture".

The story "Fast Workers", which was listed in this Column February 7th, as a Fox, musical comedy on the success of a commercial artist in the talkies, as mediocre and of slender entertainment value, has had its title changed to "Let's Go Places".

The Mather Class

Prof. Kirtley F. Mather spoke on "The Attainment and Use of Liberty" last Sunday morning before the Mather Class at its regular weekly meeting in the Newton Centre Woman's Club House.

This was the sixth lecture in the series on "The Reconstruction of Religion." Prof. Mather prefaced his lecture with some brief remarks about some of the lectures which he had planned to give by way of introduction to this lecture on liberty. As he was unable to deliver these preliminary lectures, he took occasion to summarize the gist of what had been omitted. Thus he brought the discussion up to date.

Men have fought and died for liberty. It is one of the great banners erected in the imagination as a rallying point for humanity. To be free is the innate desire of humankind. It is an instinct, secured somewhere, this driving force for political freedom, then religious freedom, and now at last intellectual freedom.

Part of the struggle is historical and social. When government becomes too despotic, men rise in their wrath and overthrow it. When religious life is hampered, a group is sure to arise and protest against the despotic authority of the duly constituted religious leaders. If the wealthy obtain preference in the courts and the markets, there will be a revolt, perhaps a reign of terror, and then out of it all will arise a new structure, which in turn will quite naturally tend to develop into a new kind of despotism.

Some do not want liberty. They prefer authority and subservience to authority. They do not care for the right to think for themselves. They desire some one else to solve their problems for them and give them instructions what to do.

The historical struggle for liberty has not brought personal freedom to the individual. It has simply won a standing place in which the individual can carry on his own struggle for liberty. Society may win a success for itself, but all we get out of it is the opportunity to carry on a personal struggle for the same thing. It is a new struggle for each individual and it demands a lot of effort. A thing that is valuable is not easily attained. In this land of political equality and supposedly economic opportunity for all, we must still fight for personal liberty.

There is the handicap of indolence. What good does it do to be able to think if we are too lazy to use the privilege? We are free to think but often too indolent to think. We all have some mental energy and it is well to use it. If we exercise our mental muscles, they will improve with use. The hard job is to start thinking. If we will only start the operation, we stand a chance of getting more light for further excursions into the field of mental liberty.

There is the handicap of tradition. Emphasis has been placed on external stimuli in forces outside of us. We tend to elevate these outside forces to positions of undue importance. Emphasis has been placed on heredity as the wellspring of thought and conduct. Then we have the idea, "as a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." Some people imagine that our thinking processes are determined for us outside of our own selves. What are the limits within which a man can make up his own mind and determine his own conduct?

Man can select from past experience one, two, or three to which he gives the greatest significance as influencing his life. He does not know how he does it, but he does it. Man is not an automaton. The human brain has selective, determinative, and creative prerogatives.

There is a difference between a law abiding machine and personality. The machine has uniformity of action like a machine. It has uniformity of purpose. We shape our action to the purpose in view. A consistent and law abiding personality determines its own conduct and selects its actions and the goal toward which the consistent life is being directed.

Philosophy has a pretty gloomy outlook for man in the time of Ecclesiastes, the ablest exponent of tired cynicism. Man's conduct was thought to be determined for him by forces outside his own control. From that the pendulum swung to the other extreme, when the early evolutionists had the notion that man was free to do as he chose. Now we are swinging back again and expect to find the truth as a sort of happy medium, but that position, neither one thing nor the other but a little of both, is the most difficult to occupy even after it has been discovered.

There are limits to man's freedom. Within his limitations, he is able, on occasion, to overcome his natural inclination and his willingness to run with the crowd, and really make up his own mind in independent fashion.

We are free to conform, but when we do conform, liberty is lost. Liberty must be the result of actual endeavor. To trust and obey is only half of the whole program. It is not the whole aim of the real Christian. We seek to discover the laws that influence and control us. We have confidence in the integrating power of God. Jesus calls us not as servants but as associates. God and man are like a group of friends with no conscious feeling of obedience to authority. We should keep our minds off of authority and on friendliness. The use of authority is justified because of utility, but the ultimate goal is friendliness. People should be influenced by training and by teaching to see that certain types of conduct are better for themselves and for all mankind.

We want to teach people to love what is lovely and to value the things that are valuable. This is much harder than to force obedience to law. God wants something higher, richer, and more valuable than obedience. God is love and wants men to love Him. Love implies trust and willing obedience, a desire, because of love, to do what pleases God, and without compulsion. Force compels obedience but breeds hatred instead of love. God does not compel us, because He wants us to love Him voluntarily. Religion needs no authority, because its validity is based on love. He who loves a cause or ideal and strives to reach a goal stands apart as a distinctive personality. That sort of thing ennobles and liberates man. Society and the individual have more freedom today than ever before in the history of the race. The responsibility for this unparalleled liberty is very great.

What we do when we do as we please reveals what we really are. What we think when we think as we please reveals the quality of our personality.

The use of freedom reveals our real nature. Freedom brings danger, for liberty may become license. Man is on the way to the use of creative powers. Experience justifies the hope that man will rise to the occasion when required.

Next Sunday Dr. James P. Berkeley, of the Newton Theological Institution, will lecture on "Teaching the Child Religion."

TERCENTENARY NEWS

The city of Newton has an enviable reputation. It is famous for its schools, beautiful homes and wide-awake citizens. Newton is known far and near as a garden city, as a place where civic pride and responsibility concern themselves with everything that make for a progressive municipality.

Such a reputation will attract thousands of visitors to our home city this year. They will come to Greater Boston to visit the exposition and a natural spirit of adventure will lead them to visit the suburbs. Naturally, every citizen in Newton wishes to have his city appear at his best. A Tercentenary Clean-Up Committee has been formed and all the leading organizations of the city are preparing to promote the steps necessary to make Newton live up to its reputation.

Spring has come and the weather is becoming more and more favorable for every householder to put his property in shape. A fresh coat of paint will often work a miracle. Shrubs may be trimmed and new ones set. Lawns may be reconditioned and grass seeds sown. We shall naturally expect the city to do its part to repair and clean the streets. Possibly because of this historic event now almost at hand we may hope that the city will do more than usual, but even that will not amount to much unless every individual citizen does his part to clean up and beautify his own home. Let us all rally to give this Clean-Up Committee our loyal support, but as individual citizens let us put our shoulders to the wheel and pledge ourselves to do everything that we can to make our own homes and property attractive.

LASELL SEMINARY

The Senior-Junior swimming meet was held at the Bragdon Hall pool on Wednesday March 19.

The Lasell faculty contested with the students at the annual Faculty-Student basketball game on Thursday, March 20.

The Senior-Junior dance will be held at Woodland Park on Saturday evening of this week.

Charles Swain Thomas will be the vespers speaker on Sunday, March 23. Prof. Thomas is on the faculty of the Harvard University Graduate School of Education.

Mrs. Jessie Wilson Sayre will be the guest of honor at the Journalism Class dinner on Monday evening, March 24. Mrs. Sayre will address the class at Woodland Park Hall.

The Blue & White basketball teams will play their final game on Tuesday, March 25. On the day following the Blue and White swimming teams will hold their annual meet.

The third Pupils' Musical Rehearsal will be held at Bragdon Hall on March 26 at 8 P. M.

Lasell will close at 11 a. m. on Friday, March 28, for the spring recess. Classes will be resumed on April 8.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

During the past week there have been 143 patients in the hospital. Of this number 68 paid as much as cost of care or more, 45 paid less than cost of care, and 30 patients, including babies, were treated free of charge. 10 babies were born, 8 boys and 2 girls. 187 patients were treated in the outpatient department including 3 in the eye clinic. 7 calls were made by the social worker, and 7 patients were transported by the social service car.

Dr. Henry Watters of Newton Centre, and Dr. Henry F. Keever, of Auburndale, both members of the active staff of the hospital, are on a seven-day trip through Southern waters, planning to visit Panama and other ports. They are expected to return to Newton about March twenty-ninth.

On Monday evening, March 17th, the Know More Kokki Klub met at the hospital for their regular bi-weekly meeting. Dr. H. F. Brown, of Newton Centre, and Dr. C. B. Hedolin, an interne, presented the papers for discussion.

the regular monthly meeting of the Executive Committee of the Trustees was held at the hospital.

Of the eleven accidental cases admitted during the week only one was an automobile accident case: a woman suffering from a laceration of her eye-brow, and a laceration and fracture of her leg. Four boys were treated: one with a fractured arm received while cranking an auto, one for a laceration of his upper lip caused when he fell on a whistle, one for a sprained wrist caused when he fell from a cart while at play, and one for a fractured leg received when he was injured while riding a bicycle. Three men were admitted: one with a splinter in his hand, one with an inflamed eye, and one with a fractured knee-cap caused when he fell while taking a shower bath. Two girls were treated: one for a laceration of her hand caused when she caught it in a washing machine, and one for a crayon in the left side of her nose. One woman was treated for an abrasion of her knee received when she fell while crossing the street.

TRAVEL NOTES

It is regrettable that newspaper accounts of the recent destruction of the S. S. Muenchen of the North German Lloyd contained serious inaccuracies which might tend to disturb persons contemplating an ocean voyage. The manifests and bills of lading show that the cargo contained no explosives or goods of inflammable character. Such freight is not carried on a passenger ship.

The fire began in Hold 6, where for an hour previous six men had been engaged in discharging cargo, substantial portions of which had been placed on the pier. None of these longshoremen, or the watchman of the steamship company in that hold, detected any smoke or other indications of fire until the blaze suddenly appeared. Samples of all the items of the cargo taken from Hold 6 have been examined thoroughly and have been found free from any explosive qualities.

The thought occurs to timid persons, "Would this ship have sunk had the fire occurred at sea?" It is probable that not only would this ship not have sunk, but that the fire would not have proceeded beyond an initial stage. Boats of the North German Lloyd and other Trans-Atlantic lines are equipped with "Clayton Apparatus", the most modern and efficient device for detecting and extinguishing fires. This apparatus enables Clayton gas to be flooded into any compartment of a ship within 30 seconds by throwing an electric switch on the bridge. A smoke detector device located on the bridge of every North German Lloyd passenger ship is in front of the officers, accurately reveals even the presence of a small quantity of smoke in any compartment, thus allowing the flooding of that compartment with the fire killing Clayton Gas.

Naturally, it was impossible to use this gas when the ship was at the dock and the hatches off the hold. It is a significant fact that practically all destructive fires in recent years on passenger ships have occurred when the ships were tied up at docks with their hatches open. Since the North German Lloyd service was established in 1857 the utmost care has been taken to assure the safety of ships and passengers and the boats of this company have represented the highest development of their times.

The Newton Steamship Agency, 11 Centre Avenue, Newton, is the local representative for the North German Lloyd and other leading transatlantic steamship lines.

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

"Birds of Prey," a motion picture, will be shown at the Children's Museum of Boston on Saturday, March 22, at 3:00. Admission is free. The condor, that great vulture of the Andes, once surrounded by fabulous legends which scientific research has now dispelled, is perhaps the most picturesque of the birds to be discussed.

Over 1400 visitors of all ages stormed the Museum last Sunday to see Commander MacMillan's Eskimauz motion pictures. In spite of several repetitions of the reels and an extension of the closing time of the Museum, many were turned away. An enlarged lecture hall is one of the immediate needs of the Museum. Two more MacMillan films, one entitled "Travelling with the Eskimauz" and the other "Birds and Animals of the North" are scheduled for April 13th, for the first Boston showings. The films are especially well adapted to a mixed audience.

The Byrd issue of "Our Hobbies," which is dedicated to polar pioneers, "those who survived and those who gave their lives," is scheduled to be out this week. The young editors are sending a copy and a special letter to Commander Byrd. The cover has a picture of one of Byrd's famous expedition dogs. Articles, stories and poems on the subject of exploration in the Arctic and Antarctic make up the magazine, as well as interesting illustrations.

Three pure-bred Navajo Indians in native costume and the guide, philosopher and friend, Mr. B. J. Staples, dropped in unexpectedly at the Children's Museum one morning this week and "stopped the show" for a school class who was having an illustrated lecture lesson. Mr. Staples is taking the trio on an extensive educational tour in the interest of the preservation of American Indian arts and crafts. He carries with him exhibit equipment worth $30,000 with which the Indians are giving public demonstrations of their art, including their famous sand paintings, before prominent schools and educational societies throughout the country.

ANOTHER SERIOUS ACCIDENT

A car driven by Mary Turbett of 87 Grove Hill avenue, Newtonville, hit Evangeline Cormier, 33, of 118 Myrtle street, Waltham on Sunday night as the woman was crossing Washington street, opposite Beach street at Newtonville. Miss Cormier was taken to the Newton Hospital where it was found she had a possible fracture of the skull, a fracture of the left leg and other injuries.

According to the report of Motor Officer Goddard, who investigated the case, there were three passengers in the coupe besides Miss Turbett. A complaint was asked for charging driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public.

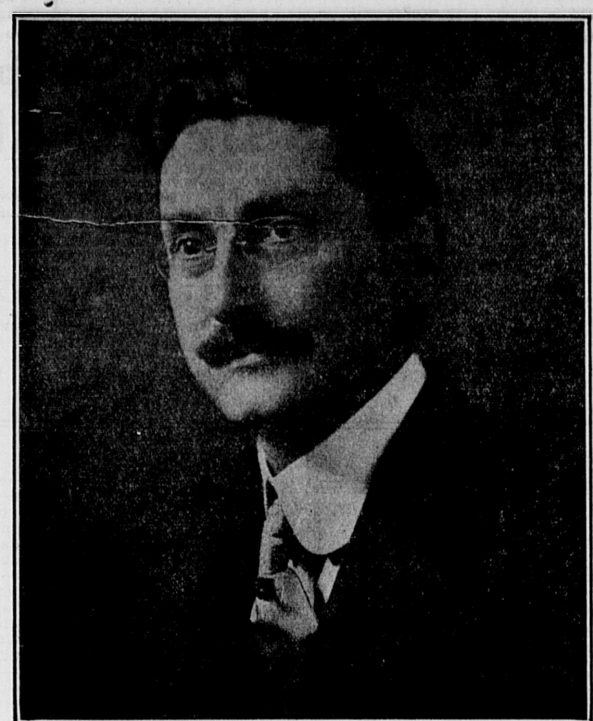

Almost Hallowed Ground

The profoundly scientific Royal college of London stands upon ground once occupied by an Elizabethan theater. It was there that many of Shakespeare's plays had their early productions. Almost on the very spot where the president now has his office Burbage trod the boards as Hamlet.

DR. T. G. SOARES

NORUMBEGA DIST. COUNCIL

On Tuesday, March 25 the Annual Convention of the Norumbega District Council of Religious Education will take place at the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church. The supper at 6:30 is to be followed by a brief business meeting, the awarding of Training School credits and finally an inspirational address by a well known leader in the field of religious education.

It will be a special privilege and unusual opportunity to have Dr. Theodore G. Soares of Chicago as the speaker for this Convention. Dr. Soares, one of the outstanding preachers of the present day, comes regularly to preach at Harvard University Chapel and at King's Chapel in Boston, and it is because of his week's engagement right now at Harvard that we are able to secure him.

Dr. Soares now holds the position of Head of the Department of Religious Education in Chicago University, devoting practically all his time to instruction and counsel in subjects pertaining to this work. He has written books in this field. He is to be one of the speakers also at the International Sunday School Convention in Toronto, Canada, this year. His address for the Norumbega District Convention will be on "Sunday School Teaching and Human Experience," presenting a point of view that is both timely and interesting.

Church School workers and friends who cannot attend the supper are invited to come at 8 p. m. for the evening session in the church auditorium. At this time Prof. James P. Berkeley of Newton Centre and Rev. Chas. L. Seasholes of Watertown will have charge of the awarding of credits to Training School students.

The business session will be immediately followed by the supper and will be presided over by the retiring president, Mr. Everett A. Greene of Newton Centre. New officers will be elected, reports for the year presented, and announcements of future plans made.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF "EAST IS WEST"

The play, "East is West," being staged at the auditorium of the Newton High School on Saturday, March 29th, at 8 P. M. promises a most enjoyable evening. Much intensive work is being put into the production, which will make it comparable with the work of the legitimate stage. The lighting, scenery and costumes have been studied to the most minute detail. The cast, selected from among the well known amateur talent of Newton, is as follows:

Proprietor of Love Boat.....Mr. Norman J. Mitchell
Lo Sang Kee.....Mr. Elmer H. King
Hop Toy.....Mr. Willis E. Pattison
Chang Lee.....Mr. Charles E. Bailey
Charlie Yong.....Mr. Douglas B. Francis
Mrs. Benson.....Mrs. Elmer W. Davis

Ming Toy.....Mrs. Willis E. Pattison
James Potter.....Mr. Charles L. Pierce Mildred Benson.....

Mrs. Douglas B. Francis
Thomas.....Mr. Norman J. Mitchell
Miss Fountain.....Mrs. Walter R. Holmes

Sing Song Girls—The Misses Virginia and Carolyn McClellan, Margaret Rising, Helen Stuart, Mrs. Benjamin Fawcett and Mrs. Francis Dunham.

Tong Men—Robert A. Andrews and Roger Jackson.

ANNUAL MEETING OF EPWORTH LEAGUE

The Marshall S. Rice chapter, Epworth League, of the First M. E. Church, Upper Falls, held their annual election of officers in the Parish hall. The following officers were elected for the coming year:

President, Elizabeth Meara; 1st Vice President, Helen Shaw; 2nd Vice President, Kenneth Newcomb; 3rd Vice President, Arthur Hartshorn; 4th Vice President, William Wildman; Secretary, Marion Shaw; Treasurer, Walter Martin; Pianist, Mary Jowett; President of the Junior Dept., Doris Brown.

During intermission cheery letters and poems were written to the first vice president, Alice M. Temperley, who is ill. Refreshments were served by the social committee.

Enthusiasm

The enthusiasm that lifts us as an eagle's wings makes for joyous service. The ability to run, to press forward unwearyedly in the chosen course, makes it easy. But to walk day after day, only able to trudge along the right road slowly, while the victors with wings sweep above us, and the strong runners dash by us toward the goal, leaving us far behind—this is hard. To keep our courage, press forward and not grow faint-hearted may at last be the greatest victory of all.

Founding of Annapolis

The United States Naval academy at Annapolis, Md., was founded in 1845 by George Bancroft, secretary of the navy during the administration of President Polk. During the Civil war the academy was removed to Newport, R. I., but was re-established at Annapolis in 1865.

Local Real Estate Men Have Banquet

Mayor Weeks Talks On City Affairs
At Woodland Golf Club

The first dinner of the recently organized Newton Board of the Boston Real Estate Exchange was held Wednesday evening at Woodland Golf Club with an attendance of 30. Chairman James W. Gibson presided.

In his opening remarks Mr. Gibson outlined the purposes of the organization. He stated that a two fold object will be accomplished by a strong, functioning board, namely, the elimination of unethical, unscrupulous competition, and the rendering of better service to the public.

R. M. Patterson introduced William M. Cahill, Treasurer of Newton Trust Co. Mr. Cahill gave a very instructive address on the banking and mortgage situation. He appealed for recognition of the fact that bankers are limited by law and good business practice in what they may do with money entrusted to them. He predicted a bright immediate future for the Real Estate business in Newton.

His Honor, Mayor Sinclair Weeks was the principal speaker, and he was introduced by Chairman Gibson. Mr. Weeks told a couple of good stories, and then launched into a discussion of such city affairs as are affected by and affect the Real Estate business. He expressed the hope that the Zoning Act may soon be extended so as effectively to limit the areas in which apartment houses may be built. Real Estate men were appealed to in helping to keep the city beautiful, and to oppose any type of development tending to overcrowding.

In the matter of the proposed new City Hall and the War Memorial, the Mayor expressed the hope that both projects might be handled together and at once. He stated that as far as the location of the new development is concerned, he is prepared and willing to go with the majority. In closing Mr. Weeks asked for the cooperation of the Newton Board and promised his support in any worthy undertakings of the Realtors.

Large Attendance At Regular Meeting of Local Service Club

The meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club on Tuesday was largely attended. Three new members were introduced. The new Kiwanians are Mayor Sinclair Weeks, Henry B. Thayer of the First National Bank, West Newton, and Arthur Rowe of Newton Centre. Past President James P. Gallagher presided over the social session of the meeting and introduced the speaker of the day—James R. Brown, President of the Manhattan Single Tax Club of New York.

Mr. Brown denounced the existing system of taxation saying:

"The principal source of power that enables some to get something for nothing and to give to others nothing for something is to be found in our tax laws that take private property for public use and give public value to private individuals. If it were not for the tragedy that is involved, our tax laws could be looked upon as the most magnificent, roaring farce ever staged by man.

"The selling price or assessed value of land is the greatest liability that industry carries, the greatest bar to the advancement of production and civilization. Very few if any of our alleged statesmen seem to be aware of this, and our pseudo economists seem to be delightfully innocent of any knowledge or understanding of this, the most important truth of economic science.

"If we could, and surely we can, get rid of all forms of privilege, that enable some of us to get something for nothing, what a wondrous blessing it would be to industry. If this could be done, and it can be done very easily, it would mean full reward to industry and no reward at all to idleness, and why should idleness of any kind reap a reward. Our cities would soon reflect the value of righteousness in taxation, in the orderly and systematic growth of the physical city, in the development of civic virtue, and absence of personal vice and wickedness. The unholy yearning for something for nothing would soon pass (Continued on Page 6)

Discuss "Specialized Aspects Of Education" In Lecture Series

Speakers Tell of Work With Naturalized Citizens, Those With Promise in Music and Typical Problems of High School Students

The third in the series of lectures for those interested in volunteer service was held at 12 Austin street on Friday, March 21st. "Specialized Aspects of Education" was the group included at this class. Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., spoke of the reviving favor of volunteer service which at one time was apt to be spurned by the professional worker, but which is now being used successfully in Newton and other cities.

Miss Calista Roy, Supervisor of Americanization in Newton, gave as the main part of her talk an outline of the changes in our naturalization laws, and showed how they are affecting the foreign-born in this country. Before July, 1918, it was possible for an immigrant, by paying a small amount, to submit a declaration of intention to become a citizen of the United States and to obtain his first papers even though he was not able to read or write. After five years in the United States, he could submit a petition of naturalization, declaring the oath of allegiance, his willingness to take up arms, and his opposition to anarchy. When summoned, he was given a very perfunctory education test and by another payment became a citizen. There was much corruption, so that nearly any one with a little pull or a little money managed to pass.

In July, 1918, the new law went into effect and it is a very stringent one. In the first place, every immigrant is given an identification card with certificate of arrival, to show that they have entered by the proper channels. This makes it difficult for the person who has been here for some time, for he must account for many things, the date and place of his birth and that of his parents, the dates and places of his residence and employment. If he has been here for twenty years, it can easily be seen that this is rather difficult information to obtain. If the person was young at the time of his entrance, and has moved about to any extent. If he can pass, he is given his first papers on payment of $5.00—if not, he must pay twenty dollars and fill out three long papers. After five years in the United States, he may submit his petition for naturalization, and, after a very difficult examination, which includes questions on government, civics, the constitution, and reading, writing and speaking English, they become citizens. Questions are often asked which it would be hard for anyone to answer.

If they fail, they lose their money unless the supervisor of Americanization can hold over the petition for six months. Those who have attended the Americanization classes and passed are recommended by Miss Roy, and nearly always are successful. Unfortunately, however, there is still corruption in some of the courts, so that individuals totally unqualified are passed and others, who would make the highest type of citizen, are turned down through some personal whim of the examiner. It is the duty of the general public, particularly the women's clubs, to take more interest in these courts, to attend examinations, and to protest when unfairness is displayed.

It is also worthwhile for anyone to attend classes and see the fine type of person who has been taking the course. It is remarkable what they learn of our language and government in the short time that they have been studying. Two thousand graduates of these classes in Massachusetts are taking a three-day trip to Washington this year, similar to the one which was accorded them two years ago. The Pennsylvania Railroad manages the trip, which costs but twenty dollars, everything included. They are shown everything and are even received by President Hoover at the White House.

Mrs. Mary F. Mitchell, Registrar of the All-Newton Music School, said that the aim of the school is good music at the lowest price possible. Those who are able to pay more for their lessons are helping to support the school and so giving opportunity to those less able to pay to have the same quality of instruction. Mr. Spaulding, who has charge of the music in the public schools, is on the board of directors and he sends his most promising pupils to the Music

School for the individual attention which he has not time to give them in the regular school orchestra.

There are two branches of the Music School—one which meets in the Peirce School, West Newton, the other in the Clafin School, Newtonville. There is also a Tuesday Evening class for older children, which meets in the West Newton Unitarian Church. Visitors are welcome to any of these classes.

The school has three good-sized orchestras, the smallest composed of children eight to twelve years old, the other two of children somewhat older. These orchestras gave a broadcast over WEEI on February 24th and put on the program perfectly, both in their performance and in their quiet behavior. A little eight-year old pianist played a selection from Grieg and did her own announcing.

There is no art which requires stricter co-operation than music, and the children have learned to work together harmoniously with no problems of discipline. They get precision, perception and training which comes only from playing the classics; and this development of their appreciation early in life becomes a habit always.

Miss Cora Riley, Visiting Teacher for the Newton High Schools, said that she felt that she could best illustrate her work by giving the outline of a typical day in her life. It proves more than words could do that the work of a Visiting Teacher is not by any means an outside job entirely. On her typical day Miss Riley arrived in the personnel office which is her headquarters, at 8:10 a. m. From then until 8:30 she interviewed several girls whom she found waiting for her, some about a needed change in program, some about part-time positions which would help them to earn money to remain in school. From 8:30 to 9 Miss Riley conferred with two children who were failing in one or more subjects. At 9 o'clock the attendance sheet was brought in, after being checked by the attendance supervisor in each building.

Yesterday there was the particular problem of a boy of fourteen whose father has a milk route. His mother is dead, and the boy is left alone at 5 o'clock to get up and get himself ready for school including breakfast, with no help from an older person. Consequently he oversleeps, is afraid to come to school late, and plays truant. Miss Riley made a home visit to this boy, then a visit to a sick boy, and finally to the foster-mother of a girl who needs special attention because of a tubercular tendency.

At 11:30 Miss Riley reported to the school nurse to Mr. Palmer, and to the attendance supervisor on these cases. From 12 to 1 was lunch hour. From 1 to 2:15, the end of school, there were conferences with pupils about their credits for college or their future course at High School. Also there were fifteen freshmen who have not been adjusting well. At 2:30 there was a tea to be attended given by the girls in the Domestic Science course and very beautifully done. At 3:15 there were more interviews with parents and pupils, some letters were written and the Visiting Teacher's day was theoretically ended.

Miss Riley wished to impress her hearers with the fact that the youngster who is trying to pick out college is just as important as the problem boy or girl. The volunteer can help by auto service in getting clothing or taking children to the hospital; and clothing for girls in particular is always needed.

Miss Annis Sturgis, School Psychologist, said that there was a time when instruction, like ready made clothing was for the average child, but that today there is no average—we must fit the school to the child in order to equip him for life. Every study of every child resolves itself into three parts: (1) The Problem; (2) The Cause, that is, the underlying factors; (3) The Treatment.

Seventy-five per cent of the problems which come to Miss Sturgis for diagnosis are failures in school work or failures in personality, or both. The teacher, principal, social worker, parent, or court officer is asked to state the problem when referring, as this greatly aids the psychologist in making her diagnosis.

The causes are often complex, but they resolve themselves into one or more of the following: physical, mental, social, and emotional. There are fewer health problems in Newton probably than in any other city because of the wonderful co-operation here. There is a class in sight-saving, helped by a teacher from Perkins Institute; the audiometer is testing hearing and children are referred to the Horace Mann School in Boston when necessary; there are also speech-defect clinics and classes, with suggestions to parents. For mental courses, the Binet tests are used, as well as a variety of special tests to show specific ability. There are also tests to show social reactions, and to bring out the background of the child's life. Sometimes it is found that trouble at home, uneven discipline, too little recreation, and many other factors are causing the child's maladjustment. Emotional factors are often discovered, as well; sometimes a child is resentful because of an inferiority complex.

The treatment is generally to change the school work, or the teacher, or the method of approach, or to educate the parent. There are retarded children who do best in a special class; there are repressed children who need to be helped to self-expression; and finally, there are superior children who need to be given more to do. Each child is an individual to be fitted for life.

The next class will have as its subject "Problems in Family and Child Welfare," and will be held at 12 Austin street, Newtonville, Friday morning, April 4th at 10 o'clock.

MANY GRASS FIRES

Many grass fires have kept the Newton firemen active the past couple of weeks. Last Sunday the fire department was called to extinguish fires at Dudley road, Newton Centre; Walnut street, Newton Highlands; Jackson street, Newton Centre; Allison street, Newtonville; Dedham street, Oak Hill; Box 23, 8-8 Monday morning was for a slight blaze in the house at 198 Walnut street, Newtonville, occupied by Sadie Ahearn. Box 616 at 4:47 Sunday afternoon was for a fire in the house at 75 High street, Upper Falls, occupied by Edward Doran, where a chimney was ablaze.

Box 281 Monday noon was for a grass fire that set the barn of Frank Corbin on North street, Newtonville ablaze. At 12:51 p. m. Box 721 was for a brush fire on land off Beecher place, Newton Centre; Box 363 at 5:58 p. m. was for a grass fire at Exeter street; Box 342 at 7:04 p. m. was for a fire on land off Harding street, West Newton; Box 32 at 7:15 was for a grass fire near the city stable on Pine street, Auburndale.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

Saturday morning cars driven by Charles Harper of 251 Webster street, West Newton, and Joseph Abel of Westwood collided at Cherry and Webster streets, West Newton. Harper's car overturned and Anna Harper, who was a passenger, received slight injuries.

A car operated by Elizabeth Connolly of 114 Adams avenue, West Newton, hit Joseph Milligan of 21 Cottage place, West Newton, as he was crossing River street, last Friday night. Milligan received cuts and bruises and was taken to the Newton Hospital.

Miss Bragg To Leave Newton School System

To Take Faculty Position At Boston University In June

Miss Mabel C. Bragg, assistant superintendent of schools in Newton under Supt. U. G. Wheeler since 1915, will sever her official connection with the Newton school system in June, to become a fulltime member of the faculty of Boston University's school of education. In the appointment of Miss Bragg, President Daniel L. Marsh and Dean Arthur H. Wilde have secured the services of an internationally known teacher, author and supervisor.

As a lecturer in Boston University for the past five years, Miss Bragg has helped to solve many school problems through her contact with teachers from the majority of Greater Boston schools. In 1923 she was sent to Belgium as a member of the Commission for Belgian Relief, to help introduce a health education program to Belgian teachers. At present she is a member of two committees of President Hoover's White House Conference on health of children. They are specifically "Growth and Development of Children," and "Health of the School Child."

The Newton Health Education program, initiated and developed by Miss Bragg has achieved international fame and adoption. In comparison with the average for defects in school children which is forty-five percent throughout the country, Newton's percentage has been reduced to ten percent. The average of underweight children in the city has dropped from 24.9 percent to about 7 percent. Practical education in health, Miss Bragg calls it, and claims to be but the "coordinator" in all her Newton work.

A graduate of the Providence, R. I. Normal School, and a teacher of teachers in her alma mater and Lowell Normal, Miss Bragg is a native of Braintree near Milford. As an authority on primary education, her institute work has covered more than half the states of the union. She (Continued on Page 6)

Request For Free Bus Rides Turned Down

School Committee Also Refuses Use Of Schools

The School Committee held a regular meeting last Monday night. Among the matters discussed was another petition from Oak Hill residents asking free transportation for their children all during the school year to the Rice School at Newton Centre. The city has been furnishing transportation during the winter months. The Oak Hillites have petitioned several times for this concession, contending that free transportation for school pupils is provided in other parts of the city where the children reside over a mile distant from the schools. The School Committee was of the opinion that to grant this demand would be establishing a precedent and many similar petitions would follow from other sections of the city.

Other petitions denied by the committee included one from the Newton Hebrew Ladies' Aid Society asking for the use of a classroom in the Stearns School at Nonantum twice a month to hold their meetings. The petitioners cited as an example the use of the Underwood School at Newton as a meeting place for the Newton Community Club. It was argued, however, that the Community Club had altered its constitution so that membership in it is open to all, this change having been made on the suggestion of the School Committee.

Another petition denied was that of the Eliot Players for the use of the hall at the Underwood School to present a play on May 30; the proceeds to be used to aid the Players in their study and production of the drama. The committee ruled that this purpose did not conform to the requirement that the use of school buildings be restricted "for educational or charitable purposes and that admission be open to all."

CITY TO BUILD NEW MEMORIAL STADIUM

The proposed new memorial stadium at Claffin field will be built from city funds and not as a private enterprise. Such was the announcement made at the regular meeting of the school committee on Monday night. A few weeks ago City Solicitor Bartlett drew up a bill which was to be presented to the legislature and if approved the creation of a stadium commission would have resulted in the construction of the stadium from non-interest bearing bonds issued for public sale. A number of these bonds were to have been retired each year from increased gate receipts until the entire amount had been paid back.

Opposition to the proposed bill was met with from Theodore N. Waddell, director of accounts of the Department of Corporations and Taxation, and by Newton's representatives in the legislature. The hopelessness of getting the bill through caused the abandonment of the project by this method. A method which has been under consideration for several years and which has met with difficulties many times.

The failure of similar projects in other cities had prejudiced state officials against the creating of a commission. The city, having expended a considerable sum of money to develop the field to the present extent, will probably finish up the proposed plans although it is extremely doubtful if it will all be accomplished this year. When completed Newton will have one of the most modern and well-equipped athletic plants in the east and one which will be on a plane with the scholastic facilities now available.

SPORT NOTES

Church To Pitch

Leslie Church, local youth at the Boston University varsity baseball squad, will pitch part of the team's opening game of the season tomorrow afternoon at Dilboy Field, Somerville, against the Somerville Cubs. Wednesday Church pitched the last three innings for Team A in an 8 to 5 victory over Team B.

Newton Club Sets New Mark

The Newton club bowlers in the Newton league set a new season's team single string mark Wednesday night in their match with Maugus on the Newton Club alleys. They toppled 632 pins to smash the former mark, made by the Waban Neighborhood club team some time ago, by twenty four pins. In setting the new mark, the Newtons rolled 142, Schwab 116, Smith 122, Shedd 132 and Carter 120. Newton captured the third string when Shedd hit 150 and Schwab 125. Maugus won the second string for their only point. Weston took three out of four from Hunnewell on the Weston alleys, increasing their lead in the league. Hunnewell won the second, one point ahead of Maugus, by taking the final string of the match by twenty pins when Loring hit 124 and Ford 118. Waban and University split even on the Waban alleys and Middlesex scored a slam over Commercial at Brockton.

Cronin Gets Three Hits

Bill Cronin, West Newton youth with the Boston Braves, got three singles in three times at bat Tuesday in the game with the Yankees at St. Petersburg, Florida, which the American league team won 6 to 5 in twelve innings. He scored one run and drove in another in getting all of his hits off Waite Hoyt, the Yankee star. In the fourth inning, on his second trip to the plate, Cronin's single, an outfield error and a Texas leaguer carried him across the plate. In the sixth double and Cronin's single scored one run and put the latter on second. Cronin brought him home. The Yankees' tying run came in the eighth on a double steal. The umpire called the runner safe at the plate although Cronin had the plate blocked perfectly and the runner slid by without touching it.

To Go on Southern Trip

Harold Andres has been chosen as one of the fourteen Dartmouth baseball players to go on the trip south, which begins today. Andres is listed as one of the catchers but will probably see lots of service in the outfield as Captain Bart McDonough is rated as one of the best catchers in college baseball. Andres played the outfield most of the 1929 season and Coach Tesreau is taking but two outfielders on the trip.

Have Chance For Third Letter

Two former Newton high school athletes are carving their names deep into Bridgton Academy sports history. They are Everett Scheinfain and William Sutcliffe. They were the regular ends on the 1929 football eleven, both played on the hockey team and now are turning their attention to baseball. Scheinfain was the third baseman on last year's championship Bridgton nine and will make a bid to retain his place. John Irvin, ex-Lynn Classical player, is competing with the Newton boy for the position. Sutcliffe is one of four outfielders with the squad last year. One of the four is likely to be displaced by Arthur Graham, all-scholastic outfielder at Somerville high school last year and now attending Bridgton. During the April recess many of the players who live in Suburban Boston will work out at the diamond at Tufts Oval.

BASEBALL SQUAD GETS OUTDOORS

The spring weather of the early part of the week enabled Coach John L. Sullivan to hold outdoor practice sessions for the 1930 high school varsity baseball squad. Nearly one hundred athletes responded to the call and were divided into three squads with Coach Sullivan and his assistant, "Jeff" Jones, taking the varsity, R. M. Sanborn taking the intermediate varsity and Howard Jones the junior varsity. The first outdoor session was held on Monday and the second on Wednesday when a six inning practice game was held by the varsity candidates. The pitchers and catchers have been working out in the gym for several weeks and the Newton mentor has obtained a pretty good line on his material. The infielders were given a little indoor practice to get the feel of the ball but could not start any batting practice until this week.

There is considerable promising material in the group of boys working out with the varsity and while there is but one letter man, Captain Perry Elrod, available, many of them have had previous experience on the intermediate or junior varsity nines of a year ago. Coach Sullivan will make an early cut in the varsity squad tomorrow and will spend the next two weeks in individual instruction in preparation of the opening game with Woburn high on the new Claffin Field diamond on Saturday, April 12th.

The foremost pitching prospects are Robert Dalton, George Kraber, Briscoe Chipman, Francis Barba, James McMahon, and Tom Rhea. The batters are Frank Giles, freshmen. The latter two look exceptionally good for first-year men and have a great opportunity to make a name for themselves before graduation. Kraber received some experience with the varsity last season and Chipman with the intermediates. Dalton would probably have been sent to the varsity last season but for scholastic difficulties. Barba pitched good ball as a freshman two years ago but a lame back kept him out of the game last spring.

Behind the bat three catchers have made a favorable impression. They are Norbert Champagne, Francis Lyons and Harold Scholl, with the first starting a close race for the starting berth. Both look good at the bat and one may be transferred to the outfield or first base later on in the season.

Charles Butler, end on the football team, is the leading candidate for first base. He stands six feet five inches and is a smooth infielder. The Haskell rolled 142, Schwab 116, Smith 122, Shedd 132 and Carter 120. Newton captured the third string when Shedd hit 150 and Schwab 125. Maugus won the second string for their only point. Weston took three out of four from Hunnewell on the Weston alleys, increasing their lead in the league. Hunnewell won the second, one point ahead of Maugus, by taking the final string of the match by twenty pins when Loring hit 124 and Ford 118. Waban and University split even on the Waban alleys and Middlesex scored a slam over Commercial at Brockton.

In outfield Captain Perry Elrod will probably hold down the centerfield berth with George Hildreth, a likely looking hitter, in left. Hildreth has played at first base and may be shifted there or to some other infield position. Another week will give Coach Sullivan a chance to make a selection after the candidates have been tried out in various positions to determine their possibilities.

SPORT NOTES

Brown Gets Hockey Letter

James R. Brown of Newtonville, former Newton high school star hockey player, was among those on the Worcester academy hockey team of the past season that were awarded varsity letters the latter part of last week.

Entered in Road Race

Among those entered in the 30th annual 10-mile road race of the Cambridge Y. M. C. A. to be held Saturday afternoon, April 12th, is Augustus Signore, Newton high school runner. Signore placed fourth in the 1929 event.

Two Locals Trying Out

A wealth of pitching material has reported for practice to the coach of the St. John's Prep school baseball team. There are several former schoolboy pitchers of recent years in the group foremost among them being Bill Reilly of Newton and Al Blanche of Somerville.

Powers Sold To Hartford

Johnny Powers of Auburndale, former St. Mary's school of Waltham athlete, has advanced another step in his attempt to win a major league baseball berth. After leaving St. Mary's the local youth went to Manhattan College, N. Y., where he maintained the nine. Last year he played third base for Nashua of the New England league going there from Lowell. While with Nashua he was one of the leading third basemen of the league. He was recently sold to Hartford of the Eastern league.

Terriers Have Practice Game

The Boston University baseball squad staged its first practice game of the season on Monday of this week ending up after seven innings with 2 runs for each team. Carleton McCullough, former Newton high captain, was in left field and Victor Stout, former Newton and Worcester academy infielder, at second base on Team A. Stout and Frank Sheehan are staging a close battle for third base.

GREEN AND HILDRETH NAMED CAPTAINS

Milton Green and George Hildreth have been elected to the captaincies of the 1931 Newton High School track and hockey teams respectively. Green was one of the mainstays of this year's indoor track squad and took many first places in the dual meets as well as several points in the inter-scholastic meets. He is a transfer from Brookline high and has another year at Newton. His favorite event is the high jump but shortly after the season started he took up hurdling and soon became the best to represent Newton. He took third or fourth places in several of the big meets and should be one of the best in schoolboy circles next winter. He also won several points in the broad jumps at the dual meets. The outlook for a good track team next year is bright as only two of the stars of this year's team will graduate. They are Captain Charles Hall and Walter Holmes. Among the veterans expected to be on hand in 1931 are the Signore brothers, Alfred Mousier, James Colligan, Albert Guzzi, Donald Irwin, and Captain-elect Green.

George Hildreth was a regular wing on the 1930 hockey team and in 1929 played on the intermediate varsity sextet. He will be one of two letter men that Coach Dr. Martin will have on hand for next year. With Hildreth on one wing and Kelley, the other letterman at the opposite wing the Newton coach will have to build a new defense and develop a centre-line man. There is considerable material available from the second-string players of the past season in comparison to this when the entire squad with the exception of Captain Fred Schipper was without varsity experience.

SPORT NOTES

Kelley Wins Again

Charles Kelley, Newton boxer, won the 147-lb. class title in the intercity amateur tournament at the Arena Monday night. In his semi-final bout Kelley looked impressive, winning the decision over Honore Chevrier of Montreal in a three-round bout. He was not forced to appear in the final as his opponent, Stanley Carlson of Grand Rapids, suffered a fractured rib in winning his semi-final match and had to default. Several other local youths were entered in the other classes. In the 126-lb. class John Fitzpatrick of Newton won his semi-final round bout over Sickkenga of Grand Rapids but lost the decision to Don Gonzales of Cleveland in the final. In the 118-lb. class Pat McStay lost his first match to Frankie Wallace of Cleveland, ultimate class winner, in three rounds. The Newton youth went down for the count of six in the first round and failed to wear down the Cleveland. In the semi-finals of the heavyweight class in the open bout, Frank Lovely of Newton lost a three-round decision to Sam Lusier of Northridge.

Get Bowdoin Letters

Letter awards in three sports were made at Bowdoin college the first of this week with major letters being awarded in hockey and track and minor letters in swimming. There were Newton youths on each team. Captain William Locke of Newtonville, who has yet to be defeated in a dual match in the 200-yard breaststroke, received the minor award with the other mermen. Captain Stuart Stone of West Newton, George H. Souther of Waban and Harry R. Thayer of Marblehead, former Newton high athletes, were awarded hockey insignia and Harold D. Rising of Newton Centre was among the track men awarded insignia in that sport.

Hunnelfield To Lead Off

Bill Hunnelfield, former local baseball player now with the Chicago White Sox of the American league, is slated to lead off in the Windy City line-up. He will play shortstop.

Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Carl C. Perry's talk on "The Control of Plant Pests of Massachusetts" proved to be of unusual interest to members of The Fellowship Club last Monday evening. Surely we have reason to be grateful to the United States Bureau of Agriculture and to our own Massachusetts Bureau for the work which is being done to control and exterminate plant pests and diseases which destroy our gardens and our beautiful forest and shade trees.

The Boston Pin Tournament closes next week. The leading teams and individuals are as follows: Team 14 is first. It is composed of Messrs. Rhodes, Dunbrack, Bosworth, Haynes and Jones. Team 3 is a close second. This team is composed of Newton Y. M. C. A. Dormitory men: Messrs. E. and A. Carlson, Layden, Morrell and Forsythe. Louis Bills leads in the High Average with 109 and in the High 3 String with 351. Lawrence Trowbridge leads in the High Single with 150.

Chairman Louis Bills of the Bowling Committee is planning to start a short duck pin tournament to finish out the season if enough interest is shown.

The Camp Committee has set aside Saturday, September 12th, for a visit to Camp Frank A. Day. At that time many important improvements for which the Committee have been making plans during the winter months will be inaugurated. Up to this time 101 applications for the 1930 season have been received.

The Women's Auxiliary met on Wednesday afternoon, March 26th. At their business meeting they voted to furnish draperies for the younger boys' Club room and to contribute $300.00 toward the salary of the Boys' Work Secretary. The program at the meeting was furnished by junior members of the Association under the

SEEDS AND FERTILIZERS

If a giant Oak should be burned to the ground, and a squirrel should bury an acorn there, the ashes, with the aid of the rain and sun, would grow another Oak as strong and fair. Hardwood Ashes is a balanced food for trees and shrubs and gives wonderful results on all kinds of lawns and farm crops. The cost is comparatively low.

Ask your local dealer to supply you with Emerson's High Grade Canadian Hardwood Ashes, as well as seeds of every description.

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

"Yes, we need a new city hall," says one man.

"No, we do not need a NEW city hall," says another.

"Newton should have a municipal building of which its citizens may well be proud," the first continues.

"Better put out money on the streets, they're in terrible shape" the other declares.

This, I find, is the argumentative state of mind of many of our Newton citizens. It has all been started by the proposal that the city borrow money outside the debt limit. Certainly we have something to talk about.

With the Mayor and Aldermen agreed on petitioning the Legislature for authority to obtain funds it appears that the whole thing is now a question of where the proposed building shall be erected. I wouldn't go as far as that myself. Newton will first have to ask the Legislature to suspend its rules to admit its petition at the present session. Possibly that permission will be promptly granted.
I have known Legislatures to refuse even Newton on the question of getting such a measure through in the middle or latter part of a legislative session. If there is one thing that the Committee on Municipal Finance of the General Court studies closely it is such propositions. Should you read the news of Boston's efforts in this direction you will see how that city is compelled to show the Municipal Finance Committee a quantity of good reasons for the passage of this kind of a bill. But Newton's petition will first have to go before the Rules Committee and although that body may recommend admission and the Senate and House so vote the Municipal Finance Committee as well as the Legislature itself will have to act. Two hurdles and both high ones, particularly the committee if you ask me.

If the committee confines itself to consideration of the soundness of Newton's financial policies there can be little doubt of favorable action. If, however, there is a protest of any considerable number of citizens that the new building is not needed—well, that is a horse of another color.

It would seem, I must confess, that Newton is well on the way to a new City Hall building. Its City Government has acted. Still, I doubt if the matter has not been driven home to the taxpayers more directly now than the city fathers have often said. It appears that the Mayor and Aldermen mean business and that the project is ultimately going through. This will, however, arouse the citizens more than has anything in the past, for there is something tangible—something to argue for and against.

I'm ready to admit that those who object should have lifted their voices earlier and at a time when the city fathers offered them opportunity. But they won't be easily convinced that they are too late. If all the rumblings
I hear mean anything it may be longer than some people think before Newton is concerned merely with the question of a site for the new building.

How is it that forgetfulness goes hand-in-hand, so to speak with letter-writing, or with letters that have been written and should be mailed but aren't? I suppose that procrastination is responsible for putting off the answering of a letter from a friend or relative. It is customary to begin with an apology. This may contain the truth but more often is politeness and is intended to excuse the writer who has been "so terribly busy" or this or that.

It is not my business to chide, I merely state that a situation exists and add that I am disturbed by it.
Suppose the letter has been written and entrusted to some member of the family to post. Many families can boast of a member who never fails to run right out and drop a letter in the nearest box? Not as many as have members who, having been given one or more letters to mail, are immediately seized with a lapse of memory. There is something that cripples the mental faculties when a sealed envelope, stamped or not, is placed in one's hand. I find that the best way is to carry the letter in one's hand.
If you cannot remember the errand some friend is sure to stop you and inquire, "Where are you going with that letter?" Then you recollect your duty. But should fail to meet the friend and stow the letter in a pocket or bag or pocketbook then—but why discuss these tragic details.

The worst feeling that I have experienced is not so much having failed to mail something for somebody else, but my tottering memory regarding my own correspondence. I try to be fairly prompt with my answers but if I succeed and don't proceed at once to a letter-box, I am sure to toss the letter aside, promising myself that it will be attended to when I find opportunity. Then, somehow or other,
I don't get around to the task as soon as I might. Then it occurs to me that I had the best of intentions but cannot remember whether I mailed the letter or not. The torture of trying to recall each event of the day in the hope that I may remember having placed the letter in a box is most disconcerting. It is one of those things that get on one's mind. There is a desire to write another and ask, "Did you get the letter I wrote two or three days ago?" That, however, makes one appear foolish. Instead I keep on trying to remember? "Did I or did I not mail that letter?" That's foolish, too, but it's better to be foolish and keep it to yourself, I suppose, than make yourself a joke to your friends.

It is sometimes a puzzle to me where toastmasters get their stories.
Such few occasions at which I have served as presiding officer at a dinner for the purpose of introducing speakers I have tried to make a snappy presentation. But I am sure that my stuff was no better than anybody else and find nothing for which to pat myself on the back. Therefore, I am free to say, "We're all in the same boat."

Now toastmasters, it seems to me, feel it a serious duty to tell a story that fits the person introduced. If they only stuck to that principle they would find that there was no story fitted to some individuals and in consequence no joke or semi-joke would have to be sprung on the audience of diners. No, the trouble is that the toastmaster decides he has an obligation and that in order to fulfill it he must hand out a comic yarn between speeches.

Naturally, the toastmaster with this high purpose in mind has to sit down several evenings in advance and think up jests that will fit. He may call on his friends or members of his family, though criticism rather than assistance is more likely to come from the latter. Still, there finally is constructed a chain of anecdotes and these are spilled with more or less success at the banquet. I don't mind it much as an on-looker, although some of the old ones make me squirm. That one about the man who received the bran-died peaches and thanked the donor for "the spirit in which they were sent" always knocks me cold.

The worst I ever heard took place at a political gathering attended by several dignitaries. Here was a Governor, a Senator of the United States and others who deserved no such introduction as they received. The toastmaster, bound to be funny, in opening the exercises said, "I feel like the understander who put a sign in his window, 'No trouble to show goods.'"

It must be a source of satisfaction to the officers and members of the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross to note the success which Miss H. Margaret Norcross is meeting with the courses she is conducting for the chapter in "Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick" and in "First Aid." These are divided into three groups, a standard course for adults, a junior course for girls from 12 to 17 years old and a modified course for younger children and women unable to pass a written examination.

Among the things taught in the standard course of home hygiene are how to make a bed, how to give a bed bath and make a patient comfortable, how to count a pulse and respiration and read a clinical thermometer and how to make a poultice, etc. If these are matters that are not well known
I submit they should be.

The course goes into many important features and includes the teaching of foundation principles of feeding both sick and well. Miss Norcross says, "I asked one little girl if she drank coffee for breakfast and she replied, 'O, no, I never eat any breakfast.' And she had for lunch three jelly doughnuts, some lemon pie and a tuna fish salad."

Speaking of diets I am sure that the little girl isn't half as much to blame as those who are much older and who should know better. These latter never seem to learn until it is too late. By having the young instructed they will be spared some of those terrible complaints that afflict adults who groan that their stomachs have "gone back on them."

A glance at the work in first aid is also most informing. The junior and senior courses require 15 hours—usually completed in 10 meetings. The pupils study what to do as well as what not to do before the doctor comes and furthermore prevention of accidents. In simple terms, and with the aid of charts, the construction of the body and the circulatory system is explained. Then the pupils learn how to bandage, handle a sterile compress, put on a sling, stop bleeding, treat shock and so forth. Special emphasis is put on ways of improvising materials when the regulation thing is not at hand. In addition each student must pass an individual test on the Schaefer method of artificial respiration. Certificates are granted from Washington to those who pass. In the case of Scouts merit badges are also awarded.

From this sketch of the work Miss Norcross is doing—and it is only a part of her splendid activities—we cannot fail to appreciate what is being done through the support and indorsement of the earnest and high-minded people of Newton who gladly stand by Miss Norcross in her accomplishments.

You hear of people doing this or that automatically. Sort of second nature, as they say. Also you are told that people often take things for granted. If we stop to think I guess we can cite one or more examples. Either one may result in disaster, trifling or great. When both happen at the same time there is likely to be that which is worthy of attention. Here is a tale that has its moral.

This happened on the Boston & Maine. It is too bad that it didn't happen on the Boston & Albany for then it could be brought nearer home.
At that it isn't so remote, for what I am about to relate did take place on a train running between Boston and Malden.

A regular commuter took his seat for a morning ride to business as per his regular week-day schedule. It was the same train, same conductor and all that sort of thing that makes up a business man's daily routine. He and the conductor were old friends. I say "were" for maybe it's all off now. Anyway they always talked over all sorts of things, day in and day out, including politics, the Garrett investigation and goodness knows what.

On the morning in question Mr. Passenger had received a print of a picture—it was one of those snapshots with which we are all familiar—showing his infant grandson playing with the family dog. A cute bit of photography. He knew the conductor would be interested and when the latter came along Mr. Passenger passed it over for his inspection.

Now then, here's where that "automatic" stuff comes in. The conductor, running true to form, took the snapshot and promptly punched it four or five times with his little punch. It was all done so quickly that Mr. Passenger had no time to protest. He had

Chevrolet announces

A NEW SERVICE POLICY

The Chevrolet Motor Company and its dealers are pleased to announce a new service policy—one of the most liberal ever offered on a low-priced automobile.

Put into force as a written agreement given to the purchaser by the Chevrolet dealer when the car is delivered—it offers the following provisions:

1 Every Chevrolet owner receives his car from the dealer in perfect condition —thoroughly lubricated, properly adjusted, and ready to operate efficiently from the first mile of ownership.

2 Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free inspection and adjustment of his car at the end of the first 500 miles of usage.

3 Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free inspection of his car every 1000 miles thereafter, so long as the car is in operation.

4 Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free replacement of any part which may prove defective in workmanship or material, within the terms of Chevrolet's standard warranty. This includes both parts and labor.

5 Provision number 4 will be carried out by any Chevrolet dealer in the United States. As a result, the Chevrolet owner may travel to any part of the country, with assurance that the guarantee on materials and workmanship will remain in force.

This new policy constitutes proof of Chevrolet's high quality—for such liberal provisions could only be made in connection with a car built of fine materials to exact standards of workmanship.

Back of this policy, and assuring its successful operation, is one of the most complete and efficient service organizations in the world.

There are more than 10,000 Authorized Chevrolet Dealer Service Stations in the United States alone. Each employs skilled mechanics thoroughly trained at Chevrolet Service Schools. Each has specially designed tools and machinery developed exclusively for Chevrolet service work. And each has on hand, at all times, an adequate stock of genuine Chevrolet replacement parts.

Chevrolet's flat-rate charges, including both parts and labor, are the lowest in the industry on many service operations!

In considering the purchase of a low-priced automobile, think what this service means—in terms of lasting satisfaction, as well as in increased economy.

GUN CLUB AT AUBURDALE BURNED

The Waltham Gun Club building located at Pine Island on the boundary between Auburndale and Waltham, was destroyed by fire Monday night. A number of guns and trophies were lost. The cause of the fire is unknown but it is believed the fire may have been set. Since it was started about a year ago the club has been a great annoyance to residents of Auburndale and West Newton.
"Skeet" matches have been held there Saturday afternoons and holidays and the incessant discharge of guns on these occasions have worn the nerves of persons residing over a half-mile distant. The club and one of its officers were found guilty in the Newton court of maintaining a nuisance, and fined. Appeals were taken and the defendants were acquitted in the Superior Court. A bill was entered before the Legislature the past year to give the city authority to compel the club to "cease firing" within the city limits. This bill was considered too broad in its scope and was withdrawn; city officials were informed that persons bothered by the noise of gun-fire have the right to bring those responsible for the club's activities into court for maintaining a nuisance.
Whether, or not, they can prove their contention is another story.

NEWTON MAN CRASHES ISLAND

An automobile operated by George Meade of 28 Lincoln road, Newton, crashed into one of the safety islands on Massachusetts avenue, North Cambridge, early Sunday morning. The car was badly damaged. Meade received cuts and bruises and was treated at the Cambridge Hospital.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Quite the most interesting and appealing event of the week is the Annual Arts and Crafts Exhibit of the Newtonville Woman's Club which will be held at the Central Congregational Church on Tuesday, April 1st, from 4 to 10 p. m.

This is an exhibition of the work of local artists and master craftsmen, its object being to better acquaint club members and their friends with the work of talented people who live in the community. Friends in neighboring villages are especially welcome to join in this fascinating event.

Mrs. Orin E. Skinner is in direct charge of the affair, with members of the Art committee assisting her. Refreshments will be served both afternoon and evening by the Hospitality committee, of which Mrs. Robert C. Kelley is chairman.

By invitation of the Albany Carpet Cleaning Company, the Club is planning two trips of inspection of its plant on Penniman road, Allston, on two successive Friday mornings, March 28th, and April 1st, at 10 a. m. Those who are interested either in going themselves or furnishing cars for transportation, are requested to notify the Club president, or Mrs. W. L. Vosburgh, who will give further directions in regard to the trip.

The processes of cleaning and repairing Oriental and domestic rugs ought to be most interesting to view.

In response to an appeal from the Emergency committee of the London Naval Conference for immediate and active help in massing public opinion behind President Hoover's effort for "Disarmament," the Newtonville Woman's Club has framed the following resolution which it urges its members to sign:

Whereas, President Hoover has taken inspiring leadership toward disarmament, therefore,

Be it resolved that we, members of the Newtonville Woman's Club, loyally follow his guidance, and call upon our delegates at the London Naval Conference to work for the largest possible measure of Naval Reduction.

The Legislative committee, Mrs. H. P. Patey, chairman, wishes to get the signatures of as many Club members as possible.

Shakespeare Club

Mrs. A. L. Pratt opens her home, 67 Fisher avenue, on Saturday afternoon, March 29th, at 2:30 o'clock, for members of the Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands. The program will be a Quiz on Acts IV and V of "The Merchant of Venice," with Mrs. Frank S. Keith in charge of this interesting form of presentation.

C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands

Members of the Newton Highlands, C. L. S. C. are to meet on the 1.16 train to Boston from Newton Highlands on Monday, the 31st, to enjoy the program arranged for their Special Day, which has been arranged by Mrs. C. Peter Clark. They are to visit the Armory, in Boston, and view the collection of trophies, and reminders of great events, which comprise the amazing and vitally interesting exhibit of the Loyal Legion. Unless one has had the experience of seeing this collection, one can hardly guess at, or realize, the scope of this gathering of years and of human histories.

Waban Woman's Club

At the meeting of the Waban Woman's Club, on March 31st, Mrs. Daniel M. Goodrich, chairman of the State Department of Conservation, will be the guest of honor, and will give a short talk on the State Federation's gift of a Forest to Massachusetts for the Tercentenary Celebration. Mr. William N. Craig, horticulturist, of Weymouth, will talk on "Healthful Hints to Amateur Gardeners."

Then there will be a competitive

"Hall Table Display of Flowers," for which prizes will be awarded. The judges for this fascinating competition will be Mrs. Ward I. Cornell, president of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands, Mrs. Alex G. Caldwell of Waban, and Mr. Craig. A social tea will conclude the meeting.

Community Service Club of West Newton

Prof. Sophie Hart of Wellesley College, one of the most interesting speakers in the literary field today, will give the next in her series of talks in the Literary Course for members and of the Community Service Club of West Newton, on Monday morning, the 31st, in the Unitarian Parish House. In taking up what she calls "The Significant Books of the Day," Miss Hart will describe in the second group of fiction which she has discussed, the following novels: Sigrid Undset's "The Wilderness"; Rebecca West's "Harriet Hume"; Robert Graves' quantity entitled "Goodbye to All That," and Thomas Mann's "Magic Mountain" and "Budden Brooks."

Auburndale Review Club

Mrs. Arthur C. Farley of 251 Central street, will be the hostess for the next meeting of the Auburndale Review Club, to be held April 1st. Papers will be read by the following members: Mrs. Madison Cannon, on "World Politics in the Pacific"; Mrs. Amos R. Wells, on "Herrick"; and by Mrs. Otis Cary on "Our Foreign Policies since 1924."

Social Science Club

The Social Science Club will meet at the Hunnewell Club on Wednesday, April 2nd, at 10 o'clock. After the business meeting a one-act play will be read by Mrs. Charles S. Ensign, Mrs. Samuel N. Braham, and Mrs. Joe W. Gerrity, under the direction of Miss Eugenie F. Bradshaw, Mrs. Louis D. Gibbs and Mrs. Alonzo R. Weed will be hostesses for this meeting.

Auburndale Woman's Club

On Thursday, April 3rd, the Auburndale Woman's Club will hear a discussion of "What's Right with America," by the Rev. James Gordon Gilkey, D.D., minister of the South Congregational Church, of Springfield. Music will complete the program.

State Federation

RADIO. Mrs. C. A. Stockbridge, chairman of Education, will broadcast: "Guidedposts and Goals," from WNAC, next Wednesday morning, April 2nd, at 11:30 o'clock. At 11:50, Louis Shatfrin, Tenor, accompanied by Jessie Fleming Vose, is to entertain with trumpet solos and songs. Miss Marion C. Nichols, chairman of Civil Service, may be heard at 11:50, in a broadcast on "The Weakest Link in the Crime Problem."

CLUB INSTITUTES. Again comes the first Thursday of the month, with the popular and informative program arranged for Clubwomen—officers and members—by Mrs. Thomas J. Walker. The timely topic of Club programs will be discussed by speakers from the various Clubs who will tell of their outstanding successes and of entertainments of the current year. As usual, the Hotel Vendome, at 10 a. m., on April 3rd, is the place and time for this meeting.

NEW OFFICERS. There is always a flutter of interest and anticipation in awaiting the report of the Nominating committee, with the list of proposed officers for the coming year of the State Federation. Even though it is sure to be the rotation in office that characterizes the policy of the organization, there is sure to be a name added here or there that has been causing a bit of wondering on the part of Clubwomen who have learned from some source that such and such an officer is, for some personal reason of home affairs, or of the individual, not to continue. The list this year seems to be quite methodically moved up a place, as will be seen in comparing with last year, except in two or three instances. Mrs. Packard, having served her allotted two years, is to be followed by the first vice-president, Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, of the Belmont Women's Club, as president. Other officers to be voted in, in May, to serve for 1930-31 are:

First vice-president, Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, Jr., of the North Shore Club, Lynn; second vice-president, Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, of the Whitinsville Women's Club; third vice-president, Mrs. John H. Kimball, of the Danvers Women's Association; fourth vice-president, Mrs. Heman A. Harding, of the Chatham Women's Club; Clerk, Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth, of the Fort-nighly, Winchester; Assistant clerk, Mrs. Charles L. Fuller, of the Brockton Women's Club; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Charles G. Wetherbee, of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club; treasurer, Mrs. Frederick S. Davis, of the Presidents' Club, Boston; directors for three years: Third District, Miss Ada E. Baldwin, of the New Century Club, Mansfield; Eighth District, Mrs. Harold P. Johnson, of the Woburn Women's Club; Tenth District, Mrs. Samuel H. Thompson, of the Middlesex Woman's Club; Lowell; Eleventh District, Mrs. C. A. Stockbridge, of the Maynard Woman's Club; and Fourteenth District, Mrs. Harry H. Gowdy, of the Westfield Women's Club.

Nominating committee for 1930-31: Mrs. Herbert J. Curry, chairman, of the Wollaston Women's Club; Mrs. Ernest R. Brackett, of the West Medford Women's Club; Mrs. George Gomeley, of the Abington Women's Club; Mrs. Daniel M. Goodrich, of the Newton Community Club; Mrs. Clifton Johnson, of the Hampden County Women's Club.

The Nominating Committee for 1929-30 presenting this list included: Mrs. Frederick G. Smith, chairman; Mrs. Frederic E. Dowling; Mrs. Edmund W. Elwell; Mrs. John C. Hull, and Mrs. Philip H. Tirrell.

It will be observed that Newton has the honor of two on the new ballot—Mrs. Wetherbee, of Newton Highlands, who is to be re-elected as corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Goodridge, who has served as chairman of Conservation, and who is now asked to show the judgment and wisdom of her ripe experience so gained in choice of women she has met, for the Nominating committee.

INTER-RACIAL UNITY CONFERENCE. The Annual Conference of the Department of Inter-racial Unity in America, arranged by Mrs. C. H. Dunforth, chairman, will be held in the Auditorium of the Children's Settlement, at 85 Shawmut avenue, Boston, on Tuesday, April 8th. The Hostess Club for this Conference is the Women's Auxiliary to Morgan Memorial. The program for the day includes the following:

At the morning session, opening at 9:45, greetings from the State Federation, by Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, first vice-president; by Mrs. John H. Kimball, second vice-president; and by Mrs. William J. MacDonald, Sixth District director. At 10 o'clock, "Foreign-born Mothers and American Daughters," will be the topic discussed by Mrs. Earle F. Higgins, of Southbridge. At 10:30, "Race Attitudes in Children," by Miss Mary Chapin Shute, of Boston Teachers' College; at 11, "Books as Helps to Inter-racial Understanding," by Miss Edna Phillips, of the Massachusetts State Division of Public Libraries; at 11:20 a one act play, "To Be Dealt With Accordingly," by Mary K. Reely, put on by the Dramatic Class of the Wollaston Woman's Club, will be presented for entertainment, and at 11:55, Greetings from the Hostess Club, will be given by Mrs. Robert H. Schacht, vice-president of Brookline.

The afternoon session will open at 2 o'clock with songs by Miss Josephine Lupachini, of Framingham. At 2:30, "Making a Citizenship Chart, a useful Club project," will be discussed by Miss Anna M. Warren of Holyoke; at 2:45, "Old-World Backgrounds and New-World Foregrounds" will be discussed by racial leaders of Boston, subdivided as follows: Armenian, by Mrs. Arousiak Barsheghian; Greek, by Mr. Harris J. Booras; Russian, by Miss Olga Nicholaevsky; and Syrian, by Mr. Shibley D. Malouf.

Luncheon will be served by the Hostess Club, and reservations should reach Miss Lillian A. Richards, 85 Shawmut avenue, not later than April 3rd. Those applying should enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. To reach the Children's Settlement, from Park street subway, take a City Point car; leave the car at Shawmut avenue, the first stop after leaving the subway. By motor, take Broadway from Park Square, or Stuart street, to Shawmut avenue.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

"The Philippines and Independence" is the subject for the last discussion planned by the International committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, of which Miss M. Louise Walworth is Chairman. On Friday morning, April 11th, at 10:30 a. m., Mr. Octavio L. Maloles, of the Philippine Islands, will speak to interested club members and their friends on this topic. Mr. Maloles is now doing graduate work at Harvard and is a thoughtful student of this Philippine problem.

It will be of value to hear the point of view of a citizen of the Philippines, as to when and how independence should be granted to this country. This is one of the vital problems in the foreign policy of the United States. Three bills have been introduced into Congress during this past winter and there is also the Jones Act of 1916 in regard to this matter. The International Committee is offering an educational opportunity to the Club. Admission is (Continued on page 9)

COLOR schemes are all important these days—that's why unpainted furniture is such a practical thing to buy. Whether it's an occasional table, a breakfast set, a single chair, or furniture for an entire room, you can choose just the sort you want and finish it any way you like. It's individual then and fits in perfectly with your decorative scheme.

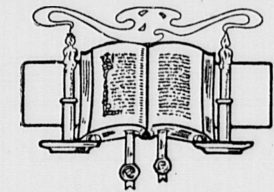

Painting your own furniture is fascinating work in which there's a great deal of personal satisfaction. Our furniture is all sanded smooth, ready to stain or paint. We have paints, stains and varnishes and brushes to apply them. Our color harmony chart may help you in deciding upon a color scheme.

If you haven't time to do it yourself, or are not just sure of your ability as a painter, we will be glad to do the work for you, very reasonably. We have a Color Workshop just for the purpose. You may choose the colors you want from our color cards when you pick out your furniture, or give us a sample of something you want to match. In a few days we will have your furniture ready for you, beautifully finished.

It's very economical to buy furniture this way, especially at our exceptionally reasonable prices. Our furniture is made of fine hard woods, carefully built to last. Our Colonial reproductions are authentic in design and proportions, and always in good taste.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED

The Annual Convention of the Norwobeg District Council of Religious Education was successfully conducted last Tuesday evening, as planned, with 300 or more in attendance at the evening session.

The business session consisted of a series of brief reports and the election of new officers. Dr. Mark H. Ward of Newton Highlands was elected the new president, in place of Everett A. Greene, the retiring president, who has for three years efficiently served as president. Mr. R. O. Walter of Auburndale was re-elected as treasurer, for it is well known that none could so successfully handle the finances for this work as well as can Mr. Walter.

Rev. Chas. L. Sheasholes of Watertown, chairman of the Training School Committee reported that the policy of decentralizing the teacher-training work, holding courses of study in Belmont, Watertown, Waltham and Newton, instead of in one location only, has been successful and will be continued another year.

Mr. Frank H. Grebe, chairman of the Young People's Advisory Committee, reported that a similar policy of Y. P. Council work in more centers throughout the District has been adopted this year, with evident success, more interest and more fundamental results.

Dr. Mark H. Ward, the incoming president, announced the new plan approved by the Board of Education, that a Church School Exhibit be held for the District as a whole sometime late in May, at which time handwork, posters, pictures, etc., might be on display, also other methods of reporting the work of various schools for the year might be planned.

New members of the Board of Education, to fill vacancies, were elected, as follows: Hon. Edwin O. Childs, former mayor of Newton, Henry Johnson of Watertown, and Everett A. Greene, retiring president.

Dr. Theodore G. Soares of Chicago gave the address of the evening, on the topic "Sunday School Teaching and Human Experience." He emphasized the fact that we must lift Bible facts out of the printed page, and "mentally dramatize" them by thinking of them in terms of modern experience. The art of living together, as individuals in a group, or as groups in a larger environment, should be the subject matter for teachers in the church. Human experience is the only topic for us to teach. We go to the Bible and to Christian biography to help learn the secrets of human experience, to learn what to do and what not to do in this business of living together successfully. Many incidents from actual experience of teaching were given by Dr. Soares, providing humor and making clear the principles emphasized by the speaker.

Letters To The Editor

West Newton, Mar. 25, 1930.

To the Editor:

I learn that papers are being circulated in West Newton in favor of licensing a Moving Picture Theatre here. The matter does not seem to have come to the attention of the public generally. I remember a few years ago when this same subject was being agitated by the Men's Club of West Newton canvassed their membership, and if my memory serves me correctly an adverse decision was reached. Thus far I have received no notification that a similar canvass is being made.

I wish to enter a protest through your paper to the issuing of such a license. When the Community theatre at Newton Corner was being advocated it was proclaimed that it was to be a Community built and controlled theatre, and largely on this plea the license was granted. I understand that now that theatre is owned and controlled by outside interests, presumably unloaded by our local interests at a good profit. No such attempt is being made to present the proposed theatre at West Newton as a community affair but just a business deal. A word of warning, I believe, is needed to caution our citizens that a worldwide as well as nation wide protest is being made against the American Movie interests for their failure to make proper reform in the character of their films. This is taking the form of a bill, (House bill 9986) introduced by Congressman Grant Hudson of Michigan to declare the whole business of producing, distributing and exhibiting moving and talking pictures a public utility and to create a national commission for the control of this utility from the first stages of production to its public presentation on the screen.

Better lock the door of our stable before the horse is stolen, or better look into the whole matter before a license is granted for another moving picture house in Newton.

Fred L. Smith.

VISIT MUSEUM

Newton schools visiting the Children's Museum of Boston for the illustrated Tercentenary talk "Famous Scenes and Men of Early Boston," given by Miss Madeline B. Sawyer of the Museum Staff, included the Ward, Stearns and Bigelow Schools, Newton Centre; the Claffin School, Newtonville; the Davis School, West Newton; and the Hyde School, Newton Highlands. The talk vividly supplemented school Tercentenary study and is enriched with fine visual material in the shape of colonial articles, lantern slides, drawings, mounted pictures and illuminating maps. Because of popular demand the talk will be repeated for school classes in April.

POLICE NEWS

Charles Phippen and Charles Foster, two colored men who resided at Virginia road, West Newton, appeared at the Newton court last Friday before Judge Brown in a private session. Phippen is 33 years of age and a native of this city. Foster is 34 and came from Texas. They were charged with moral offenses against three young white girls, aged 12, 14 and 15 who reside in West Newton. Phippen was first charged with lewdness but after a more serious charge was placed against Foster. After hearing the testimony Friday, Judge Brown found probable cause against each and ordered the two bound over to the Grand Jury in bonds of $10,500. In default of bail they were taken to the East Cambridge jail.

John Conti, an attorney residing at 53 Riverside street, Watertown was in the Newton court last Friday charged by Patrolman McNeil with speeding. His case was continued for a week. In court the same day Charles Micheli of 26 Pitts street, Boston was fined $20 for speeding. Patrolman Smith testified that Micheli cut in front of another car on Boylston street while going at a high rate of speed. Autoists fined $10 each for speeding included Charles Weeden, 17, Fessenden school, West Newton; Harry Columbus, Salem.

Reginald Backler of 501 Dudley road, Oak Hill was sentenced by Judge Bacon in the Newton court last Friday to serve 30 days in jail for driving while under the influence of liquor. He was also fined $10 for drunkenness. Backler appealed and was held in $500 bonds. He was arrested early last week by Patrolman Foley at Oak Hill after his car had been in an accident.

Dr. Percival Butler of Marlboro street, Boston appealed a $5 fine imposed upon him in the Newton court on Friday for not stopping before entering Washington street at the junction with Beacon street, Lower Falls. There have been a number of accidents at this dangerous corner and it is being closely watched by the police. Butler contended he had stopped his car. Eleven others were fined $5 each for failing to stop before entering Washington street; nine of these were from outside the city. Others found guilty in court the same day for violating automobile laws were—Alfreda Hilton, $10 for driving with improper brakes; Richard Amberg of Standish Hall, Cambridge for speeding, $10, driving without a license in possession $5, not stopping before entering Washington street, $5; John Hulsmit, arrested after failing to appear in court on a summons, $5 for not stopping before entering Washington street, $5 for driving without a license in his possession, $5 for driving without a registration in his possession.

Inspector Richard Goode, was responsible for obtaining information last Friday which indicates that Carmine Cavaretta of Watertown, sentenced earlier for manslaughter, committed arson in 1909 and was sentenced to six years in jail at that time. Goode had endeavored to connect Cavaretta with this offense before the slayer of Gallo was tried in the Superior Court. Because Cavaretta had not been fingerprinted at the time of his arrest, Goode could not prove his suspicions. Friday he received from Roscoe Hill of the Boston Identification Bureau of the Department of Correction the information that photographs and descriptions tend to show that Cavaretta is the same man, who as Carmine Cavaretta was convicted of arson in Suffolk County. Cavaretta was tried for first degree murder, but Asst. District Attorney Volpe, who prosecuted the case, accepted a change of plea to manslaughter.

Isaac Goldstein of Arbutus street, Dorchester was fined $50 in the Newton court Monday when convicted of speeding. Goldstein has had a license to operate only for about year, but within that time he has been convicted thrice for speeding. In court the same day John O'Connor of Westwood road, Natick, was fined $100 for driving while under the influence of liquor.

Jacob Chiros of Wetherell street, Upper Falls was in court Monday and charged with assault and battery on complaint of his wife. He was given a suspended sentence of six months.

Autoists fined $10 each in the Newton court on Monday for speeding included Harold Krider, Brookline avenue, Boston; Alexander Kwong, Saxon road, Newton Highlands; Ayer Ames, Bay State road, Boston; Mrs. Frances Krut, Eliot street, Wellesley; Richard Schofield, Wellesley; Lawrence Russell, Wellesley.

Monday night as Patrolmen Chadwick and McCormick were standing at the corner of Grant and Commonwealth avenues, Newton Centre, a large sedan came along at a high rate of speed. McCormick stepped onto the street to signal the driver to stop but was forced to jump aside as the car came hurtling by. Chadwick commanded a high powered car operated by Donald Armstrong of Hammond street and gave pursuit. The chase led along the avenue into Grafton road and across Homer street where the fugitive car went across a sidewalk, crashed into a shrubbery and an iron fence, stopped when it hit the abutment over the brook at the Newton Centre playground. During the flight the speedometer in Armstrong's car registered 90 miles speed.

As the pursued car was halted its driver jumped out and ran across the playground. Patrolman Chadwick drawing his revolver and shouting after him, Louis Golden of Newton Centre, who was nearby, heard the shots and caught the fugitive as he approached. The prisoner identified himself as Eliot Rollins, 17, of 108 Walnut street, East Dedham. The car he was operating is the property of the Packard-Nash Company of Hyde Park, where Rollins is accused of having stolen it. He was in court Tuesday morning charged with driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public, refusing to stop when ordered to do so by a policeman, using an automobile without

The Girl Scout Movie held at the Paramount Theatre, last Saturday, March 22, was a great success. Although the entire proceeds have not been determined as yet, it is estimated that the largest amount ever raised will be the result. The candy alone brought in over $80. The Newton Local Council is very grateful to Mr. John N. Snider, manager of the theatre, for his splendid co-operation; much of the success is due to his efforts. Mrs. Walton S. Redfield managed the movie and carried everything through so efficiently and yet with so little apparent effort that perhaps few of us have realized what a big job she did. Under the direction of Miss Adelaide Ball, Chairman, the Newton Officers' Association did the detail work that is necessary in every big enterprise; Mrs. H. H. Ballard's Scouts, of Troop 10, Newtonville, were in charge of the ushering and selling candy, while Mrs. H. H. Ballard, assisted by Mrs. Widger took in the tickets; Miss Olive Webster, Mrs. Ralph Emery, and Miss Mary Elliot were kept busy at the box office; Miss Margaret Ball is to be congratulated on the success of the candy table; and Mrs. W. W. Bigelow's Scouts, of Troop 15, West Newton, helped with the work of cleaning up afterward. The troops themselves did their share, selling tickets, and bringing in candy and popcorn balls. Troop 25 of West Newton sold the most tickets, 200 in all, and also brought in the largest amount of candy; the troop is to be especially commended as the success was due entirely to the Patrol Leaders and girls, as the Captain had to be away the week before the movie. Troop 23 of Newton Centre, and Troop 1, a Newtonville troop just formed this year, each brought in 27 pounds of candy.

The Camp Mary Day folders are out and requests for applications should be sent in as soon as possible. This year there will be two long-term periods of one month each, while some girls will also be accepted for two weeks. The State Camp folders are also out; the camps are Wind-in-the-Pines, Bournemouth, Mass., for girls 12½ and 13 years of age; the Director of this camp will be Mrs. Eleanor Widger, of Newton Centre; the Junior Camp at Cedar Hill for girls ten to thirteen, under the direction of Mrs. George Davis, of Lexington; Frisky Hill, Gilmanton, N. H., for girls over 13½, under the direction of Miss Margaret Kimball; and Four Winds, at Bournemouth, also for girls over 13½, with Miss Edith Smett, as Camp Director. Applications for these camps may be had upon request at 143 Newbury Street, Boston; they should then be signed by the Captain and by Newton Headquarters, and returned to Boston as soon as possible, for the girls will be accepted in the order in which applications are received. Girls may stay at Four Winds this year for as long as they wish; other camps also will receive girls for any period, of two weeks or more.

Miss Eleanor Hill, of West Newton, who has been Captain of Troop 22, Newtonville, is en route to Europe with Miss Elizabeth Kilburn, also of West Newton, and a Lieutenant in both the above troops.

Troop 21 put on three very fine plays on Friday evening, March 21; the whole entertainment was arranged by the girls themselves and the only outside help they had was the coaching of two of the plays. "The Maker of Dreams" was coached by Miss Freeman, and "The Grill," by Mrs. H. H. Skelton, and the last play, "Rich Man Poor Man," the girls worked on themselves with the help of a Lieutenant. They took in about $100, and the girls will go towards purchasing beds for the Severn Highland Cabin at Camp Mary Day.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

What promises to be a very large and brilliant affair is scheduled to take place at the Commonwealth Country Club, Chestnut Hill, on the evening of Wednesday April 2.

Mrs. D. Earl Brackett, Mrs. Roy F. Chamberlain, Mrs. Leo F. Emerson, and Wilford D. Gray are very actively interested in this Auction, Bazaar and party. Others also taking a prominent part are Mesdames Joel M. Barnes, A. Morandi Bartlett, Paul F. Butler, George F. Graham, Charles H. Geissler, Raymond A. Gagan, O. Glenn Upper, Henry John Horn, John F. Malley, E. J. Murphy, Charles F. Onthank, Kenneth C. Parker, Wilmont M. Paterson, Joseph F. Vass, Miss Annette Garel and Miss Edith E. Wright.

PAGEANT SUCCESSFULLY PRESENTED

Last Sunday evening approximately 100 young people from the five churches of Newton, the Channing, Eliot, Grace, Immanuel Baptist and Methodist, presented Percy MacKaye's impressive pageant, "The Pilgrim and the Book," in the Eliot Church. The pageant was presented under the direction of Miss Bessie M. Stratton, director of Religious Education of the Eliot Church, to a capacity house. From the standpoint of dramatic action and lighting effects the presentation was of a very high order and was a very significant event for the entire community.

authority. His case was continued until March 27.

Monday night James Morgan of 2084 Beacon street, Lower Falls, discovered that his car had been stolen from opposite the West Newton Building. A few minutes after he had notified the police the missing car was observed in Wellesley and its driver arrested. He gave his name as John Gateley, 18, of 144 Summer street, Watertown. He was turned over to the Newton police and will be tried March 31.

ROTARY CLUB

The regular weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club of Newton was held on Monday, March 24th, at the Woodland Golf Club, at 12:15. President Charles D. Amey presiding.

Visiting Rotarians from Boston, Watertown, Natick, and Caribou, Maine, were welcome visitors at this meeting. G. Wilbur Thompson introduced as the speaker of the day, Mr. Joseph H. Maynard, owner of the Boston Brass Company of Waltham. Mr. Maynard took as his subject "Trade Practice Rules."

He stated that the Federal Trade Commission was of great assistance in many large industries where competition is very keen, in helping to enforce the Trade Practice Rules now in use. A few of the industries that have been benefited by applying these rules are the oil industry, furniture, grocery, plumbing, etc. These rules deal with such subjects as; inducing breach of contract, misbranding of goods, misrepresentation of goods, selling goods below cost, price, shipments, price discrimination, secret rebates, etc.

He further stated that 80% of all business houses in competitive business were in favor of these rules.

Mr. Maynard believed that if Trade Practice Rules were applied to the shoe and textile industries the whole country, as well as New England, it would be a great benefit to both of these industries.

Mr. Maynard urged on his audience to stand behind President Hoover and his policies as this would help in a large measure to stabilize general business and decrease the unemployment situation.

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Ellis are in Bermuda where Dr. Ellis is recuperating after his recent illness.

D. A. R.

By invitation of Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R., the regular March meeting of Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter was held on Tuesday in the Lucy Jackson Chapter House, Newton Lower Falls. Mrs. Claud O. Bassett was chairman of hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Lewis P. Everett, Mrs. Hiram A. Sherman, Mrs. Loren F. Fletcher, Mrs. Raymond Kent, Mrs. Walter F. Stevens, Mrs. Charles O. Farrar and Mrs. Gilbert B. Fletcher.

The regent, Mrs. Chester W. Tudbury, presided, and after the usual devotional exercises, expressed a cordial appreciation of the hospitality of Lucy Jackson Chapter.

Reports of committee were given, the chairman of Ellis Island, Mrs. James W. Foster, stating that a box of materials valued at $20 had been packed and shipped to Ellis Island.

Mrs. Albion H. Brown, delegate to the 36th state D. A. R. Congress held in Boston on March 19 and 20, then gave a clear and concise report of the meetings which she attended. Mrs. Brown's account of the business which came before the conference was an inspiration for renewed effort in all lines of work.

The regent introduced a guest of the chapter from the Philippine Islands, Mrs. Elsa, who told of her life there and the work accomplished by the D. A. R. chapter of which she is a member.

Reverend Adelbert L. Hudson of Dorchester was the speaker of the afternoon, his subject being "The Contribution of the Adams Family to American Independence."

A friendly social hour was enjoyed at the close of the meeting, tea being served by the hostess in the attractive dining room of the Chapter House.

W. C. T. U.

The Newton Women's Christian Temperance Union is to assemble at the Newton Centre Unitarian Church, corner of Centre and Parker streets, on Thursday, April 3, at 2:30 o'clock p. m. The speakers of the afternoon are Dr. Marietta Reid, "Medical Temperance," and Miss Cora Cobb, "Scientific Temperance Instruction."

Hostesses Mrs. A. L. Cushing, and Mrs. H. E. Shuts.

GOVERNOR SQUARE

Newton residents take a deep interest in the proposed improvement of Governor Square and we do not believe they will relish the position taken by City Solicitor Bartlett that the proposed improvement will be a "dangerous precedent." We are very sure that there are many precedents already established in the many relations established in the Metropolitan district that at one time looked "dangerous" but which have proved most desirable in actual practice. Newton should stand ready and willing to do all it can to improve the dangerous conditions at Governor Square and incidentally to take a step toward a future subway to this city.

Senator Walsh is very prominent in tariff matters affecting certain industries but the voters of Massachusetts should remember that Mr. Walsh was a member of the Democratic-Insurgent Republican coalition which has been so destructive to many of the measures desired by the Eastern states.

Mayor Weeks has made an admirable selection in appointing the trustees of the Chaffin Fund.

NEW FURNITURE STORE TO OPEN

The opening of a beautiful new furniture store in Newton Centre by the F. H. Page Co., of Boston has been announced for next week Saturday, April 5th. This company located at 96 North Washington street, for many years, has long been identified with the selling of better grade furniture with an especial reputation for a very fine line of bedding which they will feature as one of the main lines in the local store. The Newton Centre store will also feature fine Colonial and other period reproductions and will maintain a service for restoring and reupholstering antiques. Home makers will also be interested in their home furnishing service through which advice about furnishings and decorative schemes may be had in the home without charge. A beautiful window displays will be an attraction at the local store at 750 Beacon street.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Both branches have passed the book censorship bill in amended form. The law prohibited the sale or distribution of a book or publication of any kind containing anything indecent. The present measure prohibits the sale and distribution of a book or publication which is indecent. On the surface this would not appear as any great change but apparently there is a difference for the matter has been debated and considered at great length. The bill was not in this form when it left the Senate last week. Then it provided that a book must be judged indecent as a whole and not by one or more isolated passages. The House would not stand for this, or at least the framers of the bill felt that it would not and supporters of the original Senate form readily consented to a change by the House in the form of an amendment. This amendment made the bill over in the shape it now stands and which appears agreeable all around, or at least to a large majority.

The Senate by a rising vote of 23 to 5 killed the bill to require that pupils attending private schools shall be vaccinated. The House had previously passed the bill. It is one of those measures that comes annually before the Legislature. It was never so rapidly disposed of as this year.

Another measure that came from the House with apparent possibilities of passage was killed by the upper branch. It was that which provided that the playing of bridge or bridge whist for prizes not exceeding $100 in $25 would be permitted under the auspices of religious, charitable, military, civic and fraternal organizations. By a voice vote the Senate rejected the bill. Senator Hollis fought against the bill, declaring it legalized gambling.

A bill which would have made it easier for outdoor speakers to make addresses in public parks was rejected by the House by rollcall, 134 to 81. The measure would have made it unnecessary for speakers to obtain police authority for opportunity to make utterances in public parks. Opponents argued that it was favored by those of communistic tendencies while friends of the measure contended that it would prove a safety valve and remind the House that England permits all sorts of people to talk their heads off, so to speak, in Hyde Park. Representatives Baker, Luitwiler and Thompson voted against the bill on rollcall.

The Senate has asked the Supreme Court for an opinion as to certain phases of the proposed State fund for compulsory automobile insurance and the House has asked that the Supreme Court inform them as to whether the General Court has authority to pass legislation providing for part-time service for judges of advanced years.

The Senate substituted for an adverse committee report a bill which would make it possible for persons employed on State work in the construction of highways and bridges to work more than eight hours a day. Those who favored substitution in the debate pointed out that passage of the bill would relieve in part the unemployment situation.

On rollcall in the Senate the resolve providing for the placing of mural decorations in the State House in commemoration of the 30th anniversary of the General Court was referred to the next annual session. Senator Hollis was recorded against such reference.

This Legislature has enacted a law to put a stop to people holding up automobiles for the purpose of selling tickets, etc., or soliciting alms under a penalty of $50 fine. Since Newton is interested in the matter of thumbing automobile rides, which, it would appear, is a related matter, the provisions of the bill which the Governor has signed are given herewith:

"Whoever, for the purpose of soliciting any alms, contribution or of selling any merchandise or ticket of admission to any game, show, exhibition, fair, ball, entertainment or public gathering, signals a moving vehicle on any State highway or causes the stopping of a vehicle thereon, or accosts any occupant of a vehicle stopped thereon at the direction of a police officer or signal or in any other device for regulating traffic, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $50."

Representative Baker referred to Newton at a hearing before the Ways and Means Committee of the House on a bill requiring certain hospitals, orphanages, schools and other institutions to be equipped with fire alarm boxes. Mr. Baker is a member of the committee. Although not opposing the bill, he questioned the measure. Mr. Baker questioned the propriety of whether its provisions were not too drastic. In Newton, he said, there are a number of small schools where such a law would hardly apply or where its application would be unnecessary. He also stated that about 25 per cent of the fire alarms answered by the fire departments in cities and towns come from boxes with 75 per cent of the fire calls come over the telephone to fire headquarters.

SONS OF ST. GEORGE HOLD ENTERTAINMENT

Kensington Lodge No. 509, American Order Sons of St. George, met in Foresters hall last Monday night for their regular meeting. Seven candidates were received into membership with President Ernest Doyle presiding. At the close of the meeting the program was in charge of Past President Clarence Alden who introduced the following speakers: Deputy Grand President George Simons of Needham; Past Grand President John Snowdon of Medford; Past Grand President Arnold Brockington of Hyde Park; Grand Treasurer William Plaff of Melrose; and Deputy Grand President Harry Shorrocks of Hyde Park.

Mr. Frank Lane of Brookline gave an hour and a half's entertainment consisting of magic, readings and musical numbers, following which a buffet lunch was served by the social committee. About 100 members and friends were present.

ANTI-BUMMING RIDE CAMPAIGN FACTS

The American Automobile Association says of bumming:

"Children are not conscious of the extremely hazardous position in which they place themselves under such circumstances." The statement continues, "It is a common sight to see youngsters of all ages forcing their way right into the middle of on-rushing traffic if they see what looks like a good chance to get a ride."

"They not only endanger themselves but interfere with the flow of traffic in a manner that is menacing."

"Motorists continually are being forced to swerve quickly from one traffic lane into another and, compelled to act with such celerity it frequently is the case that they have not time to give signals, one of the most common causes of accidents. Hundreds of accidents are caused by these conditions and many of them are attended with fatal results."

You can reduce the number of fatal results by not giving lifts to bummers and thus discouraging the practice.

THANK YOU!

away and a real civilization be ushered in.

"The annual rental value of land is the only true measure of the annual value of the services and benefits rendered by the city to the citizens, and it is the only value created by the community and therefore is the only value that should be collected by the community."

"There is always sufficient for public needs because the annual rental value of land not only reflects the annual expenditure of public moneys for public purposes, but also reflects the great economic value of the community in its collective aspect."

"Nothing made by man increases in value through any improvements made in government. Land value only increases through the expenditure of public moneys. It is good business to charge the thing benefited with the cost of the benefits. A man makes a hat, morally and legally it should belong to the man who made it. If the city creates a value that value morally does and legally should belong to the city."

"If you do not take the values created by the city and pay the debts contracted by the city, you will be forced to take private property for public use."

THE HIGHLAND GLEE CLUB CONCERT

Jean Bedetti, violin soloist, Boston Symphony Orchestra, and justly referred to as among the greatest living cellists, was presented to a Newton audience Tuesday evening, March 18th, as soloist with the annual spring concert of the Highland Glee Club. From the outset one was conscious of being in the presence of a great virtuoso.

The singing of the Glee Club was of the usual high order. The program was carefully chosen, and interesting in the extreme. One of the outstanding numbers was "Shadow Barge," a tone poem for male voices, which showed exceptionally well the versatility of the club. One of the members, Mr. Gruhn, was heard to very good advantage in this number.

The rendition of "Autumn Sunset," which is to be the prize song in the coming Federation Contest to be held at Beverly, was splendidly rendered, and effectively so in memorial to Mr. James H. Turnbull, first President of the club.

Three of the numbers were encored at the insistence of an enthusiastic audience, one of which was the final number on the program.

The organization had sixty men on the stage, and presented a much improved appearance both in stage deportment and general excellence from start to finish.

A new face at these regular concerts this year was that of J. Aiguis Winter, guest accompanist, who has taken the place of Mr. Karl Switzer who is now fully recovered from a recent illness. He was assisted at the piano in two instances by Mr. Clinton Kyle, one of the singing members of the club.

D. Ralph Maclean once more won the admiration of the audience in the authoritative and easy manner in which he directed—another reminder to the community that they are particularly fortunate in having an individual of his calibre so vitally tied up with the musical interest of the city.

The public is greatly indebted to this organization for presenting to music lovers of the city artists of such splendid calibre as has been their wont to do in the past.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

The name of Congressman Robert Luce has been frequently mentioned in connection with the Republican nomination for Senator. Certainly, no member of the Republican Party in Massachusetts is better qualified through knowledge of government and experience than the Representative in Congress from the 13th District, which includes Newton. Mr. Luce has not been a mere politician. To qualify himself for the duties of statesmanship he has for years been an assiduous student of public affairs. Proof of his knowledge of the science of government had been given to the public in past years by two volumes he wrote—"Legislative Assemblies" and "Legislative Procedure." Recently a third book written by Mr. Luce has been published by Houghton, Mifflin Company. The title of this volume is "Legislative Principles." It deals with the nature, origin and development of law, of the representative institutions and organic law as embodied in the American Constitution, and with methods of enacting into statute law the will of the people. It is an authoritative work destined to take its place with Mr. Luce's two other volumes as a standard book on legislation.

Prior to his election as a member of Congress in 1918, Mr. Luce had been a member of the General Court of Massachusetts for nine years, a member of the Governor's Council, Lieutenant Governor of Massachusetts and chairman of the Committee on Rules and Procedure of the Constitutional Convention. He has been diligent in the performance of his duties during his terms as Congressman and attentive to the wants of his constituents.

The sidewalk on the north side of Pearl street, west of Jewett street, was improved this week by employees of the Street Department. The outcroppings of a ledge projecting above this sidewalk had made walking on it hazardous for many years. The removal of the rock is appreciated by persons who must use this sidewalk.

Residents of Chapel street are demanding that parking on both sides of the street between Watertown and Calverton streets be discontinued. They want parking restricted to one side of the street. A number of serious automobile accidents have occurred on this street.

Inquiries are being made as to when the cross-walk and parking spaces at Newton Corner will be properly defined by painted lines. These traffic aids ought to be kept plainly defined at all times.

DARTMOUTH CLUB TO MEET

The annual get-together of the Dartmouth Club of Newton will be held at the Newton Club, Newtonville, next Wednesday evening, April 2nd, at eight o'clock. The Club will be host to the Newton boys who are planning to enter Dartmouth College. The speakers will be the Rev. D. Brewer Eddy; Robert Strong, secretary to Pres. Hopkins; Monty Wells, Dartmouth's world's champion hurdler; and a representative of the Outing Club, Mr. Winfield Hatch. A large attendance is indicated.

DANCE HALL AT NORUMBEGA

The big theatre at Norumbega Park is to be altered into a dance hall in part. Eli Porter, a Malden architect, has obtained a permit to alter a space 60 by 96 feet in the lower part of the theatre so that it can be used for dancing.

PARAMOUNT THEATRE CELEBRATING PAGEANT OF PROGRESS

April will be celebrated as Pageant of Progress Month at the Paramount Theatre, Newton, just three years since the first talking picture was presented on any screen, and with this in mind the Public Theatres all over the country are celebrating this birthday event, which will run for four weeks. The local merchants have been invited to display their goods in the Paramount Theatre during this time and quite a number have taken advantage of the publicity thus afforded them.

During the month special pictures have been selected which will insure a 100 per cent program in every way. Mr. Edward Allen, the organist has prepared some high class musical programs for his evening concerts, the theatre will be put in gala attire for the affair and some very interesting events are in store for the Paramount patrons.

The first feature, beginning Sunday will be Marilyn Miller in "Sally" which is one of Ziegfeld's best known musical comedy successes and which starred Miss Miller several years ago on the speaking stage.

"Sally" is produced on the talking screen in natural colors and she is supported by a very enthusiastic cast, including Alexander Gray, Joe E. Brown, Ford Sterling, and T. Roy Barnes. On the same program will be seen Evelyn Brent and Olive Brook in "Slightly Scarlet"—a story of a pair of high class schemers with a single thought, they are the heads of a band of international thieves after big stakes.

For the last half of the week will be seen Nancy Carroll in "Dangerous Paradise," with Richard Arlen, a story of the South Sea Isles and a picture done in a different way than most of pictures of this nature. On the same program will be Ramon Novarro in "Devil May Care," a rich musical romance with Dorothy Jordan. The usual short features will be shown every performance, and the patrons of this theatre are urgently requested to come early as the first feature starts promptly at 7:45 p. m.

"MAMBA"

"Mamba," the feature attraction Saturday, at the Modern Beacon and Egyptian Theatres, brings to the talking screen the first drama of feature length to be produced entirely in Technicolor. There have been musical comedies and color sequences in pictures of various types, but "Mamba" is sheer drama—without a single theme song—and its locale has been laid in the heart of an African jungle.

Jean Hersholt, Eleanor Boardman and Ralph Forbes head the cast of this Tiffany production, which Al Rogell directed from an original story by F. Schumann-Heink and John Reinhardt. Hersholt, once again in his spectacular career as an actor, turns mean. In fact, it is from the meanness of the character he portrays that the picture gets its title, for the mamba is a deadly poisonous snake of Africa—and August Bolte is as vile and feared as any reptile.

How the romance is untangled and Bolte becomes the victim of his own cruelty is told in "Mamba." Eleanor

SCHOOL NOTES

LEVI WARREN JUNIOR HIGH

After the regular opening exercises at the assembly of March 19th Nancy Parks gave the Thrift report telling us that we again had reached the 100% goal.

Luigi Mingace then announced the movie which was to be at the school on Thursday, "Old Ironsides." Winners of the contest for the best posters on "Old Ironsides" were announced: 1st prize, Richard Vary; 2nd prize, Stuart Stearns; 3rd prize, Peter Giardano. The first prize poster will be pictured in the next Transmitter.

The rest of the program consisted of two humorous French skits. They were, "The Three Bears," by St. L. and "A Scene in a French Railway," by St. L. Also a vocal solo by Earl Cummings of the eighth grade and a reading on "Boys' Schools in France," by Paul Buck of grade nine.

Thrift

On March 20, we had 100% in thrift for the second week in succession. There were 681 pupils at school that day.

Athletics

On March 21, the Boys' Varsity played the Girls' Varsity basketball team. The score was boys 29 and girls 5. Good team work was shown by both teams.

On March 28 the Girls' Gym meet will be held in the Assembly Hall. There will be stunts, special marching, apparatus work, and folk dancing, and other interesting things.

Movies

On Thursday, March 20, the picture "Old Ironsides," was shown in the school auditorium. This picture showed how the pirates who had terrorized many of the European countries were finally subdued by the Americans in the ship, Constitution. Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton were featured in this interesting picture.

RALLY OF ORGANIZED CHURCHMEN OF GREATER BOSTON

Honorable Arthur M. Hyde, Secretary of Agriculture in President Hoover's Cabinet is coming to Boston to address the men of the Greater Boston Federation of Bible Classes and Brotherhoods at New Old South Church, Copley square, at seven thirty Saturday evening, March 29th.

Secretary Hyde will speak on "Christian Churchmen and the Moral Issues of the Day." This Rally is sponsored by the Greater Boston Federation of Men's Bible Classes and Brotherhoods, of which Mr. Sterling L. Williams in Brookline is the president, and Mr. Gilbert Roehrig of Boston is the secretary. The committee consists of Clifton Curtis of Malden, William F. Conant of Brookline, Edwin Palmer of Malden, Leslie G. Rawdin of Somerville, George E. Stuart of Newton, Joseph Blamire of Jamaica Plain, J. L. Patch of Stoneham, Fred V. Rollins of Everett, and M. J. Schlagenhauf, of Medford.

Seats have been reserved for special delegations from Bible Classes and Brotherhoods of Brookline, Malden, Somerville, Boston, Cambridge, Melrose, Everett, Newton, Roxbury, Dedham, Watertown, and Jamaica Plain.

Ministers of the pulpits of Greater Boston will attend as special guests. Ex-Governor Alvan T. Fuller will extend the greetings of the Organized Churchmen to Secretary Hyde. Special music will be a feature of the evening. The returns from the churches indicate an attendance of twelve hundred men.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

During the week ending March 22nd there were 150 patients in the hospital. Of this number 63 paid as much as cost of care, or more, 54 paid less than cost of care, and 23, including babies, were treated free of charge. 6 babies, 2 boys and 4 girls, were born, 210 patients were treated in the out patient department including 5 in the eye clinic. 6 accident cases were admitted to the emergency ward. 8 calls were made by the social worker on patients in their homes. 5 patients were transported by the social service car.

On Monday, March 24th, the Newton Hospital was visited by Dr. Harold W. Hersey, Superintendent of the Bridgeport Hospital, Bridgeport, Connecticut.

Miss Nell A. Hostetler, Superintendent of Nurses, spent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. C. E. Morrow, Glenbrook, Connecticut.

On Monday evening, March 24th, the regular staff meeting was held at the hospital.

Of the six accident cases treated during the past week only two were automobile accidents, one a man brought in by the police, and the other a man with a laceration of his head, also brought to the hospital by the police. Two men were treated for various injuries: one for a laceration of his wrist caused while at work, one with burns on both hands and his face received while extinguishing a fire, one girl was treated for a laceration of her forearm caused when she fell on some glass. One woman was treated for an infected tooth.

CITY AFFAIRS

Mayor Weeks held a conference with department heads in the Aldermanic Chamber last Monday morning. The Mayor told the officials that he had insisted at a previous conference that each department keep its expenditures within its budget allowance. As a further effort at economy, he urged the officials to endeavor to spend less than the budget allowances.

As examples of savings already effected, the Mayor told of $500 saved on the printing of the books containing the list of assessed polls, a 50% reduction in the cost of letter-heads for the various departments through standardization, a cost to the city of $3000 less than last year on soft coal by obtaining bids for the delivery of the entire supply through one firm.

Certain employees of the City of Newton will receive larger pensions when they retire as a result of a bill recently passed by the Legislature and signed by Gov. Allen. This bill amended the contributory pension act in operation by this city so that employees who were over 60 years of age when the Act went into effect two years ago, will not for the next years service they performed after having reached the age of 60. Hereafter the pensions were based on the average salaries for the 5 years preceding the age of 60. It is estimated that a number of the old employees will have their pensions doubled as a result of this legislation. One of those affected will be Mrs. Ella Mason, former police matron, who was retired on a pension of but $300 a year.

NATHAN FULLER CHAPTER, D. R.

The March meeting of the Nathan Fuller Chapter, D. R., was held on the 21st at the home of Miss Lillian Peirce, 93 Eldredge street, Newton. A large attendance of members and guests was present, and they were presided over by the Regent, Mrs. P. Raymond Lehrer. The meeting opened with the customary salute to the flag, followed by the singing of the "Hymn to America," whose words were written for the 1930 Tercentenary by Clara Endicott Sears, with music by Mrs. M. H. Gulesian.

Minutes of the last meeting were read by the Recording Secretary, Mrs. Walter T. MacAdam, and reports from the treasurer and corresponding secretary were read and approved. Two new names were presented for membership; namely, Miss Eleanor Gibbs, of 155 Hunnewell avenue, Newton, and Mrs. Thomas Cleveland, 109 Church street, Newton. Several appointments for standing committees were made by the Regent, for the coming year. Mrs. Edgar Wilson and Mrs. George Knight were appointed councilors. Mrs. Richard Brown the Chairman of Ways and Means; Mrs. John Merrill the Chairman of Entertainment; and Mrs. George Knight the Chairman of Correspondence of the Flag. Pamphlets entitled "John Winthrop," First Governor of the Mass. Bay Colony were passed around, with the compliments of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co.

Nathan Fuller members will aid in Americanization programs in cooperation with the Newton Community Club throughout March. On the 26th a program will be given at the Stearns School Hall in Nonantum at the monthly Parent-Teachers afternoon. Mrs. John Merrill and Mrs. Walter Steinbauer will contribute to the entertainment. On March 31st, in the evening, a program will be given at the Franklin School in West Newton. Speakers will include Miss Calista Roy, Mr. Amiel de Florio, head of the Protestant Italian mission in Nonantum, and Mr. Ellsworth, Head of West Newton Schools. The Chapter girls furnishing entertainment include Mrs. John Merrill, Miss Lillian Peirce, and Mrs. Richard Brown. Mention was made for a Social Service class for volunteer workers, held under the auspices of the Newton Central Council on the four consecutive Friday mornings beginning March 7th.

The date of the April meeting was set for Monday the 28th. The meeting closed with the reading of extracts on the correct use of the flag, by Mrs. George Knight.

Music was furnished by Mrs. John Merrill of Newton Centre. Mrs. Merrill sang three soprano solos: "Song of the Robin" by Anna Case; "Flirtation" by Curran; and "Years at the Spring" by Beach. She was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Reginald Eastman. A paper, entitled, "Philately—the Science of Stamp Collecting" was read by Mrs. Ross Furman of Newton.

Tea was then served by the hostess, with Mrs. John H. Field, Jr., and Mrs. Edgar Wilson pouring.

MRS. JUDITH D. URQUHART

Mrs. Judith D. Urquhart of 324 Crafts street, Newtonville, widow of William Urquhart, died on Friday, March 21. She was born 81 years ago at Hatfield Point, New Brunswick, and had resided in Newtonville for seventeen years. She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Elsie A. Very of Newtonville, and a son, LaForest Benson of Waban. Her funeral service was held Monday afternoon at her late home, Rev. Raymond Lang of St. John's Church, officiating. He was a member of the banking firm of E. J. Kitching & Company of Boston. His funeral service is being held this afternoon at his late home. He is survived by his widow, Electa D. Poole, and one daughter, Barbara Poole.

FOR BENEFIT OF GIRL SCOUTS

The committee in charge of the lecture by Branson De Cou on April 6, at the Newton High School Auditorium, for the benefit of Camp Mary Day, Newton Girl Scouts, reports a gratifying advance interest. The chairman of the committee is Mrs. Charles E. Benson, 9 Somerset road, West Newton.

Mr. De Cou's lectures on Saturday afternoons in Boston have been praised by Boston critics, as something entirely new and unique in "travel talks." The Newton committee was fortunate in securing him for the Girl Scouts benefit April 6.

RECENT EVENTS

West Newton Community Service Club

On Wednesday afternoon, March 19th, the West Newton Community Service Club had the pleasure of entertaining Dr. James Gordon Gilkey, of the South Congregational Church of Springfield, who spoke on "How Far Can a Personality Be Changed?" Differing from the prevailing schools of Psychology who hold that the plastic age of a child ends at the age of two years or ten years, Dr. Gilkey believes that habits, and as a result, personality may change at any age, that time depending upon outside or inside influences. He defined personality as a bundle of widely differing selves, called inheritance strains, held together as one unit, but susceptible to very different arrangement. Counting one's ancestors as over one thousand, for ten generations, or three hundred years; or as over two million for six hundred years, one can only guess at the number of inheritance strains within each person, which, like the colored glasses of the kaleidoscope, shift at the slightest movement. They are all there, said Dr. Gilkey, but in what a different pattern. So, two boys of the same family may be so different, or children of very unpromising prospects may achieve wonderful things, as Lincoln, Shakespeare, Beethoven, proving that, although one must give full credit for circumstance and hard work, more must be given to the factor of genius, which is really the predominance of fortuitous and splendid inheritance strains. Because of these inheritances it is the duty of all to bring to the top only the good strains and submerge all others. Dr. Gilkey stated, realizing that ability can be developed, but not increased, and that no new strains can be added to the present bundle. Only by facing the conduct problem squarely, and without any excuses, can the re-shaping of a personality be undertaken. It must be done with a strong will power, for in breaking an old habit one slip is like dropping a ball of twine, more is unrolled than can be rolled up in a much longer period. A new goal will always bring out new qualities, while care to expose one's self to only the best in life will always bring forth the best fruit.

His lecture held the intense interest of his audience, in following his very logical and impressive deductions.

The Mather Class

Last Sunday morning the Mather Class had the pleasure of hearing Prof. James P. Berkeley, of the Newton Theological Institution, at its regular weekly meeting at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House.

The subject was "Teaching the Child Religion." This was the fourth lecture in the series on "Christianizing the State."

The old idea of virtue in a child was for him to conform to a set of standards set down by others. If goodness depended entirely upon that theory today, it might be none too easy to find the good child.

In teaching the child religion, the task is to explain what religion is after all.

This may be taken up under three main heads:

1. Religion unifies life.
2. Religion explains the meaning of life.
3. Religion promotes growth.

Under the first heading we consider unity. Religion takes hold of the whole of life and makes it one. It integrates life. It makes a person a unit, just one thing instead of a lot. A child is a unit—far from it. A child is a chaos of spluttering impulses, thrusting him in all directions. This is because he has a complex equipment with many possibilities and tendencies. This complexity makes people inconsistent. Animals are usually consistent because they have a simpler organization. We know what they are going to do. Adults with a chaotic, unorganized life are unreliable. We do not know what they are going to do. Wrong doing is a type of unorganized life.

We need to do more than teach the child some Bible verses. Religion should unify the child's life. Religion demands the deepest loyalties of life, the love of God and Jesus. We need to develop these central loyalties that go to the unification of life.

The prize scholar of a Sunday School was a little girl who always had her lessons learned beautifully. She recited "It is more blessed to give than to receive," but the idea did not take any special hold on her life, for she regularly stopped at the drug store on her way to Sunday School and spent the money which she was supposed to put into the offering. Self-gratification was what really interested her. The child's world breaks down easily. Everything seemingly goes to smash and they cry readily. They need something to hold them together. The Biblical expression is very apt. "In Him all things consist." That means hang together. This idea of coherence is necessary to an effective life.

Under the second heading we consider the proposition that the child needs something that will explain life to him in terms that he can and will understand. Childhood is not merely a time of happy innocence. Life is always a problem. There are difficulties and tasks. There are also tragedies. These tragedies of childhood do not last long, even from the child's viewpoint and they often seem of small importance to adults, but while they do last, they seem to the child immensely vital and important. Right here is where religion should be able to prove its worth. It should serve the need of the individual at the time and place of that individual's greatest need, and the age of the individual is not the important factor in the problem.

Life to the child is mysterious. He comes into a strange world without any explanation what it is all about. He cannot find out without asking. Hence he asks questions and is persistent about it. He wants to know what this or that is and how it works. He cannot control a thing in his mind until he gets a name for it. The child's questions always push you back in the end to the ultimate answer of life, back to God. And then they are likely to ask, "Who made God?" If you can't find a religious answer, you will never be able to meet the child's questions. It is a big problem to find the right answer. Religion is the child's discovery of answers to the questions that come into his mind.

The third subdivision of this lecture concerns the growth which religion cares for and stimulates. The chief characteristic of life is growth. There are three dangers:

(a) The danger of retardation, when the child falls below the normal rate of growth.

(b) The danger of perversion, when some aspect of life becomes disproportionately important and out of line with what is proper.

(c) The danger of evasion. We are all as lazy as we dare to be, and we do not like to attack the realities of life. When difficulties are met, some religious ideas indicate that we should rest easy in the arms of God and trust in Him. This is not enough. Difficulties should be a challenge to push on and to will and to do and not to stop. We must go on and on and work out our own salvation because God is working in us.

We should forever be working for new goals, because life has an increasing meaning and significance.

Besides integrating life and explaining its meaning, religion provides the drive and the energy that makes it grow and achieve something.

Merely transmitting information to the child and getting him to conform do not constitute the whole thing. We hear a lot about whether religion is caught or taught. It is both caught and taught. In the beginning it is caught from the family group. The child has no other way. His emotional life comes first. Religion develops the emotional life. The child finds in the adult group (his father and mother) a reliable and loving order. He can always count on it. Unfortunately the family is sometimes too much like our Federal Government with its three branches, legislative, judicial, and executive. The legislative branch establishes a rule and then the executive branch breaks down. It is supposed to do something and does not. The two parents may become divided. The executive and the judicial branches contradict each other. There is no order there. A child's life is pretty sure to be ruined by quarrelsome parents.

The child finds religion in the right atmosphere, and this is the sort that exists in a truly religious home. Thus religion is caught. A grown man may say that he cannot remember what his parents taught him about religion, but he is quite positive and very definite about his certainty that he is still profoundly under the influence of that religious home of his childhood.

In addition to all this, religious habits should be developed. Habits are taught. They are superimposed in the first place and then they become automatic. The child is definitely taught to pray. That establishes one habit. Later he may develop his own philosophy or theory of life. We want the richness and experience of the past. In order to get it, we need to know the past. The Bible points the way that people for ages have been guided; hence we need to know the Bible.

The child asks where Heaven is. The telescope has ruined the old idea of a location of Heaven in space. Jesus said, "In my Father's house are many mansions." Now where is that? Heaven is where God is. God's house is just as good as ever. It has not gone, and what makes the house has not gone either.

In discussing the disappearance of the old fairy life the point was made that more careful and deliberate planning was needed now than ever before. We should work toward an ideal, and we need all the help we can get.

GEORGE DEXTER FROST.

TERCENTENARY NEWS

The Committee to Put Village Centers in order appointed by Mr. William H. Rice, chairman of the Newton Tercentenary Executive Committee held a meeting at the Community House, Newtonville, on Monday evening. The committee is under the auspices of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs whose president, Mrs. Phister Cowin, opened the meeting by explaining the meaning of "Clean Up" week as a kind of spring house-cleaning which may well be undertaken every year and not confined to our Tercentenary celebration. She then turned the meeting over to Mrs. J. M. Address, chairman of the "Clean Up" Committee.

An interesting and interested group had come at the call of Mrs. Address. There were representatives from several Village Improvement Societies, Men's Clubs, Newton Business Associates, Newton Board of the Boston Real Estate Exchange, The Kiwanis, The Rotary, Boy Scouts, Newton Tercentenary Committee and members of several Women's Clubs.

Three forms of putting our city in order were considered: in regard to things pertaining to the city, to those pertaining to the village, and to those pertaining to the individual. Newton Citizens always have shown civic pride and have only to be reminded of necessary improvements. This committee is out now to make Newton not simply as orderly, and beautiful as any other city, but to make it Spotless Town. In this effort all citizens will help, and the city government will lead the way.

Flers with "Clean Up" slogans are to be made by High School pupils, and to be sent over the City. The High School Paper, the Newtonite will carry articles on this subject as will the Boy Scouts' paper. In all the schools, pupils will be urged to assist in this campaign, by helping about their own homes and streets and by urging their companions to do the same.

It is planned to have all city signs repaired and cleaned and those which are no longer serving their original purpose, removed.

Public dumps, rubbish corners, uncovered garbage, uncovered rubbish trucks and unprotected ash barrels and rubbish barrels seriously affect the city's appearance.

March winds may have with loose papers, and the man who has just had his lot cleaned does not take kindly to the rubbish that blows in from a neighboring place that has not been cleaned up.

Possibly more containers placed about the city would prove a temptation for some to place waste paper and rubbish therein thus preventing its flying about the streets and lawns.

No one in Newton can be unaware of the quite serious traffic situation that exists in all our Squares. What can be done to make such centres safer? This is a question for all to think over. This committee hopes to find some solution from the Traffic Committee of the Board of Aldermen, being sure of receiving Co-operation from heads of all city departments and from the Aldermanic Board.

Newton usually has a "Clean Up" and "Paint Up" week in May but we need not wait for that time. Let us all help to form a clean up squad and thus set our city in order. Civic pride is characteristic of Newton Citizens. There is no doubt that in this movement all will co-operate to make Newton not necessarily "bigger and busier" but better and more beautiful in the perfection of her homes, grounds, and business centres.

POLICE NEWS

Three Newton youths were found guilty in the Waltham court yesterday of attempting to steal gasoline from a tank towed by the Town of Weston and located on Newton street in that place. They admitted having taken gasoline from this tank on two previous occasions. They were placed on probation by Judge Connolly until next September.
 Antonio Corsetti, 41, of 139 Linwood avenue, Newtonville, was found guilty in the Newton court yesterday of accosting a person of the opposite sex and sentenced to 30 days in jail. He appealed. A charge of "cave-dropping" also confronting Corsetti was placed on file. Antonio was arrested on the night of March 12th as the person who was detected peeping in a window at the home of Frank Tuerer, 95 Bridge street, Norwinton. Following his arrest he was identified by Miss Anna Dugan, 18, of 15 Hunt street, Watertown, as the man who had grabbed hold of her while she was walking on Morse street on the night of March 4. She broke loose from his hold and ran into a nearby house.
 Joseph Conti of Watertown was fined $10 in the Newton court yesterday for speeding through West Newton square at 35 miles an hour. Patrolman Gaquin was the complainant. Carmine Farese of King street, Watertown, and Stefano Gentile of Clinton street, Newton, each was fined $5 for not STOPPING before entering Washington street.
 Walter Longval of Worcester street, Natick, was fined $100 in the Newton court on Wednesday for driving while under the influence of liquor, and $20 for creating a disturbance. He was arrested at 2 a. m., Sunday, March 16, at Newton Upper Falls, by Patrolmen Davis and Green, and according to the policemen raised such a rumpus that the neighborhood was awakened.
 A large number of autoists were in court Wednesday and fined for various infractions of the laws. For "speeding" fines of $10 were imposed on Albert Fairweather, Falmouth road, West Newton; Lewis Gilman, 855 Beacon street, Newton Centre; Royal Hill, Marlboro. Hill was also fined $5 for driving without proper lights. Others fined for driving without proper lights included—Alex Shillman, Dorchester, $10; John Scussel, Needham, $10; George McLaughlin, Brookline, $5; Roger Williams, Riverdale road, Wellesley, $10. Williams was also fined $10 for failing to slow down at a street intersection. Seven autoists were fined $5 each for failing to STOP before entering Washington street. One of these, Marcelina King of Brighton, appealed.
 Autoists fined in the Newton court yesterday for "speeding" included Amos Lucy, Brighton, $5; Donald Copeland, Wellesley, $5; George Corner, 65 Boyd street, Watertown, $10; Nicolas Soulas, Framingham, $15; George Buell, 257 Waltham street, West Newton, $15.
 Policemen in Newton when they stop any autoist now for violating any rule or law must fill out a card giving particulars of the offence and offender and turn it in the same day or night to police headquarters. This new rule is expected to accomplish certain objects. It will prevent the policemen being bothered by persons of influence, or supposed influence who ask the patrolmen or motorcycle officers to "lay off" on bringing the offenders into court. Autoists in the future will have to obtain mercy at police headquarters.
